AWARD.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. The Western India Match Co., Ltd., Alambazar, Calcutta-35 and their workmen represented by Wimco Mazdur Union, Dakhineswar, Alambazar, Calcutta-35, regarding the matters mentioned below in the issues was originally referred to this Tribunal for its adjudication under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4195Dis./D/11L-64/54, dated the 1st September 1954. On that date the Government acting in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section 3 of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, issued separate orders prohibiting the continuance of any strike or lockout in connection with the said dispute existing on the date of the reference. By a subsequent order, No. 4319Dis./D/11L-64/54, dated the 10th September 1954, the Government issued a corrigendum amending the issues and adding one to those already referred to above.

The Wimco Employees' Union filed its written statement in the case on 18th October 1954 on issues mentioned in the first order of reference and also raised several new issues. They filed a joint petition of compromise in course of the hearing of this case on 29th April 1955. The application is duly signed by representatives of both parties. As there was no objection to this, the compromise was accepted by this Tribunal. The terms and conditions, which prima facie appear to be just and reasonable, may be accepted in final settlement of the issues between the parties and will be incorporated as a part of this Award.

The Wimco Mazdur Union filed its first written statement on 21st October 1954 and its supplementary written statement on 24th April 1955. The Company filed two separate statements, one challenging the jurisdiction of this Tribunal on certain matters of dispute and another containing facts and figures of all the issues, on 21st October 1954. It filed its supplementary written statement on 16th February 1955. In the meantime, issues regarding jurisdiction of this Tribunal was taken up on the application of the Company for disposal and disposed of by a separate order on 1st February 1955. The parties were allowed sufficient time to move proper authorities against the findings of this Tribunal.

After persuing the written statements of both parties and hearing the learned counsels, several additional issues, mentioned below, were framed for adjudication on 27th April 1955.

The hearing of the case commenced on 27th April 1955 and the days following it. The argument was heard on and from 22nd July 1955.

The respective cases of both parties will appear from their written statements filed before the Tribunal and also the issues. Brief outlines of them are only given below.

The Mazdur Union's case, as stated, is that the Western India Match Co., Ltd. (hereinafter called the "Company") is one of match making unit in West Bengal having altogether five "A" class factories in India including one at Alambazar (Calcutta) The figures quoted in the statement showed the dominant business position of the Company in the market with a very sound and stable finances at its disposal for its further development. The Company made huge profits in the past and continued to do so even now. Despite of this its workmen of the Calcutta factory were meagrely paid, so much so, that the workmen were obliged to carry on agitation for the betterment of their conditions. After a prolonged negotiation at the highest level the workmen succeeded in reaching a settlement in respect of certain matters of dispute which is embodied in an agreement, dated 27th February 1952. The agreement was annexed to the statement. It would appear from a reading of the said agreement that many matters had to be dropped on the assurance of the Manager that they would be taken up for further consideration at the end of the year. The assurance was not honoured and the agreement was not implemented. The Union was forced and compelled to submit a fresh "Charter of Demands" to the Company on 12th October 1953. The list of demands was also annexed to this statement. The management did nothing to meet the demands but curtailed its production from November 1953 only to make out a case for laying off of a number of workers. This curtailment resulted in the loss of earnings of the workers who are mostly piece-rated to the extent of 40 per cent. to 50 per cent. of their wages in the month of April 1954. On 8th January 1954 the Company, for the first time, raised the plea of accumulation of stock in support of its action which the Union believed contrary to facts. Meanwhile, there were discussions between the Union and the management over the question of curtailment of production consequent upon the fall in sales and the accumulation of stock. The Union in good faith proposed to the Company to take upon itself the responsibility of pushing the sale, but curiously enough, the Company did not think its way to consider it. It was only on 23rd March 1954 that the management replied to recommend the offer to Sales Office at Calcutta for disposal. Thereafter, the Union made a proposal to the management to accept the reduced production if it was convinced on a scrutiny of facts and details about its necessity. The proposal was never accepted. Exasperated in its repeated attempts to negotiate the settlement of the important issues, the Union decided to go on strike and served a notice of it to the Company on 1st May 1954. Unfortunately, the Company did not take any serious notice of it and the strike began from 15th May 1954. The Union, however, since the beginning of the strike was trying its best to come to an early settlement. The matters of dispute were discussed in the Labour Directorate and also before the Hon'ble Chief Minister and the Labour Minister. The strikers maintained absolute peace and orderliness during the entire period of the strike despite provocation from the side of the Company. The State Government eventually referred the dispute for its adjudication urging upon the Union to call off the strike by issue of an order under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Immediately on receipt of the said order, the Union leaders contacted the State authorities for clarifications on certain points and after some discussion necessary clarifications were obtained on 18th September 1954. The workmen thereupon called off the strike and resumed work from 20th September 1954. The management, however, did not permit all the workers to join on that day, and refused to give work to 175 of them with the idea of making out a case for their retrenchment or lay off. This was continuing right up to 16th October 1954 after which all the workers were given employment. The management's action in reducing the production was deliberate and unjustified. This had resulted in a drastic cut in the wages of the workers who were mostly piece-rated. The Union, therefore, opposed to the Company's proposal to lay off or retrenchment of any workmen on the plea of accumulation of stock. The strike being justified the workers are entitled to full compensation for the entire period of strike and the Company is bound to compensate the workers for their loss of earnings as a result of curtailment of production between November 1953 and May 1954. Their other demands either contained in the "Charter of Demands", dated 12th October 1953 or subsequently raised will, as stated above, appear from the issues.

The Company, in reply, filed a counter statement in which it stated among others that due to increase in competition from cottage industries, particularly from South India, the sales had dropped considerably. The present business and trade slump started towards the latter part of 1953 and became more acute during 1954. From the figures quoted in the statement it would be clear that the Union had wholly failed to appreciate the real situation and was agitating over the misconception of the trade position. The factory at Alambazar since it was started in 1930 had a strenuous and prolonged struggle for existence and had a reasonable prosperous era during the Second World War. In the Post-War period, the factory lost its East Bengal market entirely as a result of the Partition of Bengal. In 1950 the factory was affected by communal disturbances for which more than 50 per cent. of the experienced workers left their jobs. This was followed by a timber crisis in 1951 when the supplies of soft wood became scanty. In 1953 due to disparity between production and sales, the stock at the godown began to accumulate and the situation became critical towards the end of the year. In 1954 the production had to be curtailed further due to (i) fall in sales as a result of (a) fall in effective and general demand, and (b) increasing competition from cottage industries, and (2) the need for eliminating surplus stocks. The present demand was only about 280 cases of 50 gross boxes of 60 sticks per production day of 8 hours, whereas the Company's man power and machineries are sufficient for producing 380 cases per 8 hours a day. There was no hope of the recovery of this position and the future prospects were very uncertain. The situation explains the problem of excess capacity and surplus labour to the extent of 100 cases per day for an indefinite period.

The workers' demands were fantastic and mala fide. They were best paid among the workers of all other factories and for that matter among all the match factory workers in the whole of India. They were one of the highest paid group in the whole of Calcutta industrial area. In 1946 the Company introduced the scheme of production bonus to encourage workers to produce and earn more. In 1947 they were granted very substantial wage increase, as regards (a) basic wages, (b) dearness allowance, (c) sick leave with pay, (d) night allowance, etc. The minimum basic rate of wage was raised from As. 0-13-6 to Rs. 1-4-0 per day. In 1952 the workers were granted another increase in wages and amenities and the Memorandum of Settlement was still in force. The Company denied that the terms of settlement were not implemented and that the assurance was not given effect to. In this background, the Union's Charter of Demands was absolutely unjustified. The Company was compelled to adjust production to sales position and accumulation of stock. The accumulation of stock was very heavy already in May-June 1953, and the Union's attention to this fact was also drawn. It became acute in September 1953 and it was proposed to the Union Secretary to lay off the workers for five days to reduce surplus stocks. Thereafter, on 9th October the Company issued a factory circular closing the factory for five extra days in continuation of the Puja holidays in order to reduce surplus stocks. In spite of this situation, the Union submitted the Charter of Demands on 12th October purely to harass the Company in its difficulties. Due to a very unreasonable attitude taken up by the Union in the matter of lay off, it could not arrive at an agreed solution. As a result, the Company had to carry on with its large surplus labour force. Naturally the earnings on piece-raters were affected but the time-rated workers continued to receive the same basic wages. Regarding the Union's offer of selling matches, it is stated, the Company immediately responded to it. The Union, however, backed out from their offer. During the conciliation proceedings, the Union improperly submitted a strike notice, even without taking a strike ballot which they were pledged to do under the conditions for recognition of a Union by the Company. Both the Company and the State Government all along tried their best to bring about a peaceful and amicable settlement of the matter. The strike, resorted to on flimsy grounds at a time when the agreement between the parties was still in force, was wholly unjustified and uncalled for. The Hon'ble Labour Minister agreed to refer the dispute to a Tribunal but the Union ignored his offer and thought it best to launch the strike. Due to a very unreasonable attitude taken up by the Union not to accept the proposal for laying off although there was an assurance that no retrenchment would be made in course of a year, the matter could not be settled earlier. The strike was not peaceful although the Union assured to conduct it so. The workers took recourse to violence and intimidated and assaulted the workers of the contractors and loyal employees of the Company including Shri Sushil Sen, a clerk of the Labour Office. In spite of the Government order under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, issued on 1st September 1954, the strikers did not resume their duties until 20th September. The continuance of their strike after the Government order, dated 1st September 1954, was illegal and unjustified under the Act. 127 workers were found surplus to Company's requirements when the workers resumed their duties after the strike. They were offered their full guaranteed wages and asked to do some alternative work or sit in the surplus labour pool. Thereafter, the Union organised "go-slow" tactics in all the departments with the result that the production fell below 220 cases per day as against 300, scheduled to be manufactured. Accordingly, the Company stated, the proposed lay off was justified, that the workers on strike were not entitled to any relief, for the strike was illegal and unjustified and that the Company was under no obligation—legal and moral—to compensate the workers for their loss of earnings due to curtailment of production between November 1953 and 14th May 1954. They contested the other issues also.

The issues, including the issues framed in this Tribunal after perusing the written statements filed by the parties and hearing the learned representatives of both sides, are as follows:—

FINDINGS.

Issue No. 1.

The Company manufactures matches in four factories in India and the present dispute relates to its factory at Alambazar (West Bengal). Most of the production jobs are carried on piece-rate basis. The Company's case is that the curtailment of its production in this factory is essentially necessary due to two reasons: (i) accumulation of stock beyond storage capacity, and (ii) fall in sales due to competition from cottage industries, etc. It curtailed production and found a part of its labour force surplus to its requirements as a result of it. It proposed to the Mazdur Union which represented the entire piece-rated staff, to lay off such surplus hands without retrenchment. The Union discussed this proposal with the management and rejected it as it was not satisfied about its necessity. The justification of this proposed lay off is in dispute and is the subject-matter of this adjudication.

Mr. Ginwalla, Counsel for the Company, considered this issue to be absolutely unnecessary and beyond the competence of the appropriate Government to refer it under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, for it is, according to him, a recognised managerial right founded in the conditions of service, laid down by the Standing Orders and also in the statute law, i.e., the Industrial Disputes Act. Mr. S. K. Acharaya, Counsel for the Mazdur Union, contends that since an industrial dispute over this matter arose and remained unsettled, the State Government had rightly taken action under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to refer it for adjudication and this Tribunal is not competent to question the propriety of it. Admittedly, the dispute remained unsettled at the time of the reference and the State Government, in my opinion, has jurisdiction to refer it to this Tribunal. The preliminary objection, raised by the learned Counsel of the Company, fails and is disposed of.

The right to lay off is not contested for a moment. The justification of the proposed lay off in the alleged circumstances is being contested from the very beginning by the Mazdur Union. The objections of the Union are: (i) The action of the Company is entirely mala fide for it has taken up inconsistent position in connection with this issue; (ii) The alleged fall in sales and accumulation of stock beyond storage capacity are untrue and the Company's several charts, filed to prove them, are incorrect; (iii) The Union's suggestions for the improvement of the situation were not accepted. Its offer for pushing on sale of matches was not even considered; (iv) The suggestion made by their own salesmen were also not accepted and acted upon; (v) The alleged bad market is their own creation (a) in inviting competition from their own factory at Madras, and (b) by imprudent act and bad management; (vi) Even now there is good scope for the factories working to their full capacity under several development schemes; (vii) In actual fact, there is no surplus. The introduction of the scheme of rationalisation by installation of new machineries with high speed is responsible for the surplus, if there be any; and (viii) This is an act of reprisal by the Company for the Union's submitting a charter of demands on 12th October 1953. The Company contested these objections and denied their truth.

It appears from the pleadings and the evidence—documentary and oral—that there were proposals to lay off the workers in order to adjust production according to requirements. The Company stated in paragraph 14 of its written statement that the accumulation of stock was very heavy in May-June 1953, and the Union's attention was drawn to it. It was an acute problem in September 1953, when it was proposed to the Union

Secretary to lay off all the workers for five days. On 6th October 1953, the Union Secretary accepted the proposed lay off of all workers for five days to reduce surplus stocks. Thereafter on 9th October, the Company issued a factory circular, closing the factory for five extra days in continuation of the Puja holidays in order to reduce surplus stocks. It would appear from Ext. B1, Factory Circular No. 24, dated 3rd May 1954, immediately before the strike and Factory Circular No. 35 (Ext. B3), dated 4th August 1954, during the strike, that the Company's original proposal was that the juniormost workers would be laid off and paid for 45 days in a year according to law. To this, the Union made a counter proposal for working in the Production Department 40 hours in a week instead of 48. They also proposed to forego the wages for the hours not worked. The Company accepted the modified proposal of the Conciliation Officer (this was taken up by the Conciliation Officer) to work in the Production Department 37 hours in a week without any compensation for the hours not worked. The Conciliation Officer accepted the Company's views that there could be no production bonus when the hours of work were going to be reduced at the Union's own suggestion. The Union, however, insisted on 40 hours in a week and calculation of production bonus on 40 hours instead of 48. So that proposal failed.

The Company later made a modified suggestion of lay off, to last till the end of the year. The points were: (i) no retrenchment; (ii) laying off junior workers in three batches of 300 each for two weeks at a time; (iii) lay off benefit to be paid for days above 45 in a year. Total absenteeism to be raised from 60 to 90 days in 1954 for eligibility for leave with wages; (iv) fresh agreement to be negotiated at the end of a year.

This proposal was not accepted by the Union. The alternative proposal made during discussion for settlement of the strike was to this effect: (i) work for 48 hours per week; (ii) to lay off 273 workers per day who will be paid 50 per cent. of the basic wages and dearness allowance; (iii) to lay off workers in four batches (instead of three, proposed in the past) by rotation, each batch working six weeks and enjoying lay off benefit for two weeks. At the hearing, Mr. Wasmouth, Factory Manager, gave an outline of his proposal to lay off surplus hands which he considered to be the best in the situation. It is as follows: workers would be laid off for two weeks out of 8 and they will be paid lay off for the two weeks. The management will decide from day to day the number of hands required in each department and the surplus hands, beginning with the juniormost in each category, will be laid off. They will be sent home for a fortnight at a stretch after which they will be taken back in work and surplus workers will be chosen from another group, i.e., the next juniormost.

The Union did not give any idea on any of these proposals either in its pleadings or in evidence. It contested and discussed all of them and rejected them. The Union was not agreeable, at any stage of the discussion, to accept any proposal of lay off or retrenchment. On 27th April 1954, the Union refused to accept the lay off policy and intimated its decision to that effect to the Manager (vide Ext. A6).

The proposal of lay off is before the Union since October 1953. The Company tried its best to reach an agreed settlement with the Union of this problem but failed. Question now is whether the proposed lay off is justified on the facts and in the circumstances of the case. The right to lay off on the ground of accumulation of stock is by implication recognised in the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act. The Company under its Standing Orders can lay off both on the ground of closure due to fire, break-down of machinery, failure of power, etc., which are beyond the control of the Company and also for trade purposes. In the former case, the loss of earnings of the piece-rated workers is compensated, to a certain extent, but in the latter case no compensation is payable to them. I will take up the Union's objections to the proposal first. Mr. S. K. Acharaya contends that the proposal is mala fide from the very beginning for the Company has taken up inconsistent attitude in connection with it. In the first place, if the Company was really facing with an acute problem, arising out of accumulation of stock, it should not have levelled a charge of going slow against the piece-rated workers but, on the contrary, they would have welcomed it. Further, the policy of production was on an all-India basis. If the Company was really having fall in sales, the production would have easily been adjusted. Lastly, the Company came out with the proposal only after the charter of demands was submitted on 12th October 1953. These, according to him, are contradictory positions taken up by the Company. The charge of going slow, which if established amounts to misconduct, is not inconsistent with the curtailment of production, necessitated by accumulation of stock and fall in sales. The management can never tolerate "go-slow" tactics of the workers in the matter of production although it may have the necessity in certain circumstances to produce less. According to Mr. Wasmouth, each factory has its own sales area where there are godowns and also emergency stockists. There is nothing in evidence to show that production in factory is regulated by an all-India policy. On the other hand, according to Mr. Wasmouth, "weekly manufacturing orders" are received from the Sales Office in Calcutta, which orders are based on six monthly forecast for sale. This is done with a view to enable the factories to maintain an even production. There may, of course, be deviations from the forecasts. Lastly, the question of accumulation of stock is before the Union since the middle of 1953. This had been formally brought to its notice in writing at the time of Puja arrangements of that year and the charter of demands was sent only on 12th October 1953, sometime after that. Accordingly it is not reasonable to say that this proposal was made only by way of a counter to the charter of demands. In the circumstances, the Company's action cannot be said to be either mala fide or by way of reprisal for submitting the charter of demands. It is in evidence that the relationship between the Mazdur Union and the management was cordial and that was the reason why the management was trying its best to arrive at an agreed settlement on the question of lay off. In the next place, the Union contended that its suggestions to improve the condition of sales were not accepted and that even its offer to push on sale of matches was not considered. It appears from the Company's evidence that it considered the Union's offer of selling matches and addressed a letter asking the Secretary to contact the Calcutta Sales Office for the purpose. Other suggestions were discussed on merits. Mr. Mazumdar, Inspector, East Coast Circle, in his summary inspection report for the year 1953, made certain suggestions for improving the condition of sale including the manufacture of cheaper 40's (a match box of 40 sticks). He also made certain suggestions in his annual review of 1954 in Report, dated 9th January 1954 (vide Exts. H & H1). The Union relied on these reports in support of its contention that if the Company accepted the suggestions its sales position would have considerably improved. As a matter of fact, the Union made some suggestions on this line. In fact, this Company used to manufacture matches of 40 sticks during the War but discontinued after it. The Company explained away these suggestions and examined Mr. Tham of the Calcutta Office, Mr. N. K. Majumdar, Inspector, East Coast Circle, Mr. Das Gupto, Depot Manager of Calcutta Office besides Mr. Wasmouth, Factory Manager, to explain why the suggestion for manufacture of matches of 40 sticks at a cheap price of two pice each was not accepted. Mr. Tham, Manager of the Calcutta Sales Office, in his cross-examination, said with reference to Mr. Mazumdar's reports that the Company used to manufacture 40 stick match boxes (of small size, not the club quality) but he did not know whether the price was two pice. He said that the Company could not accept Mr. Mazumdar's suggestions from its view point. He said that most of the other suggestions were accepted by the Company. Mr. Mazumdar in his evidence said that the sales were going down month by month from the beginning of 1953. The reason was competition from cottage industries and cheap 40 stick matches. He tried to improve the sales by giving some special facilities to the dealers in the form of a special bonus, destination deliveries, etc. Despite all these efforts, the sales were going down. He could not say whether the same machineries, which produced cheap matches before, were there at this date. Mr. Das Gupto said that in 1953 in Calcutta city alone, there was a fall in sales from 3,700 in 1951 and 1952 to 2,000 cases per month in 1953. The sales gradually went down in 1954. They are losing in trade because of trade depression and competition. This evidence establishes two things: (i) there was a very heavy fall in sales in 1953 and 1954; and (ii) the Company did all that could possibly be done in acceptance of the suggestion of its salesmen including Mr. Mazumdar to improve the condition of its sale of matches. If it could not accept the suggestion to manufacture 40 sticks matches of small size, it did for good reasons. No reason has been assigned why the Company should be indifferent to its own business interest and refuse to manufacture matches of 40 stick at a cheap price, if that was possible for "A" class factories. The next objection is that the management by its imprudent act has created a bad market and did so by inviting competition from its own factory at Madras. There is hardly any evidence to prove this. Apart from the fact that Mr. Mazumdar reported about competition from its own factory in South India, there are no materials on record to show or suggest that the Company allowed an unhealthy competition to develop among its different units to the ultimate loss of its business. The next objection is that there is no surplus, and that the surplus, if any, is due to installation of new machines with high speed at a considerable expense, imported from abroad. In actual fact, seven machines were lately installed and two of them are machines with high speed. It is in evidence of the Manager that many of the machines have worn out with the passage of time and required quick replacement and that orders were sent out for their import, long before the present crisis came to head. It is stated in the Company's written statement that only 40 men have become surplus as a result of the installation of new machines. So it cannot be said that the entire surplus of 600 (or 900) is due to the installation of new machines. Further, it has been sought to be made out by the evidence of Company's witnesses that the work of the new machines with high speed will ultimately mean greater benefits and more earnings for the piece-rated staff and, lastly, it has been contended that, there is good scope for development of the match industries in India under the several development plans (Programme for Industrial Development, 1951-56 and Planning for Full Employment). It appears that the Wimco and Amco factories account for 22.8 million gross boxes or nearly 65 per cent. of the total capacity of the match industries in India. The "Development Plan" envisages further stepping up of production over 95 per cent. of their rated capacity by 1955-56. In the Planning for Full Employment at page 116, it is stated that the annual capacity of Wimco being 22;8. million gross boxes, the present production would amount to 95 per cent. utilisation of their capacity. Both are Government publications and do not appear to have taken into consideration the position of sales and stocks. We are concerned with actual state of affairs and not with what is required of this industry to do under different development plans of the country. I think, even if the stepping up of production is possible under certain circumstances, the present question of lay off, according to the present state of affairs, has nothing to do with it. All these objections, therefore, fail.

I will now examine whether, in actual fact, the Company is having fall in sales with accumulation of stock beyond its storage capacity to justify the proposed lay off of the surplus staff. In this connection, I recall the evidence of Mr. Wasmouth, Factory Manager, and Mr. Tham, Manager of the Calcutta Sales Office, on this point. Mr. Wasmouth said that in June 1953, he was told to reduce the production and in the beginning of 1953, he received intimation from the Sales Office that their stock was accumulating. Instructions were received from the Sales Office on 23rd May 1953, as per "Manufacturing Programme for the Week ending 30th May 1953" to manufacture up to 2,160 cases and in the next week to reduce production further to 2,040 cases only. He said that this went on for some months. At that time, the management wanted to reduce the production with the minimum inconvenience to the workers and that is why the Puja holidays were extended by five days, as mentioned in Ext. A1. The workers were put to involuntary unemployment on these days and the Union's letter, dated 6th October 1953 (Ext. A2), confirmed the said arrangements. The sales during the end of 1953 and in the beginning of 1954 fell below expectation and, therefore, the production was reduced to 1,750 cases per week as per instructions, dated 2nd and 7th January 1954. There was, however, no substantial change in the number of workers on the rolls since production was first reduced and the management was facing the difficulty of having a large number of surplus workers. Discussions with the Union had resulted only in the refusal of the proposals to lay off. The management, however, according to Mr. Wasmouth, did not carry out the proposals into practice in the hope of coming to an amicable settlement with the Union. In March 1954, the production was further reduced to 220 cases per day, i.e., 1,340 per week. Mr. Wasmouth said that up till the time of giving depositions, the stock was increasing. From the end of strike period till the date of his deposition (29th April 1955), the stock had been steadily increasing in spite of the fact that on several occasions production was reduced with a view to meet fall in sales. He said that at the moment the stock was decreasing due to transfer of a part of the stock to other territories. Some transfers were made to Berrily where the workers were on strike. Explaining the storage capacity, he said that at the factory about 4,000 cases could be stocked. Mr. Tham said that the sales decreased gradually in 1953. He explained the charts showing sales, production and stock. With reference to Ext. D1, he said that the total production at the end of 1953 would be 100,900 cases and the stock at the end of that year would be 82,302 and total sales would be 85,101. In that case, there would be stock of 15,000 but the stock was shown to be 8,231 in Ext. D1. He could not explain the difference but said that the Accounts Department would be in a better position to explain it. I have already referred to the evidence of Mr. N. K. Mazumdar and of Mr. Das Gupta. Mr. Das Gupta, Depot Manager, said how in Calcutta alone the sales fell to 2,900 cases per month in 1953 as against 3,700 of 1951 and 1952. Mr. Sunil Sinha, Union Secretary, and Mr. Krishna Jiban Ghose, Vice-President of the Union, both employees in the service of the Company, examined themselves as witnesses on the side of the Union. Mr. Bose said something regarding the sales position of the Company. He prepared some charts on the information that he received from different sources. His charts are exhibits 7, 7A to 7O. Some of these charts are prepared on the information received from different sources. He did not, in cross-examination, disclose the names of the sources and in fact had nothing to show to prove the accuracy of the charts. The Company's most important evidence in this connection is furnished by the charts (Exts. D1 to D4). Exts. D1 gives an idea of the position of sales and stocks up to the end of April 1954, i.e., just before the strike. Total sales in 1952 amount to 96,623 and 85,109 in 1953. Stock at the end of 1953 was 36,867 and that of at the end of 1953 was 82,302. A glance at this chart will at once establish the fact that in 1953, the sales were decreasing and the stock was increasing. In fact, the stock increased by more than double of what it was at the end of the previous year. Whereas Ext. D2, comparative statement of production, will prove that production remained almost the same in 1952 and in 1953. It was 97,513 in 1952 and 96,603 in 1953. Ext. D3, statement showing manufacture, sales and closing stock between 1st October 1954 and 28th February 1955, was brought up-to-date. This shows that stock continued to be steadily increasing. Exts. G, G1 and G2 show that the Calcutta Sales Office instructed the factory at Alambazar to reduce production according to "Manufacturing Programmes", dated 23rd May 1953, 30th May 1953 and 2nd January 1954. The supplementary statement on production (Ext. D5) shows that the production was increased since after the strike. Ext. D7, supplementary statement on sales and stocks, brought up to the end of March 1955, shows that the stock at the end of 1954 was 55,098 and the stock was accumulating in February and March 1955 as against corresponding months of the previous year. Ext. 7 is the Union's statements on production and sales in 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955. Even according to Mr. Boses's statement, drawn up on information from undisclosed sources, it establishes the fact of fall in sales towards the end of 1953 as against that of the previous year. The Company of course challenged the information regarding sales as incorrect. At the time of argument, my attention was invited to a discrepancy to the extent of 5,459 cases in the Company's statement of sales in 1953. Unfortunately, this was not put to the witnesses who are responsible for preparation of this chart with reference to the Company's books of accounts. There might be more than one reason which would explain this discrepancy. Be that as it may, even if this disputed figure is left out of account, there would still be a case, established on the evidence on the Company's side, to show that as a matter of fact the stock gradually went on increasing beyond the storage capacity of the factory and that the sales went on decreasing necessitating an adjustment of production in the factory. On a careful consideration of this evidence and the facts and circumstances of the case, I am of opinion that in 1953 the sales gradually fell resulting in an unduly accumulation of stock at the Alambazar factory. This necessitated the curtailment of production in the factory and an adjustment of the labour force. The management justifies its action in curtailing the production according to its requirements on proof of fall in sales and accumulation of stock beyond its storage capacity. Reduction of production in a manufacturing concern is intimately connected with the reduction of the labour force, employed in the work. It goes without saying that a comparatively small number of labour is required to produce less work in a factory. The management found that a large number of workers had become surplus as a result of this curtailment in production. It did not take any action immediately in the hope of improvement in the situation in future. In the meantime, it kept the Union informed about the latest position. In fact it made several proposals to lay off the surplus labour force. Naturally the Union did not take them in good grace but proceeded very cautiously. They were opposed to all schemes for laying off the surplus labour force or to reduce production. The result is that the Company is obliged to maintain a labour force larger than its requirement. Mr. Wasmouth said that from the point of view of running the factory, the workers were badly affected when many of them came and roamed about for hours together because of shortage of work. He found that this low morality had led to disregard for raw materials and some products used in the manufacture. The result was that good materials were wasted increasing the cost of manufacture of the Company and he came to the conclusion that the best solution of the problem was to lay off surplus hands and that by rotation, so that they would not feel that very much. He, therefore, justifies this proposal to lay off also on the ground of discipline. It has been argued on the side of the Company that if sufficient number of surplus hands were laid off in time much of the loss in earnings which the piece-rated workers sustained due to curtailment of production could have been easily avoided. There is nothing to doubt the bona fides of the Company in this matter. Therefore, the Company must have a reasonable hand in the work of production in the factory and adjusting its labour force. It is the acknowledged right of the management to determine its labour force and this Tribunal would be slow to interfere with the performance of its functions unless it is shown that in doing so, it has either exceeded its normal limits or been actuated by some ulterior motives. The proposal to lay off the surplus labour force in the circumstances, disclosed during adjudication of this case, appears to be justified. It has been suggested on the side of the Union that the proposal is bad for vagueness and uncertainty and argued that the Company's proposed action in laying off a part of its labour force was really prompted by a desire to earn more profits out of this business at labour's cost and thereby add to already accumulated huge profits of the previous years. This argument, to my mind, does not stand to reason. The Company no doubt made profits in the previous years and shared them to some extent with the workers even in the year of strike in 1954. In an industry like this, manufacturing marketable commodities, there may be decrease or increase in its work without reference to profit or loss. The production may have to be reduced on account of accumulation of finished products and other reasons in spite of profits and it may be increased in spite of loss where the management thinks that the commodities produced by the industry would compete in the market. Therefore, the production has not very much to do with the profit or loss in this business. Lastly, it has been argued that the contemplated action of the management proceeded from a desire to make more profits. A desire to make more profits is natural and has been held to be lawful. Such a desire in a Company does not vitiate lay off or retrenchment (1953, I. L.L.J. 45). The proposal, however, must not be vague and uncertain and for an indefinite period. The Company has not up till now laid off a single worker or retrenched any. In fact, during the hearing of this case the Company has repeated its assurance that it would not retrench any of its staff till the end of this year. It stands by its assurance previously given to the Union during conciliation proceedings over the settlement of the dispute. The Company will lay off the surplus labour only if it finds that the position of sales and stock continues to remain the same even today. The decision will no doubt rest with the management. In case of lay off the management will decide in the beginning of the week the number of hands to be required in each department and the juniormost of the surplus hands in each category will, by rotation in four batches, be laid off for a fortnight at a stretch after which they would be taken back in work. A worker will be laid off for two weeks out of 8 and will be paid lay off compensation as laid down in the Industrial Disputes Act. The management will review the situation at the end of two months from the first lay off and may, if necessary, lay off surplus workers for another period of two months on conditions as stated above. The whole situation will be finally reviewed at the end of a year.

Issue No. 2.

The workers of the Wimco Mazdur Union went on strike after a strike-notice with effect from 15th May 1954. This strike continued till 19th September 1954 even after its continuance was forbidden by a Government Notification, purporting to be issued under Section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workers resumed work on 20th September 1954. They claimed compensation in the shape of strike pay for the entire period of the strike stating that the strike was justified on the facts and in the circumstances of this case and was resorted to only when all avenues for settlement of the dispute were exhausted due to an unrealistic attitude taken up by the Company. The Company denies this claim stating that the Union was solely responsible for this strike which was unjustified from its very inception and illegal from the very beginning. Therefore, the workers are not entitled to any pay and/or compensation for the strike period.

This has to be considered against a background of certain facts which are admitted and not in dispute. The admitted facts are that a previous dispute over grades and scales of pay and many other connected matters between the Company and its daily-rated and piece-rated workers, represented by the Wimco Mazdur Union, was settled by an agreement before the Conciliation Officer on 27th February 1952 (Ext. 1). This agreement was in force from January to 31st December 1952. According to the agreement itself it would continue to be in force even after that until and unless either party gave two months' notice, terminating it. Not satisfied with the terms and conditions of this agreement and with their implementation, the Union on 12th October 1953 sent a Charter of Demands with a forwarding letter, copy of which is exhibit 2. The Charter of demands (described as schedule of claims) forms "Annexure B" to the written statement filed by the Union before this Tribunal. In the meantime, the Company was having a heavy accumulation of stock particularly due to gradual fall in its sales and was facing a very difficult problem of curtailing its production with a heavy surplus labour force, much in excess of its requirements. It curtailed its production and discussed ways and means with the Mazdur Union to lay off a part of the surplus staff. The workers, mostly piece-rated, admittedly suffered loss in their earnings which depended on production. The Union and the Company negotiated for an amicable settlement over this matter. The Union submitted a Memorandum of Settlement to the Government on 10th January 1954, asking for its intervention for restoring the normal production and the wages structure, agreed on 27th February 1952. On 6th March 1954 the Union brought this to the notice of the Labour Commissioner with a view to conciliation and settlement of the dispute. This appears from Factory Manager's letter, dated 21st March 1954, sent to the Labour Commissioner (Ext. 2H). In reply to the said letter, the Union in Ext. 2L, dated 6th April 1954, asked the Labour Commissioner, among others to settle the dispute over the curtailment of production and the loss of earnings as a result of that as also to settle other disputes, arising out of their demands made in their Charter of Demands, dated 12th October 1952. The management had reduced production from normal quota of 350 to 220 cases a day. Piece rates which were revised at the time of the agreement, dated 27th January 1952, were linked with 350 cases of normal production per 8½ hours a day. The "Production Bonus" was fixed with a target of production of 260 cases a day. Naturally in the month of April 1954 the piece-raters—most of the workmen are paid at piece rates—had already their wages and dearness allowance cut by more than one-third and were deprived of the entire benefit of production bonus. Negotiations were continuing in the month of April for arriving at an amicable settlement of the pending dispute. It, however, appears from Factory Circular No. 24, dated 3rd May 1954 (Ext. B1 equal to Ext. 4A), that the Factory Manager announced for general information of the workers that conciliation proceedings had failed. In the meantime, the workers of the Mazdur Union had taken a decision to go on strike with effect from the 15th of May 1954, if their pending disputes over four items, mentioned in the strike-notice, were not settled before that date. The strike-notice was duly sent to the management on 1st May 1954 (Ext. 5). It would appear from a reading of it that the Union demanded the following: (i) no retrenchment; (ii) no involuntary unemployment or lay off; (iii) restoration of wage cuts; (iv) fulfilment of the Charter of Demands. On the same date, the Factory Manager in his letter (Ext. A9) refused to accept the strike-notice as valid because the strike decision was not taken by ballot, as laid down in Point No. 7 of the agreed conditions for recognition of the Wimco Mazdur Union. In reply, the Union in its letter, dated 10th May 1954, explained the circumstances, under which the decision was taken, i.e., by show of hands and not by ballot. The Factory Manager did not accept the explanation as satisfactory and repeated in his letter sent on the next day (Ext. A11) that the strike was not valid. In the meantime, the Company and the Mazdur Union sat together to discuss certain matters in connection with the strike; that was on 13th May 1954 (Ext. 3A). The outstanding disputes between the parties, mentioned in the strike-notice, were not discussed in that meeting. Mr. Wasmouth, Factory Manager, in his evidence said that there was no regular discussion at factory level over the demands made by the Mazdur Union in October 1953. The Union did not pursue the Charter of Demands at all. It was stated in the Company's written statement that Hon'ble Labour Minister made a proposal to the parties to refer their disputes to a Tribunal for adjudication before the strike. There is no evidence on this point. On the contrary, Mr. Wasmouth said that he had no knowledge of any offer made any time, either on the 19th April or on the 13th May, two days before the strike. The only attempt made for amicable settlement, on receipt of the strike-notice, was one made through the Employees' Union to mediate in the dispute. As a matter of fact, admittedly there was not even an acknowledgment of receipt of the Charter of Demands, made by the management nor there was any counter proposal or any reply given to these demands any time before the strike. In fact, no action was taken before the strike by either the Government or the management excepting an offer to mediate by the Wimco Employees' Union.

Mr. S. K. Acharaya, on behalf of the Mazdur Union, contended that the entire responsibility for the strike must be with the Company, for the Company all along acted malafide in dealing with this Union for resolving the outstanding disputes. The very fact of their refusal to make any counter offer to the demands made by the Union was evidence of bad faith. While the management replied to the demands, submitted by the Employees' Union, it did not think it worthwhile to even acknowledge the receipt of the Charter of Demands of the other Union. The workers were obliged under compulsion of events to launch this strike but they remained peaceful throughout and approached the authorities for an early settlement of the dispute which led to the strike. Mr. Ginwalla, on behalf of the Company, contended that the strike was illegal, irregular and unjustified from the very beginning and that the workers in resorting to it adopted unfair labour practice and violent methods throughout the period of the strike. Not only that they took up on unrealistic attitude throughout but also prevented an early settlement of the strike. He argued that the strike-notice was invalid and the strike was illegal for it was started during conciliation proceedings and in violation of the agreement dated 27th February 1952 which was in operation at the time. Even the strike decision was taken without the knowledge of the management and in breach of agreed conditions on which the Union was recognised. The striks was hasty and its decision was taken in an unauthorised manner by show of hands and not by ballot, as agreed upon in Point No. 7 for recognition of the Mazdur Union. He further contended that the agreement dated 27th February 1952 was not terminated according to the provisions of law, the terms of which must be still binding upon both parties. In fact, he contended, the Secretary of the Union in more than one place stated that the agreement was still in operation and that it should be given effect to.

I will now consider the objections raised by learned counsels of both sides on this issue. I take up the Company's objections first. There is no evidence on record to show that the conciliation proceedings continued when the strike was commenced. The strike, as stated before, commenced early in the morning of 15th May 1954. Mr. Wasmouth said that his own idea was that the conciliation proceedings were continuing at the time of the strike. Mr. Sunil Sinha, Secretary of the Mazdur Union, said that his impression was that the conciliation proceedings ended on or before 3rd May 1954 when the Factory Manager himself announced in his factory circular No. 24 of that date that the conciliation between the parties had failed. Mr. Ginwalla pointed out that there was a great deal of difference between failure of conciliation proceedings and its end according to Section 20(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 20, sub-section 2(b) is as follows: "A conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have concluded where no settlement is arrived at when the report of the Conciliation Officer is received by the appropriate Government." There is nothing to show, on the face of this record, when the report of the conciliation proceedings was received by the Government. On the contrary, it may be presumed that such a report was sent on or before the Manager announced the failure of the proceedings. In the next place it has been contended by Mr. Ginwalla that the agreement, dated 27th February 1952, was in force at the time of the strike, for it was not lawfully terminated by notice as required by section 19, sub-section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act and also as required by the terms and conditions of the agreement itself. Both the agreement and section 19, sub-section 2 require the parties to give one another, a notice in writing, signifying intention to terminate the settlement and at the end of two months from that date the settlement would cease to be binding on the parties. Mr. Sunil Sinha said that no separate notice was given to terminate the agreement but a notice terminating the agreement was sent at the time of submission of the Charter of Demands. He referred to Ext. 2, a copy of the letter, forwarding schedule of claims or Charter of Demands to the management, dated 12th October 1953. The first para. of that letter is important. It is as follows: "The Union intimated you some months before their tentative dissatisfaction with the terms of agreement and working thereof under specific heads and demanded claim over the same in supersession of the agreement. We, over again, enclose herewith the very pertinent claims of workmen in termination of the previous agreement, if any." Mr. Acharaya contends that there is no prescribed form of notice, contemplated in law, and the above was more than sufficient to signify an intention of terminating the agreement, dated 27th February 1952. Although the date of agreement is not particularly mentioned in the letter, there can never be any doubt as to its identity for no other agreement was outstanding between the parties. Mr. Ginwalla's objections are two-fold:—(i) Sunil Sinha, Secretary of the Union, in more places than one stated that the agreement was in force; and (ii) just as in ejectment notices under Section 106 of the T.P. Act, a notice to terminate an agreement under Section 19(ii) of the Industrial Disputes Act must mention the time, i.e., time expiring with two months from the date of the notice otherwise the notice would be invalid. Sunil Sinha is only a Tray Helper in the service of the Company with very little knowledge in English. He can barely read and write it. He cannot speak it well. He gets a minimum wages of Rs. 29 per month. Accordingly, his drafting of letters far less his opinion about them should not be seriously taken into account. Further, he himself has explained why he considered that the agreement was in operation even after the charter of demands, dated 12th October 1953. His evidence on this point is quoted below:—

> "Our impression was that the agreement, dated 27th February 1952, was in operation at that time as agreements must be in operation unless superseded by another. .....It is the common practice that until an agreement is superseded by another, it remains in operation and that is what we meant by saying in our charter of demands."

Question is not so much what Shri Sinha, Secretary of the Union, thinks about the agreement but what is the effect of the letter terminating the agreement in law. I am unable to accept Mr. Ginwalla's contention that a notice under section 19, sub-section (2), of the Industrial Disputes Act must be the same as an ejectment notice under section 106 of the T.P. Act is. Section 106 of the T.P. Act lays down that, "a lease is terminable by 15 days' notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy....." Section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act on the other hand lays down that an agreement will be binding upon the parties to it for a certain period of time and will cease to be so when one party gives to the other a notice in writing intimating its desire to terminate it. The agreement will cease to be binding only at the end of two months from the date of the notice. The requirements of the two sections, quoted above, to my mind, are different and any analogy between the two, therefore, is bound to be faulty. In my opinion, the agreement dated 27th February 1952 was lawfully terminated by the notice dated 12th October 1953. Mr. Acharaya has argued on a point of some nicety in connection with the termination of this agreement. He contends that a reference of a dispute covered by the agreement under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act has the effect of rescinding the agreement for all practical purposes. The Order of the Government amounts to a frustration of that agreement. The agreement becomes non est from the date of the order of reference. I am afraid, I am unable to accept this contention as sound, for in making an order of reference under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the appropriate Government takes no decision in matters involved in the dispute. It performs an administrative act and takes into consideration whether an industrial dispute is in existence or is apprehended. It does no more than its statutory duties in this matter. The effect of that order is that the matters of dispute become justiciable before an Industrial Tribunal and it sets the machinery of adjudication in motion. Accordingly, this extreme contention, advanced by Mr. Acharaya, that the reference makes the previous agreement null and void, fails. The Wimco Mazdur Union is a recognised Union. It received recognition from the Company on certain conditions. A copy of the conditions precedent to the recognition of the Union was handed over to me. The condition number 7 is as follows: "A strike shall not be called unless a ballot has previously been taken and no less than 51 per cent. of all workers have voted in favour of cessation of work. No ballot (which should be secret) or counting of votes shall be considered valid unless the proceedings are published and the Manager receives ample notice to enable him or his representative to attend." Admittedly in this case the Union had taken a decision regarding the strike in question not by ballot as stated above but by show of hands in a meeting of the workers which the Manager did not attend. It appears from the President's letter, dated 28th April 1954 (Ext. A7), that the President informed the Manager about the meeting to be held 30th instant with two agendas of the meeting. The factory Manager wanted to know "miscellaneous item" of the meeting on the agenda. This was not replied to and it appears that the strike decision was taken in a general meeting outside the factory premises on 30th April 1954. The Company's contention in this connection was that the strike notice was illegal and the strike was irregular, being in violation of the conditions precedent to the recognition of the Union. Mr. Acharaya, referring to a treatise on strike by K. G. Knowles of Oxford (page 120), contended that "workers' objections to the ballot before the strike were that they would take away surprise which was considered essential to the success of a strike". Mr. Ginwalla, on the other hand, relied upon several provisions of the Indian Trade Unions (Amendment) Act, 1947 and contended that it was an act of unfair practice on the part of the Union to decide on the question of strike in breach of the rules providing for the procedure for declaring a strike, as required by Section 20(D) of the Act. At the same time, he contended that the Indian Trade Unions (Amendment) Act was not a part of the law of the land for it was not brought into operation by a notification in the Gazette. It is not disputed that the strike decision was taken in breach of the condition number 7, a condition precedent to the recognition of this Union. Question now is whether that would make the strike irregular or would make it an unfair act on the part of the Union, disentitling its workers to any equitable relief, arising out of this strike. I do not think so. Mr. Ginwalla's contention practically loses all its force in view of the admitted fact that the provisions of the Indian Trade Unions Act, upon which he relied, have not the force of law and, as such, binding on the parties. Further, in adjudicating an industrial dispute, a Tribunal is concerned only with the effect of the decision regarding strike and not with its method, that is to say, the law looks to the substance and not to the form of the matter. It is enough for our present purpose that there was a strike within the meaning of Industrial Disputes Act. There was complete cessation of work by all the workers, represented by the Wimco Mazdur Union. Any unreasonable restriction on the fundamental rights of a worker to go on strike imposed upon by the management is, to my mind, void, being inconsistent with the provisions of Article 19(1)(c) of the Constitution of India. Decision regarding strike rests entirely with the workers and the management cannot call in question the legality of a strike on the sole ground that the decision was not taken in accordance with the directions and then, as has been pointed out by Mr. Acharaya in this case, the very purpose of the strike would be frustrated if the decision has got to be taken by ballot. In any case, I do not consider the irregularity in this matter to be one of substance, invalidating the strike, held in pursuant to it. It is not that the Union did not allow the management sufficient time to make necessary preparations in the event of strike or sufficient opportunity to discuss and settle the matter of dispute in the meantime. Mr. Acharaya's contention that the failure or refusal of the employer to make counter proposal to the charter of demands are elements, which, if considered in connection with the entire tenor of the bargaining process, may indicate bad faith. He relied on Section 330 of Ludwig Teller's "Labour Dispute and Collective Bargaining", Volume II, page 889. Mr. Ginwalla in reply relied on the previous section (section 329, page 884) and contended that the requirements of good faith were not wanting in this particular case. As stated above, the Company did not even acknowledge the receipt of the charter of demands, dated 12th October 1953. No endeavour was made on its part to discuss about these demands with a view to their settlement. In fact, it was the Union who asked the Labour Commissioner to intervene in the matter and settle all outstanding dispute including those mentioned in the charter of demands. Judging against this background and taking a stock of the total situation, I am inclined to hold that the management intentionally turned a deaf ear to the Union's demands and requests made to settle all outstanding disputes and that partially led to this strike. The responsibility for the strike, therefore, lies partly, if not wholly, with the employers in this case. The justification of the strike will, however, depend on other considerations also. As stated above, the Union launched this strike on four issues viz., (i) no retrenchment; (ii) no lay off; (iii) wage cuts and (iv) fulfilment of the charter of demands. It has been held in the Full Bench Decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in Ramkrishna Iron & Foundry vs. their workers, reported in 1954 L.A.C. p. 73, that a strike may be held to be unjustified for various reasons. A Tribunal may hold that it is not justified because the demands were pitched unreasonably high or that it was resorted to although the employers had adopted a reasonable attitude by taking steps to have the alleged grievances redressed through negotiation or conciliation or because the demands were not made bonafide but with other extraneous motives, as for instance, mainly for the purpose of embarrassing the employer. ..... So bonafides would be a relevant and important factor. Thus when a strike is resorted to under the pretence of backing a current demand but with the real object of compelling the employer to re-open a demand, which had already been settled by adjudication and which could not be re-opened or when it is resorted to frivolously and frequently, the dominating motive being to ruin the industry the position would be different..... ..... The justification of the strike will be considered in the light of the observations made above. We have already noticed that the Company had a good case for laying off its surplus staff, purely for trade reasons. It did not, however, lay off or retrench any of its staff until even today. The Union's refusal to accept the proposed lay off in the circumstances of the case was, to some extent, responsible for the creation of the deadlock over the issue. In all fairness, it must be said that the strike over the issue of lay off or retrenchment, against an express assurance given by the Company, was unjustified. But then the strike over the remaining issues is, on the facts and in the circumstances of the case, perfectly justified. The workers have been complaining since their earnings were reduced as a result of curtailment of production by the Company. During discussions over settlement of that matter, the management continued to reduce production and thereby reduced the earnings of the workers. By the end of April i.e., shortly before the strike, the conciliation by the Labour Commissioner failed and at the time the workers were losing by more than one-third of their earnings not only in wages and dearness allowance but in the production bonus as well. In this predicament the workers were forced to go on strike. Before that the Union appealed to the Government and requested the Labour Commissioner to seriously take up all outstanding disputes including their demands with a view to settlement. That is why I have stated above the responsibility for the strike rests also with the management. The responsibility of the management seems greater than that of the workers.

Question now is whether the workers are entitled to strike-pay. Now this again depends on several factors.

Commencement of the strike may be lawful and on justifiable grounds. But its continuance for any length of time may not be justified. Its continuance beyond a reasonable period of time can never be held to be justified. Continuance of the strike means not only loss of earnings to the workers but loss of production to the industry, loss of profits to the employers. The community is interested in seeing that a strike, however, lawful, is not continued beyond a reasonable period of time. If the continuance of the strike is not peaceful or the strike is unduly prolonged without making any endeavour to arrive at a settlement, the workers involved in the strike are not entitled to any compensation or pay, even if the strike be justified and otherwise legal. In this particular case, the strike continued from 15th May 1954 to 19th September 1954, although it was forbidden in accordance with the provisions of law by the Government from 1st September 1954. The continuance of strike after it was forbidden by the Government under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act is illegal. It has been held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in Bharat Airways, Ltd., reported in 1953 L.A.C., page 450, that such a strike is illegal. The strike for this period would be unjustified as well for there cannot be any reasonable grounds for its continuance after a reference of the dispute to a Tribunal for adjudication. The workers are not entitled to any wages or compensation for this period of the strike. An illegal strike, which is punishable according to law, cannot be the foundation of a claim of right to wages (1952 L.A.C., 370, 1953 L.A.C., 450 and 1954 L.A.C. 498). It appears that the Union approached the authorities including the Labour Commissioner within a month of the commencement of the strike for an early settlement. The Company reported the fact of the strike to the Labour Commissioner but did not ask for his intervention for its settlement. Accordingly, the strike, which was not illegal, continued until it was forbidden by the Government. The period of strike between 15th May 1954 and 31st August 1954, i.e., three and a half months, was not illegal. Question is whether the continuance of the strike for such a lengthy period which resulted in loss of production and loss of Government's excise revenue, was called for in the circumstances of the case. It is no doubt true that both parties, the workers and the employers were losing in their earnings and profits respectively as a result of this strike. It appears that at a certain stage of discussions with a view to settlement of the strike, the Union took up an unrealistic attitude and, so much so, that the further continuance of the strike had to be forbidden by the Government. Considering the conduct of the employers and the employees, both, and the facts and circumstances of the case, I am inclined to hold that there was hardly any justification for continuance of the strike beyond a period of one month from the date of its commencement. Ordinarily, there would be no pay for no work. Industrial Tribunals, have, in suitable circumstances, made exceptions to this general rule and allowed suitable compensation in the shape of strike-pay and allowances to the workers where the strike is legal and justified (Bihar Fire Bricks vs. Their Workmen, 1953 L.A.C. 81). In the said case their lordships said, with reference to deductions from wages for the strike period, that if these deductions were allowed to be made in the circumstances of the present case, it would amount to denying the workmen the right which they had acquired after a great deal of struggle and sacrifice. The Company paid regular bonus at the rate of 4½ months' basic pay in 1954, the year of strike, as in the previous years. There has been no case of victimisation, no case of lay off or retrenchment. Considering all this, I think the workmen should not get more than 15 days' basic pay and dearness allowance for the period of the strike. The basic pay and dearness allowance and production bonus should be calculated on an average of six months previous to the time of curtailment of production resulting in loss of earnings to the workers, that is to say, the workers of the Wimco Mazdur Union should get basic pay and dearness allowance including production bouns calculated on six months' average ending with December 1953. The payments should be made within a month from the date of the operation of the Award. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 3.

The Union claimed compensation for the loss of earnings of the workers btween November 1953 and 14th May 1954. The Company resisted this claim stating that it was unreasonable and unjustified and contended that it was under no obligation—moral and legal—to pay any part of it. It always paid the guaranteed rates where the reduction in production resulted in loss of earnings to the workers. Both the piece-rated and the monthly-rated staff were affected as a result of the curtailment of production by the management. The piece-rated staff incurred heavy losses, both in wages and dearness allowance as also in production bonus, whereas the monthly-rated staff incurred loss only in the production bonus. That there has been loss in the earnings is admitted by the management in its letter to the Labour Commissioner, dated 21st March 1954 (Ext. 2H). In paragraph 2 of that letter, the Manager writes as follows:—"It is admitted that as a result hereof earnings on piece-rate have fallen. I am sure, however, that this is preferred by the majority of the workers to the only other alternative, viz., retrenchment. It should be noted that there has been no change in the piece-rates of the Company. The piece-rated workers are being paid their guaranteed minimum basic wages if for no fault of their own earnings on piece-rate fall below the guaranteed minimum. There has been no change either in the guaranteed minimum basic wages paid to piece-rated workers." Of course, the extent of loss, its amount, in individual cases or collectively, is not admitted. In this connection Mr. Ginwalla, on behalf of the Company, endeavoured to show, without much evidence on record, that the loss of earnings was also due to absenteeism, inefficiency and slow-down tactics in work. I will presently discuss the evidence, oral and documentary on this point. But I must point out that the issue relates to the justification of loss in earnings, direct or indirect, as a result of the curtailment of production due to accumulation of stock. That is apparent not only from the issue but also from the written statement of both sides further clarifying it. Accordingly, we are not so much concerned with cases of both in earnings due to absence of the workers or of their inefficiency in work or their adopting slow-down tactics in work. In the last two cases, the management may, for good reasons, issue charge-sheets against the workers either for being inefficient or adopting a slow-down policy which is punishable as a misconduct. That is neither here nor there. The Union examined two witnesses of whom Mr. Sunil Sinha, Secretary of the Union, is a piece-rated worker. He said in his evidence that he was a tray helper in the Box Closing Department, a piece-rated work. His wages amounted to Rs. 29 per month. He used to get total emoluments of Rs. 98 per month before November 1953. At present he was getting on an average Rs. 68 per month. He was confronted with his attendance chart (Ext. F). In cross-examintion he said that he was not in a position to say at that distance of time whether the extract was correct or not. Ext. F shows that in the first four months of 1955 his total absenteeism was 13, 5, 11 78 and 22·45/8. Mr. Wasmouth said in his evidence that if the production was less than the target, the worker would be earning less. There is no other evidence on the side of the management on this point. The Union puts in some wage sheets of some workers for the month of February 1955, besides some charts (Exts. 7B to 7E), showing several job rates. In Ext. 7C, a comparative chart showing loss of earnings where the attendance was regular, was proved by the Union's second witness Mr. Bose. He was cross-examined on this point. He did not produce the wage bills in support of the chart. He did not accept the suggestion that the loss in earnings was due to their not doing work properly. Regarding Ext. 70, he said that he compared the earnings of the workers for the month of April 1954 with that of the same month of the previous year. In four cases he could not get information. In fact, the chart was incomplete and there was no foundation to prove the accuracy of the figures mentioned in it. In Ext. 6, the Union stated that the average income per month dropped from 120, 130 to 60 and 65, i.e., by 50 per cent. In its written statement (paragraph 13), the Union stated that the loss of earnings in the month of April 1954 alone was between 40 and 50 per cent. This is what the evidence regarding the extent of the loss in earnings. This evidence is not sufficient to establish the extent of loss in individual cases for the period in claim. Neither it is possible for the parties to adduce evidence to establish the claim in the case of the workers numbering more than 700. Question now is whether this loss of earnings as a result of curtailment of production is justified. Mr. Ginwalla contends that since the curtailment of production has been found to be justified in the circumstances of the case, the loss of earnings as a result of that should be found to be equally justified and the management in no case should be called upon to compensate for this loss or any part of it, for it is under no obligation—legal or otherwise—to do so. The Standing Orders or agreement or the Industrial Disputes Act does not provide for payment of any compensation in such cases. Further, his contention is that if the management were permitted to lay off surplus hands at a time when it proposed to do it, much of this loss could have been avoided altogether. The workers' persistent refusal to accept the proposed lay off has led to this inevitable result and they have, to a considerable extent, contributed to that. They should not be permitted to take an undue advantage of their own wrong. Mr. S. K. Acharaya, on the other hand, supports the claim of the workers for full compensation for this unwarranted loss in their earnings and contends that since the entire earnings of the piece-rated workers depend on production and the piece-rates are linked with normal production of 350 cases per 8½ hours a day, the management cannot, for trade reasons, cut down their earnings most arbitrarily by reducing the production. A certain percentage of their wages of both the piece-rated and the monthly-rated staff is derived from production bonus which again is dependant on production above a target of 260 cases a day of similar hours. Inasmuch as the management has reduced the working hours from 8½ hours to ½ hours a day and gradually brought down the level of production from its normal rate of 350 to 220 cases per day and thereby very substantially reduced the total earnings of the workers, it is under obligation—both equitably and legally—to fully compensate the workers for this loss.

I think, there is a good deal of substance in Mr. Acharaya's contention on this point. The management may, for good reasons, find the necessity for curtailing the production in the factory. If it acts bona fide in the interest of business it should be permitted to do so. It is absolutely a business proposition and the management has full discretion in the matter. But where the curtailment of production seriously and prejudicially affects the workers' emoluments, the management, in all fairness to the workers, should see that they are compensated against any loss in their earnings. The entire scheme of piece-rates is to my mind, recognises this principle. The management has guaranteed a certain minimum basic rates for the piece-raters which they would get in all circumstances unless they are at fault. For, after all, a piece-rater earns only as much as he produces. A glance at Ext. 1, the agreement, dated 27th February 1952, will show that piece-rates were revised by that agreement taking 350 cases of 8½ hours a day as normal basis of production. Mr. Wasmouth in his evidence has said that 330 to 350 cases per day is the normal production of the factory. Of course, at a later stage of his deposition he wanted to say that there was no such thing as normal production in the factory. It is evidently clear from the agreement that the rates were settled taking 350 cases to be the normal production for a day of 8½ hours. The mangement cannot but interfere with the basic wages when it reduces production. It is immaterial for our present purpose whether such reduction is necessitated by trade reasons. It is enough that there has been an interference with the basic wages. Dearness allowance is connected with the basic wages and, therefore, whenever there is an interference with the basic wages, there is interference with dearness allowance as well. The hours of work were reduced from 8½ to 8 hours a day. Mr. Wasmouth said that it was done at the request of the Union and that this change did not affect the earnings at all. That may be correct when the total working hours remain the same. It has not been shown how lay off of surplus hands as proposed by the management could have avoided this loss of earnings. The proposition is not so simple as it has been suggested to be. The distribution of work among a comparatively less number of workers is likely to improve the earnings to some extent, but that is not the whole point. In actual fact no worker was laid off and the proposal and counter proposal were being discussed when the management continued to reduce production from 350 to 220 cases a day. There would have been good justification on the side of the management, if they did not curtail any production to the detriment of the interest of the workers when the negotiations for an amicable settlement of the proposals were in progress. The management, in the circumstances, cannot altogether escape from its otherwise liability to compensate for this loss to the workers by saying that it was obliged in the interest of business to suffer that loss. It cannot thrive entirely at labour's cost. It is only fit and proper that both the employers and the employees should, in such an event, share the loss equally so that the entire burden of it does not fall on the shoulders of the poor workers. The production bonus, I am told, stands on a different footing and should receive a different treatment in this case. It is never looked upon essentially as a substantial part of a worker's wages. A worker is to get production bonus by actually producing above a certain fixed target of work. Nobody working less does earn anything at all. In the Company's written statement (paragraph 27), it is stated that the idea behind fixing production bonus was that it should form at least 15 per cent. of the basic wages. Mr. Wasmouth in his evidence at pages 18 and 21 said that the production bonus was meant to form about 18 to 20 per cent. of the basic earnings of a worker and when the production was 340 cases a day, the rate of production bonus would be about 40 per cent. of the basic wages. So, in any case, a worker cannot be allowed it for more than 15 per cent. of his basic wages and that when he is in a position to work beyond a certain fixed standard. In my opinion, there cannot be any reasonable claim to production bonus or any part of it where the production has, for trade reasons, been cut down below the fixed standard and where the worker has not, in actual fact, worked to earn it. In that way it stands on a different footing from piece-rates and dearness allowance. I think I have considered all that can possibly be said for and against the workers' claim for compensation for the loss of earnings within the period in claim. Social justice demands that in the aforesaid circumstances of the case, there should be an equitable adjustment between the employers and the employees. It is not sufficient to pay the guaranteed minimum rates where the workers' loss largely exceeds that. As I have already stated above, both the employers and the employees should share the loss equally, for after all the workers are losing their earnings for no fault of their own. The workers were paid regular annual bonus in 1954 and guaranteed wages except in a few cases, as alleged by the Union. The workers should accordingly be paid compensation to make good this loss, if any, above the guaranteed minimum up to 50 per cent. in basic wages and dearness allowance due to curtailment of production by the management. That is to say, the management will pay ½ of the loss, over the guaranteed wages only. The average loss for the period in claim should be calculated on the basis of six months' wages and dearness allowance of the pre-curtailment period ending with December 1954. The payments should be made within one month from the date of the operation of this Award. Mr. Pathak, on behalf of the Union, urged that the Company did not pay the 'guaranteed wages' to some 'Piece-raters', who suffered cuts due to curtailment of production. The Union place a list of such cases to the management, within a fortnight of the publication of this Award, when the management will consider and review those cases, and pay the 'guaranteed wages' where necessary payments were not made before. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issues Nos. 4 and 5.

This and the subsequent issues were framed under Issue No. 4 referred to this Tribunal by the Government. They were framed after hearing the learned counsels of both parties and after perusing the written statements filed by them. Issue No. 4 was in general term as follows: "Any other issues that may be raised before the Tribunal by the parties." Mr. Ginwalla's objections regarding these issues and the subsequent issues, framed under general Issue No. 4, are: (i) that the reference is bad in law; (ii) the issues are covered by the agreement, dated 27th February 1952 which is binding on the parties; and (iii) that some of them are new, i.e., not in the charter of demands or in the strike notice and raised for the first time before this Tribunal and, therefore, they are not industrial disputes. The Tribunal is under no circumstances required to scrutinise and answer them, for in fact, it was already dealt with the first point taken up by the learned counsel, on behalf of the Company, while deciding the issue on jurisdiction. I need not add any further to what I said in connection with that issue. It is sufficient to state that a reference is good even if it is made in general term (vide 1951 L.A.C. 543). Regarding the other points of objection, a dispute can be raised even without notice for the first time before the Labour Commissioner or the appropriate Government. There are lots of decisions including one of the Supreme Court of India on this point (vide A.I.R. 1953 S.C. 53; 1952 L.A.C. 233 and 243 and 1953 L.A.C. 152). The objections accordingly are disposed of.

These two issues are taken together. The Union claimed one month's full wages for each year of service as agreed and the Company resisted this claim stating that it has since 1945 been paying Provident

Fund to its workers. For service prior to 1945, the Company has already introduced a scheme of gratuity at the rate of half month's basic wages for each completed year of service. The Union's demand for double retiral benefits is unjustifiable and untenable. The Union claimed Provident Fund deductions not only on wages, as at present paid, but on dearness allowance as well. It has been held in Assam Oil Co., Ltd., reported in 1954 L.A.C., 543 that the question as to whether double retiral benefits should be given or not would depend principally upon the considerations of prosperity and stability of the undertaking or concern and in such cases, the sufficiency of the existing retiring benefit is also a material factor for consideration. Mr. Ginwalla, on behalf of the Company, opposes both the claims and contends that the existing retiring benefits are adequate and that in the present circumstances of the case, where the stability of the Company is at issue, the financial burden of the Company should not be increased by allowing double retiring benefits and that at increased rates. He suggests that the total emoluments of an employee in this Company are large and that he gets ample opportunity for saving. Accordingly, he suggested that in the absence of any evidence to show that the total emoluments were inadequate, the existing arrangements should stand. He continued further that Employees' Provident Fund Act did not apply to this particular concern. The legislature in its wisdom deliberately partitioned off the field allowing some categories of worker, the benfits of that Act and leaving out others from these benefits. A reasonable classification is possible in a discriminatory legislation like this and this Tribunal should not interfere to destroy that classification. In this case, the workers' demands included double retiring benefits, increased deduction of provident fund, general increment of pay and enhancement of piece-rates, etc. Apart from proving a chart showing minimum basic wages and dearness allowance in some of the establishments for unskilled worker (Ext. 9), the Union did nothing to show what the requirements of a worker are at this present day. On the other hand, the existing retiring benefits are covered both ways by the Provident Fund where it is applicable and by a suitable scheme of gratuity, where it does not appear to be sufficient. It is 8¼ per cent. on basic wages on both sides. It has not been shown that in any comparable concern Provident Fund deductions are made not only on basic wages but on dearness allowance as well or that double retiring benefits are enjoyed by the workers in any of them. The Company's Balance Sheets disclose a fair margin of profits from 1951 to 1954, but then a manufacturing concern like this, which depends largely on a competitive market for its existence, does not look upon its profits, so much for its existence as for a fair market, for sale of its commodities. The Company is facing with an acute problem from fall in its sales due to a competitive market and this is not the proper time when it should be asked to shoulder more financial burden in paying its staff. I, therefore, reject both these claims and answer the issues accordingly.

Issue No. 6.

This relates to arrangement for quarter or quarter allowance. This is in the charter of demands. That was a demand at the time of agreement, dated 27th February 1952, but the Union agreed to drop it. The same demand was repeated in its charter of demands, submitted on 12th October 1953. Mr. Ginwalla contends that since this is covered by the agreement, dated 27th February 1952, it should not be agitated over again. This overlooks two points: (i) this demand was not settled, and

(ii) it was dropped or withdrawn. I have already noticed above that the agreement was validly terminated by a notice. It is no longer binding upon the parties. I understand that some quarters have already been built and they are in the process of distribution among the workers. I think the Union would be well advised to wait for sometime more before pressing this demand. In this connection it may be noted that the Union asked the Company to finish construction of the quarters as quickly as possible and pending that to allow bachelor workers an allowance of Rs. 20 and to married workers an allowance of Rs. 25. The Company in paragraph 4 of its supplementary written statement said that it has been providing quarters for its workers and a new block of rooms of 24 one-roomed flats would be completing very soon. It denied its responsibility for providing quarters which, in its opinion, is the responsibility of the State. As I have already stated above, that some quarters have already been built and are being distributing among the workers. There are some difficulties in completing the total requirements of the workers at a time. Accordingly, the workers should not press the demand now. The workers have failed to prove any case where in a factory they are given quarter allowance to the extent in claim. Accordingly that stands rejected.

Issues Nos. 7, 7(a), 7(b) and 8.

Of them, Annual Bonus (Issue No. 7) comes first. At present the annual bonus is paid at the rate of 4½ months' basic wages a year. The Union claims that it should be six months' wages in place of 4½ months' a year. This has been resisted by the Company saying that by and large the Company is paying a very high bonus ex-gratia in nature irrespective of profits. It is not based on agreement although it is paid for the last five years at this rate and paid in 1954, the year of strike. It is a fallacy to say that bonus will go on increasing indefinitely with the profits. The claim is not confined to any particular year although both in 1951 and 1952, the Company earned profits, more profits in 1952 than in 1951. A glance at the Balance Sheets will show that amount of profits fell in 1953 and in 1954. It has been definitely laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in 1954 L.A.C. 543 that the Tribunal is not competent to declare any future bonus. It has now been settled by a decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Muir Mills, reported in 1955 L.A.C. 1, that a claim for bonus should ordinarily be determined on the basis of profits earned in the year in claim and that no bonus should be awarded in a year of loss. No endeavour was made by the Union to establish a case in respect of any particular year that six months' bonus in place of 4½ months' should be paid out of profits. I, therefore, reject this claim of the Union.

Regarding 'Revision of Production Bonus rate' and 'Reduction of production target from 262 to 220 c/s' [Issues Nos. 7(a) and 7(b)], Mr. Ginwalla has invited the attention of this Tribunal to the evidence of Mr. Wasmouth on this point and contended that an increase in the production rate and reduction of the production target would automatically restrict the level of production. Mr. Wasmouth said: "The marginal cost of production bonus per case will be for the present time approximately Rs. 12 per case when the production is 250 per 8½ hours. The marginal cost will increase to approximately Rs. 23-8 as. per case when the production is 400 cases per 8½ hours. This is a very important feature. The cost of production bonus is very progressive. In other words, if we go beyond a certain point, the Company will lose by increasing production. Another interesting feature about production bonus is that if it forms too big a share of worker's earnings he will suffer very much loss of earnings during difficult times. Production bonus should be an incentive to higher production but it should not form a major part of the workers' earnings.....At present it forms about 15 to 20 per cent. of the basic earnings of a worker." There is practically nothing on the side of the Union against this evidence. I am convinced that any attempt to increase the production rate and reduce the production target, as claimed by the Union, in the present circumstances, will create further difficulties in the matter of production itself. If the level of production is further reduced by any such attempt as it is said, it were, it should, by all means, be avoided. This is not the proper time to consider them when the workers' grievance is that production has been curtailed affecting their earnings. I decide the issues against the Union.

Issue No. 8 relates to share of revenue on advertisements on match boxes, i.e., Advertisement Bonus. The Union's case is that the Company earns huge profits through advertisements on match boxes for which the Company does not bear costs. The advertisement materials are supplied by the parties concerned and the workers, who are all piece-raters, affix labels on boxes. The Union accordingly prays that 50 per cent. of the total gross revenue, received under this head, should be distributed equally to all factory workers irrespective of their place of work. The Company urges for its total rejection on the ground that annual bonus is paid out of net profits of the Company and that since the Union is not willing to share loss with the Company, its claim for a share of revenue, arising out of advertisements on match boxes, should be rejected. As a matter of fact, the revenue obtained out of advertisements is not shown separately in the Balance Sheets. It is difficult to make out why the Union has selected out of so many items of revenue this one in support of its claim for a new bonus called 'Advertisement Bonus'. Since the 'Annual Bonus' is paid out of total net profits of the Company, I think the Union has no justification whatsoever for a further claim for bouns arising out of advertisements on match boxes. I answer the issue against the Union.

Issues Nos. 9, 10 and 22.

These are taken together. The Union claims for a revision of piece-rates on the ground that since the working hours have been reduced from 8½ hours to 8 hours a day, the piece-rates should be proportionately increased. The present rate of the workers, who are daily-rated and in some cases piece-rated, should be increased by 25 per cnt. over and above general increment, that may be given. Under the issue of 'General Increment', the Union states that the present wage-structure is very unscientific and that a grade system with annual increment should be introduced. The Company contested all the issues and stated that the factory previously used to work 8½ hours on weekdays except Saturday when the working hours were 5½ a day. This method of working was changed by mutual consent towards the end of 1952. As a result of this arrangement, the factory is now working 8 hours a day, making a total of 48 hours a week and this total is the same as before. The weekly earnings of workers have not been affected at all and, therefore, there are no reasons for revision of piece-rates. The Company also opposes to any increment of rates by 25 per cent. in the case of certain employees and to general increment and grade. The Union contends that the Company is financially sound and is in a position to pay more to its staff having earned huge accumulated profits in the previous years. The staff is poorly paid and their requirements are more than what they earn. In case of a transporter (Ext. 7N, Job No. 20), his dearness allowance and basic wages come up to Rs. 62-8 as. a month whereas, National Carbon Co., and others pay to an unskilled worker Rs. 105 per month (vide Ext. 9). Accordingly, Mr. Pathak, on behalf of the Company, argued, in the first place, that the piece-rate should be revised by adding 25 per cent. more to the existing rates; that at least the minimum basic wages of an unskilled labour should be fixed, as suggested by him, and that there should be general increment of all the workers. I have considered the arguments of the learned representatives of both sides on these issues. No case has been made out for the revision of piece-rates for, according to Mr. Wasmouth's evidence, the total working hours of the factory remain the same as before and that the change in the working hours was effected on mutual consent of both parties. Accordingly, the Union cannot make this a point of grievance in asking for a revision of piece-rates. Mr. Pathak could not tell us why the piece-rates should be enhanced by making an addition of 25 per cent. to the existing rates. He has not been able to show satisfactorily by any reliable evidence that the earnings of piece-raters in this Company are much less than what they are in comparable concerns in the locality. Further, piece-rate in a job has nothing to do with the working hours. In fixing a piece-rate one is to calculate everything to a nicety. This requires, among others, time and motion study in evaluating jobs. There is no material before the Tribunal to enable it to consider whether the rate should be revised with a view to their enhancement.

Unbarkers are daily-rated staff and transporters are some daily-rated and some piece-rated. Except proving that their total earnings in basic wages and dearness allowance come up to Rs. 62-8 as. per month, Mr. Pathak did nothing to show that all employees there are entitled to a different treatment in this respect. After all, peace in an industry depends, to a large extent, upon maintaining a proper wage differential among different categories of workers. The basic wages of all the workers will have to be raised if Mr. Pathak's suggestion be accepted in increasing the basic wages of unbarkers and transporters. In the absence of any incremental scale and grades, the general increment asked for every worker cannot be allowed, and there are no materials for the introduction of grades with scales of pay for all classes of workers. Accordingly, I am not inclined to accede to the request of the Union and decide these issues accordingly.

Issue No. 11.

This relates to medical facilities. It is stated by the Union that the present medical arrangements are hopelessly inadequate and that they should be improved. All necessary medicines should be made available free of cost not only to all workers but to the members of their families as well. In reply, the Company states that it maintains a dispensary which remains open throughout the entire period of the working hours for both the day and night shifts. All common medicines and injections are given free of charge in the dispensary. The Company retains some beds in the Kashipore Hospital. Further it says that as the Employees' State Insurance Scheme will come into operation very soon, there is no justification for this demand. The Company's arrangements, as stated, appear to be adequate. There is no evidence on record to show in which way the arrangements are defective and call for a change. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 12.

This relates to workers' welfare. The Union is very cryptic when it says that the workmen should enjoy the benefits which the Bombay and Madras workmen are enjoying at present. It is not the Union's case that they do not enjoy benefits in this respect. There is no evidence on record to show what more benefits are enjoyed by workmen at Madras and Bombay. The Company's case is that the workmen are enjoying the same benefits everywhere. This claim, therefore, fails.

Issue No. 13.

This relates to sanitation arrangement. The Union claimed that the workmen should be supplied with towels and soaps and referred to clause 9 of the charter of demands. The Union did not give any details. In argument Mr. Pathak said that he would be satisfied if the factory rules in this respect were strictly observed. The Company stated in reply that the arrangements are of the required standard of the Factories Act and that some of the workers, whose duty require them to wash their hands, are already provided with napkins. In this stage of allegations and counter allegations and no evidence, I reject the claim.

Issue No. 14.

This relates to rest room. Mr. Pathak did not press this issue for adjudication. Accordingly it is disposed of.

Issue No. 15.

This relates to canteen. In the Union's written statement it claimed that canteen cook and boys should be supplied with two pairs of suitable dress each and should be washed by Company's 'Dhobi'. At the time of argument it demanded that the existing rate of meal of 8 as. be changed to 6 as. and two or three tea boys should go round distributing hot tea and snags to the workers. This was not put to the Company's witness even at the time of hearing. In reply, the Company in its written statement stated that they would only be called upon to receive constructive suggestions for the improvement of the canteen without any substantial increase in its expenditure. I think the best way to solve any problem in connection with it is to put concrete suggestions before the management with a view to their expansion.

Issue No. 16.

This relates to workers' club. The Union's grievance is that the agreement, dated 27th February 1952, with regard to workers' club was not implemented and that it should be implemented within three months from the date of the publication of the Award. Mr. Wasmouth said: "We have accommodated the club in the building which was erected by the army during the War, on the land which was requisitioned from the Company. This land was taken on acquisition by the Defence Department and we have proposed to the Union that they should try to find a suitable place for the club and we have offered to pay what we promised to pay. The main thing about the club at present is in the library which they have got. There are some indoor games, and the space is very limited." That is the only evidence regarding the workers' club. The Company, in reply, denied the Union's allegations. I think there is not much force in this issue and the Union is advised to find suitable accommodation in a better place, so that the Company may build one for the permanent use of the workers. The management should try its best to see that the club is better accommodated and well-equipped. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 17.

This relates to Tea and Tiffin. At present the workers are provided with a free cup of tea. The Union claimed four annas as tiffin allowance for each worker in addition to a free cup of tea. Admittedly, no factory worker gets such an allowance in any factory. I do not think that the Company should be asked to make a departure in the case of its workers and to pay them four annas each for tiffin. The existing arrangements will, however, continue.

Issue No. 18.

This relates to modification of Standing Orders. The Union stated that the present Standing Orders contained various clauses which were derogatory to the concept of industrial and social justice and required revision. A detailed amendment* was promised at the time of hearing The Company in reply stated that Standing Orders were certified in 1947. In 1948-49, the workers represented to the Labour Commissioner for revision of the Standing Orders which he refused. At the time of hearing, proposed amendment to the Standing Orders were handed over to me, suggesting certain amendments which are more or less of technical nature. Mr. Ginwalla contends that no specific demand was even made in connection with this issue and, accordingly, no industrial dispute was raised over it. It was not in the charter of demans and there was no evidence to show how the existing orders are found wanting in actual operation. Accordingly, Mr. Ginwalla asked for their rejection. It appears that the workers' grievance is more, regarding Standing Orders Nos. 41 and 42. It is stated that the workers are temporarily transferred to do all sorts of job largely to their dislike whereas the Standing Orders provide that they should be put on suitable jobs, viz., same or similar nature of jobs. It does not appear that the rule is in any way defective. I have, to my great disappointment, noticed that some of the important issues, including the present one for revision of the Standing Orders, were raised very lightly and in view of the complexities of more important issues, very little attention was paid to a number of them before the Tribunal. I am afraid, I cannot, in the absence of any materials on record, decide them fully and finally in this reference. The Union, if so advised, should take up these issues with a view to their settlement with the management. I, therefore, leave this issue undecided in this case.

Issues Nos. 18 and 25.

These relate to cheap grain shop. The Union asked for extension of facilities to their dependents and also compensation for loss due to closure of the shop since 1st August 1954. The Company contested both these issues. The cheap grain shop was abolished along with the abolition of the rationing system on 1st August 1954 and the concession, which the workers received from the shop, were compensated by a cash allowance which varies according to the cost of living index. This roughly works out at about Rs. 3 per month at the present moment. There cannot be any question of extending concession benefits to the workers' families when the benefits are denied to the workers themselves with the abolition of the grain shop. The Company is compensating the workers by paying them cash allowance. No case has been made out in favour of the issues, raised by the Union. I answer the issues accordingly.

Issues Nos. 20 and 21.

The issues relate as to whether the workers are eligible for benefits as enjoyed by the monthly-paid staff of the Company and leave with pay respectively. The Company contested both the issues. Mr. Pathak has admitted that Issue No. 21 is practically covered by Issue No. 20. At present the monthly-paid staff enjoys the following leave:

Privilege Leave—30 days.

Casual Leave—7 days.

Sick Leave—Common.

Daily-rated and piece-rated staff enjoy no privilege leave and no casual leave. They enjoy roughly 14 days' statutory leave under Section 79 of the Factories Act and 8 days' festival holidays in common with the monthly-paid staff. The conditions of service are different for monthly-rated staff, daily-rated staff and piece-rated staff. Therefore, there is hardly any necessity for a change in the existing arrangement. I answer the issues accordingly.

Issues Nos. 21(a) and 21(b).

They relate to promotion and sick leave. The Union has no complaint regarding the number of days of sick leave. The suggestion of the Union is that production bonus should be added to wages, viz., basic and dearness allowance and that total effects should be taken into consideration in granting sick leave. I am not convinced about the justice of these demands. The existing arrangement will continue.

Regarding promotion, it is very difficult to see what the Union has in mind regarding it. At present there is no grade with scales of pay. Question of promotion, therefore, becomes almost an unimportant matter. Further, it has been repeatedly held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal that the matter of promotion is entirely a management function and the discretion of the management in the matter of promotion, if not improperly exercised, cannot be interfered with by Tribunals (Assam Oil Co., Ltd., 1954 L.A.C. 543). I answer the issues accordingly.

Issue No. 23.

The Union claims that everybody should get a minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 50 in place of Rs. 46 as now and that dearness allowance should be paid as per the following table:—

Basic salary.	Rate of Dearness Allowance.
Re. 1 to Rs. 50	125 per cent.
Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	25 per cent.
Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	17 per hent.

The Company is unwilling to the change but is willing to consolidate the existing cheap ration benefit, which is Rs. 3 per month, with the dearness allowance. The cost of living index is, at present, on the decline and, accordingly, no change is called for. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 24.

This relates to night allowance. The Union claims for an enhancement of night shift allowance from one anna to two annas per hour. The Company contests this and contends on the authority of a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal (Asbestos Cement Ltd., 1954 L.A.C. 1) that no allowance is admissible for night shift workers, particularly in an industry where continuous work is essential for technical reasons and where a workman in night shift is getting same remuneration as in day shift. The Labour Appellate Tribunal held that this being a part of his job no special allowance was called for. I find no good reason to direct a change in the rates of night shift allowance. The existing arrangement will continue. I answer the issue accordingly.

This is my Award.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

In the matter of an Order of Reference No. 4195Dis./D/11L-64/54, dated the 1st September 1954, by the Government of West Bengal, read with the Corrigendum No. 4219Dis./D/11L-64/54

And

In the matter of Messrs. Western India Match Co. Ltd., Alambazar, Calcutta-35.

And

Their workmen represented by WIMCO Mazdoor Union, Dakshineswar, Alambazar, Calcutta-35 and WIMCO Employees' Union, Alambazar, Calcutta-35.

Joint statement on behalf of the Western India Match Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and the Wimco Employees' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union).

1. The friendly negotiations between the Company and the Union which had started at the factory level prior to this order of reference were continued during the pendency of adjudication proceedings as a result of which the parties in the interest of industrial peace have come to an agreement in full and final settlement of all the issues pending before the Tribunal.

2. The Union agreed to withdraw all its demands pending before this Tribunal on the following conditions.

(a) Compensation for production bonus: The monthly-rated employees do not directly praticipate in the output or quantity of production. On the contrary at least those monthly-rated employees who are engaged in supervisory jobs and maintenance are responsible for improving the quality of the product. In view of the aforesaid and taking into consideration that monthly-rated employees were never a party to the agreement for payment of production bonus, the Company agreed to abolish the system of production bonus in operation for this category of employees represented by the Wimco Employees' Union.

It was agreed that in order to compensate for the abolition of the system of production bonus all the existing grades and scales of pay will be revised upwards. For purposes of such revision production bonus will be assumed to be constant, i.e., 35 per cent. of the Basic Salary of individual employees. In other words whatever would be the total monthly earning of an employee in the old system in the shape of (1) Basic salary, (2) Dearness Allowance (with the Calcutta Working Class Cost of Living Index at 330 points), (3) Production Bonus at 35 per cent. of the basic salary, and (4) annual bonus at 3/8th of the basic salary, would now be distributed in the shape of (i) Basic salary, (ii) Dearness Allowance (with the Calcutta Working Class Cost of Living Index at 330 points) and (iii) Annual bonus at the rate of 3/8th of the basic salary. It is agreed that the additional cost to the Company in the shape of higher Company's contribution to the employees' Provident Fund will be neglected for the purposes of this conversion from the old to the new scales of pay. As a result of the conversion therefore the starting and ceiling pay of each grade will be increased and also the annual increments will be revised wherever necessary in order to maintain the same number of increments in the life-time of an employee. The revised grades and scales of pay as per above formula shall be as per annexure "A" enclosed.

It is further agreed that the compensation of 35 per cent. referred to above shall have retrospective effect from 1st October 1954 as per the revised grades and scales of pay mentioned in annexure "A" and shall be available to all categories of monthly-rated staff represented by this Union.

The Union gave an undertaking that they will not revive the claim for production bonus even if at any time in future the rate of Production Bonus for workers exceed 35 per cent. of basic wages.

This clause relating to Production Bonus will continue to be in force even if the rest of the agreement is terminated by either party.

(b) Special modification of grade B1 and certain amenities for lorry drivers: It was agreed that Grade B1 for Car and Loory Drivers and certain other categories will be revised as follows as a very special case with effect from 1st January 1955:—

Rs. 45—3—75—E.B.—4-8—102 (not considering the general changes to be brought about by the abolition of Production Bonus).

It is agreed that Lorry Drivers will be supplied with warm clothing from the year 1955.

(c) Abolition of Grade B2: It was agreed that the existing Grade B2 will be abolished and that all employees in that grade shall be placed in C1 with effect from 1st January 1955.

(d) Boiler Attendants and Firemen: It was agreed that the Head Boiler Attendant and Boiler Attendants with first class certificates will be placed in Grade C2 from 1st January 1955. It was also agreed that Boiler Firemen with second class certificates shall be put in Grade B1 from the same date.

(e) Dressers: Dressers of the Dispensary will be placed in Grade B1 with effect from 1st January 1955.

(f) Selection Grade for Watchmen: It was agreed that watchmen reaching the ceiling of grade A2 will from time to time be considered for promotion to the Selection Grade, i.e., Grade A3 provided that the maximum number to be put in this selection grade shall at no time exceed 12. It is made clear by the Company's representatives that the promotion to selection grade will in no way be automatic. The same will be based on special abilities and suitable tests may in due course be devised by the Company in consultation with this Union to aid such promotion.

(g) Overtime work: It was agreed that the present system of overtime payment relating to wage calculation for usual, periodical wages shall be abolished in respect of the time-keepers including the Head Time Keeper and the same substituted by a fixed overtime allowance of Rs. 30 per month irrespective of the actual time worked overtime on condition that they will have to make ready all periodical wage calculation before the specified date. No other allowance will be payable on this fixed overtime allowance nor shall it carry any annual bonus. Employees whose normal working hours are 48 per week but who do not come within the purview of the Factories Act shall be paid for overtime work at the rate of twice their basic rates of salary. This will be given effect from the date of this agreement being signed. Those who are working 39 hours in a week, shall get overtime as per the last Agreement of 1951.

(h) Special duty allowance for clerks: It was agreed that special duty allowance will be paid to Office Clerks in the LCE, GSS, WSP, SOE, MVD, OSE, and others, if any, in the same category whose normal duty hours is more than 39 hours per week at the rate of 12½ per cent. of their basic salary on condition that this allowance will not carry any dearness allowance or annual bonus. This will be given effect from the date of agreement.

(i) Officiating allowance: It was agreed that if any employee belonging to a grade lower than C3 officiates as Cashier, a special allowance of Rs. 25 per month will be paid to him, which will not carry any other allowance for bonus on condition that the Union will not claim such allowance for any other category of employees. It is further agreed that all such work in higher posts for one month or more shall be recorded in the service record of the employee concerned.

(j) Ration Benefit: Ration Benefit for employees represented by this Union shall be calculated on the existing basis and paid as a separate allowance since 1st August 1954. In the meantime the Union and the Company will negotiate for a final settlement of this matter (so far as the amount is concerned) consolidating the same allowance either with basic salary or with dearness allowance.

(k) Gratuity: Regarding Gratuity, the existing rate (the same as Ambernath Scale) and practice will continue.

3. This agreement will remain in force up to 31st December 1956 by the parties [subject to the provisions of the last two sub-paragraphs of Paragraph 2(a) above] and shall continue to be in force even after the expiry of this period until and unless either party gives two months' notice of their intention to terminate the same.

The parts of the Agreement, dated 29th September 1951, copy marked Annexure (B) between the Union and the Company which are not affected by this Agreement will continue to be in force even after the date of signing of this agreement, of which they shall be considered to form a part.

4. On the aforesaid conditions the disputes between the Company and the Union have been fully settled. We, therefore, pray that the points of agreement be kindly recorded and published as your honour award in the matter of reference.

ANNEXURE "B".

(Agreement, dated 29th April 1955.)

Memorandum of settlement.

(1) Name of Parties: The Western India Match Co., Ltd., Alambazar and their monthly-paid workmen employed at Alambazar as represented by Wimco Employees' Union.

(2) Representing Employers: Mr. T. Wasmouth, Factory Manager.

(3) Representing Workmen: Shri S. K. Mitra, Vice-President, Wimco Employees' Union.

(4) Short recital of case:

The WIMCO Employees' Union on behalf of the above mentioned workmen submitted a charter of demands to the Factory Manager on 31st October 1950. They submitted further demands on 9th July 1951 requesting for higher wages, more dearness allowance, more leave, etc. Failing to arrive at any settlement by direct negotiations with the Management, the Union referred the dispute to Labour Directorate on 17th August 1951 for intervention. The dispute was then taken up by the Conciliation Officer. Parties were met jointly on several occasions as a result of which the entire dispute has been settled on the following terms:

(5) Terms of Agreement:

1. Privilege leave: The Company agrees to grant 30 days' privilege leave in each calender year to all classes of monthly-paid employees on the following conditions:—

(a) That they have completed one full year of service during the previous calender year inclusive of authorised leave and sick leave. Newly employed persons, who have served for less than one calender year may be given privilege leave in proportion to the part of the year for which they have worked.

(b) The privilege leave may be accumulated for two years, i.e., up to 60 days. Durwans from Nepal may however accumulate privilege leave for three years and this facility may also on a special application to the Factory Manager be extended to other members of the monthly-paid staff.

(c) The privilege leave may be taken at a stretch or in instalments, subject to exigencies of the office. It should normally be applied for well in advance preferably already in the beginning of a calender year in order to enable the Management prepare a leave scheme to the advantage of the employees and the working of the factory.

(d) Employees who may not be able to enjoy their privilege leave due in 1951 may carry it over into 1952.

(e) Car-drivers, Durwans, Malis and Bungalow Sweepers who cannot be given off on scheduled holidays of the factory (other than Sundays) will be granted one additional day of privilege leave for every three such factory holidays that they have worked. This leave may be accumulated as privilege leave.

(f) Persons transferred from daily-paid to monthly-paid staff will have qualify for privilege leave as newly employed persons. They will, however, naturally not be deprived of the privilege leave which is due to them on account of their service as daily-paid employees. This may be clarified by the following example:

A man who has served as daily-paid during the whole of 1950 and thereby qualified for 12 holidays with pay during 1951 will enjoy 12 days during 1951 even if he has been transferred from daily-paid to monthly-paid staff from 1st January 1951. In 1952 he will be entitled to 30 days' privilege leave provided of course that he has served for the full year of 1951 as monthly-paid.

2 Casual leave: The Company agrees to grant 7 days' casual leave on full pay in each calender year to the monthly-paid staff on the following conditions:—

(a) Casual leave is intended to meet special unforeseen circumstances. It should normally be applied for beforehand to the Officer-in-charge concerned or the Factory Manager. When this is not possible, the Factory Manager or the Officer-in-charge concerned, shall as soon as may be practicable, be informed in writing or orally through any person of the absence from work and the probable duration of such absence.

(b) Casual leave cannot be accumulated or combined with any other kind of leave.

(c) Casual leave cannot be enjoyed for periods of more than 3 days at a stretch.

(d) Casual leave may not be prefixed or suffixed to Sundays, compensatory holidays or any other holidays.

(e) A person who has served for less than one full calender year will be allowed casual leave in proportion to the length of his service.

This new benefit will take effect from the date of this Agreement.

3. Sick leave: The Company agrees to grant up to 14 days' sick leave per year on full basic salary plus Dearness Allowance and permit accumulation for 4 years, that is, up to 56 days subject to a total of 180 days sick leave during the entire service period of an employee. Sick leave will only be granted against proper medical certificate. This benefit will be introduced with effect from 1st January 1952 which means in practice that a person who has served with the Company as a monthly-paid employee during the full year of 1951 will be entitled to 14 days' sick leave on or after 1st January 1952. Newly employed persons may be granted sick leave for a number of days in proportion to the length of their service during their first calender year with the Company.

Sick leave has hitherto been granted only in very special cases. Records of such leave are also not complete. It has therefore been agreed not to take into consideration any sick leave granted before the date of this AGREEMENT for the purpose of calculating the total number of days of sick leave enjoyed by a monthly-paid employee during his entire period of service.

4. Leave travelling allowance: The Union agreed to drop this point.

5. Holidays as per Negotiable Instrument Act: The Union agreed to settle this issue in a joint conference between themselves, the Factory Manager and the Wimco Mazdoor Union, Alambazar.

6. Working hours: The Union agreed to drop this issue.

7. Overtime: The Company agreed to pay overtime on conditions set out below:—

(a) Car-drivers: No overtime payment will be made to Car-drivers as there are special arrangements for them.

(b) Employees coming within the purview of Factory Act: for them the existing practice will be continued.

(c) Monthly-paid employees other than Car-drivers and those coming under the Factory Act—

(1) A member of this category will be paid at the rate of 1½ times his hourly basic pay in remuneration of each hour of overtime work.

(2) As overtime will be considered work for more than half an hour in excess of the scheduled working hours on a particular day and/or Sunday work which is not in lieu of work on some other week day but in excess to normal scheduled working hours. "Sunday" also to be taken in the sense of the weekly resting day for each classes of employees (Durwans, Malis, Sweepers, etc.) who have their rest on some other day than Sunday.

(3) The hourly basic pay of an employee is to be arrived at by dividing his monthly basic salary by the total number of hours he is scheduled to work in a normal month of 26 working days. The total number of working hours for such a month is to be calculated as the product of 26 and the average number of working hours per day scheduled to work in a normal week.

Examples:

Designation.	Hours scheduled to work in a normal week.	Average No. of hours per day.	Hours scheduled to work in a normal month.	Basic salary Rs./month.	Basic salary Rs./hour.
Time-keeper ..	39	6·5	26×6·5=169	60	60 : 169 =0·355
Mali ..	48	8·0	26×8·0=208	24	24 : 208 =0·115
Sweeper ..	54	9·0	26×9·0=234	25	25 : 234 - 0·107

(4) The existing allowance for Cashier, Time-keepers and Office Peons on duty when paying wages will not be discontinued, but no overtime remuneration will on the other hand be given on such occasions.

(5) The Time-keepers' "Overtime Allowance" of Rs. 15 per month will be discontinued and substituted by Overtime Payment in accordance with this Agreement.

(6) No employee whether belonging to category (b) or (c) will be entitled to overtime remuneration unless the work has been explicitly ordered by a responsible Officer of the Company.

The above may require some clarification: It should be noted that overtime payment as a principle can be granted only for hours worked in excess to what has been fixed as the normal quantum for a certain individual. A few practical examples will better than lengthy explanations illustrate what may be termed as overtime work and what may not.

Examples :

A Time-keeper who is asked to work for 7 hours on a Sunday instead of on the ensuing Monday cannot be considered to have done any overtime work. He will however be entitled to Sunday Allowance as Sunday happens to be the day on which he normally gets his weekly rest.

The Sunday allowance for an individual is calculated as the product between his hourly basic rate and the number of hours for which he is entitled to this allowance. In other words, a Time-keeper whose hourly basic pay is equal to Rs. 0.355 and who is entitled to Sunday Allowance for 7 hours work, will get an amount of $7 \times 0.355 = \text{Rs. } 2.485$.

A Time-keeper will be entitled to overtime pay if he works on a Sunday without enjoying a day-off within 3 days before or after the Sunday on which he worked. The overtime remuneration will be equal to the number of hours worked multiplied by $1\frac{1}{2}$ times his hourly basic salary. A Time-keeper whose hourly basic salary is Rs. 0.355 and who is entitled to overtime remuneration for 7 hours work, will therefore get an amount equal to $0.355 \times 1\frac{1}{2} \times 7 = \text{Rs. } 3.727$.

A Time-keeper who works for $9\frac{1}{2}$ hours on a week day when his normal scheduled working hours are 7 will be entitled to overtime remuneration for 2 hours at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ times his hourly basic salary. A Time-keeper whose hourly basic salary is equal to Rs. 0.355 would therefore in this case will receive a total overtime remuneration of $0.355 \times 1\frac{1}{2} \times 2 = \text{Rs. } 1.065$.

A Time-keeper who works for 7 hours on a Factory Holiday falling in between two Sundays will not be entitled to overtime remuneration but only to Sunday Allowance or a day off in lieu of the holiday on which he worked. The latter alternative is however applicable only in case the person concerned can be spared. Overtime would have been payable in such a case if the time-keeper had worked for 9 hours in which case he would have received Sunday Allowance for $7\frac{1}{2}$ hours work and overtime for $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours.

It should be noted that as a principle Sunday Allowance and overtime can never be paid simultaneously.

It should be noted that no Sunday Allowance will be payable for work on the additional days for which the factory may be closed in connection with the Durga Puja and Luxmi Puja in order to enable the employees enjoy these holidays at a stretch.

It should also be noted that no overtime will be payable for working full day on Saturdays when such work is in lieu of work on some other day and permissible within the Factory Act.

A Mali or a Sweeper who has his regular weekly holiday on some other day than Sunday is not entitled to Overtime remuneration for his Sunday Work as it is not in excess of his normal scheduled working hours. He is also not entitled to Sunday Allowance as Sunday is one of his regular working days.

The new provision for payment of overtime will come into effect from the date of this Agreement.

8. Dearness Allowance: The following scale of Dearness Allowance will apply to monthly-paid employees with effect from 1st May 1951:—

Basic salary.	Rate of dearness allowance. Per cent.
First Rs. 1—25	125
Next Rs. 26—50	25
Next Rs. 51—100	22
Next Rs. 101—150	17
Next Rs. 151—200	12
Next Rs. 201—250	7
Next Rs. 251—300	5

Dearness Allowance calculated as above, will continue to be increased or decreased by 3 per cent. for each clear rise or fall of 5 points from 290 in the Working Class Cost of Living Index Figure, Calcutta.

9. Grades and scales of pay: The Company agreed to introduce the following grades and scales of pay with retrospective effect from the 1st May 1951:—

Subordinate Staff ..	A.1 ..	Rs. 24—1—40.
	A.2 ..	Rs. 29—1—45.
	A.3 ..	Rs. 45—1/8—60.
Sundry Staff ..	B.1 ..	Rs. 45—2/8—70 (Efficiency Bar)—3—Rs. 88.
	B.2 ..	Rs. 56—4—96 (Efficiency Bar)—5—Rs. 126.
Clerical, Supervisory and certain Technical Staff.	C.1. ..	Rs. 55—4—95 (Efficiency Bar)—6—Rs. 131.
	C.2 ..	Rs. 70—6—130 (Efficiency Bar)—8—Rs. 178.
	C.3 ..	Rs. 90—8—170 (Efficiency Bar)—12/8—Rs. 245.
	C.4 ..	Special Grade: Salary and increments to be decided from case to case. Ceiling pay to be Rs. 300—350 to be decided in each individual case.

A detailed classification of the monthly-paid staff is contained in Schedule No. 1, enclosed.

The adjustment of existing salaries to be done in the following way:—

For persons employed on or after 1st January 1950—No increment.

For persons employed on or after 1st January 1948 but before 1st January 1950—One increment.

For persons employed on or after 1st January 1945 but before 1st January 1948—Two increments.

For persons employed before 1st January 1945—Three increments.

These increments will be added to existing salaries subject to the conditions that the maximum of the grade must not be exceeded and nobody shall get more than Rs. 20 basic salary increment. An employee now getting more than the maximum of his grade will continue to receive the same salary as he is drawing at present.

A monthly-paid employee who after the above adjustment gets less than the starting pay of his present grade shall be given an additional increment so that his pay equals the starting salary of his grade.

Persons employed in Grade C.1 before 1st January 1950 will be given annual increments at the rate of Rs. 5 until they reach the efficiency bar of the grade.

Durwans, Office Peons and Store Helpers employed on or before the 31st December 1946, and who are in service with the Company on the date of this Agreement will be put in Grade A.3 provided their basic salary after adjustment as per the rate of Grade A.2 exceeds or equals Rs. 45. It should be noted that the adjustment for this category will be done at the rate of Grade A.2 even if anybody at the moment is drawing more than ceiling pay of that grade. (A.2.)

A newly employed man will not get any increment at the end of the first calender year of his service in case he was employed on or after the 1st of July during that year.

The date of employment as referred to in the table above shall for the purpose of adjusting basic salaries be counted from the date a person was employed in his present grade. This means, for instance, that the date of employment for a monthly-paid fitter who has been promoted from daily-paid to monthly-paid staff shall be the date of such promtion.

Monthly-paid staff however who have been employed in their present capacity on daily-rate (Monthly-paid) and whose conversion to monthly-rate (Monthly-paid) is not a case of promotion will for the purpose of adjustment count their service period from the original date of employment in that capacity.

10. Gratuity: The Company has regretted its inability to grant gratuity to the monthly-paid staff at Alambazar. The Factory Manager, Alambazar, however, promised to take up this question on his impending visit to the Company's Head Office in Bombay. A reply in the negative will however not affect this settlement except for the length of its duration as set out below.

11. Basic salary increase: The Union agreed to drop this demand.

12. Medical aid: The Company agreed to bring about reasonable improvements on the present arrangements for medicines and injections.

13. Foodstuff: It was agreed that employees residing beyond the radius of 5 miles from the factory may on application to the Factory Manager convert the foodstuff concession into cash excluding the overhead charges for running the Grain Shop. A selection between food concession in kind or cash will be final and must be taken within a month of the date of this Agreement.

14. Night Allowance: The Company agreed to pay Night Allowance at the rate prevailing for Foremen to such Assistant Foremen who are independently in charge of their departments during the Night-shift.

15. Tiffin Allowance: The Union agreed to drop this demand.

16. House Allowance: The Company agreed to carry out certain improvements on the existing quarters gradually as and when building materials will be available. It should be noted that it is not possible to alter or dismantle any of the buildings on the Company's plot on the northern side of the factory until a final settlement has been arrived at with the authorities who have requisitioned this property during the war and later put it under acquisition.

17. Tiffin Allowance--Outdoor duties: The Union agreed to drop this demand.

18. Canteen: The Union agreed to drop this demand in view of that a Canteen has recently been started by the Factory.

19. Rest Room: The Company has already substituted a Rest Room in place of the one which was dismantled at the time of the erection of the new dispensary. The Company agreed to provide some furniture that may be required for the Rest Room. The Union, therefore, have no further demand in this respect.

20. Service Conditions: (a) The period of probation shall not exceed 6 months.

(b) Service records will be maintained in respect of each employee. The employees will be given a chance to explain their conduct before any adverse remarks are entered in their Service Records.

(c) The principle of "Last come, first go" will be followed in case of retrenchment in respect of employees whose qualifications and suitability for a certain job are otherwise equal. Nobody will be dismissed for gross misconduct without proper enquiry. Charge Sheets will be issued on the same procedure as for Factory Workers.

(d) The Company agreed to a retiring age of 55 years with the provision that the Company shall be at liberty in such cases as it thinks fit in its sole discretion to extend this age by some years.

21. Recruitment and Promotion: (a) The selection of candidates is the Management's concern and the Union cannot be allowed to have any influence on matters of employment.

(b) Relations of employees will be given reasonable opportunities for employment in the factory although the Company cannot give a firm undertaking of favouring relatives of the employees on certain express conditions.

(c) Retrenched employees may be given preference if they are equally qualified as other applicants for a particular job and otherwise acceptable to the Management.

(d) The Company stated that there is no bar to promotion from Subordinate grade to the Officers' grade except that prospective candidates must have the requisite personality, technical ability, experience, etc., necessary for an Officer's job.

22. This Agreement will be in force from the 1st of October 1951 to the 31st December 1953, provided the Company grants gratuity on conditions similar to those of the Ambernath Factory Monthly-paid staff. If gratuity is not granted, this Agreement will be in force from the 1st of October 1951 to the 31st of December 1952.

23. This Agreement will continue to be in force even after the date of expiry as paragraph 22 until and unless either party gives two months' notice.

24. The decision of the Labour Director, Government of West Bengal, will be final in any dispute regarding the interpretation of this Agreement which the parties may not be able to settle amicably.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between the B. P. M's. Press (A. T. Dev), Ltd., 22-5B and 24, Jhamapukur Lane, Calcutta and their employees represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249B, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mookherjee, Advocate, assisted by Shri K. C. Majumder, Managing Director.

For the employees: Shri N. D. Manna, Counsel, Vice-President with Shri Indu Sircar, Secretary of the Press Employees' Association.

Disputes between the B. P. M's. Press (A. T. Dev, Ltd.), and their employees were referred by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 2437Dis./D/13L-3/54, dated Calcutta, the 13th May 1954 and No. 2379Dis./D/13L-3/54, dated Calcutta, the 31st May 1955, for adjudication of the matters stated in the schedule.

SCHEDULE.

(1) Whether the contention of the B. P. M's. Press (A. T. Dev, Ltd.) that they have no piece-rate system in their establishment is correct.

(2) To what extent the existing system or systems other than the monthly wage system should be replaced by the monthly wage system?

(3) What principle should be followed in determining a portion of the total earnings of the workers who are not paid on the monthly wage system as basic wages in fitting them into the appropriate grades under the monthly wage system as per the 1948 Press Industry Award?

The case of the employees is that on an earlier occasion disputes with the management regarding abolition of piece-rate system were referred to Shri S. C. Mookherjee, Fourth Industrial Tribunal, in 1952. Piece-rate system was abolished by that Award made by the Tribunal published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 24th of January 1953. The Company however failed to implement the Award. The earnings of the compositors who were the persons working on piece-rate system suffered a heavy fall since then inasmuch as they were not supplied with adequate work and had to sit kicking their heels. The piece-raters want conversion to monthly wage system and some principles on the basis of which the conversion should be effected have been suggested.

The Company in its written statement alleged that the piece-rate system has been abolished. What was in vogue was a contract system. Under that system the workers were earning more than what monthly-rated workers might have earned. The principles on which conversion has been suggested were also disputed. Another point was taken that this reference was incompetent as the earlier award is still in force.

DECISION.

The plea that the reference is incompetent is not without substance. Both parties agree that the award made by Shri S. C. Mookherjee in 1953, is still in force. Under section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act an award continues to be binding on the parties even after the expiry of the period of operation until a period of two months has elapsed from the date on which notice is given by any party bound by the award to the other party or parties intimating its intention to terminate the award. Admittedly no such notice was given. Turning to the award of 1953, we find that issue No. 8 related to abolition of piece-rate system. Annexure A shows that parties agreed to be governed by two Press awards, dated the 20th May 1948 and 1st of March 1951, respectively. The 1948 award disposed of certain disputed points in terms of the compromise effected between the parties. Regarding the piece-rate system the agreement between the parties runs as follows:—

> "It it accepted that ordinarily all workers in the printing presses will be employed on the basis of monthly-wages. There exists, however, in the printing industry certain work, e.g., envelope making and other classes of stationery manufacture and book binding, which are usually done under the piece system. Therefore the piece system in this limited sphere may continue in the industry.
> It is agreed that piece system does not include work on contract basis."

According to these terms piece system was preserved only with regard to the items specifically mentioned. Though there was the term that ordinarily a worker will be employed on the basis of monthly wages, it was not the intention to continue piece-rate system in any other sphere except in regard to the matters dealt with in express terms. The door was left open for the piece-rate system to function in special circumstances in future. That does not mean that beyond the accepted categories piece-rate system was allowed to continue as before. The learned Advocate for the company has stressed the word "ordinarily" and argued that the word is not synonymous with the word invariably. It is true that some margin was left but the meaning is perfectly clear that in extraordinary circumstances piece-rate system might be tolerated in rare instances but so far as the existing practice was concerned restriction was clamped down and envelope making and other classes of stationery manufacture and book binding were alone allowed to be carried on in accordance with the existing practice. In other words, the piece-rate system was virtually abolished. The compositors were under this term to be converted into monthly-raters. The crux of the problem however is that the management did not act according to the directions given in the award. They took up the stand before the Conciliation Officer that the piece-rate system was not in existence anywhere in any of their concerns. In their correspondence with the Conciliation Officer it was repeatedly stated that the Award was implemented. In the written statement also it is stated that contract system only was in operation. Not only the evidence of witnesses examined on behalf of the employees' association, but also the company's witness, O.P.W. 1, admitted that compositors were being paid wages on the piece-rate system. There is hence no doubt that the Company had failed to implement the award regarding abolition of the piece-rate system. The old method of payment of remuneration was being continued under a new name and style. The Industrial Disputes Act provides remedies for non-implementation of an award. It is not contemplated that a further reference would be made to a Tribunal for adjudication of the same issue that was decided by the earlier award. The learned counsel for the employees submitted that he would be content with a pronouncement by the Tribunal that the earlier award of Shri Mookherjee was not implemented. I do not think that any reference is tenable for obtaining a pronouncement or declaration of this description. In my view therefore the argument of the learned Advocate for the management that there cannot be a second reference on the same issue covered by an earlier award which has not been spent its force is quite sound. Even then, the present reference cannot be treated as entirely incompetent as there are certain other matters which were not dealt with earlier. I proceed therefore to deal with the issues one by one.

Issue No. 1.—Whether the contention of the B. P. M.'s Press (A. T. Dev, Ltd.) that they have no piece-rate system in their establishment is correct.

I have already dealt with this point. Despite the protestation of the employer that piece-rate system is not in existence, there is substantial evidence that the compositors are still on piece-rate system. I have already pointed out that the witness for the Company has unreservedly admitted that compositors are being paid wages on piece-rate system. In regard to some other concerns, managed by A. T. Dev, Ltd., another reference came up before this Sixth Tribunal in 1954. In that reference also abolition of piece-rate system was in issue. The award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 14th of April 1955. Piece-rate system was not abolished. I am referring to this only for the purpose of contradicting the statement made by A. T. Dev, Ltd., to the Deputy Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, in their letter, dated 5th December 1953, that piece-rate system was not prevalent in any of its concerns. My conclusion is that the piece-rate system is still prevalent in the B. P. M.'s Press.

Issue No. 2.—To what extent the existing system or systems other than the monthly wage system should be replaced by the monthly system?

Opinions are sharply divided as to the expediency of abolition of the piece-rate system. Even the members of the Central Pay Commission were not in agreement on this point. The majority no doubt took the view that the piece-rate system should go but there was a minority view that it has its merits entitling its continuance. Even in the B. P. M.'s Press the majority of the compositors are in favour of sticking to the piece-rate system. Only 14 out of 30 or 32 compositors are fighting for conversion to monthly wage system. Piece-rate system supplies a perpetual incentive to the worker to exert himself to the best of his abilities in order to maximise his earnings. Production is thus accelerated and the employer also gets a better turn-over. The learned counsel for the employees put in a strong plea based on humanitarian considerations. According to him the worker acts under the spur of inordinate greed to fill his pockets to its utmost capacity and in doing so he has to toil beyond the limits of his physical capacity endangering his health and safety. Sweated of labour is not to be given premium to. That is all right. But we cannot overlook that there are fixed hours of work which cannot be exceeded. Within the fixed period the worker has every inducement to give his best and that is certainly conducive to the best interests of both employer and employee. Though opinions are swinging this way and that over this question the present dispute has been set at rest by the award of 1948, which was adopted in the Award made by Shri S. C. Mookherjee. The piece-rate system must therefore be replaced by monthly wage system. It appears that Section Holders or Supervisors are being paid wages at daily rates. P.W. 1 Shri Haradhan Samanta claims to be a Section Holder. His evidence is that he gets daily wages. The report of the Central Pay Commission also recommended abolition of the daily rate. Daily rate must therefore be replaced by monthly wage system.

Issue No. 3.—What principle should be followed in determining a portion of the total earnings of the workers who are not paid on the monthly wage system as basic wages in fitting them into the appropriate grades under the monthly wage system as per the 1948 Press Industry Award?

This issue relates to the principles to be followed in determining what portion of the total earnings of the workers should be treated as basic wages on conversion to monthly wage system and fitting them in the appropriate grades. The learned Advocate for the Company, referring to the language of the issue framed in the order of reference, urged that the grades as fixed under the 1948 Award and not under the Award passed in 1951 can be made use of. In 1951 there was further consideration of these matters and an intermediate grade for compositors was evolved. As the reference specifically mentioned the Award of 1948, I must necessarily confine myself to the earlier award for adjudication of the particular issue.

There was a good deal of controversy as to the method for fixing the monthly wages. The employees have made grievances that after the award made in 1953 the Management launched a deliberate policy of minimising their earnings. Those considered to be the black-sheep among the compositors are not supplied with adequate work and for hours together they have to remain unoccupied. The working hours have been reduced and overtime work is denied to them. From the evidence of the witnesses examined on behalf of the workers it will appear that the average monthly income of the compositors was between Rs. 120—130 up to 1952. After the Tribunal award they are getting Rs. 80 to 85 per month on the average. The Management replied that the fall in earnings was due to the enforced curtailment of working hours by virtue of the award and the reluctance of a section of compositors to do overtime work. The period of work was 48 hours per week previously. The Award passed by Shri Mookherjee reduced it to 42 hours per week but pending the decision of the Supreme Court to which an appeal had been taken, 45 hours' work per week was allowed to continue. The reduction of the period of work has naturally affected the quantum of earnings. On behalf of the employees the learned Counsel submitted that the earnings before these alterations took place should be taken as the criteria for fixing the monthly wages. The learned advocate for the Company, on the other hand, argued that present day earnings should be the basis. In fact notices were given to the compositors, vide Exts. A, A(1), and A(2) supplying figures to which the wages would be converted on the formula adopted by the Management. Ajit Kr. Mitra was to draw Rs. 50 as basic pay on the footing of this calculation. Haradhan Samanta was to draw Rs. 50 and Sudhir Ranjan Dutta was to get Rs. 61. In my view the matter is covered by the 1948 award. It is not necessary for me to choose between the two course suggested by the parties as the award made by Shri S. C. Mookherjee, provided the safeguard that the existing emoluments will not be prejudicially affected and the rights of the employees as per terms of the award of 1951 and its appellate award shall not be prejudicially affected in any way. The scale already fixed by the award of 1948 shall therefore prevail. In Annexure "A" of that award compositors have been placed in two categories, namely, skilled and semi-skilled. For compositors of the first category (skilled) Rs. 55 was fixed as minimum basic pay and Rs. 120 as the maximum basic pay. For junior compositors, the minimum basic pay was fixed at Rs. 35 and the maximum basic pay at Rs. 50. The skilled compositors were given the scale of Rs. 55—5/2—95—E.B.—7/2—120. The junior compositors were given the scale of Rs. 35—2/2—45—E.B.—1/2—50. According to the company these compositors are junior compositors. O.P.W. 1 who described them as such is an Accountant. Under cross-examination he was forced to admit that he had little knowledge of the working of the composing department. His estimate that these compositors were junior compositors is not based on any reliable data. In the books of the company no description appears distinguishing skilled or junior compositors, that is to say, none of these compositors are described as junior compositors. Foot note "C" in Annexure A lays down that the compositors (i.e., skilled compositors) must be competent to handle all classes of job and book work independently. The evidence of all the compositors appearing before the Tribunal is that each of them can do both job and book work independently. The Company's evidence is that no job work is done in this Press. There was however no cross-examination that these compositors have no technical knowledge or practical experience of job work. The evidence given by the compositors remains unrebutted. I must accordingly hold that they have the qualification described for skilled compositors. Necessarily the compositors are entitled to the pay scale prescribed by the 1948 award, viz., Rs. 55 to 120. Had the award been given effect to by the Company, the compositors would have got the maximum of this scale as at that time their average earnings were between Rs. 120—Rs. 130. Their monthly wages are in these circumstances fixed at Rs. 120 which represent the maximum of the scale.

At page 29 of 1948 award, Section Holders have been given the scale of Rs. 120—5/2—140. The claim of P.W. 1 that he was a Section Holder was hotly contested. Nothing by way of office record was produced to refute the claim. I must accordingly hold that he is a Section Holder, as deposed to by himself and other witnesses for the employees. The daily pay system must be replaced by monthly pay system on the scale prescribed for section holders in the 1948 award. From the evidence of P.W. 1 I find that he used to draw Rs. 125 on an average in a month of 26 days. Section Holders will start with Rs. 125 as basic pay and will have their next increment on the completion of two years. Those of the Section Holders who have put in less than two years' service will start on the lowest rung, viz., Rs. 120 per month and will have their increment on the completion of 2 years from the date of appointment.

According to the Company the earnings of the piece-raters included dearness allowance. Reference was made to the terms of the agreement at page 48 of the 1948 award. It is provided therein that "dearness allowance would be payable at the flat rate of Rs. 22 per month in all the above cases except in the case of the adolescents who shall get Rs. 12 per month as dearness allowance". The Company's contention was that dearness allowance was included in the earnings of the piece-raters. They were not entitled to any amount by way of dearness allowance separately. This argument loses its force because of the admission made by the company in its written statement, Ext. 3, filed by them in the proceeding before Shri S. C. Mookherjee. In paragraph 9 it was alleged that dearness allowance at a flat rate of Rs. 22 was paid excepting to the piece-rated workers. In the ultimate sentence of the paragraph, the statement appears that "the earnings of the piece-rated wages will average to the earnings of monthly-paid workers in respect of basic wages and dearness allowance taken together". Dearness allowance was not paid as such. The only point on which the company relied was that the earnings were equal to the wages of monthly-paid workers including dearness allowance. Since dearness allowance was not being paid the right of the workers to the flat rate of dearness allowance as allowed in the award cannot be challenged. At present the rate has been increased to Rs. 28. Dearness allowance at the enhanced rate must hence be paid over and above the basic pay as fixed by this award.

It has been established that the majority of the piece-raters do not favour the idea of change-over from piece-rate system to monthly-rate system. Option should be given to make their choice. Liberty is hence given to such piece-raters to make election in writing. The pay scales as settled will come into effect from the 1st day of the English Calendar month following the publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

This is my award.

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The original reference out of which this present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order Nos. 4804Dis./D/10L-126/53, dated the 8th December 1953, 731Dis./D/10L-20/54, dated the 16th February 1954 and 1988Dis./D/10L-20/54, dated the 7th May 1955.

The petitioner Shri Ananta Das had met with an accident in course of his employment and had to be removed to hospital. After he was discharged from hospital he wanted to resume his duties but was not allowed to do so. On this allegation the petitioner approached the Tribunal for reinstatement and compensation for the period of his unemployment since 30th June 1954.

The Company's rejoinder is that the workman did not report for duty though he was informed that he could resume his work. His services were not terminated.

AWARD.

Parties have amicably settled their disputes and a compromise petition has been filed bearing the terms of settlement. Having considered the terms I have reached the conclusion that they are just and fair. An award is hence made in terms of the compromise petition which will form Annexure "A".

DECISION.

These three appeals are directed against an award made by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal, in a dispute between Messrs. Shalimar Works, Ltd., and their workmen represented by two Unions, Shalimar Works Mazdoor Union and Shalimar Works Sramik Union and referred to it by order No. 4380Dis./D/10L-103/53, dated the 18th November 1953.

The following six issues were referred to the Tribunal:—

(1) Profit Sharing Bonus.

(2) General Increment.

(3) Service Increment.

(4) Tiffin Allowance.

(5) Boiler suits and tools for pattern shop workers.

(6) Reinstatement of 250 old workers.

The lower Tribunal made its award on the six issues and from this award there are three appeals before us for disposal; one by the employer and one each by the two Unions. Appeal No. Cal.-61/54 is filed by the Company and Appeal No. Cal.-81/54 is preferred by the Mazdoor Union and Appeal No. Cal.-82/54 is by the Sramik Union.

Issue No. 1 deals with Profit Sharing Bonus scheme which is in force in this Company. It is as follows:—

"The working profit for each year after providing for income tax and depreciation but before deducting commission payable to Managing Agents and excluding dividends and interest on investments or profit or loss sale investments, will be certified by the Company's auditors and will become the basis on which the workers' share is calculated.

The figures of working profit as calculated on the lines have been graded from A to D and have been given to our auditors. The grades are as follows:—

Grades A working profit Rs. 3,00,000 and above.

Grades B working profit Rs. 2,50,000 and up to Rs. 2,99,999.

Grades C working profit Rs. 2,00,000 and up to Rs. 2,49,999.

Grades D working profit Rs. 1,50,000 and up to Rs. 1,99,999.

The worker's share will be calculated as follows in accordance with the grade of working profit certified by the Company's auditors for the preceding year:

For Grade A one month's average basic pay.

For Grade B three quarters of a month's average basic pay.

For Grade C half of a month's average basic pay.

For Grade D quarter of a month's average basic pay.

Below Grade D no payment can be made.

The share, if earned, will be paid on approximately the same date each year in future, on closing the Annual Accounts. The maximum share declared in any year will be adjusted in the case of each individual worker in accordance with his attendance during the preceding year ending 31st December. Workers who have attended 300 days in the year inclusive of holidays with pay will receive the maximum share on the scale declared for the year. Workers who have not reached the maximum attendance for any reason whatever, will be paid the share proportionate for the number of days, inclusive of holidays with pay, that they have worked."

Both the Unions agitated for certain variation and enhancement of rates in the Scheme. The Mazdoor Union formulated its claim thus:—

"(i) One week's wages as bonus for profit of Rs. 25,000.

(ii) Two weeks' wages as bonus for profit above Rs. 25,000 up to Rs. 50,000.

(iii) Three weeks' wages as bonus for profit above Rs. 50,000 up to Rs. 70,000.

(iv) Four weeks' wages as bonus for profit above Rs. 70,000 up to Rs. 1,00,000.

(v) Three months' wages for profit above Rs. 1,00,000 up to Rs. 3,00,000.

(vi) For profit over 3 lakhs bonus at the rate of 21 days' wages per each lakh."

The Sramik Union formulated their demands thus:—

(i) One week's pay and dearness allowance as bonus for gross profit of Rs. 40,000.

(ii) Two weeks' wages and dearness allowance as bonus for gross profit above Rs. 40,000 up to Rs. 80,000.

(iii) Three weeks' wages and dearness allowance as bonus for gross profit above Rs. 80,000 up to Rs. 1,20,000.

(iv) Four weeks' wages and dearness allowance as bonus for gross profit above Rs. 1,20,000 up to Rs. 1,40,000.

(v) Three months' wages and dearness allowance for profit up to 3 lakhs, above Rs. 1,40,000.

(vi) For profit above 3 lakhs bonus at the rate of 21 days' wages per each lakh.

At the time of hearing, the Company of their own accord agreed to the following additional scales:—

"(i) For profit above 3 lakhs up to four lakhs four weeks' wages as bonus.

(ii) For profit above four lakhs up to five lakhs bonus equivalent to five weeks' wages; and

(iii) For profit above five lakhs bonus equivalent to six week's wages."

The learned Tribunal awarded the higher slabs suggested by the Company with some modification in the amount of bonus, but in grade D, it reduced the base from Rs. 1,50,000 to Rs. 80,000. The Tribunal further held that authorised leave with pay or paid holidays shall count as attendance while authorised leave without pay shall not count as attendance.

Both the unions and the Company are not satisfied with the decision on this issue and all the appeals cover this matter.

As pointed out in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay (reported in 1952 L.A.C., page 433), "Bonus is cash payment made to employees in addition to wages. It cannot any longer be regarded as an ex gratia payment. For, a claim for bonus, if resisted, gives rise to an industrial dispute which has to be settled by an industrial court of Tribunal. Essentially the quantum of bonus must depend upon the relative prosperity of the concern during the year under review, and that prosperity is best reflected in the amount of the residuary surplus of profits. The needs of labour, at existing wages is a consideration of importance. But there are other considerations.....".

In respect to bonus depending on profit, the formula laid down in Millowners' case (1952 L.A.C. 433) should be followed. The Full Bench of the Appellate Tribunal considered the claims of respective parties and evolved a formula doing justice to each. This is a formula for doing social justice.

If in any year it is found that the bonus according to the scheme of the Company, as amended by the award under appeals, is larger than the bonus available under the Full Bench formula, the workmen shall get that because this amount is guaranteed to them under the scheme and the present award.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3 refer to general increments and service increments.

Both the issues were dealt with together by the lower Tribunal and we also propose to follow that course.

The wage structures in existence is as follows:—

The following grades of pay and dearness allowance introduced from—

1st April 1948.

Minimum Basic salary.	Minimum dearness allowance.	Total.
Rs. 1-8-0 per day. Annual increment 9 pies. Rs. 2-1-0 per day.	Re. 0-15-6 per day. After 12 years' service. Rs. 1-5-6 per day.	Rs. 2-7-6 per day. Rs. 3-6-6 per day.

	Grade C.
Rs. 1-2-6 per day .. Annual increment 6 pies Rs. 1-8-6 per day ..	.. Re. 0-15-6 per day After 12 years' service. .. Re. 0-15-6 per day	.. Rs. 2-2 0 per day. .. Rs. 2-8-0 per day.

1st December 1951.

	Grade A.
Rs. 1-8-0 per day .. Annual increment 1 anna 6 pies Rs. 2-10-0 per day ..	.. Rs. 1-3-0 per day .. After 12 years' service. .. Rs. 1-9-9 per day.	.. Rs. 2-11-0 per day. .. Rs. 4-3-9 per day.
	Grade B.

	Grade C.
Rs. 1-2-6 per day .. Annual increment 1 anna Rs. 1-14-6 per day ..	.. Rs. 1-3-0 per day .. After 12 years' service. .. Rs. 1-3-0 per day ..	.. Rs. 2-5-6 per day. .. Rs. 3-1-6 per day.

Above grade A skilled workers are appointed at basic pay assessed according to their ability and start at Rs. 3, 4-8, 5, or 6, etc., per day and get annual increment at 0-1-6 per day for 12 years.

The Unions demanded a general increase of annas 4 per day and for extension of time scale by another 12 years. Both these demands have been rejected by the Tribunal below. The Tribunal considered that the wage scales were fair and compared favourably with other concerns doing the same type of business and that in a competitive industry the cost of production in one unit should not be increased without the other units being brought to adjudication. The Tribunal further was of the opinion that the incremental scale in force in this Company was not available in many other similar concerns and further that these scales were introduced recently in 1951 and should not be changed so quickly.

Both the Unions have appealed on these two issues. It appears that the total emolument of the lowest paid workmen does not go below Rs. 60 per month. This cannot be said to be below the prevailing rates. The Company had a incremental scale from 1948 but the rate of increment has been doubled in 1951 and incremental scale is practically uncommon with the factory workers and we must not be unmindful of the advantages enjoyed by the workmen of this concern which are not shared by others. Therefore, we agree with the Tribunal below that no case for flat increment has been made out.

A grievance was made that the time scale runs out only in 12 years while a man has got to be in service for more than double that period, and after reaching the highest point he would have no increment, thereafter for the rest of his period of service. It appears that in 1948 the Company had a time scale for 12 years and in 1951 improvements were made on it. Instead of extending it to another period of 12 years the rates were doubled without extending the period. It will be noted that the present position is more beneficial to the workmen. This has remained in force for a short period and time is not yet ripe for the workmen to complain that they have reached the last stage of the time scale and have been waiting there for some time. We agree with the Tribunal below that it is too early to revise the incremental scale, and we therefore hold that the contention is premature and the appeal must fail for that reason.

Issue No. 4. Tiffin allowance.

The Union demanded tiffin allowance for the workers. Officers are provided with tiffin (possibly lunch) at the Company's expence and the clerks also get subsidised tiffin. They form a small group. The unions demanded tiffin allowance in cash. The Company introduced a system of cheap canteen for the workmen. The workmen, however, boycotted the canteen which resulted in loss to the Company. The ground for this action of the workmen was that the workmen engaged on ships in the mid-stream could not get the required facilities. They now turn round for money. Arrangement for tiffin is made for the persons to get nourishment at cheap rate while at work and the system cannot be converted into a money saving device by starvation. On this ground the lower Tribunal rejected the demand and both the unions have appealed. We are entirely in agreement with the views of the lower Tribunal. Simply because some persons cannot take advantage of it, the arrangement for cheap canteen system cannot be rejected especially when under the Factories Act, the company has to maintain it. If the workers on ship take tiffin, they must carry them in the boxes when they go in for work, and they can do so when they go to the ship. The Company can supply to them hot-tea even in the ships, if there is co-operation. If the workmen make advance booking, tiffin and tea can be carried to them on the ships—the kitchen fire in the launches will keep the tea hot. No ground has been made out to alter the decision of the Tribunal on this point.

The appeals also relate to Khoraki allowance at the rate of As. 4 for the persons working after night-fall. Khoraki allowance was paid when dearness allowance was small and compensatory relief was needed. Since then there has been changes in the rate of dearness allowance and overtime has got to be paid at double the rate over dearness allowance also, the company after this stopped it. We agree, with the Tribunal below that there is no necessity for its reintroduction.

Issue No. 5. Boiler suit and tools for pattern shop workers. The demand of the Union had been for dress for welders and painters, as they spoil their dresses, too soon. The learned Tribunal rejected the demand. The Tribunal also rejected the demand for supply of all tools for the pattern shop workers as the management had promised to supply all essential tools. The appeals on these points are incompetent unless substantial question of law is involved. As no substantial question of law has been pointed out, the appeal on this issue must fail.

Issue No. 6. The appeal against this part of the award is by the Employer.

The Major Engineering Tribunal of the Government of West Bengal was set up in October 1947 in which this employer and the workmen were made parties. All conceivable issues were framed in that adjudication proceedings. During the pendency of the proceedings, the workmen of this concern were pressing their demands for abolition of the contract system, profit sharing scheme and grade system. These were also covered by the issues before the Major Engineering Tribunal. On 23rd March 1948, after work proceeded for some time, the workers commenced a sit-down strike. It is the common case that the workmen were demanding immediate solution of their demands before awaiting the results of the Tribunal. It is also admitted that this was not conceded. According to the employer the strike was staged for this purpose while it has been contended by the workmen that this was a spontaneous strike as the result of the refusal to concede the demand coupled with insults inflicted on the persons who led a deputation to the Manager on that day. We shall examine the position later whether the Union leaders were insulted. On behalf of the Employers it has been contended that they kept the officers in confinement and threw away their food when brought from outside but on behalf of the workmen this has been denied. Though police had been on the spot from the day of the strike but reinforcements came on the 27th and the workmen who had all these days been in occupation of the premises were induced to leave the place. On the same day, the company declared a lock out for an indefinite period, by the order quoted below:—

"As a result of the strike which broke out on the morning of 23rd March 1948 the Works will be closed indefinitely.

No worker will be allowed to enter the Works during the period in which they are closed."

Then on the 6th April by an order which is reproduced below the Company terminated the services of all the workmen:—

"All persons who failed to carry out their duties on 23rd March, 1948 and resorted to an illegal strike are deemed to have been discharged from that date."

The next order that the management made was on the 15th May and was to the following effect:—

"NOTICE.

The Company hereby announces that provided sufficient suitable men apply for employment on or before Wednesday the 19th May 1948 consideration will be given to re-opening the Works on a limited scale on Thursday the 20th May 1948. All men wishing to be employed should apply personally as follows:—

At Works Time Office	.. 9 a.m. to 12 noon on 18th and 19th May.
Outside Workers at Kidderpore Depot.	... On 18th and 19th May."

On 5th July the Company issued the following notice:—

"The Management will re-open the Works on a limited basis from Tuesday, the 6th July 1948.

All men wishing employment should apply at the Time Office at 8 a.m. and outside workers at the Kidderpore Depot.

Selected men will be engaged when and according to the work available.

All men engaged must undertake to abide by the Company's standard instructions and conditions of service.

All old employees who are re-engaged will have their previous service counted.

All conditions of the Engineering Tribunal Award will be observed by the Company.

Men who have no previous service with the Company will not be considered until Wednesday, the 21st July 1948."

All the old workers who came were taken, though the Union contends that 250 men were not taken though the Company had promised to take them back. No outsider was taken except according to the Union, one man. Md. Ilias, the Secretary of the Mazdoor Union, was prosecuted under sections 143 and 448 I.P.C. on account of what he did on these days in the factory and was convicted by a magistrate and was fined. The conviction was upheld in appeal. Md. Ilias, it appears, was arrested under the Preventive Detention Act in October 1948 and was detained till November 1950. It appears that two persons applied for being taken back in November 1948, one man in December 1948, another man applied in August 1951 and two in February 1952 and the last one in January 1953. The Company refused to take them in service.

It appears that in November 1949, the President of the Sramik Union moved the Assistant Labour Commissioner at Howrah over the employment of 249 men. The Assistant Labour Commissioner wrote to the Management and the following reply was given by the Management:—

"We are in receipt of your letter No. 1884, dated 4th November 1949, regarding the workers who have not been re-engaged,

The workers were dismissed for taking part in an illegal strike and we regret that we cannot see our way to offer them re-employment.

With regard to compensation, this does not arise, as they were dismissed for a misdemeanour."

Copy of the letter from the Management was forwarded to the President of the Sramik Union who had been requested to supply a list of 249 workers. As nothing happened thereafter, it is not unreasonable to infer that the matter was not pushed further.

This issue has been included in a reference made in 1953.

The lower Tribunal came to the following conclusions:—

The strike was illegal, as also unjustified. The lock out was also illegal. The Tribunal further held that as in a sitdown strike, no one can be dismissed or refused reinstatement, the workmen were entitled to be reinstated. Some of the workmen were entitled to be reinstated. Some of the workmen had taken their Provident fund monies and the Tribunal held they might have taken the money on account of pressure for want and this did not affect their claim to reinstatement. We do not agree with this view of the matter. It is quite possible and perhaps more practicable that the workmen, in view of the then prevalent conditions, decided to take back their provident fund. In view of the long delays, when the fund was taken back, in the absence of strong findings against this fact, the ordinary inference that can be drawn is that they thus discontinued their continuation with the Company. This enables the Company to object to their reinstatement on the ground that thereafter the position was changed, and the Company has enlarged its contract system, and thus it is too late now to fall back on the original state of affairs, which have actually changed considerably thereafter. The Tribunal was not satisfied with the list of persons to be reinstated submitted by the union and concluded in the following way:—

"So I think the identity of the workmen who should be reinstated can be easily made certain by hanging up a general notice on the Notice Board of the factory, inviting the strikers to come and join their duties on a fixed date, and if any striker comes within the said fixed date and wants to have reinstatement he is to be taken in by the Company. If there had been no lock-out for an indefinite period as in the present case, it might be argued that it was the duty of the strikers to call off the strike and attend the workshop for employment. But in this case I find that when the strike was going on, the Management effected a lock-out for an indefinite period of time and as a result thereof many of workmen after the sit-down strike was called off during the pendency of the lock-out went away to different places and therefore a general notice hung up on the Notice Board of the factory premises was not sufficient to attract their attention. In these circumstances the Management ought to have given individual notices at the respective addresses of the workmen concerned. Excepting Yakub Mistry who has brought a civil suit for recovery of his gratuity money, against the Company, all other strikers if they conform to the notice inviting them to come and join should be reinstated and there should not be any discrimination in the said matter. For this purpose I hold that the Management is to hang up the said notice within 15 (fifteen) days from the date of the publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette, inviting the strikers except Md. Yakub Mistry to attend work by a date 15 (fifteen) days ahead. I also decide that the strikers who have since drawn their Provident Fund money are not to be excluded from this benefit of reinstatement provided they expresaly undertake not to claim any contribution or any interest or gratuity for this period of unemployment, but the benefits of their past services prior to the period of unemployment (from 23rd March 1948 to up to the date of reinstatement) are to subsist."

The Tribunal suggested that the Company would not feel difficulty in accommodating this large number of men as they had contractors under them supplying labour. The suggestion was clear that contractors work might be reduced or abolished.

The learned counsel for the Company contended that after the lower Tribunal found that the strike was illegal and unjustified, it could not any more hold the dismissals following under objection on the ground that under the law in U.S.A. sit-down strike was not out-lawed. He also referred to the [illegible] Supplement to Ludwing Tellor Labour Dispute are Collective Bargain[illegible] to show that the judicial view in U.S.A. was changed. It is, however, patent that no effect was given to the findings that the strike was not only illegal but was unjustified. The learned Tribunal was incorrect in holding that the lock-out was also illegal. In the Industrial Disputes Act, a strike during the pendency of a Tribunal proceedings has been out-lawed as also a lock-out but protection has been granted to a lock-out effected in consequence of an illegal strike. This is section 24(3) Shri Acharya also conceded that this view of the lower Tribunal has not been correct.

It has been held in Punjab National Bank case (1953 L.A. C.I.) that an employer cannot dismiss a workman for mere participation in an illegal strike.

We shall have to consider if the strike was unjustified by being launched for extraneous considerations or on account of peremptoriness of the demand when an adjudication over the same matter was pending.

The demands made by the Union were no dobut economic in nature but these were pending for some time and were being considered by the Major Engineering Tribunal. It was unreasonable and there was no justification to demand solution immediately when the workmen were to get relief, if they were entitled to any, from the Tribunal sitting at that time. They wanted to by pass the adjudication. This peremptoriness in the circumstances made the demand unreasonable and unjustifiable though they were initially economic in nature.

The learned counsel for the workmen contended that the strike was spontaneous as the union leaders were insulted by the manager. This leads us to the consideration of two points.

(i) whether the strike was spontaneous, and

(ii) whether this was due to any insult to the leaders who went to make the demand.

It is no doubt true that the sit-down strike started some time after work commenced on the 23rd. In the case of stay-out strike, the commencement of it after work commences becomes significant but in all cases of contemplated sit-down strike it must commence after some time passes. They must get full opportunity to take possession of the factory after starting work. No conclusion can be drawn from the mere fact that the strike commenced after work progressed for some time.

Md. Elias says that the deputationists were insulted by the Manager and that the fact of insult was communicated to the workers who surrounded the office of the Manager, demanding him to come out and explain his conduct. Two other witnesses were examined for the Union but no one said about the insult meted out to the leaders. In the written statement, there is no mention of the story nor any contemporaneous document has been produced to show that this story was ever given out before. Elias for the first time gave out this story in the witness box. No other deputationist has been examined. Mr. Pope who is said to have meted out the insult denied this and added that he heard few days earlier that a strike would be resorted to. We agree with a Tribunal below that the story that the representative of the workmen were insulted was not true and further that the strike was a preconceived one. There was no justification for the strike, when the matter was pending before a Tribunal for adjudication.

As the strike was illegal as well as unjustified, the employer had every right to terminate the services of the workmen.

To terminate the services of a workman two things are necessary: (i) An order terminating the service, and (ii) communication of that order to the workman concerned.

On 6th of April 1948 the Management passed a general order terminating the services of all workmen. Now let us see, how far this was communicated to the workmen concerned. These were not communicated individually to the workmen concerned nor were they published in newspaper. Posting of this in the notice board was ineffectual as the lock-out was declared previously and the workmen were not expected to come to the workshop. Indeed in the order of lock-out it was stated—"No worker will be allowed to enter the Works during the period in which they are closed." The order of dismissal had been displayed in a place which the workmen had been asked not to visit. There remains this infirmity in effecting dismissal.

Now about the offer of re-appointment. The notice, dated 15th May does not help the employer as there is no indication that dismissed men would be taken. This is a general advertisement for recruitment.

The notice dated 5th July 1948, no doubt, gave to the workmen an opportunity to present themselves. It was not posted to individual men but the fact that it gained considerable publicity is evidenced from the fact that most of the workmen presented themselves. The word "selected" has different meanings, but we find from the evidence of Union's witness that whoever took up the matter with the Management got himself appointed. The Company did not appoint any outsider except one. The Company, it seems, drew a dead line after the date given, for the old employees to come, as we find that some persons took up the matter with the Company in November 1948 and they were refused reinstatement. We are of opinion that in view of defective mode of communication of the notices, the Company might have been more liberal and considerate.

The net result is that there was defective communication of notice of dismissal to the workmen. The notice offering reinstatement also was not sufficiently published to enable us to hold that the defect was caused.

But we have to ascertain the person, who suffered on account of the want of sufficient publication of the order of dismissal, usually such name are mentioned in the order of reference. Here this was not done. It was the duty of the Union to set out the names in the written statement, giving an opportunity to the employer to state the names of their employees and who were discharged at that time. The Union did not file any list and evidence was gone into. After evidence, arguments commenced on 11th December 1953 and the arguments on behalf of the employer were terminated on 14th December 1953. On 15th December 1953, perhaps to meet the objection of the Company the Union submitted a list of discharged persons. This was objected to by the employer, who was permitted to write the comments against each man.

This was a carelessly prepared list of 220 persons against 250 of the reference. Some names are repeated. Against some serials, there are neither names nor ticket numbers. There are many names without ticket numbers. The learned Tribunal found the difficulty of working with this list and adopted the short expedient of asking the Company to reinstate anybody who responded to a notice. This precedure is vague and highly objectionable, it enabled the learned lawyer for the Company to advance a number of serious objections to procedure suggested. No award can be so loosely or vaguely made. It must be remembered that failure to reinstate is a penal offence, and therefore it is necessary that an order of this kind must be clear and without any obscurity about the name, date of reinstatement and other particulars. However, from the remarks made by the Company we get some admissions about a certain number of persons. Against the names of some of them in the list, the employer made the remark "Provident Fund withdrawn" and against some "Provident Fund not withdrawn." The total about 115 persons. There can be no doubt that they were employees and lost their appointments at that time. About others, there is no evidence to show that they were workmen discharged at that time. It is clear that except these 115 persons others have lost all contact with the Union and the Company and are not atleast agitating for their re-employment. It can be legitimately inferred from the above facts that they have contended themselves with the situation and are possibly employed elsewhere, or taken to some other work. It is impossible to fail to furnish the names and particulars of persons agitating or trying for re-employment. It is difficult to avoid the inference that at the late stage finding that there is possibility of getting reinstatement, an unsatisfactory list was made up and presented.

Out of the 115 persons, 100 have withdrawn the Provident Fund money in acceptance of the order of dismissal. After having accepted dismissal and having accepted the position by taking provident fund money, they cannot now be allowed to turn round and avail of the proposed reinstatement. About this the learned Tribunal observed "I should not be unmindful of the probabilities that workmen may have been compelled by the circumstances to have such payment of the provident fund when they found that the Management was not willing to accept them in re-employment". Looking to the manifest poverty of workmen in general if any one comes and says that he had to take the provident fund money to save himself from starvation, the Tribunal will be tempted to believe him. It is dangerous to lay down a principle that even in the absence of evidence, the acceptance of provident fund shall be deemed to have been made unvoluntary. The tribunal could have considered each individual case on evidence. There was no evidence on the point. We find no justification for the reference and consequently we cannot reinstate the 100 persons who have already taken back the provident fund amount.

This leaves the following 16 persons whose case for reinstatement must be considered:—

Serial number in the list.	Name.	Ticket number.
7	Natai Manji	81
12	Bipnarayana	767
34	Debendra Nath Santra	1423
36	Satya Charan Dam	867
42	Abdul Karim	980
45	Mustafa Khan	897
59	Sailendra Nath	1046
64	Narayan Naskar	240
104	Nazir Ahmed	1525
115	Faizuddin	1691
122	Rabi Hossain	1190

Md. Elias (Secretary of the Union).

The learned Counsel for the Company argued that after this long lapse of time there should not be any order for reinstatement. Delay, is not ordinarily a ground for refusal for reinstatement unless the applicant is guilty of latches. If a large body of men stand by and allow the industry to settle down without them, it would be a violent check to the industry if the entire body of men are ordered to be reinstated. However in spite of conceding to this possibility, we see no reason why the small number of persons above stated should not be re-employed by the Company. They are entitled to it. Re-employment of such a modest number in a Company of this size of the respondent Company should not be difficult, and their re-employment cannot in any manner affect the Company adversely. The company should be satisfied that either due to the inactivity or latches of the other workers, or due to the fault of the Union, a large number of their former employees will have to go without re-employment under this company. Reinstatement must be subordinate to the interest of the industry, the question of granting compensation in such cases in lieu of reinstatement requires consideration. Here, however we propose to reinstate a small number which is not expected to give a jerk to the stability of the industry.

Now the question is whether the inaction on the part of the workmen can be construed as abandonment of claims by them. The fact that those men did not withdraw provident fund money is clear indication of the fact that they did not abandon their claim but it cannot be denied that there was want of diligence on their part to get redress. If they had been active, they might have got a reference earlier. They cannot profit by this indolence and this is a just case where they cannot claim any compensation for forced idleness. There is also want of evidence to show that they had been sitting idle waiting for reinstatement.

We therefore, set aside the award of the lower Tribunal and order for reinstatement of the above named workers. They shall be taken back on their presenting themselves within a month hereof. If all or some present themselves they shall be reinstated on wages last drawn by them. The period of absence shall be treated as leave without pay and they shall be deemed to be in continuous service.

In the result, the appeals be disposed of in the manner indicated above and the parties shall bear their own costs.

DECISION.

The Schedule to the order of reference consisted of 8 issues. The principal points on which the argument was advanced before us were:—

(1) Pay and scales of pay;

(2) Gratuity for the periods not covered by Provident Fund;

(5) Additional bonus for 1951; and

(6) Whether claim for bonus for past years is justified.

The lower Tribunal found that the minimum basic wage of a clerk designated as such appears to be Rs. 60, Bill Collector, Rs. 47. There was no grade or regular pay scale providing for annual increment at any fixed rate. Increments were given by the company in a particular way fixed by the company. The workmen were dissatisfied with this system. As it was a case for a minimum wage, it was found unnecessary to go into other matters. Therefore, the Tribunal was of opinion that the fixation of a regular wage-structure was evidently called for in the interest of industrial peace. After a careful consideration of the wage-structure allowed in the award under appeal, we consider the following alterations desirable:— There is no need for Grade "C" except for the motor car drivers. Therefore, we abolish Grade "C" for the clerks and there will be accordingly only two grades for the clerks—Grade "A" and Grade "B". Grade "C" in the award, which runs as Rs. 70—3—100—5—140, will be applicable and is confined to the drivers and as we have said above there will be only two grades. Grade "A" will be Rs. 100—220 with efficiency bar at Rs. 140, as specified in the award. Similarly Grade "B" will run from Rs. 70 to Rs. 170 as specified in the award under appeal. The grade of the Mechanics will be from Rs. 50—100 as in the award and that of subordinate staff and unskilled workers will remain the same as provided for in the award. So the only alteration we have made is that the grade "C" will exist only for the drivers and is not provided for the clerks. It may be pointed out that the Mechanics in this company do a very ordinary kind of work and have no special efficiency or qualifications as in some other engineering concerns. Those of the Mechanics who are competent to re-assemble the machines completely will get a grade like the drivers. If the salary of any of the mechanics is above the grade specified, he shall be placed in "B" grade. If the existing salary be in excess of the maximum of "B" grade, he shall be placed in "A" Grade.

Under issue No. 3 it is stated in the award that an employee who has completed 15 years' service in the company will receive retiring gratuity. In our opinion, in view of the fact that the gratuity is for the period prior to the introduction of Provident fund, the period of 15 years' should be reduced to 10 years. The other change that we consider necessary with regard to gratuity, is that the basis of calculation for the purpose of gratuity will be the last salary drawn and not the average basic pay during the last twelve months of service as decided in the award. With regard to the condition laid down under this issue that no gratuity will be payable to an employee who is dismissed for mis-conduct, it is necessary to lay down that the mis-conduct to deprive one of gratuity must not be of a merely technical nature. That is the only variation which is proposed to be made under issue No. 3.

With regard to bonus for 1951 under issue No. 5, the company had paid one month's basic salary. The union demanded that one month's basic wage with dearness allowance should be paid to all employees without any condition being attached to the payment as an additional bonus for 1951. The company had paid two months' bonus for 1950 and the company claims that in view of the financial conditions in 1951 which had deteriorated considerably as compared to that of 1950, one month's bonus was a reasonable amount on this head. Considering the profits made by the company in 1951 as compared to 1950, the Tribunal awarded a bonus of one and a half months' wages in all as a fair amount under the circumstances. It was rightly pointed out by the lower Tribunal that this is not a manufacturing concern and there is no case to apply the formula laid down in the Full Bench case of Bombay Mill Owners' Association and that the claim for dearness allowance being included in the amount of bonus along with basic wage is not acceptable. We are of opinion that considering the profits made in the year 1951 as compared with that of 1950, the difference is not large enough to justify awarding of a bonus of only a month and a half. It is fair that in view of all the circumstances a similar amount of bonus should be paid in 1951 as in 1950 and we therefore, hold that the appellants are entitled to bonus for 1951 equivalent to two months' basic salary without dearness allowance and of course any amount paid to the workmen under this head will be deducted and accounted for

With regard to issue No. 6, we are not prepared to disturb the finding in the award under appeal and we therefore, reject this contention.

In conclusion, the award of the lower Tribunal is confirmed subject to the variations specified in this decision and the appeal of the Union is allowed only to this extent. The Union is entitled to costs which we assess at Rs. 150.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1955

PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India, Reports of Select Committees presented to Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

LOK SABHA.

The following Bill was introduced in the Lok Sabha on 2nd May, 1955:—

BILL No. 23 OF 1955.

A Bill to provide for the acquisition and termination of Indian citizenship.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Citizenship Act, 1955. Short title.

2. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,— Interpretation.

(a) "a Government in India" means the Central Government or a State Government;

(b) "citizen", in relation to a country specified in the First Schedule, means a person who, under the citizenship or nationality law for the time being in force in that country, is a citizen or national of that country;

(c) "citizenship or nationality law", in relation to a country specified in the First Schedule, means an enactment of the legislature of that country which, at the request of the Government of that country, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, have declared to be an enactment making provision for the citizenship or nationality of that country;

(d) "Indian consulate" means the office of any consular officer of the Government of India where a register of births is kept, or where there is no such office, such office as may be prescribed;

(e) "minor" means a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years;

(f) "person" does not include a body of individuals;

(g) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(h) "undivided India" means India as defined in the Government of India Act, 1935, as originally enacted.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, a person born abroad a registered ship or aircraft, or aboard an unregistered ship or aircraft of the Government of any country, shall be deemed to have been born in the place in which the ship or aircraft was registered or, as the case may be, in that country.

(3) Any reference in this Act to the status or description of the father of a person at the time of that person's birth shall, in relation to a person born after the death of his father, be construed as a reference to the status or description of the father at the time of the father's death; and where that death occurred before, and the birth occurs after, the commencement of this Act, the status or description which would have been applicable to the father had he died after the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to be the status or description applicable to him at the time of his death.

(4) For the purposes of this Act, a person shall be deemed to be of full age if he is not a minor, and of full capacity if he is not of unsound mind.

ACQUISITION OF CITIZENSHIP.

Citizenship by birth.

3. (1) Except as provided in sub-section (2) of this section, every person born in India on or after the 26th January, 1950, shall be a citizen of India by birth.

(2) A person shall not be such a citizen by virtue of this section if at the time of his birth—

(a) his father possesses such immunity from suits and legal process as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign power accredited to the President of India and is not a citizen of India; or (b) his father is an enemy alien and the birth occurs in a place then under occupation by the enemy.

Citizenship by descent.

4. (1) A person born outside India on or after the 26th January, 1950, shall be a citizen of India by descent if his father is a citizen of India at the time of his birth:

Provided that if the father of such a person was a citizen of India by descent only, that person shall not be a citizen of India by virtue of this section unless—

(a) his birth is registered at an Indian consulate within one year of its occurrence or the commencement of this Act, whichever is later, or, with the permission of the Central Government, after the expiry of the said period; or

(b) his father is, at the time of his birth, in service under a Government in India.

(2) If the Central Government so directs, a birth shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have been registered with its permission notwithstanding that its permission was not obtained before the registration.

(3) For the purposes of the proviso to sub-section (1), any male person born out of undivided India who was, or was deemed to be, a citizen of India at the commencement of the Constitution shall be deemed to be a citizen of India by descent only.

Citizenship by registration.

5. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section and such conditions and restrictions as may be prescribed, the prescribed authority may, on application made in this behalf, register as a citizen of India any person who is not already such citizen by virtue of the Constitution or by virtue of any of the other provisions of this Act and belongs to any of the following categories:—

(a) persons of Indian origin who are ordinarily resident in India and have been so resident for one year immediately before making an application for registration;

(b) persons of Indian origin who are ordinarily resident in any country or place outside undivided India;

(c) women who are, or have been, married to citizens of India;

(d) minor children of persons who are citizens of India; and

(e) persons who, being citizens of a country specified in the First Schedule and of full age and capacity, either are ordinarily resident in India and have been so resident for one year immediately before making an application for registration, or are in service under a Government in India.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a person shall be deemed to be of Indian origin if he, or either of his parents, or any of his grand-parents, was born in undivided India.

(2) No person being of full age shall be registered as a citizen of India under sub-section (1) until he has taken the oath of allegiance in the form specified in the Second Schedule.

(3) No person who has renounced, or has been deprived of, his Indian citizenship, or whose Indian citizenship has terminated, under this Act shall be registered as a citizen of India under sub-section (1) except by order of the Central Government.

(4) The Central Government may, if satisfied that there are special circumstances justifying such registration, cause any minor to be registered as a citizen of India.

(5) A person registered under this section shall be a citizen of India by registration as from the date on which he is so registered; and a person registered under the provisions of article 6 or article 8 of the Constitution shall be deemed to be a citizen of India by registration as from the commencement of the Constitution or the date on which he was so registered, whichever may be later.

Citizenship by naturalisation.

6. (1) Where an application is made in the prescribed manner by any person of full age and capacity who is not a citizen of a country specified in the First Schedule for the grant of a certificate of naturalisation to him, the Central Government may, if satisfied that the applicant is qualified for naturalisation under the provisions of the Third Schedule, grant to him a certificate of naturalisation:

Provided that, if in the opinion of the Central Government, the applicant is a person who has rendered distinguished service to the cause of science, philosophy, art, literature or human progress generally, it may waive all or any of the conditions specified in the Third Schedule.

(2) The person to whom a certificate of naturalisation is granted under sub-section (1) shall, on taking the oath of allegiance in the form specified in the Second Schedule, be a citizen of India by naturalisation as from the date on which that certificate is granted.

Citizenship by incorporation of territory.

7. If any territory becomes a part of India, the Central Government may, by order notified in the Official Gazette, specify the persons who shall be citizens of India by reason of their connection with that territory; and those persons shall be citizens of India as from the date to be specified in the order.

TERMINATION OF CITIZENSHIP.

Renunciation of citizenship.

8. (1) If any citizen of India of full age and capacity, who is also a citizen or national of another country makes in the prescribed manner a declaration renouncing his Indian citizenship, the declaration shall be registered by the prescribed authority; and, upon such registration, that person shall cease to be a citizen of India:

Provided that if any such declaration is made during any war in which India may be engaged, registration thereof shall be withheld until the Central Government otherwise directs.

(2) Where a person ceases to be a citizen of India under sub-section (1), every minor child of that person shall thereupon cease to be a citizen of India:

Provided that any such child may, within one year after attaining full age, make a declaration that he wishes to resume Indian citizenship and shall thereupon again become a citizen of India.

(3) For the purposes of this section, any woman who is or has been married shall be deemed to be of full age.

Termination of citizenship.

9. (1) Any citizen of India who by naturalisation, registration or otherwise voluntarily acquires, or has before the commencement of this Act voluntarily acquired, the citizenship of another country shall, upon such acquisition or, as the case may be, such commencement, cease to be a citizen of India.

(2) If any question arises as to whether, when or how any person has acquired the citizenship of another country, it shall be determined by such authority, in such manner, and having regard to such rules of evidence, as may be prescribed in this behalf.

Deprivation of citizenship.

10. (1) A citizen of India who is such by registration or by naturalisation or by virtue only of clause (c) of article 5 of the Constitution shall cease to be a citizen of India if he is deprived of that citizenship by an order of the Central Government under this section.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Central Government may, by order, deprive any such citizen of Indian citizenship if it is satisfied that—

(a) the registration or certificate of naturalisation was obtained by means of fraud, false representation or the concealment of any material fact; or

(b) that citizen has shown himself by act or speech to be disloyal or disaffected towards the Government established by law in India; or

(c) that citizen has, during any war in which India was engaged, unlawfully traded or communicated with an enemy or been engaged in, or associated with, any business that was to his knowledge carried on in such manner as to assist an enemy in that war; or

(d) that citizen has, within five years after registration or naturalisation, been sentenced in any country to imprisonment for a term of not less than twelve months; or

(e) that citizen has been ordinarily resident out of India for a continuous period of seven years, and during that period has neither been at any time in the service of a Government in India or of an international organization of which India is a member, nor registered annually in the prescribed manner at an Indian consulate his intention to retain his citizenship of India.

(3) The Central Government shall not deprive a person of citizenship under this section unless it is satisfied that it is not conducive to the public good that that person should continue to be a citizen of India.

(4) Before making an order under this section, the Central Government shall give the person against whom the order is proposed to be made notice in writing informing him of the ground on which it is proposed to be made and, if the order is proposed to be made on any of the grounds specified in sub-section (2) other than clause (e) thereof, of his right, upon making application herefor in the prescribed manner, to have his case referred to a committee of inquiry under this section.

(5) If the order is proposed to be made against a person on any of the grounds specified in sub-section (2) other than clause (e) thereof and that person so applies in the prescribed manner, the Central Government shall, and in any other case it may, refer the case to a Committee of inquiry consisting of a chairman (being a person who has for at least ten years held a judicial office) and two other members appointed by the Central Government in this behalf.

SUPPLEMENTAL.

11. Every person who is a citizen of a Commonwealth country specified in the First Schedule shall, by virtue of that citizenship, have the status of a Commonwealth citizen in India. Commonwealth citizenship.

Power to confer rights of Indian citizen on citizens of a certain country.

12. (1) The Central Government may, by order notified in the Official Gazette, make provisions on a basis of reciprocity for the conferment of all or any of the rights of a citizen of India on the citizens of any country specified in the First Schedule.

(2) Any order made under sub-section (1) shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any law other than the Constitution of India or this Act.

Certificate of citizenship in case of doubt.

13. The Central Government may, in such cases as it thinks fit, certify that a person, with respect to whose citizenship of India a doubt exists, is a citizen of India; and a certificate issued under this section shall, unless it is proved that it was obtained by means of fraud, false representation or concealment of any material fact, be conclusive evidence that that person was such a citizen on the date thereof, but without prejudice to any evidence that he was such a citizen at an earlier date.

Disposal of applications under sections 5 and 6.

14. (1) The prescribed authority or the Central Government may, in its discretion, grant or refuse an application under section 5 or section 6 and shall not be required to assign any reasons for such grant or refusal.

(2) The decision of the prescribed authority or the Central Government on any such application as aforesaid shall be final and shall not be called in question in any court.

Delegation of powers.

15. The Central Government may, by order, direct that any power which is conferred on it by this Act shall, in such circumstances and under such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order, be exercisable also by such officer or authority as may be so specified.

Offences.

16. Any person who, for the purpose of procuring anything to be done or not to be done under this Act, knowingly or recklessly make any representation which is false in a material particular shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both.

Power to make rules.

17. (1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the registration of anything required or authorised under this Act to be registered, and the conditions and restrictions in regard to such registration;

(b) the forms to be used and the registers to be maintained under this Act;

(c) the administration and taking of oaths of allegiance under this Act and the time within which and the manner in which, such oaths shall be taken and recorded;

(d) the giving of any notice required or authorized to be given by any person under this Act;

(e) the cancellation of the registration of, and the cancellation and amendment of certificates of naturalisation relating to, persons deprived of citizenship under this Act, and the delivering up of such certificates for those purposes;

(f) the registration at Indian consulates of the births and deaths of persons of any class or description born or dying out of India;

(g) the levy and collection of fees in respect of applications, registrations, declarations and certificates under this Act, in respect of the taking of an oath of allegiance, and in respect of the supply of certified or other copies of documents;

(h) the authority to determine the question of acquisition of citizenship of another country, the procedure to be followed by such authority and rules of evidence relating to such cases;

(i) the procedure to be followed by the committees of inquiry appointed under section 10 and the conferment on such committees of any of the powers, rights and privileges of civil courts; and

(j) any other matter which is to be, or may be, prescribed under this Act.

(3) In making any rule under this section, the Central Government may provide that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR NATURALISATION.

The qualifications for naturalization of a person who is not a citizen of a country specified in the First Schedule are:—

(a) that he is not a subject or citizen of any country where citizens of India are prevented by law or practice of that country from becoming subjects or citizens of that country by naturalisation;

(b) that he has either resided in India or been in the service of a Government in India or partly the one and partly the other, throughout the period of twelve months immediately preceding the date of the application;

(ii) allow periods of residence or service earlier than eight years before the date of the application to be reckoned in computing the aggregate mentioned in clause (c) above.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Articles 5 to 9 of the Constitution determine who are Indian citizens at the commencement of the Constitution and article 10 provides for their continuance as such citizens subject to the provisions of any law that may be made by Parliament. The Constitution does not, however, make any provision with respect to the acquisition of citizenship after its commencement or the termination of citizenship or other matters relating to citizenship. Under article 11, the Constitution expressly saves the power of Parliament to make a law to provide for such matters. It is obviously necessary to make such a law to supplement the provisions of the Constitution and this Bill seeks to achieve this object.

This Bill provides for the acquisition of citizenship, after the commencement of the Constitution, by birth, descent, registration, naturalisation and incorporation of territory. It also makes necessary provisions for the termination and deprivation of citizenship under certain circumstances. The Bill also seeks to formally recognise Commonwealth citizenship and permit the Central Government to extend on a reciprocal basis such rights of an Indian citizen as may be agreed upon to the citizens of other Commonwealth countries and the Republic of Ireland.

The notes on clauses appended to the Bill explain some of the important provisions thereof.

NEW DELHI, G. B. PANT.

The 20th April, 1955.

Notes on clauses.

Clauses 3 and 4.—Clause 3 provides that subject to the exception contained in sub-clause (2) thereof, every person born in India shall acquire citizenship by birth. Clause 4 provides for the acquisition of citizenship by descent, in the male line, if a person is born outside India. The clauses have been made retrospective to the date of the commencement of the Constitution in order to cover those who have been born on or after such commencement.

Clause 5.—This clause provides for acquisition of Indian citizenship by registration. Persons who are already citizens by virtue of the Constitution or any other provision of the Bill will not, of course, apply for registration, and they are, therefore, expressly excluded from this clause. If any doubt arises as to whether a person has or has not become a citizen by virtue of the Constitution, a certificate of citizenship granted under clause 13 will decide the point.

Sub-clause (1) lists five categories of persons who may acquire Indian citizenship by the simple process of registration.

Category (a) comprises all persons of Indian origin (that is, persons who, or either of whose parents, or any of whose grand-parents, were born in undivided India) who are ordinarily resident in India and have been so resident for one year immediately before applying for registration. This category will cover the large body of displaced persons from Pakistan who have not become citizens by or under the provisions of articles 6 and 7 of the Constitution. In common with the other categories listed in this sub-clause, the registration of these persons will be regulated by rules to be made under clause 17.

Category (b) comprises persons of Indian origin who are ordinarily resident in any country or place outside undivided India. This provision corresponds to article 8 of the Constitution, and it is intended that after this Bill is passed, registration of persons belonging to this category should be done at the appropriate Indian consulate (as defined in clause 2 of the Bill) under this clause instead of article 8.

Categories (c) and (d) cover wives and minor children who are not themselves such citizens by virtue of the Constitution or of any other provision of this Bill.

Category (e) is intended to enable citizens of Commonwealth countries and of the Republic of Ireland to register themselves as Indian citizens if they so desire, provided they have the requisite residence or service qualification. A special definition of 'citizenship or nationality Law' is provided in clause 2(c) of the Bill. Under this provision, it will be possible for the Central Government to ensure that this privilege of obtaining Indian citizenship by registration is made available to the citizens of any of these countries on a purely reciprocal basis.

Sub-clause (2) of clause 5 provides that no person of full age shall be registered as an Indian citizen under this clause until he has taken the prescribed oath of allegiance.

Clause 6.—This provides for the acquisition of citizenship by naturalisation. Detailed rules are given in the Third Schedule.

Clause 7.—This clause makes provision for conferment of Indian citizenship on persons of a territory which may, at a future date, be incorporated as a part of India.

Clause 8.—This clause and clause 9 are designed to avoid dual citizenship to a certain extent. Clause 8 provides for renunciation of Indian citizenship by voluntary act in cases where the person is also a citizen or national of another country. It is possible for a person to acquire dual citizenship by birth or later and in clauses 3 to 7 which provide for the acquisition of Indian citizenship in various ways, it is not proposed that the person should renounce his foreign citizenship as a condition for retaining his Indian citizenship.

Clause 9.—This clause provides for the automatic termination of Indian citizenship in the case of any person who subsequently and voluntarily acquires citizenship of another country. This clause is similar to article 9 of the Constitution, but somewhat wider in scope. This provision is likely to raise difficult and complicated questions as to whether, how or when a person acquires citizenship of another country. Evidence in regard to such matters would not be readily available and would, in many cases, have to be obtained through diplomatic representatives abroad. It is, therefore, proposed that there should be a power to make rules prescribing the authority by which and the manner in which such questions would be finally settled. Rules of evidence would also have to be prescribed in order to facilitate determination of these questions.

Clause 10.—This clause provides for the deprivation of citizenship in the case of persons who have acquired it either by registration or by naturalisation or only by Indian domicile coupled with five years residence under article 5(c) of the Constitution. The clause provides for a regular inquiry by an ad hoc committee of three members appointed for the purpose by the Central Government. Provision has been made that the Chairman of any such committee shall be a person who has held a judicial office for at least ten years.

Other clauses are self-explanatory.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION.

Clause 17 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules by notification in the Official Gazette to carry out the purposes of the Act. The matters in respect of which such rules may be made are specified therein.

Most of the matters specified therein are of a routine character. They relate to the forms and registers to be used, the form of notices and the manner in which they are to be served, the manner of taking oath of allegiance, the cancellation of certificates of naturalisation, the procedure to be followed by committees of inquiry set up under clause 10 and many other matters which are merely of an administrative character.

Clause 17(2)(a) empowers the Central Government to impose by rules such conditions and restrictions as it considers desirable for the registration of persons under clause 5. Under clause 5, displaced persons and various other classes of persons may be registered as citizens. Different considerations would apply to different classes of persons and it may be necessary to impose different conditions and restrictions for different classes of persons. It is not possible to lay down those conditions and restrictions in the Bill itself. Clause 9 provides for the automatic termination of Indian citizenship in the case of any person who subsequently and voluntarily acquires the citizenship of another country. The question whether, how or when a person voluntarily acquires the citizenship of another country is a difficult and complicated one. Evidence in regard to this matter is not readily available and different methods of proof may have to be laid down in the rules for different countries. It is not possible to specify those matters in the Bill itself. The Central Government has therefore been vested with power to make rules in respect of these matters.

Under clause 12 power has to be exercised on a reciprocal basis and it is therefore necessary to empower the Central Government to exercise the power by means of an executive order. It is apprehended that there may be some cases where there would be some doubt whether a person has or has not acquired Indian citizenship. It is necessary to vest the Central Government with power to remove such doubts by orders.

Under the rule-making clause, the Central Government has been empowered to levy fees in respect of applications, registrations, declarations, etc. It has also been empowered to provide that the breach of any rule may be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees. Experience can only show what provisions should be made in respect of these matters and it is not possible to lay down such provisions in the Bill at this stage.

Having regard to the circumstances under which, and the classes of persons in relation to which, powers have to be exercised by the Central Government, the powers delegated to it are of a normal character. Provision has also been made that the rules made under clause 17 shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament.

LOK SABHA.

The following Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha on 25th July, 1955:—

BILL NO. 30 OF 1955.

A Bill further to amend the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947, and to make a consequential amendment in the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Prevenion of Corruption (Amendment) Act, 1955.

Amendment of section 3, Act II of 1947.

2. In section 3 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), for the words and figures 'or section 165', the words and figures 'section 162, section 163, section 164, section 165' shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 5A, Act II of 1947.

3. In section 5A of the principal Act, after the words and figures 'under section 161', the words and figures 'section 162, section 163, section 164,' shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 6, Act II of 1947.

4. In section 6 of the principal Act, in sub-section (1), after the words and figures 'under section 161', the words and figures 'or section 164' shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 6, Act XLVI of 1952.

5. In section 6 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952, in clause (a) of sub-section (1), after the words and figures 'under section 161', the words and figures 'section 162, section 163, section 164', shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Offences under sections 161, 165 and 165A I.P.C. are made cognizable under section 3 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947, but offences under sections 162, 163 and 164 I.P.C. continue to be non-cognizable with the result that there is at present no effective method of dealing with touts and agents through whom corrupt officials secure bribes and illegal gratification. It is, therefore, proposed to amend section 3 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947 so as to make offences under sections 162, 163 and 164 I.P.C. also cognizable. The Bill makes certain other consequential amendments in that Act and in the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the employees: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate and Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri Chandrasekhar Mookerji on behalf of the workers.

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate and Shri K. L. Chatterji, Pleader of Messrs. Orr. Dignam & Co., solicitors, being instructed and assisted by Shri S. K. Kanwar, Senior Personnel Officer of the Company, and Shri S. N. Chatterji of the Company.

1. By the Government order No. 2731Dis./D/10L-26(A)/54, dated the 26th May 1954, and the subsequent addendum No. 4584Dis./D/10L-26(A)/54, dated the 27th September 1954, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 28th May 1954 and an addendum was subsequently received on 10th November 1954. After usual notices the written statement was filed on behalf of the workmen on 18th November 1954. The Company filed its written objection on 8th December 1954. The case was taken up for hearing on 11th March 1955. It was then adjourned to 29th March 1955 on which date it was heard. The hearing continued on 30th March 1955, 31st March 1955 and from 4th April 1955 to 7th April 1955 and again from 11th April 1955 to 12th April 1955. The argument was heard on 4th May 1955 and it continued till 9th May 1955 when it was concluded. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Whether the Company has been justified in keeping the workmen mentioned in the lists A, B and C, attached herewith, out of employment.

(2) Whether the said workmen are entitled to employment and any other relief and/or compensation.

AWARD

4. It is the version of the workmen that on the 23rd August 1953, the abovenamed Companies declared a lockout of the workers with effect from the 24th day of August 1953 barring of course, certain "essential departments". Afterwards the lockout was lifted with effect from the 18th September 1953. A notice was then issued by the Companies calling upon all workmen to report to duties by 24th September 1953. But as only 3,000 people out of 14,000 workmen did join by that date, the said date of joining was further extended up to the 2nd October 1953. All the workmen concerned in the present case, barring serial Nos. 21 and 49 of the list A, Nos. 34, 42 and 45 of the list B, and No. 5 of the list C, had turned up to join on the 1st October 1953. The serial No. 21 of the list A, and the serial Nos. 34, 42 and 45 of the list B offered themselves for duty on the 2nd October 1953. The serial No. 49 of the list A, and the serial No. 5 of the list C offered themselves to join their duties on the 9th October and the 10th December 1953 respectively. But none of these men was allowed to join his duty by the Company. Hence they claim to be allowed to join their service being given full compensation, including salary and allowances, for the period of their forced unemployment.

The two Companies named above in their joint written statement had taken an initial objection to the matter of representation of the workmen concerned as per the order of reference. They also contend that the so called representatives were not "workmen" under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Companies further contend that these two Companies were declared as Public Utility Service concerns as far back as 1951, and still they continue to be so. On the 18th January 1953 the workmen of the B shift of the Hot Mill Section of the Indian Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., suddenly declared a strike, and from the 19th January 1953 they adopted "go slow" tactics, without any previous notice. It was only on the 29th January 1953 that some of the workmen of the said Hot Mill Section represented their demands to the management. The management immediately pointed out that such representation of grievances should come through the Union, and said that the "go slow" policy must at once be abandoned. But the workmen turned a deaf ear to this advice of the management. The situation went from bad to worse till the production came to almost stand-still. So the Company was forced to close down the running of two shifts out of the three in the Hot Mill on the 10th March 1953. From the 7th April 1953 the Company succeeded in running a special shift with the help of volunteers. The Company, however, assured that as soon as full co-operation would be forthcoming from the workers, and the production would be normal, the work of the full three shifts would be restored. But there was no response to this from the workers. The Labour Commissioner then intervened on the 18th March 1953. He held a conference with the representatives of the workers and the management. An agreement was reached. However, it was not honoured. The Labour Commissioner's advice to give up the "go slow" tactics went unheeded. The management, thereafter, took disciplinary action against certain workmen, but that also did not improve the situation. On the 8th April 1953, the Company informed the workmen that if they did not express their willingness to resume normal production by the 10th April 1953, they would be shut out from the Works. But instead of giving any such assurance, about 765 workers of the remaining sections of the Sheet Mill staged a "stay in strike" on the 11th April 1953. This strike continued till the 20th April 1953. On the 24th April 1953 the management received a letter from one Taher Hossain, on behalf of one Action Committee, stating that there would be a strike for 22 hours on the 27th April 1953. The strike did occur. Thereafter meetings were held urging the workers to continue to indulge in the "go slow" tactics, and then intimation and assaults on loyal workers followed. The State Government intervened and asked the workers to abandon the "go slow" policy, but there was no effect. The section 144, Cr. P. C., had to be promulgated, and there was a notification issued under the West Bengal Security Act declaring the two Works in question as protected areas. The Indian Standard Wagon Co., Ltd., also was affected, though there was no charter of demands given to them. On the 18th August 1953 the Action Committee gave a strike notice, and that strike was to come into effect on the 11th September 1953. In view of this situation, the Companies concerned were forced to declare a lockout from the 24th August 1953. By the said notice of lockout the Companies also informed the workmen that services of all men excepting those who had been working in certain sections, specially mentioned in the notice, should be "deemed to have been terminated." The Companies further contend that if their services could not be taken as terminated by the said notice, their services must have been terminated by the notice, dated 28th October 1953 in the case of the Indian Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., and by the notice, dated 25th September 1953, in the case of the Indian Standard Wagon Company. The Companies have also taken objection saying that some of the men mentioned in the written statement of the Companies do not come within the definition of "workman" under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. So they are not entitled to any relief in the present case, according to the companies. The Companies, however, pointed out that the low figure of 144 men discharged out of nearly 16,000 men, should disarm all suspicion of victimisation on the part of the Company. Accordingly, the Companies resist the claim for re-employment of these men as well their claim for compensation.

Issue No. 1.—Whether the Company has been justified in keeping the workmen mentioned in the lists A, B and C attached herewith, out of employment.

It is the contention of the companies that they gave two notices, their Exts. A1 and A2, dated the 23rd August 1953, concerning those two companies. By the said notice the Companies declared a lockout of the entire Works, barring certain "essential departments." At the same time, by the said notice, the services of all other workers, barring those in the "essential departments" were said to have been terminated with effect from the following date (vide Exts. A1 and A2 attached to the joint written statement of the Companies). The Companies now take up the stand that all these workmen in question had been discharged by those notices. So when they were asked to come back again, the Companies were at liberty to impose any condition on them for having service under the Companies because they were to be treated as fresh recruits, and that whatever claim they had, had all been terminated by the above notices. The Companies had two strings in their bow. The first one was as above. The second one was that, if the notices are construed as "no termination" of services, but merely a lockout, even then these workmen not having turned up between the 18th and the 24th September 1953, when the lockout was lifted, it was up to the Companies to resist their re-entry. So in that view of the matter also, according to the Companies, they were justified in shutting out these people.

The workmen, on the other hand, contend that the notices in question were for a lockout. So the services of these workmen were in abeyance during the lockout period till it was lifted. The lockout was lifted on the 18th September 1953, and the date allowed for resumption of duties was up to the 24th September 1953. But as only 3,000 people out of 14,000 workers could join by that time, the date of joining was further extended up to the 2nd October 1953. The workmen in question did turn up to join by the 2nd October 1953, except one or two who had good grounds for not being able to join within that date. So the Companies could not impose any condition on such rejoining of services. Regarding the second contention of the companies the employees allege that the notice of the 23rd August 1953 could not terminate their services. No reason had been assigned for such termination of services, let alone sufficient reason. No charge sheets were given to these men as required under the Companies' Standing Orders for termination of service. So such termination of services cannot be upheld. These workmen had only been kept out of employment illegally by the Companies. So they are now entitled to return to their duties and also to be fully compensated for this period of forced unemployment.

Several legal questions do arise in course of deciding this matter. These legal questions have not been specifically mooted in the written statements of the parties. They have been only cursorily dealt with during the argument. But in my opinion they have great moment in deciding the questions involved. It is not disputed by the employees that these Works in question, as asserted by the Companies in the written statement, at page 4, had been declared to be Public Utility Service under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 since 1951. That being so, under the section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, there could not be any strike or lock-out without a prescribed notice, as required under that section of the Act. Any lockout or strike in contravention of the provision of this section would be illegal under the section 24(1) of the Act. But here, as I have got from the Companies' written statement, there had been strike by the workmen of the Hot Mill Section on the 18th January 1953, without any notice. Again, on the 11th April 1953, 765 workers of the remaining sections of the Sheet Mill staged a "stay in strike". This continued till the 20th April 1953. Then again on the 25th April 1953 one Taher Hossain gave a notice of strike, and the said strike was launched on the 27th April 1953 for 22 hours. On the 18th August 1953 another strike notice was given. Now, from the above it will be absolutely clear that the salutary provision of giving a notice before embarking upon a strike in a Public Utility concern, as prescribed under the section 22 of the Act, was totally ignored by the workmen. So there can be no question that under the section 24(1) of the Act all these strikes were illegal. Similarly, the lockout notice given by the Companies on the 23rd August 1953, to take effect from the following day, was also illegal. So it is in the background of all these illegal strikes and the illegal lockout that the present situation should be considered.

The lockout started by the Company on the 23rd August 1953, can be saved from its illegality because it may be said to be in consequence of all those illegal strikes. As such, under the section 24(3) of the Act it may be deemed to be not illegal. The learned Advocate of the employees contend that this lockout can never be said to be the outcome of all those strikes because they were distant in dates. I am afraid, if the sequence of events is dispassionately considered, it will appear that the Company had no choice other than declaring this lockout to save the situation. The strikes undertaken one after another fully demonstrated that the control of the situation was no longer in the hands of the employer, as it should be. It went over completely to the hands of the workers or the Action Committee which staged those strikes. The Company had to close down two shifts, and the remaining one shift was also tottering. Only a special shift kept up the show. The graph of production (vide document No. 7, Part A, Company) would clearly demonstrate how the production declined steadily till it came almost to rock-bottom. That the Companies were suffering huge losses need not be told. The Action Committee wanted by the "slow down", which is admitted by some of the witnesses of the workmen, to bring the companies down to their knees. It may be said that they succeeded in it to a certain extent up to August 1953. They tried to coerce the Companies to rescind their orders of disciplinary action against the workmen in the face of the strike notice of the 18th August 1953, and to forestall the strike the Companies gave the lockout notice. So I have no hesitation in coming to the decision that the lockout in question was a direct outcome of all those strikes launched by the workers one after another. In that view of the matter, the lockout in question, is robbed of its illegality under the section 24(3) of the Act.

Next, I come to the question of the time when the lockout was lifted. The lockout was lifted by the notice issued by the Companies on the 17th September 1953 This notice also provided that any worker who had left the vicinity of the Works might resume work by 24th September 1953. But as only 3,000 people, including those who had been already working during the period of the lockout, joined their duties out of 14,000 workmen, the date of joining was extended to the 2nd October 1953. Evidently, as also contended by the workmen, those workmen who could not give satisfactory reasons on the 2nd October 1953 for not joining on the 19th September 1953, were shut out. Here I must pause, and consider the situation. Were the Companies justified in imposing conditions for resumption of duties by the workmen, and shutting out the workers on their failure to join by the date prescribed by the Companies? Of course, when the lockout is lifted, the doors for re-entry cannot be kept open for an indefinite time to enable the workers to join their services. They must come back within a reasonable time. If they cannot come within a reasonable time, they must give satisfactory explanation for it. But here, as we have seen, the Works were suddenly closed. They were kept closed right from the end of August till the middle of September 1953, i.e., for a fairly long period. The workmen could not be supposed to have been near about the Works all this time. They were getting no pay, and so they must naturally be supposed to have left for their homes. As it will appear, only a fraction of the total strength of workmen could be able to join by the 24th September 1953. The Companies were also alive as to the necessity of extending the date of joining up to the 2nd October 1953. Now, if the workmen were to be confronted with those tasks, they should only be natural to expect that the Companies would admit people into the Works who would turn up by that date, very liberally, because, after all, it was a generous gesture on the part of the Companies. But actually what had the Companies done in the present case? They began scrutinising the conduct of the workmen who appeared before them for joining. They considered how far they were associated with the Action Committee, and how far they took part in meetings or "slow down" affairs, etc. So, practically, these workmen were faced with the grim task of acquitting themselves honourably from all complicity in those suspicious matters. Now, if the workmen were to be confronted with those tasks, they should have been given charge sheets for their alleged misconduct. In the absence of that, the Companies could not be justified in shutting out those men for any such alleged misconduct. The learned Counsel on behalf of the Companies expatiated greatly on the suggestion that the situation was an abnormal one requiring an "abnormal remedy". By the "abnormal remedy" he suggested that the Standing Orders of the Company need not be required to be rigidly followed. Even if I concede that the situation was an abnormal one, and that it was brought about by the workmen, and they were to a certain extent responsible for the situation, yet I can never hold that these men will lose their services without having any opportunity to meet the charges against them. The charges were in the minds of the Companies, and the workmen were made to atone for them. Even an abnormal situation would not justify such a "remedy". If it is to be conceded I must say unhesitatingly that all ideas of social justice are to be buried. So, in that view of the matter, I clearly hold that all workmen who turned up on the 2nd October 1953 for joining their services must be taken back into employment. The Companies were never justified in imposing conditions on the re-entry or employment of the workmen.

But with regard to persons who turned up to join after the 2nd October 1953, they must give satisfactory explanation for not joining earlier. Under this head come the serial No. 49 of the list A and the serial No. 5 of the list C. They respectively joined on the 9th October and on the 10th December 1953. The serial No. 49 of the list A is Shri N. N. Das Gupta. He was taken ill of typhoid with effect from the 29th day of August 1953. He was treated by the Company's doctor. He was declared fit by the said Medical Officer with effect from the 9th October 1953. He offered to join his services on that date (vide the paragraph 10 of the workmen's written statement). The Companies could not displace this contention. Now, if this is not a good ground for one's inability to join his duty, I do not know what can be a better ground for his explanation. The Companies do not say that their Medical Officer had betrayed them. Again, neither can it be contended that a man should join his service even before he is declared fit medically. So, I direct that Shri N. N. Das Gupta must be allowed to join his service.

Next, with regard to the serial No. 5 of the list C, the Companies contend that he worked up to the 3rd August 1953. He is Shri Satyanarayan Thakur. He was granted 6 weeks' leave with effect from the 11th August 1953. His leave was due to expire in the end of September 1953. The employees said in their written statement at paragraph 17, that he joined on the 10th December 1953. The Companies, accordingly, state that he infringed the Companies' rules which entail forfeiture of one's service in case of his 14 days' unauthorised absence. Shri Satyanarayan has been examined as P. W. 13 in this case. On the 23rd September he sent a wire to the Company stating that he could not yet recover from his illness (Ext. 4). He wanted extension of leave by one month. On the 23rd October 1953, he says, he returned and wanted to join his service. But he was not permitted by the Company. But this is not proved. He wanted to join on 10th December 1953. I am afraid, this man has not been able to satisfactorily account for his inability to join earlier even before me. So, I think, the Companies were justified in excluding him from service for his long unauthorised and unaccounted for absence. So he is not entitled to claim employment in the present case. I shall however, consider his case when I consider the matter of general compensation.

Next, I consider the other aspect of the matter which has been stressed by the learned Advocate of the Companies, viz., whether by the notice of the 23rd August 1953 the Companies had rightly discharged these men. I do not know how it can be argued that this notice could effectively terminate the services of all these workmen. If it was a notice for a lockout, then it should be supposed under the very definition of lockout in the Act, that the services of the workmen were kept in tact, but only they were in abeyance. They were only prevented from doing work, it should be supposed, if the lockout is found justified. So, in the same breath it cannot lie to say that the Companies gave a lockout notice to the workmen, and also discharged them. Simply because the General Manager of these Companies gave such a notice, that does not acquire any special significance. The lockout is a legal term, and has legal consequence. It cannot be said with any reason that it had been used in the notice being bereft of its natural and legal significance. So if the lockout is there, the discharge in the notice becomes redundant and infructuous. Again, if the discharge is there, the lockout in the notice becomes redundant and infructuous. Both cannot stand together. In such cases of patent ambiguity the intention of the giver of the notice should be gathered from his subsequent conduct. If the subsequent conduct displayed in the case is taken into consideration, it will clearly appear that there was no mass discharge, but only a lockout. The Companies by their notice said that the lockout was lifted on the 18th September 1953, and the old workers were allowed to come in as a matter of course. So, what does it show? Does not this show a "lockout" rather than "discharge"? If it was re-employment of workers, the procedure of recruitment would have been otherwise. Next, I am told that these men were given continuity of service, though at some late date. So there can be no question that the Companies only declared a lockout on the 23rd August 1953, and did not terminate the services of their workmen. It is really funny, as I find in the said notice, that the workmen should be deemed to be discharged with effect from the following day by the said notice of the lockout. Why should they be so deemed? No reason is forthcoming. Is this the manner in which the services of workmen can be terminated? Even if it was a mass discharge, even if the situation was abnormal, were not the Companies under any obligation to say at least some reason,—good, bad, or indifferent, why the services of so many men were to be dispensed with by a mere stroke of pen? So if the learned Advocate of the Companies argues that the Companies had by this notice of the 23rd August 1953 terminated the services of all these men, I should simply say that the action of the Company was nothing less than high-handed, and cannot be considered justified by any Tribunal. So I discard the contention of the Companies that the services of these men were done away with by the notice of the 23rd August 1953. Obviously, the learned Advocate of the Companies had recourse to this argument of mass retenchment only to give a colour of justification to the conditions imposed by the Companies for the re-entry of these men into the services when the lockout was lifted, as such conditions would otherwise be unjustifiable, and uncalled for. The Companies contend that only a negligible fraction of the vast bulk of personnel of the works were kept out. That would show that the Companies were exceedingly considerate, and must have weighed the conduct of every worker before he was kept out of employment. There might be some truth in that profession, but I must say that the Companies were doing this virtue out of necessity. They found it difficult to sustain before the Tribunal their conduct in keeping out these men, and that is why they try to assume this virtue so that the action may be spared scrutiny. But I am afraid, the Tribunal cannot refrain from going into that question. It must see the justification of keeping out a single worker except on positive evidence. So, while I find that these men should go back in employment, I do not fail to appreciate why the Companies did shut out these few men. Not that the Companies had any grudge against these particular workmen, but the Companies were highly exercised over the conduct of the Action Committee. The Action Committee gave a notice of strike. It withdrew the strike only on the 1st October 1953 when the letter of the Private Secretary to the Chief Minister, West Bengal, was received calling upon the workers to resume their duties. The Companies, rightly or wrongly, thought that these workmen had kept aloof for no other reason, but to follow the behest of the Action Committee. These men were looked upon by the Companies as being in the Action Committee, and so their loyalty was suspected. But here I must point out that the Companies could have won these people over to their side if they were a little more generous, and if they would take them back without any question. Be that as it may, I can find no justification for keeping out these men merely on suspicion. It may be that the dates of return to duties declared by the Action Committee and the Companies coincided. But to visit the consequence thereof on the poor workmen would be anything but justice. So, though I do not consider the action of the Companies to be very unnatural in the circumstances, yet I cannot justify it with an eye to injustice that would otherwise befall on these workmen.

Another point that requires to be met in this connection is that the Companies in the paragraph 15 of their written statement have pointed out specifically that 11 men mentioned there were not "workmen" because they neither did clerical work nor did manual work, but exercised only supervisory functions. It is, indeed, a technical objection, and must be decided as such. These men have given their evidence before me. They have also been cross-examined at length. Some of them are, no doubt, Foremen. If we say that all foremen are not workmen, then some of these men must cease to be "workmen" as defined in the Act. But I think that the criterion is not so much in the designation, as in the duties that they actually perform. The evidence is on record. I find that where they are called "foremen", they are no more than Sirdars. They also do work which is partly clerical and partly manual. They have either to keep progress reports, or to keep up registers, or to look after the proper working of the workmen in their hands. Of course, they are given handsome pay. But that again is no criterion in big companies like these. So considering their duties generally, I have no hesitation in finding that all these 11 men in question are "workmen". So they would get the benefit of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and as a matter of fact, they would get the benefit of my present award.

There is another objection placed by the Companies regarding the matter of representation. I cannot say that the requirements of section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act have been answered there. The men who are mentioned in the order of reference as representing these 144 workmen could hardly show any authority how they come to be so empowered. Shri Kali Mookerji, M.L.A., Vice-President of the Burnpur Mazdoor Union, came to represent those workmen under the order of reference. He submitted the written statement on behalf of the workmen in question. But neither he is an office-bearer of any Union to which these workmen belonged, nor is he an office-bearer of the Federation of the Unions to which the Union of these Companies stand affiliated. It cannot be said that these workmen are not members of any Trade Union, and so they may be represented by an officer of a Trade Union connected with these concerns. So neither under the section 36(1), clause (a), clause (b) and clause (c) can Shri Kali Mookerji represent these workmen. So there is some substance in the contention of the Companies that the workmen have not been properly represented in the present case. But I do not attach much significance to this question because the order of reference of the Government regarding the representation of the workers should be presumed to be correct. Government must have been satisfied regarding the capacity of this gentleman to represent the workers in question. Even if I find that the workmen have not been properly represented, I must point out that many of these workmen have been examined before me, and they have accepted the written statement filed by Shri Kali Mookerji, M.L.A. They have also represented the cause of their brother workmen. So in that view of the matter the case cannot be thrown out merely on the ground of defective representation, or mis-representation, if it can be so called. Thus I dispose of all the contentions raised by the Companies under the issue No. 1.

Issue No. 2.—Whether the said workmen are entitled to employment and any other relief and/or compensation.

The answer to this issue is simple. All the workmen mentioned in the lists A, B and C of the order of reference are entitled to employment, barring Shri Satyanarayan, serial No. 5 of the list C.

Regarding their relief, the matter is not free from difficulty. I have already found that though the lockout in question had been illegal in having not given a notice under the section 22 of the Act in a public utility concern, it was robbed of its illegality under the section 24(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act. So, in the result, the lockout in question was legal. Regarding the justification of the lockout I have also pointed out that the Companies had no choice in the matter. Their production came down and reached the rock-bottom. They closed down two shifts, and ran a special shift only to keep up the show. The total closure would also be disastrous to the Companies. The furnace cannot be switched on or switched off at a moment's notice. It requires enormous expenditure, and also considerable time to work up the furnace to the required temperature, and also to cool down the same. The Companies were struggling hard to maintain the show all the time throwing gestures after gestures to have some assurance of normal production from the workers. But the workers were adamant. They were bent on "go slow" tactics. They were misguided by the Action Committee. Taher Hossain and others set up this Committee and were trying hard to coerce the Companies by systematic strikes. They had misguided the workers. They were delivering inflammatory speeches, and brought the Companies on the verge of a precipice. The Companies were to choose between life and death. In the circumstances, if the Companies had recourse to the lockout, nobody can blame them. So I find the lockout in question both legal and justified. In that view of the matter, none of these workmen can claim any compensation from the date of the lockout up to the 2nd October 1953 when the lockout was finally lifted. So the claim for compensation of that period is ruled out. Regarding compensation for the subsequent period, i.e., from the 2nd October 1953 up to the date these workmen would join their services, I have to consider the matter in relation to the conduct and responsibility of the workmen and the Companies involved. Had the Companies taken back these men on the 2nd October 1953 barring, of course, those who came thereafter, these men would not have suffered so much for loss of their pay, etc. But, again, if I consider the conduct of the workmen, I cannot totally absolve them from the blame. As the evidence shows, many of these workmen when confronted at the gate, refused to give any explanation of their conduct on the 2nd October 1953. They said that they could come back to their services as a matter of right. In the context of events such an attitude can hardly be defended. Many of these workmen, as the evidence shows, were near about Burnpur and in the vicinity of the Works. They could have joined on the 18th September or latest by the 24th September 1953. I cannot believe that they did not know that the Works had re-opened, and the lockout had been lifted. So if the Companies thought that the workers did not join till the Action Committee had withdrawn the strike on the 1st October 1953, I cannot say that such an impression would be totally unfounded. So the workmen in the present case were as much responsible for their non-employment on the 2nd October 1953 as the Companies were. In that view of the matter I shape the amount of compensation as below. I also remember in this connection that the Companies had not the benefit of their services during the period for which I am awarding compensation. "No work, no pay" is the basic principle. The burden is heavy on persons who contend that in spite of their "no work" they would get their pay. Accordingly, I award that these men, barring Shri Satyanarayan, No. 5 of the list C, attached to the order of reference, would get half salary for the entire period from the 2nd October 1953 up to the date of their actual return to duties after this award. I allow only half basic pay and no dearness allowance and no other allowance. Though this compensation would mean quite a heavy expenditure on the part of the Companies concerned being so many men involved, and the period being fairly long, it would also be an eye opener and an objective lesson to the workmen not to allow themselves to be misguided by party leaders working with ulterior motive. The sufferings of the workers would also be quite heavy in the present case. Regarding Shri Satyanarayan (serial No. 5 of the list C), as I do not allow him employment, I grant him compensation for the entire length of service he has put in at the rate of 15 days' basic pay with corresponding dearness allowance, but no other allowance, for each year of service. This would be payable, as also the compensation to other people above, within one month of the award coming into operation. The workmen in question must come back to duty immediately after the award comes into operation. But, as their number is fairly large, they may come back to join within one month of the award becoming effective, but not later without adequate explanation to the satisfaction of the Companies concerned. The lists A, B and C of the workmen as per the order of reference are annexed herewith.

The Cost of Living Index for Darjeeling has come down from 96 in May to 95 in June last. The fall is due to slight fall in the prices of Rice, Atta, Chira-Muri, Dal, Sugar, Mustard Oil, Potato, Onion, Fire-wood, Tobacco, Washing Soap, etc.

In Dooars, however, the Index Number has gone up from 85 in May to 87 in June. This is mainly due to rise in prices of Rice and Paddy, Musur, Moong, Chhola, Fish, Beef, Mutton, Potato, Tomato, etc.

In Terai, the Index Number has gone up to 84 in June 1955. The rise is due to increase in the prices of Rice and Paddy, Fish, Tomato, Dhoti, Saree, Long Cloth, Shirting, Printed Cloth, etc.

N.B.—The Index of Terai for the month of May, 1955 for Food Group and Combined will be 80 and 82 instead of 81 and 83 respectively.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Subject:—Transmission of vouchers and schedules relating to the Eastern Railway.

No. TM/522.—16th August 1955.—It has been reported by the Financial Adviser and Chief Accounts Officer, Eastern Railway, that, in many cases the vouchers and schedules relating to the Eastern Railway which were stated to have been sent to his office, were not actually received by him. The result is that many items of debit and credit are lying under the suspense account in his office. In order to eliminate the possibility of such loss of vouchers and to ensure proper receipt thereof, it has been decided that all schedules and vouchers relating to the Eastern Railway should in future be sent under registered cover to the address of the Financial Adviser and Chief Accounts Officer, Books Section, Eastern Railway, Calcutta.

All Treasury Officers in West Bengal are, therefore, requested to send the vouchers and schedules relating to the Eastern Railway in the manner indicated above.

P. C. HALDAR, Dy. Accountant-General.

Subject:—Supply of specimen signatures of the Controlling Officers (of the Central Government) to all the Treasury Officers.

No. TM/526.—24th August 1955.—A copy of the Government of India, Ministry of Finance, Circular letter No. F.4(41)-BII/55, dated the 4th August 1955, regarding supply of specimen signatures of the Controlling Officers to all the Treasury Officers in an audit circle for the purpose of verification of countersignatures on the travelling allowance bills is circulated herewith for information and guidance of all Treasury Officers in West Bengal as also of all Heads of offices of the Government of India under the audit of this office.

Copy of the circular letter referred to above.

Subject:—Verification by the Treasury Officer of countersignature on the travelling allowances claim of gazetted Government servant for the period prior to his transfer to the payment of a new Treasury Officer under the same audit circle.

"I am directed to invite a reference to rule 177 of the Central Treasury Rules, Volume I, which inter alia imposes an obligation on the Treasury Officer to verify the genuineness of the countersignature of the Controlling Officer on the travelling allowance claims of a Gazetted Officer's bill. A question has been raised as to how a Treasury Officer is to satisfy himself of the genuineness of the countersignature of the Controlling Officer in respect of a claim prior to the transfer of the officer to his payment. As the matter stands at present, no provision exists in the Treasury Rules providing for the action to be taken by the new Treasury Officer in this regard. To meet this lacuna in the rules, it has been decided in consultation with the Comptroller and Auditor-General that all the Controlling Officers (such officers are not likely to be many) empowered to countersign bills should send their specimen signatures to all the Treasury Officers duly attested by the Treasury Officer of the district, in which they draw bills within the audit circle so that the new Treasury Officer may not have any difficulty to verify on each occasion the countersignature of the Controlling Officer who is not in his payment.

Necessary instructions to this effect may therefore be given to all the Treasury Officers as well as the Controlling Officers under your audit control."

Subject:—Submission of proper sub-vouchers in the Medical Bills.

No. TM/527.—5th September 1955.—It has been decided that the claims for the purchase of medicines in Medical Attendance Bills should be supported by proper sub-vouchers, i.e., the cash memorandum together with acknowledgment of receipt of the money from the purchaser, as named therein, for the price of medicines sold in order that it may be ensured that the claimant has actually incurred the expenditure for which he has put in the claim. The acknowledgment is required to be duly stamped, if the amount exceeds Rs. 20.

2. With a view to obviating avoidable audit objections all Heads of offices of the Central Government may take special care to see that proper sub-vouchers in support of the claims, as prescribed above are duly enclosed with the Medical Bills submitted to this office for payment so that no difficulty is experienced in this office in passing them.

SCHEDULE OF FIRST REFERENCE

Bonus for the years 1949 and 1950.

SCHEDULE OF SECOND REFERENCE

(1) Bonus for the years 1951 and 1952.

(2) Pay cuts for 16th September 1953 and 30th September 1953.

AWARD

The disputes centre predominantly round the employees' demand for bonus. Since 1949, the employees of the two companies, represented by the Union, have been claiming bonus year after year. The Companies, refusing to meet the demand made as of right, have been fighting with unflagging determination to defeat the claim. Demand for bonus and companies' stubborn opposition have in this way become a hardly annual. Industrial peace is thus being stabilised (?) and promoted (?) by employer and employee engaging in fierce combat year by year with tempers rising in a shrill crescendo of dislike and distrust.

The employees alleged in their written statement, that these two companies, though in double harness, carried on business operations in close collaboration and in certain spheres they functioned as one indivisible unit. Having almost a monopoly of business in river transport in Pakistan and several provinces in the Indian Union, the companies were collecting fabulous profits but in dealing with the reasonable demand of their workmen for a just and equitable share, they had been adopting a stiff and unresponsive attitude. The River Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., was granting bonus to particular sections of the workmen, denying similar privilege to the rest. Preferential treatment accorded in this way, was creating mischief and accentuating unrest. In the two references the question of bonus for the years 1949-50 and 1951-52 has been laid before the Tribunal for adjudication.

In the second reference a further question arises concerning deduction of wages for the 16th and 30th of September 1953. The case, set out in the written statement of the Union, is that having failed to obtain a favourable response to their demand for bonus made in August 1953, the employees decided to make personal contact with the office Superintendents for full and frank discussion. With this object in view on the 16th September, the workers went on deputation but were nonplussed to find a police force present to greet them. Notice was given to the workers to clear out an hour before the normal closing time. Assuming wrongly that the workers had gone on strike, the management refused their wages for that day. In fact the workers were not on strike and did not incur forfeiture of wages for the day.

On 30th September 1953, a general strike was declared by several Trade Unions and public organisations by way of protest against certain actions of the Government. All forms of public transport being completely suspended and acts of lawlessness being perpetrated to prevent normal functioning of offices and establishments, 50 per cent. of the workers could not report for duty. Leave applied for by the absentees was refused and wages for the day deducted.

The companies' reply in their joint written statement is that no surplus profit was available on the trading results of the years under reference out of which bonus could be paid.

With regard to pay cut, the companies maintained that the Union had passed a resolution on the 12th September 1953, that if bonus equivalent to three months' wages was not paid "direct action" would be started. On the 14th of September, the resolution was brought to the notice of the authorities and three days' time was allowed for communication of their decision. On the 16th, the clerical and subordinate staff ceased working at 11 a.m. and commenced a sit-down strike. Police assistance was requisitioned to foil wrongful confinement of the officers within their offices by the strikers. These companies had been declared by Government to be public utility services. Besides, the first reference was pending for adjudication at the date of the strike. On both these grounds, the strike was illegal. Forfeiture of pay for the day was therefore fully merited.

Regarding absence from duty on the 30th of September, the Companies' case is that those who did not attend office had in fact no mind to work and were in sympathy with the organisers of the strike.

The two proceedings have been consolidated for analogous hearing and will be governed by one award.

DECISION

Bonus for 1949

Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and India General Navigation and Railway Co.

In paragraph 32 of the written statement submitted by the Union in the first reference, fact and fancy have been woven together. According to the statement in that paragraph, the assessment made for 1949 by the Income-tax authorities for taxation purposes would show enormous profits. As a matter of fact, the assessment paper Ext. M discloses loss suffered by the India General Navigation and Railway Co., to the extent of Rs. 7,89,416 in the year ending on 31st December 1949. The assessment paper relating to the other company, which I have kept with the record, shows loss to the extent of Rs. 4,74,478 in the same period. Claim for bonus for the year 1949 must necessarily fail.

India General Navigation and Railway Co.

The Companies have produced their balance-sheets for 1950 to 1952. These are consolidated balance-sheets for the business carried on in India and Pakistan. Learned Advocate for the Union rightly argued on the authority of the case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 87, that we have to focus our attention only to the profits and available surplus appertaining to the business done in India. To determine the profits earned in India, the Companies have made use of the agreement Ext. I, concluded between the Dominion of India and the Dominion of Pakistan for Avoidance of Double Taxation of Income. According to the certified statement of Messrs. Lovelock and Lewes, Chartered Accountants, the ratio of earnings arising in India in 1950 was 55.26 per cent. and 44.74 per cent. in Pakistan (see Ext. II). Out of the profits as per balance-sheet Ext. G(1) amounting to £7,870 the Indian side of the business would get £4,349 on the percentage adopted for allocation. The same percentage has been applied in regard to all the items to be considered for estimating the profit position for 1950. In my view the allocation of the profits as between the two countries should not be made on this basis. The report of the London Auditors incorporated in the several balance-sheets makes it perfectly clear that audited returns were supplied to them from India. The evidence of O.P.W. 1, Accountant of Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., proved that separate accounts are kept for India and Pakistan. On the basis of the receipt and expenditure accounts kept separately for India and Pakistan, audited returns are forwarded to the London Office. These accounts styled "Returns from India" should form the basis for investigation. The Companies produced these returns under a seal of secrecy under section 21 of the Industrial Disputes Act. P.W. 1, Shri Nirmal Chandra Ghosh, Chartered Accountant, acting on behalf of the Union was allowed inspection of the returns but the information collected by him was similarly required to be treated as confidential by the companies. I am, therefore, precluded from referring to the figures except in so far as they are absolutely necessary for determination of the points before me. To judge the actual financial position on the trading results of the year, I would prefer to proceed on the data obtained by P.W. 1 in course of his inspection. P.W. 1 was satisfied that in 1950, the India General Navigation and Railway Co., had sustained loss. The Union also recognised the reverse suffered by the Company in 1950 and omitted all reference to the profit position of the Company in the chart for 1950, prepared by it for assistance of the Tribunal. No bonus can therefore be claimed from India General Navigation and Railway Co., for the year 1950.

Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

The amount of profit in 1950 stands approximately at Rs. 48,66,400 according to Union calculation. This is equivalent to £365,000. The prior charges as per Company's chart are as follows:—

Depreciation £122,378 being 56.57 per cent. of the total on A.D.T.A. basis.

Income-tax			£109,180
6 per cent. interest on issued capital		£22,945	£172,255 being 56.57 of the total £309,800.
4 per cent. interest on reserves	..	£57,000
Rehabilitation allowance	..	£229,855

The result on this mode of calculation is a minus balance of £38,813. The Union refused to make any allowance in its chart for prior charges under any of these heads. Since the amount claimed by way of rehabilitation charges is in this instance, larger than the amount claimed by way of depreciation, no allowance can be made on account of depreciation, the same being included in the allowance for rehabilitation and replacement. I do not therefore think it necessary to discuss the reasons assigned by the Union for challenging the item under the head of depreciation. Income-tax has not yet been assessed and no payment has therefore been made. On this ground the Union opposed deduction of any amount for Income-tax. The learned Advocate for the Union pressed a further argument that Income-tax cannot enter the calculation before ascertainment of bonus. Reliance was placed upon the case reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 167. In that case their Lordships had repelled the argument that Income-tax should be calculated on the entire amount of profits. The Full Bench decision reported in 1952 L.A.C., page 433, had evolved the formula which is, since then providing guidance in all matters relating to calculation of bonus. Income-tax was treated as a component constituting the formula. I may refer to another case reported in 1955 (I) L.L.J., page 534 in which their Lordships pronounced that Income-tax calculated on the trading profits of the year must be deducted as a prior charge from the profits even though exemption under the Income-tax is granted for the year in question taking into consideration the past year's losses. The contention that Income-tax cannot figure as a prior charge must therefore fail.

Six per cent. interest on paid up capital is normal. The Uniion objected that the capital not having been apportioned as between India and Pakistan, it is not known on what amount interest should be calculated. The procentage worked out by the auditors, namely, 56.57 per cent. applicable to India may be availed of to determine the relative proportion not only with regard to the capital but also with regard to the other items of prior charge as well. In the absence of any alternative method or technique, this appears to be a fitting working rule. I think the Union has some amount of misconception regarding its responsibility in gathering the data necessary for supporting the claim for bonus. The onus is on the Union to establish the existence of available surplus capable of bearing the weight of the workers' demand. The employers are undoubtedly bound to produce their balance-sheet which epitomises the trading position of the year. If however the balance-sheets are found to be unreliable, their infirmity does not prove the Union's case on the rebound. An argument in this vein was addressed in the case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 351 on the ground that the balance-sheets were unreliable. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal did not lend countenance to this argument. They held that it was for the employees to supply materials for establishing their case which in that instance was for bonus at a rate higher than that conceded by the employer. This decision applies with unabated force to all the other items of prior charges also. The Union cannot make capital of errors or omissions in the accounts of the other party and gain its objective by the process of elimination. If I have read the judgment in its true light and from the right angle, the Union had to produce the requisite materials and data.

Reserves utilised as working capital are entitled to have a return in the form of interest. Learned Advocate for the Union pressed the point that no evidence was marshalled by the companies to show what part of the reserves was used as working capital and for what period. Interest cannot therefore be allowed on the entire reserve for the entire period of the year. Th argument was fortified by citation of the case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 313 in which their Lordships made the observation that it must be shown that the fund was wholly employed for the business and if employed for a period the return must necessarily be restricted to that period. In this case utilisation has been proved but there is lacuna as to the period. In such an event interest at 2 per cent. is admissible as per judgment delivered in the case reported in 1955 (I) L.L.J., page 534.

Inveighing against the provision for rehabilitation and replacement of the shipping vessels, plant, machinery and buildings, learned Advocate for the Union voiced an argument that the reserves,—liquid assets, to borrow the expression used by him, must be laid under contribution for the purpose as far as available. Since the reserves are found to have been pressed into service as working capital they could not be drawn upon for rehabilitation and replacement.

Original cost as on 31st December 1944 has been taken for the fleet (powered craft and dumb craft), plant machinery and buildings and additions made up to 31st December 1950, have been added. For powered craft and dumb craft the multiplier used is 3.34 and for buildings the multiplier is 2.7. Depreciation during the same period increased by 5 per cent. on account of scrap and break-down value has been deducted, and the result has been divided by 40 in the case of powered craft, by 50 in the case of dumb craft, by 14 in the case of plant and machinery and by 30 in case of buildings. The sum total is £229,855 (vide Ext. E). Ext. F is a list of vessels withdrawn from service between 1927 and 1954. In respect of the multiplier 3.34, O.P.W. 1 has supplied the key. Two vessels christened "LEPCHA" and "IRANI" were built in 1938 and 1949, respectively. The increase in the cost of construction in 1949 was 3.34 per cent. On this basis 3.34 was taken as the multiplier to equate the original cost to the cost of replacement. The cost index adopted came in for adverse criticism. The learned Advocate for the Union took exception on the grounds that the two vessels were not of the same tonnage and might not bear comparison in the matter of strength, durability and so forth. I am afraid he was hypercritical. Mathematical precision or exactitude cannot be expected. Adverting to the difficulty of fixing the amount of rehabilitation and replacement allowance, their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal counselled application of a liberal estimate in the case reported in 1955 (I) L.L.J., page 73. Bearing this decision in mind I consider 3.34 an innocuous multiplier. To sum up, striking off depreciation allowance claimed over and above the rehabilitation and replacement allowance in which it is already included and reducing interest on the reserve to 2 per cent., we find that interest and rehabilitation costs reach up to the sum of £159,131, i.e., 56.57 per cent. of the total of £22,945 (interest on paid up capital), £28,500 (interest on reserve at 2 per cent.) and £229,855 (rehabilitation allowance). Income-tax amounting to £109,180 being added to this, the prior charges on this calculation come up to £268,311. I find from Ext. C that the Managing Agents' commission totalled £176,699 in 1950. 56.57 per cent. of this is £99,958. Managing Agents' commission payable under contractual terms has been held in reported cases to be legitimate expenditure rightly included as an item of prior charge. If this item is admitted to its rightful place in the formula the grand total of prior charges is £368,269. The profits having been estimated at £365,000, a deficit comes to light. The Companies are incorporated in England. I think they have to pay Income-tax also to the British Exchequer. There is no reason why the tax so paid should be excluded. Without going further, on the accounting made above, no surplus was available to pay bonus to the employees for 1950. Their claim must necessarily fail.

India General Navigation and Railway Co.

The employees of this Company represented by India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union had preferred a claim for bonus for 1951 which was laid before the First Industrial Tribunal by West Bengal Government order, dated the 10th of November 1952. The Tribunal fully considered the matter and arrived at a decision that the employees were not entitled to any bonus for the year 1951. The Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 30th of April 1953. An appeal (No. Cal. 6253) being taken challenging the award, the findings and decision of the Tribunal were upheld and confirmed on the 26th of July 1955. Controversy has again been raised over the self-same mater. It is the same leg of mutton re-hashed. There would be no finality if parties be at liberty to rake up at intervals disputes authoratatively dealt with and set at rest. The employer's lot would be extremely miserable if he is liable to be harassed by untenable demands resurrected from time to time. The principle of res judicata may be applied to decisions made under the Industrial Disputes Act at least so long as circumstances prevailing remain the same as before. In my judgment the earlier decision that there was no available surplus for payment of bonus for 1951 is sufficient to thwart the claim made again for the same period.

River Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

The Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., was not a party in the earlier proceeding. Still the claim made as against the Company must fail on the ground of delay. The second reference comprises the demand for bonus for 1951 and 1952. Order of reference was made in the first instance on the 19th of June 1954. Even if presented in 1953, the demand relating to 1951 must be considered unconscionably delayed and must be negatived on that ground.

Bonus for the year 1952

India General Navigation and Railway Co.

The gross profit was estimated at Rs. 52,34,022 in the Company's chart. According to the Union the profits would be Rs. 55,69,000 as Rs. 3,35,230 earned as freight in 1952 was not incorporated as income of that year. Let us examine the resultant position accepting the Union figure of Rs. 55,69,000. Leaving out the amount claimed on the head of depreciation as it is included in the rehabilitation and replacement cost, I proceed to consider the other items which ought to be treated as prior charges—

	Rs.	Rs.
Income-tax		18,75,729
6 per cent. interest on paid up capital ..	7,19,680
2 per cent. interest on reserved used as working capital (for reasons stated above).	2,71,073	27,89,255	being 63.36 per cent. of the total.
Rehabilitation allowance ..	34,11,480
	44,02,233

Deducting Rs. 46,64,984 (the total of Income-tax plus interest and rehabilitation allowance) from Rs. 55,69,000, we find Rs. 9,04,016 to be the balance. I cannot find out the amount of Managing Agents' commission in this year. In 1950 the profits were much less. The Managing Agents' commission was £99,958 in that year. Even if this figure is taken the balance noted above would be completely swallowed up.

The deficit would assume lusty proportions if Income-tax paid to the British Exchequer is added. No provision for bonus can possibly be made.

River Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

Rupees 67,74,593 approximately equal to £506,067 may be accepted as the profit. The following deductions have to be made:—

Income-tax		£151,377
6 per cent. interest on paid up capital	£22,945
2 per cent. interest on reserved used as working capital.	£31,057	£180,584	being 62·63 per cent. of the total.
Rehabilitation allowance	£234 332
	£288,334

I have taken 62.63 per cent. as this is the ratio certified by Messrs. Lovelock and Lewes. The total of £151,377 plus £180,584 is £331,961. If Managing Agents' commission, London Income-tax, and bonus voluntarily paid be deducted the surplus balance tapers off to a point which cannot sustain the burden of bonus payment to the employees to the extent of Rs. 85,000. I hold in the circumstances that the employees' demand for payment of bonus must be refused.

Issue No. 2 of second reference.—Pay cuts for 16th September 1953 and 30th September 1953

Pay for 16th September 1953 was withheld on account of cessation of work by the employees, within half an hour of the starting time. The Union alleged that the employees had decided to go on deputation to the Office Superintendents to convince them by peaceful parley that the demand for bonus was just and reasonable. They waited for the expected interview but were amazed to find that police help was requisitioned. There is no dispute that the workers did not return to duty when they found that the Superintendents were not prepared to give them a hearing. It is also admitted that if the stoppage of work is construed as a strike, it was illegal, since, these concerns were declared by the Government to be public utility services and there was already the first reference pending before the Tribunal. The Union's plea is that it was not a strike. On this point the facts leave no room for doubt that the workers had struck work. Ext. P is letter, dated the 14th September 1953, addresed by the Union Secretary to the Managing Agents apprising them of a resolution unanimously passed at a general meeting that active steps would be taken if the claim for bonus was not conceded within three days. The unbending attitude of the authorities had put the workers on their mettle. Their patience having worn out they were poised for a slow-down. The letter was, to all intents and purposes, an ultimatum coupled with a threat. The management sensed thunder in the air. The police was called in as a measure of precaution against lawlessness breaking out. The crucial fact is that the men did not return to resume their duty, even after the notice, Ext. S, was given warning them that they were conducting themselves illegally. The logical conclusion follows a priori that their conduct in deserting their duty for the remainder of the day was concerted and purposeful. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have held in emphatic terms that cessation of work by workmen acting in combination or a concerted refusal by them to resume work is a strike as defined in section 2(q) of the Industrial Disputes Act, even if it is only for a few hours in a day (vide 1953, L.A.C., page 210, see also 1955, II, L.L.J., page 57). Refusal to pay wages for the day was fully justified.

On the 30th of September 1953, a general strike was organised by several groups of Trade Unions and public institutions. About 50 per cent. of the workers failed to attend office on that day. Applications for leave submitted by the absentees were refused and pay for the day was forfeited.

A general strike affecting the occupational life of the community at all angles has been found by past experience to be a field-day for hooligans. By some sinister process of permutation roudy elements of the population gain ascendancy and indulge in wanton acts of intimidation and violence. The Welfare Officer Mr. Thomas (O.P.W. 4) admitted at the first blush that on the 30th of September 1953, all forms of transport were immobilised. On second thought he made an amendment that the strike was partially successful. He could not however slur over the fact that tram cars were set on fire. In a situation so explosive, people would not venture to attend office. All vehicular traffic being suspended there was in the first place the difficulty of covering the distance to report for duty. Next to that was the risk of suffering personal injury at the hands of the hooligans patrolling the streets to prevent office attendance. The Companies have produced a chart Ext. U to show that 50 per cent. of their staff had reported for duty on that particular day. An argument was advanced that while some turned up, others residing in the same locality chose to remain absent. For instance two persons hailing from Bowbazar came to office and six others living in Bowbazar absented themselves. Similarly two came from Ballyganj and six kept away. Bowbazar and Ballygunge are not small pockets but fairly big areas. Some quarters of Bowbazar might have been comparatively free from aggressive vigilance while other areas might be seething with unrest. Because some of the staff had successfully dodged the pickets and reached office in one piece, one cannot reasonably argue that others living in a different locality within the same police-station should have similarly exposed themselves to risks which might have serious consequences. Casual leave for absence without notice is in the discretion of the head of the department, according to the Leave Rules Ext. T. I am constrained to hold that leave applied for was refused not on a calm and dispassionate consideration of the circumstances but in a vindictive spirit. From office records I find that the Government of West Bengal had issued circular No. 8687-P/16A-6/53-P.T., dated the 21st December 1953, granting special casual leave to those of its officers residing more than 3 miles off from their office and others living within a radius of 3 miles were to forego one day's casual leave for absence on the 30th of September 1953. The heads of departments of the Companies were evidently smitten with strike-phobia or such a perverse decision would not have been taken. The Tribunal must exercise its authority to relieve the workers against this type of highhandedness. The pay cut for the 30th of September, has got to be restored.

It is awarded that the mployees are not entitled to any bonus for the years under reference, viz., 1949, 1950, 1951 and 1952. The pay cut for 16th September 1953 cannot be restored. Those who were refused wages for the 30th of September 1953, must be paid the same within seven days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

1. By order No. 4196Dis./D/10L-59/54, dated the 1st September 1954, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Welcan Watch Co., 170 Harrison Road, Calcutta, and their employee Shri Manindra Lal Das represented by Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal, 7 Padma Pukur Road, Calcutta-20, referred under Government order No. 2012Dis./D/11L-92/55, dated the 9th May 1955.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

DR. B. K. BHATTACHARYA, M.A., LL.B., Ph.D. (London), Barrister-at-Law, District Judge, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

Appearance.

For the Association: Shri S. P. Dutta, Assistant Secretary.

For the Company: Shri Charandas Malhotra.

AWARD.

The dispute centres round a case of alleged wrongful dismissal of an employee.

The following issues arose:—

(1) Did the Company terminate the service of Shri Manindra Lal Das?

(2) To what relief is he entitled?

After entering into evidence the parties filed a joint petition of compromise. The terms prima facie seem to be fair and equitable and there is no reason why they should not be accepted by the Tribunal.

Since the parties have settled the matter amicably, a "No-Dispute" award is passed, making the petition of compromise a part of it.

Typed to my dictation.

AWARD.

1. By order No. 2859Dis./D/11L-106(A)/54, dated the 4th June 1954, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shalimar Rope Works, Ltd., Shalimar, Howrah and their workers represented by Shalimar Rope Works Mazdoor Union, 25 Shalimar Road, post office Botanical Garden, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1952, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 27th August 1954 and the parties were thereafter directed to file lists of documents. Then the case was fixed for hearing after adjournments on 9th August 1955. The hearing was concluded on that day and the award was reserved.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

(1) If the discharge of Shri Bhikhari Pallai, Shri Puni Roy, Shri Bina Shawai and Shri Keshab was justified and if they are entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation as a result?

DECISION.

The case of the two workmen Shri Bhikhari Pallai and Shri Bina Shawai, out of four, was pressed for consideration during trial and not of the other two.

Shalimar Rope Works Mazdoor Union (hereafter called simply "the Union") representing the workmen, examined the aforesaid two workmen concerned, Shri Bhikhari Pallai (P.W. 1) and Shri Bina Shawai (P.W. 2), besides producing a copy of an earlier charge-sheet against P.W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai and his explanation thereto which was marked Ext. 1 on admission of the representative of the other side. Messrs. Shalimar Rope Works, Ltd. (hereafter called the "Company"), on the other hand, has examined its Works Manager, D.W. 1 Shri B. K. Bhandari, Supervisor, D.W. 2 Shri Santosh Kumar Mitra and a Clerk D.W. 3, Shri Panna Lal Roy, besides proving documents, Exts. A, A1, B to B2, C to C5, D to D2, E to E4, F, F1, G, H and I. D.W. 1 is a common witness in respect of charges against the aforesaid two workmen, while D.W. 2 only is in respect of charge against P.W. 1. and D.W. 3 against P.W. 2.

Before entering into the controversies it is necessary to state certain facts leading to the dispute as are either admitted or established in evidence in order to appreciate the evidence and circumstances. The Company manufactures and sells ropes and supplies splicer to its customers if and when required. At the relevant time it had admittedly in its employment about 500 workers (vide page 5 of the written statement of the Company).

P.W. 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai was working as a Mistry having joined in the Company on 8th June 1942 (vide Ext. D) while P.W. 2 Shri Bina Shawai was a cooly having joined on 1st November 1947 (vide Ext. D1). The Union represents the workmen of the Company. Both P.W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai and P.W. 2 Shri Bina Shawai were admittedly active members of the Union. It appears that they were enthusiastic supporters of the Union so much so that even as early as 1952 when charge-sheets were issued against them, both of them claimed joint enquiry by the Union and the Company (vide Ext. F1 in case of P.W. 1 and Ext. 1 in case of P.W. 2).

Some time ago the Union made several demands including reinstatement of some workmen who were said to be the important leaders and active members of the Union. The industrial disputes so raised were eventually referred to Shri M. N. Gan, Judge, constituting the Second Industrial Tribunal, for adjudication. During pendency of the said reference between the Company and their workmen, the Company admittedly made different application under section 33 of the Act, seeking permission from the said Second Tribunal to dismiss respectively P.W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai and the other workman Shri Keshab. The workmen contested the cases. When these miscellaneous proceedings under section 33 were pending, the Tribunal gave its award in the main reference and the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by its order No. 1049Dis./D/11L-106/54, dated 9th March 1954, directed publication of the said award. The award was actually published in the Calcutta Gazette on 18th March 1954 (vide paragraph 5 of the written statement of the Union). According to the Union the award thus became enforceable with effect from 18th April 1954 and thus the proceedings in relation to which applications under section 33 were made should be deemed under section 20(3) read with section 17A and section 17 not to have been concluded before. According to the Company the award should be deemed to have been published on 9th March 1954 when the Government accepted the award and directed its publication and thus according to the Company the award became enforceable from 9th April 1954 and the proceedings ended then. Be that as it may, both the workmen, P.W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai and P.W. 2 Shri Bina Shawai, according to both sides, were dismissed from service by the Company on 14th April 1954 without permission from the Tribunal (vide Exts. B2 and C5 respectively). The Union contends that as the dismissal took place at a time when the proceedings should be deemed under section 20(3) read with section 17A and section 17 not to have been concluded, the dismissals are hit by section 33. Be that as it may, it is agreed on all hands that it is not a case of discharge as stated in the order of reference but one of dismissal. The dispute thus arose out of such dismissals.

The Company has Standing Orders' (Ext. I). Rule 9(a) lays down among others as below:—

> "A fine to the extent of Rs. 2 or a suspension not exceeding four days may be imposed on any workman in respect of an act or omission or negligence in work or any of the minor faults.
> Minor offences are deemed to include negligence or neglect of work, inefficiency, temporary absence, lateness or acts or omissions."

Rule 9(b) lays down as below:—

> "A workman may be suspended not exceeding four days or dismissed without notice or any compensation in lieu of notice if he is found to be guilty of misconduct. Workmen charged with any offence will be informed in writing of the alleged misconduct and shall be given an opportunity to explain the circumstances alleged against him. A copy of order awarding punishment by the Manager shall be supplied to him."

These provisions in the Standing Orders are undisputedly binding on the parties. It will, however, appear hereafter that the Company failed to observe these provisions, specially of affording opportunity to the workmen "to explain the circumstances against them" which, in my opinion, would include reasonable opportunity to defend and to cross-examine the witnesses, if any, against them. In the present case the Works Manager, D.W. I admitted that no enquiry was held in presence of either of the two workmen concerned. It further appears that they were not afforded opportunity to defend themselves. There was thus violation of the provisions in the Standing Orders apart from the requirements of natural justice.

Let us now consider the cases individually. Regarding P.W. 2 Shri Bina Shawai, it has been seen that he joined the concern on 1st November 1947 and served for 6½ years before he was dismissed on 14th April 1954. His evidence shows that previously he had also been dismissed but was reinstated and awarded compensation of Rs. 600 by an award. His evidence in this respect was not challenged by any witness on the side of the Company. He was an active member of the Union and as early as 1952 when a charge-sheet was issued against him, he on submitting explanation demanded joint enquiry in the matter by the Union and the Company (vide Ext. 1).

At the relevant time he was living in a room, free of rent, in the Company's Coolie Line. According to the Company, he was one of about 150 fortunate workers who were provided with such free accommodation to live in out of about 500 workmen in employment of the Company. Along with P.W. 2 Bina five other coolies, Natobar, Sagar, Fakir, Budhia (Budhinath) and Dhulia, were living in the same room (vide P.W. 2 read with D.W. 3).

On 10th March 1954 when he along with his three room-mates, Natobar, Sagar and Dhulia, was away from the room on night duty and two room-mates, Fakir and Budhia, remained inside the room, there was a theft, according to P.W. 2, of Rs. 400 in cash, two sarees and two dhoties by breaking open his box from inside the room in his absence which he detected on return from duty at 3 a.m. In the morning between 7 and 8 a.m. on 11th March 1954 he made a report of theft of Rs. 400 in cash, two sarees and two dhuties by breaking open his box from inside the room on the previous night to the Works Manager, D.W. 1 and prayed for recovery of them (vide P.W. 2 and also Ext. C). Upon such report, the Works Manager D.W. 1 alleged to have sent for the said two room-mates, Fakir and Budhia, to his office and made enquiries from them. They were said to have denied having stolen them. According to D.W. 1, he then sent Jamadar Narbahadur Rai and Clerk D.W. 3, Shri Pannalal Roy to check the Coolie Line. Ext. 1 shows that the workman P.W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai had earlier been charged on 6th February 1952 for having beaten the said Jamadar Narbahadur Rai. The Jamadar had thus causes to have grievance against P.W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai.

Be that as it may, on that very day (i.e., on 11th March 1954), P.W. 2 was given charge-sheet alleging inter alia that "on investigation it was found that nothing was lost; everything was in safe but you made a false report with a mala fide intention". By the same charge-sheet P.W. 2 Shri Bina Shawai was forthwith suspended and was asked to vacate the Company's Coolie Line within 24 hours of the issue of the charge-sheet pending further enquiry (vide Ext. C, dated 11th March 1954, i.e., soon after communication of the award in the main reference on 9th March 1954). On 12th March 1954, P.W. 2 submitted explanation as below:—

(1) That the issue of this charge-sheet is an instance of unnecessary harassment of a worker beyond any scope of regulations and practical provision of the Standing Orders.

(2) That the order of suspension is a clear contravention of the provision of the Industrial Disputes Act while a Tribunal is going on.

(3) That the necessary evidences and opportunity for explaining the position and circumstances of being theft have not been taken into consideration at the time of the facts finding occasion.

(4) That more than due punishments have already been imposed under a preconceived and prejudicial manner on the basis of prejudicial treatment.

(5) That my legitimate right of being assisted by Union Officials at the facts finding enquiry have been ignored.

(6) That the charge-sheet is defective and therefore should be withdrawn without disturbing any condition of service pending enquiry for judicial action."

On that very day (12th March 1954) the Works Manager D.W. 1 recorded his decision as follows: "We have carefully considered charges as per charge-sheet, dated 11th March 1954 and your explanation thereto. Your explanation is vague and quite unsatisfactory." On that finding he ordered suspension of the workman for two days and directed the workman not to stay in the Coolie Line any further and to vacate it forthwith (vide Ext. C2).

On 6th April 1954 another charge-sheet was given to P.W. 2 stating that notwithstanding the order, dated 11th March 1954 asking him to vacate the Company's Coolie Line quarters forthwith as a disciplinary measure, he did not yet vacate the same and he was staying there flouting and disobeying the management's order (Ext. C3). On 7th April 1954 the workman submitted explanation to the effect as below:—

> "In obedience to your charge-sheet, I beg to explain that during these scarcity days of accommodation I was allowed to get a shelter in your cooly quarters. It is painful that I have to vacate the quarters without giving me any alternative accommodation. If at all I am to vacate will you not kindly arrange to grant House Allowance instead, for which I shall remain ever grateful to you."

On 14th April 1954 the Works Manager recorded his decision and dismissed him with immediate effect (vide Ext. C5).

In the written statement of the Company filed on 27th August 1954, paragraph (c) under heading "Bina Shawai", it was alleged, "on search it was found that the money and other articles alleged to be stolen were kept by Bina Shawai to one of his relations residing in another room in the cooly line with a mala fide intention to harass and put these two workers (his room mates) in difficulty." The case of recovery from another room, it seems, was purposely introduced to give colour of reality to Manager's accusation against the workman P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai, finding that it became otherwise absurd that a man would falsely complain of theft when the money was kept with his relation in the same room. The management of course grew wiser but not its witness (D. W. 3), who spoke of having found the same amount of money in a box of a relation of P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai who was living with him in the same room.

Although it was repeatedly being said by the Company that false information of theft was given by P. W. 2, Bina Shawai with an ulterior motive to harass his two room mates—Fakir and Budhia, but these two workmen have not been produced before this Tribunal to say what grudge P. W. 2 bore against them and what led him to make false allegation of theft. Admittedly P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai made no complaint to police-station nor was anybody sent up for trial in connection with this theft. It therefore stands to reason how P. W. 2 gained by lodging false information to the Manager. The management did not appear to have considered this aspect of the matter at all.

During trial D. W. 1 and D. W. 3, who deposed in this respect, gave contradictory accounts about theft and alleged recovery. D. W. 1 deposed contrary to the recitals in his own document, Ext. C, that P. W. 2 reported that his box containing Rs. 400 in cash, two sarees and two dhoties was stolen. Likewise he gave evidence contrary to the one set up in Ext. C2 and in the written statement as already stated that, sarees were found inside the box of P. W. 2 and Rs. 400 from his relation, Shri Dhulia Prodhan, residing in another room. D. W. 3 gave a different story. He stated that neither the two dhoties nor the two sarees said to have been stolen were found either in the box of P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai or in the box of Dhulia Prodhan or in anybody's box. So, how on the face of it it could have been persistently stated in Ext. C2 and in the written statement that all the things alleged to have been stolen were found and none was stolen. As regards the sum of Rs. 400 which is said to have been found, D. W. 3 stated in cross-examination that the said sum of Rs 400 which was found from the box of Dhulia Prodhan remained with Dhulia Prodhan and that Dhulia Prodhan did not tell that the money which was found was the stolen money. Therefore in the face of this evidence how it could be said that it was the stolen money. The evidence of P. W. 2, on the contrary, shows that he got compensation of Rs. 600 on the basis of an award and that he was getting wages of Rs. 60 to 70 per month on the piece rate system and that he had no remittance to make and none to feed or maintain and thus he collected Rs. 800, out of which he kept Rs. 400 in his own box and the other moiety in deposit with Dhulia Prodhan. His evidence, as aforesaid, cannot be brushed aside in view of the circumstances. According to D. W. 3, when he along with Jamadar went to search, they could at first search five boxes of the five room mates and not the box of Dhulia Prodhan who was then absent from the room, and that on his return in the same room Jamadar searched his box and the said sum of Rs. 400 in currency notes was found. When Dhulia Prodhan too was living in the same room with P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai and not in different room as alleged in the written statement of the Company and when Dhulia's box too was kept in the same room, it was not probable and natural that P. W. 2 could make a false report complaining of theft of Rs. 400 from his room unless it was stolen from his own box. This aspect of the matter was not at all considered by the management apparently in its anxiety to get rid of the workman who was giving them trouble by his Union activities and who apparently became their eye-sore for having obtained reinstatement and compensation previously by an award.

To an ordinary cooly like P. W. 2, it was not an insignificant privilege to have a free accommodation allowed by the Company to about 150 workers like himself out of about 500 in its employ. I find no justification whatever for asking him before enquiry to vacate such quarter forthwith along with the service of charge-sheet on 11th March 1954, if it was not from a motive to harass him by all means. When subsequently charge in this respect was brought against him he stated under what circumstances he could not vacate the quarter. But instead of giving due consideration to the circumstances pleaded by him, the management apparently from bias made it an excuse to get rid of him by characterising it as flouting the order of the management.

Be that as it may, although the Union specifically pleaded that no enquiry was held and no opportunity was given to the workmen concerned to defend themselves, the Company did not bring anything to prove that after submission of the explanation by the workman P. W. 2 an enquiry was held. P. W. 1 no doubt deposed in cross-examination that he made enquiries and that during such enquiry all the senior workers in the factory as also the Jamadar and the clerk who were asked to make search were examined as also those who were in the room, but none of them has been examined before the Tribunal to say so nor the proceedings of the enquiry which he alleged to have recorded have been produced. There can be no doubt that there was no enquiry whatever and that, if any, it was nothing but a farce. The man concerned was not asked to be present during the alleged enquiry nor was he present. He was not even given opportunity to cross-examine witnesses examined, if any, nor was he given opportunity to give evidence in support of his explanation. In the circumstances, not only the provisions in the Standing Orders as already referred to were violated but also the essentials of natural justice were not observed. The fact that he was given charge-sheet on the very day he made report of theft and was asked to quit the Company's quarters forthwith even before explanation also shows that the action of the Company was not at all bona fide. So, on the materials placed before the Tribunal, I am unable to say that the dismissal of the workman was justified. I rather believe that it was done by way of victimisation regardless of the principles of natural justice.

Regarding P. W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai, he joined service of the Company on 8th June 1942 and thus put in about 12 years' service before dismissal on 14th April 1954. He was an active member of the Union being Vice-President, and it has already been seen that as early as 1952 when charge-sheet was given to him, he after submission of explanation to the same claimed joint enquiry by the Union and the Company.

On the present occasion he was on leave from 9th June 1953 to 7th August 1953 and resumed duty on 8th August 1953. Presumably whole of the leave, was without pay [vide Rule 5(b) of the Standing Orders, Ext. I]. During leave he went to village home, Badas and his evidence reveals that Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at Khurda Road is three miles off from his village home. Nearly after 21 days of his going on leave, he worked in the said Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at Khurda Road from 1st July 1953 to 9th July 1953 and earned Rs. 15 (vide also endorsement from Jatni police-station on the back of Ext. H).

On 8th August 1953 when he resumed duty, he was given charge-sheet, Ext. A, to which he submitted explanation on 12th August 1953 (vide Ext. A1). The charge in Ext. A was in general terms and the workman rightly wanted clarification of the same in his explanation Ext. A1. Thereafter on 17th August 1953 he was given further charge-sheet, Ext. B, to which the workman P. W. 1 replied on 19th August 1953 (vide Ext. B1). In the said explanation he denied the charge of having committed dishonesty in relation to Company's property and having knowledge of Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., being the constituent of the Company and maintained that he had worked there in casual vacancy for 7 days and that said work had no connection with the work he had to do at Howrah. Thereafter the Company made application under section 33 seeking permission from the Second Tribunal before which the main proceeding between the parties was then pending to dismiss him. After the award was given in the main reference and after the Government directed its publication on 9th March 1954, the Company dismissed him from service on 14th April 1954 by the order Ext. B2.

It, however, appears from the materials placed before this Tribunal that the Company did not act bona fide but from a motive to victimise the workman on account of his Union activities. It further appears that the provisions in the Standing Orders already referred to and the essentials of natural justice were not followed in his case too.

It has been pointed out in the case of Messrs. Buckingham & Carnatic Mills, Co., reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 491, that in four exceptional circumstances a Tribunal can review the decision of the management, namely, (i) where there was want of bona fide; or (ii) where it was a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice or violation of the principles of natural justice; or (iii) where there was a basic error of facts; or (iv) where there was perverse finding on the materials. The Tribunal is, therefore, to assure itself that there is evidence to support the findings and that the decision of the management is a possible view on the evidence before it. From the evidence and circumstances placed before this Tribunal, I am unable so to hold. It appears that the provision in the Standing Orders already referred to and the essentials of natural justice were not followed in his case too. It further appears from the materials placed before this Tribunal that the Company did not act bona fide but from a motive to victimise the workman on account of his Union activities. The Company admittedly did not hold any enquiry in presence of the workman regarding the charges.

The Company did not produce any man from Calcutta office of Biswanath Rice Mills Ltd., situated at 7, Lyons Range, Calcutta, to show that it was Company's constituent and that on this particular occasion it asked the Company to supply a splicer. Even if in the month of March 1953 the Company had supplied ropes to Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at Khurda Road on instruction of Calcutta office and later on supplied splicers to work there between 26th March 1953 and 5th April 1953 as revealed in Company's copies, Exts. E1, E2, E3 and E4, the Company's case that it received on 6th June 1953 such order from Calcutta office of Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., for supply of splicer to its rice mill at Khurda Road is negatived even by Company's own document, Ext. E. Ext. E is a copy of letter dated 6th June 1953 by way of confirmation addressed by the Company to the Calcutta office of Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at 7 Lyons Range. The letter runs as follows:—

> "We confirm to have received your telephonic advice requiring a splicer for your Mills at Khurda Road.
> We shall, however arrange to send our man on hearing from you further in this regard."

The intimation Ext. E, even if genuine, would show that there was no unequivocal requisition from the Calcutta office of the Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., for sending a splicer, but was at best in the nature of an enquiry. The letter also shows that the Company proposed to take action only on further hearing from the Calcutta office of the Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd. Therefore, the evidence led during trial that on 6th June 1953 the Company received requisition for supply of splicer to its Rice Mill at Khurda Road and that it took action upon it and arranged for sending splicer on 6th June 1953 to the knowledge of the workman P. W. 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai is improbable and unnatural. The fact that P. W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai worked from 1st July 1953 to 9th July 1953, i.e., 21 days after his leave commenced, would rather negative that he had prior knowledge about the alleged requisition. D. W. 1's evidence that after receipt of requisition from Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., on 6th June 1953 for supply of splicer as per Ext. E, they made arrangement to send splicer there is apparently untrue. The question of arrangement could not have then arisen in view of the recitals in Ext. E. Likewise, evidence of the Supervisor, D. W. 2, to the effect that on receipt of requisition for splicer to Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., in June 1953, he on the instruction of the Works Manager made enquiries from Hati and Arat whether they were willing to go as such there to the knowledge of Shri Bhikhari Pallai is improbable and unreliable. There is nothing either to show that there was cancellation of any such alleged requisition from the Calcutta office of the Mill as alleged by the Company; and, if so, on what date? If the case of the Company in this respect to be true, I find no reason why it failed to examine anyone from the Calcutta office of the Mill in this respect. There can be no doubt whatever from the evidence and circumstances that P. W. 1, Shri Bhikhari had no knowledge about the alleged requisition on 6th June 1953. It will not be out of place to mention here that the fact of his having been on leave from 9th June 1953 had no connection whatever with it as under the provisions in the Standing Orders [rule 5(b)] the workers must have presumably applied for leave at least two weeks ahead.

As regards Company's allegation that P. W. 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai knew that Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., was a constituent of his employer Messrs. Shalimar Rope Works, Ltd., and that the splicers Hati and Arat had worked there on previous occasion to the knowledge of P. W. 1 is equally unsubstantiated and unreliable. D. W. 1 had to admit in cross-examination that he had no personal knowledge whether P. W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai had knowledge that Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., was their customer. He also deposed that his statement in this respect in examination-in chief was the result of what he heard from the Supervisor and other workmen. Having thus made admissions in his unguarded moment, he subsequently became wiser and sought to undo his own admission when he stated that sometime in March 1953 when Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., wanted splicer, he enquired of P. W. 1 Bhikhari whether he was willing to work as splicer there and that Bhikhari declined to work as the rate was lower. The evidence is afterthought and unreliable. D. W. 2's evidence that on the present occasion in June, 1953, he made enquiries from Hati and Arat whether they were willing to go as splicer in presence of Bhikhari on 7th or 8th June 1953, it has already been noted, is unnatural and unreliable. Had there been requisition for splicer on 6th June 1953 and had there been arrangement to supply such splicer on 7th or 8th June 1953 to the knowledge of P. W. 1 Shri Bhikhari Pallai, no reason could be assigned why work in this connection was not taken up prior to 1st July 1953 Even workmen Hati and Arat, who were alleged to have worked previously and from whom enquiries were said to have been made on this occasion, have not been examined in support of the allegation that Bhikhari had knowledge.

Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at Khurda Road, it appears from evidence, is only three miles off from Bhikari's village home at Badas. The evidence to the contrary is not reliable. That Bhikhari's village home is at Badas is even noted in the Service Card of Bhikhari (Ext D). So on the materials before this Tribunal it cannot be said that P. W. 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai had knowledge that Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., was a constituent of its employer Company or that his employer Company obtained requisition from the said Rice Mill on 6th June 1953 for supply of splicer, if any. There is either no evidence that there was any actual requisition for supply of splicer apart from enquiry on 6th June 1953. There is also no evidence to show that the work which P W 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai did from 1st July 1953 to 9th July 1953 in the Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., and for which he got only Rs 15 was one of the splicer Though the workman challenged it in his explanation, none was produced from Biswanath Rice Mills, Ltd., at Khurda Road or even from its Calcutta office at Lyons Range to show that P W. 1, Shri Bhikhari Pallai, had worked there as splicer during the period. Even if he had worked there as such, it appears that he had done so casually having been impelled by sheer necessity of circumstances and without knowledge that Biswanath Rice Mills Ltd was one of the constituents of his employer Company or that the said Mill made requisition for splicer if any to his employer. When he had no such knowledge, the workman should not have been held to have committed misconduct in any view of the matter.

Then again, the certified Standing Orders of the Company, which are binding on the parties, make no provision banning workmen from doing work elsewhere during the period of leave. The only provision in the Standing Orders in this respect in paragraph 9(b)(11) is prohibition from engaging in trade within the mill premises without permission from the management and none else. By absence of ban in the Standing Orders I do not, of course, suggest that Standing Orders are exhaustive and there can be no misconduct apart from it. What however cannot be overlooked is that the Standing Orders of the Company are quite in contrast to Government Servants Conduct Rules or rules of semi-Governmental institutions which expressly put ban to employment elsewhere during continuance of service. It is, therefore, to be considered whether this makes any difference. It is obvious that a distinction has to be made between an employee with such express ban and one without any ban. They cannot certainly be treated on the same footing. The latter class of employee, in my opinion, cannot be punished merely on abstract considerations apart from bad faith. It appears that this aspect of the matter has been altogether lost sight of by the management evidently in their zeal to punish the workman from their preconceived notion.

The relation between master and servant, of course, does not cease during leave, but from this cannot be construed to mean a total prohibition on the employee from engaging elsewhere during leave Section 60 of the Factories Act, of which reference has been made by the learned advocate on behalf of the Company, places restriction on double employment on any day and cannot be construed to imply absolute restriction. The case is altogether different here. The relation of employer and employee would be infringed only if an employee engages himself in acts prejudicial to the interest of his employer. If an employee does a work during leave and without knowledge of the particular dealings of the employer, he cannot be said to be guilty of bad faith. Social justice demands that there should not be any absolute restriction. In a case like this, when a workman is on leave without pay it would mean great hardship on him if the Company's contention of absolute restriction to doing work elsewhere during the period of leave is to prevail. Relation of employer and employee no doubt subsists during leave but it does not mean that the employee would sit idle, hands and feet tied down. At the same time I would not say that he is permitted to do work which would cause loss to his employer. This would presuppose that the employee had prior knowledge about the work which he was doing as would cause loss to his employer. So, the most important factor is prior knowledge about the work causing loss to an employer. If there is no such knowledge, he would not be guilty morally or legally. So the charge against Shri Bhikhari Pallai would rest on the question whether he had any such prior knowledge or not. From the evidence and circumstances it has already been noted that he had no such knowledge. The management completely ignored this aspect of the matter and sought to place a ban on work without limitation which it cannot do. So, in my opinion, the finding of the management against Shri Bhikhari Pallai cannot be supported from any point of view.

The management admittedly did not hold enquiry in presence of Shri Bhikhari Pallai nor was he given opportunity to defend himself. It is, therefore, apparent that the provisions in the Standing Orders already referred to were violated apart from requirements of natural justice in his case too.

Last of all, I agree that both the dismissals have been hit by section 33. The contention of the learned advocate of the Company that the proceedings in respect of the main reference should be deemed to have been concluded on 9th April 1953, the period of 30 days computing from 9th March 1953 when the Government made its order directing publication cannot be accepted. In my opinion, publication means appearance in the Calcutta Gazette and not merely signing the notification: This view of mine gets support from what has been held in 1953, L.A.C., page 642. Therefore, the date of actual publication in the Calcutta Gazette would, in my opinion, govern the point. The proceedings in respect of the main reference must therefore to be deemed in view of section 20(3) read with sections 17 and 17A not to have been concluded before 18th April 1953. It is, therefore, obvious that permission to dismiss was essential. As it has not been so done under section 33, it must be held that dismissals are hit by section 33 of the Act.

For all these reasons I am of opinion that the dismissal neither of P. W. 1, Shri Bhikari Pallai nor of P. W. 2, Shri Bina Shawai, is justified and cannot, therefore, be upheld. It, therefore, follows that these workmen concerned are entitled to be reinstated. The Company is accordingly directed to reinstate the workmen on their reporting for duty within one month from the date the award becomes enforceable. The Company is also to pay their wages from 14th April 1953 till the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette within one month from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Regarding the two other workmen, it has already been noted that the Union did not press their case. They did not also depose before this Tribunal. They are accordingly not entitled to any relief.

I award accordingly.

DECISION.

Before entering into consideration of the issues, the background in which the issues arose and about which there is no dispute between the parties may be stated as follows for proper appreciation of the controversies. Messrs. J. K. Steel, Limited (hereafter described simply as 'Company') is a public limited Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act on 13th October 1953. It is an engineering concern. The Company got certificate for commencing business with effect from 31st October 1953.

Prior to the formation of the above Company, a private limited concern, named J. K. Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., used to manufacture jute baling hoops at Kanpur. For various considerations the management of the said private limited concern decided that a public limited concern should be floated and established in or near Calcutta where the jute manufacturing concerns are situated for the purpose of manufacturing jute baling hoops. In pursuance of this decision Messrs. J. K. Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., acting as the promoter of the new company, named, J. K. Steel, Limited, started a factory at Rishra and commenced operation with effect from 1st August 1952. When the Company got certificate for commencing business from 31st October 1953, it took over the business and the factory from the hands of its promoter Messrs. J. K. Iron & Steel Co., Ltd.

As the Company got certificate to commence business from 31st October 1953 it decided in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act to close the accounts for the first year on 30th June 1954 and to fix its accounting year from July to June each year. Consequently though the Company's promoter started the factory and commenced operation from 1st August 1952 the Company could not close its accounts until recently.

The Engineering Workers' Union (West Bengal) (hereafter called simply the 'Union') representing the workmen of the factory at Rishra presented a charter of demands on 24th August 1953. It demanded among others for payment of bonus, introduction of pay scale and production bonus. On 10th October 1953 the Company without closing its accounts paid one month's wages as bonus on working for the period from 1st August 1952 to 30th April 1953. The Company also by its letters, dated 30th November 1953, 16th December 1953 and 8th January 1954 (annexure A series) explained its position with respect to the demands made by the Union.

Regarding wages and dearness allowance for different categories of workmen, the Company's promoter adopted those as in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal for unskilled and semi-skilled workmen and those said to be prevailing in other sister concerns for the other categories of workmen from the very start of the factory at Rishra. Then apparently in pursuance of the Union's demand the Company introduced on 15th January 1954 pay scale for the latter categories of workers as also production bonus scheme with effect from 1st January 1954 as in annexures 'B' and 'C' of its written statement respectively. The Union was not satisfied. Hence the reference. With these remarks let us now enter into consideration of the issues separately.

Issue No. 1—Wage scale and yearly increments.

It has already been noted that the Company's promoter adopted the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal in respect of minimum wages for the unskilled and semi-skilled workmen and fixed wages for other categories of workmen on the basis of what is said to have been prevalent in other sister concerns of the locality. It has also been noted that the Company subsequently by a notice, dated 15th January 1954 formulated a scale of pay for the workers other than unskilled and semi-skilled with effect from 1st January 1954. Regarding the unskilled and semi-skilled workers, it was laid down in the said notice that they would get a fixed salary at the rate of Rs. 1-2-6 pies and Rs. 1-5-6 pies per day respectively. Under this issue the Union firstly demanded that minimum wages so fixed for unskilled and semi-skilled workers as also for other categories of workmen as per notice dated 15th January 1954 as in annexure 'B' should be raised by Rs. 15. The Company resisted the claim. I find nothing to sustain the claim of the Union. The minimum wages of unskilled and semi-skilled workers, which are according to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal, should not be disturbed without proof of new or altered circumstances which came into existence since the last award. It can thus be revised only on industry-wise basis (vide 1954 L.A.C., page 11). To justify the claim for higher wages than those in the award of the Engineering Tribunal, it must be shown that some factors have not been taken into account in fixing the wage-structure or that some factors peculiar to this concern have arisen since the award. The Union did not allege or prove any of them. Grounds as given in paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Union's written statement may, at best, justify general revision but not a speciality with the workmen of this Company alone. Likewise, the Union did not furnish any material in support of its claim to raise the minimum wages of other categories of workmen. The Company contended and I agree that the minimum wages should be the same as prevailing in comparable industries in the region. There is nothing to show that the wage-structure in the Company for other categories of workmen is not fair and reasonable and compares unfavourably with those of comparable concerns of the region. Claim for raising the minimum wages therefore fails.

The Union next demanded that there should be provision for annual increments for all categories of workmen. It demanded annual increment of two annas for unskilled workers, three annas for semi-skilled workers and four annas for skilled workers. The Company introduced from 1st January 1954, as in the notice annexure 'B' to its written statement, a time-scale for workers other than unskilled and skilled. By the said scale of pay it provided annual increment for four years. Mere designations cannot afford comparison without knowledge whether the nature of duties to be performed is the same in the concerns to be compared. The statement regarding wage-structure in Guest Keen Williams as it is, is so of no value. The Company started only recently and I think it will not be fair to revise the scales laid down for other workers so soon after.

As regards unskilled and semi-skilled workmen, I find no justification to refuse time-scale to them when the Company granted same to the other categories of workmen. This is an engineering concern and there is scope for some unskilled labours who come into frequent contact with skilled or semi-skilled labours to go higher up by acquiring efficiency and proficiency. For this class of unskilled workmen an annual increment at the rate of one anna is allowed till they reach Rs. 1-5-6 pies. It is left with the management to determine the persons to be placed in this category of unskilled workmen. As regards semi-skilled workmen, they should also get annual increment of one anna six pies till they reach Rs. 1-14-9 pies per day. The scales so laid down should be operative from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Lastly, the Union alleged in its written statement that the classification of workmen into unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled was not done by the Company on scientific basis as shown in the annexure to annexure 'B' of the Company's written statement. The Union did not, however, furnish any material so to hold. Designation cannot determine the class in which a particular workman is to be placed. Besides, this can be done only by scientific analysis of the type of work done by the workers with the assistance of expert opinion. So, as it is, the Union cannot be helped in this respect.

Issue No. 2—Leave.

The Company allows statutory leave as provided in the Factories Act. Besides, the Company grants 7 days' festival leave each year. The Union demands in addition leave and holidays according to the last award of the Engineering Tribunal. The Company resists the claim. I find nothing satisfactory to refuse claim of the Union. Factories Act prescribes only the minimum. Besides when other sister concerns have been granting leave and holidays according to the award, I find nothing why this Company should not fall in line with them. It is, therefore, incumbent on the Tribunal to tune up the leave to what obtained in other sister concerns. The demand of the Union is therefore fair and reasonable and should be acceded to. The Company is accordingly directed to allow leave and holidays to the workmen in accordance with the last award of the Engineering Tribunal. This will take effect from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Issue No. 3—Revision of Production Bonus Scheme.

It has already been noted that production bonus scheme was introduced by the Company by its notice, dated 15th January 1954 with effect from 1st January 1954 as in annexure 'C' to its written statement. As the scheme finds mention in the annexure 'C' to the Company's written statement in details, it is not reproduced here for the sake of brevity. Production bonus has been sanctioned in addition to wages and dearness allowance. By the scheme it has been provided that production bonus will be paid on production above 400 tons per month on the basis of working one shift of eight hours per day. The Union makes grievance that the said target has been fixed at too high a figure. It so says that it should be reduced to 200 tons per mensem. The Company contends that the target was fixed in consideration of the normal average production as put in by the workers since the factory started operation in August 1952. Ext. D is a statement showing production in different months as also production bonus and percentage of the said bonus to wages paid, etc. Exts. D1 and D2 show production of hoops in different months from August 1952 to July 1953. These support the Company's version that its target of 400 tons was the normal average production. It cannot, therefore, be said that the target was fixed at too high a figure. No doubt in Guest Keen Williams the target for production bonus has been fixed at 144 tons on working three shifts, but without knowing the nature of their production this cannot afford basis for comparison. What prevailed at Kanpur likewise cannot afford guide in the face of what the workers have normally been producing since the factory has been started at Rishra. Then the Union demands that the rates fixed for payment of production bonus should be raised as in page eight of the Union's written statement. The Union has not however furnished any material for such demand. The statement, Ext. D, shows what is the percentage of bonus as is earned to one's basic wages, which is not inconsiderable. Ext. E1 shows the average emoluments per month which the respective categories of workers received during 1953-54. The figures do not compare unfavourably to what prevails in other concerns. So, without giving the scheme a trial, at least for some time more, I do not think it will be fair to revise it in any way. Last of all, I find no justification to extend the operation of the scheme to all workmen when it is not shown that the categories excepted by the Company are connected with production. The demand of the Union under this issue is, therefore, rejected.

Issue No. 4—Provident Fund.

The Company was exempted from introducing Provident Fund by Government of India, Ministry of Labour, by their letter, dated 26th September 1953 (vide annexure 'D' to the Company's written statement). The Company says that it is being introduced with effect from 1st August 1955. It is accordingly directed that the Company should introduce the Provident Fund with effect from 1st August 1955.

Issue No. 5—Puja Bonus and Annual Bonus.

The Union demanded two months' pay as Puja bonus and 33½ per cent. of the profits as annual bonus. The Company admittedly paid one month's wages on 10th October 1953 and thereafter three months' wages, in all four months' wages, as bonus to its workmen for the account period from 1st August 1952 to 30th June 1954. It has been held, "Bonus, as now understood, must necessarily come out of the profits of the year provided that there is an available surplus." So claim for bonus other than one from available surplus cannot be sustained. The Order of Reference was dated 1st April 1954. Union's demand for bonus would therefore relate at best out of profit for the period ending 30th June 1954. The Company before its first balance-sheet for the period was prepared had admittedly paid one month's wages on 10th October 1953 and thereafter three months' wages as bonus before the Order of Reference. The Company's balance-sheet has since been prepared by a registered auditor for the period ending 30th June 1954. The balance-sheet was prepared for the entire period from the start on 1st August 1952 to 30th June 1954. The period for which it was drawn up covers virtually two years and the quantum of bonus already paid would thus be at the rate of two months' wages a year. As the balance-sheet was drawn up for the entire period from 1st August 1952 to 30th June 1954, it is not possible to find out what was the profit derived by the Company year by year. No doubt on the working for the entire period the available surplus profit after deduction of prior charges would be more than the total of four months' wages awarded as bonus but then the Company contends that when other sister concerns of the locality did not pay more than one month's wages as bonus in any year, the Company should not be made to pay bonus besides those of four months already paid for the period. Ext. F is a statement showing what other engineering concerns in the locality did pay as bonus. It appears that none paid bonus beyond one month either in 1953 or in 1954. It has been held in the case of Oil Companies, Bombay, reported in 1953 L.L.J., Volume II, page 246, "Bonus must have some relation to wages and not to double or multiply it, for wages are not fixed solely on the capacity of a concern to pay. Care must also be taken to see that the bonus which is given is not so excessive that it creates fresh problems in the vicinities, that it upsets emoluments all round or that it creates industrial discontent and the possible emergence of a privileged class." Having regard to the principle enunciated and also what the other sister concerns in the locality had paid as bonus, I think that the Company's contention is well-founded. The Union's demand for additional sum as bonus is, therefore, rejected.

Issue No. 6—Canteen.

I am told that this has been introduced. The Union does not therefore press claim under this head.

Issue No. 7—Involuntary unemployment.

According to the Union some workmen were not paid wages for the lay-off period up to July 1953 though the Company paid for such lay-off from 1st August 1953 according to the directions in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal, 1948. The Union accordingly demands that the workmen should be paid their wages for the lay-off up to July 1953 according to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal. The Company states that prior to July 1953 the factory was closed on the following days for reasons stated against them:

19th November 1952
20th November 1952
21st November 1952
22nd November 1952
24th November 1952
} Breakdown of machinery.

3rd December 1952—Want of raw materials.

4th May 1953
5th May 1953
6th May 1953
} —Breakdown of furnace.

It was further stated that the workmen were then employed purely on temporary basis on the system of 'no work, no pay'. Thus the workmen concerned never raised question of payment of lay-off compensation prior to July 1953. Besides, the Company alleged that without names of the workmen concerned no action in this respect was possible. After giving careful consideration to the matter, I agree that claim of the Union in this respect cannot be upheld. If the Union was serious, it should have disclosed the names of the workmen for whom the claim was laid. Without such mention the Company can rightly say that nothing could be done in this respect. Besides, when the men were at the time employed purely on temporary basis on the system of 'no work, no pay' and when they did not themselves lay claim during the period of stoppage of work as aforesaid for no fault of the employer, I think the Company rightly resisted the claim. According to the provisions of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act No. 43 of 1953 no workman who has not completed one year of continuous service is entitled to get lay-off compensation. This would support Company's contention that the workmen who were then employed purely on temporary basis on the system of 'no work, no pay' and who had no continuous employment are not entitled to the benefit and, as a matter of fact, none claimed it.

Under the award of the Engineering Tribunal which the Union invoked for grant of subsistence allowance in the shape of half the basic pay and half the dearness allowance for 30 days in each half year from January to June and July to December a worker to qualify for the said unemployment benefit has got to answer to a muster roll once a day at his usual place of employment. But there is no evidence whatever in this case that as a matter of fact the workers alleged to have been laid-off during the period in question did so. The claim of the Union must therefore fail.

Issue No. 8—Standing Orders.

The Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, requires every industrial establishment wherein hundred or more men are employed to have written Standing Orders certified by the certifying officer, namely, the Labour Commissioner of the State. The matters to be provided in the Standing Orders under the Act are mentioned in the schedule to the Act. The promoter of the Company, it appears, soon after starting operation of th. factory at Rishra on 1st August 1952 submitted draft Standing Orders on 4th June 1953 for such certification. It further appears that the Standing Orders have eventually been certified after fulfilment of requirements of law.

The demand of the Union in its written statement under this head was that the Standing Orders should be prepared in consultation with the Union. Apart from the fact that it had already been prepared and certified, I find no provision which makes it obligatory on the Company to consult the Union in the matter. Be that as it may, the Union during hearing objected to certain provisions in the Standing Orders as being unfair and unreasonable which require amendment. The Company contended that they were not prepared to answer those criticisms when objections were not taken regarding them in the written statement. I agree that it is not the function of the certifying officer or the authority in appeal to decide upon the fairness of th· Standing Orders and that it is the Tribunal which is competent to do so. But before a Tribunal can do it, an industrial dispute has to be raised and referred to for adjudication. In the present case when such objections were not taken, I agree that th· Company's contention should prevail. If the Union has objection regarding any particular matter in the Standing Orders as being unfair, the proper procedure for it would be to raise an industrial dispute about them.

Issue No. 9—Permanency of Service.

The Union claimed that any workman having continuous employment for six months should be made permanent. The Company resisted such claim without limitation. It was said that such claim could not be supported without qualification The Standing Orders of the Company provide for four categories of workmen—permanent, probationers, substitute and temporary. It is obvious that substitutes or temporary workmen cannot claim to be made permanent automatically on completion of six months' service. Only when a probationer is taken against a permanent vacancy question of permanency does really arise. For such probationer the Standing Orders lay down that on completion of six months' probationary period, if he is not found suitable either he may be discharged or his probationary period be extended further for another six months with his consent in writing. I think the provision is fair and reasonable. So a workman who is provisionally employed in a post to fill a permanent vacancy and has completed six months' service therein if found suitable on completion of six months' probationary period should be made permanent.

Issue No. 10—Uniforms and safety devices and other benefits.

The Union demands that the workers of the Rolling Mill should be supplied with boiler's suit and that milk and soda-water should be supplied to those workers who are employed in occupations injurious to health. The Company pleaded that in the Factories Act ample provision was made for supplying uniforms and for making safety devices whenever necessary and that the Company not only provided all the facilities required in the Factories Act, but also certain other facilities which were not normally provided. The Company thus resisted the claim. The Union could not show anything satisfactory in support of its claim for additional benefits. Its claim is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 11—Retiring benefits.

Under this head the Union claimed that in addition to Provident Fund the workers should be given gratuity at the rate of one month's wages for each completed year of service. The Company resisted the claim. I find no justification for introduction of gratuity scheme at this stage when there is nothing to show that the Company has attained a stable position to undertake future liability in addition to Provident Fund.

Issue No. 12—Quarters or house rent.

The Union demanded that the workers of the Company should be provided with free quarters and failing this they should each be given a house-rent allowance of Rs. 10 per month. It was alleged by the Union that many Companies provided quarters or granted house-rent allowance to their workmen. The Company contended that if many Companies gave such free quarters or house-rent allowance, many more did not give free quarters or grant house-rent allowance. It further alleged that the Engineering Tribunal and the Jute Tribunal elaborately considered the matter and found that there could be no justification for such a claim. In fixation of minimum wages, expenditure on this item was included and I find no justification for saddling additional liability on the Company at this stage. The claim of the Union is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 13—Discharge of Manu Mian.

The Union alleged that Shri Manu Mian was appointed as a Looper on 12th May 1953 on the distinct understanding that he would be considered as a permanent hand and that in violation of the said understanding he was subsequently discharged on 27th November 1953 on the plea of dearth of work as he was taking active part in the trade union movement. The Union thus alleged that it was a clear case of unfair labour practice and victimisation on the part of the Company. The Union accordingly prayed for his reinstatement and grant of compensation to him for the period of unemployment.

In reply the Company denied having acted malafide in the matter and stated that Shri Manu Mian was employed in a temporary vacancy and so was discharged when there was no work for him. The Company alleged that by its letter of 17th March 1953 addressed to the Labour Commissioner (as in annexure 'F' to its written statement) it had explained the position clearly and it relied upon the same here.

The Union has examined Shri Manu Mian (P.W. 1) besides its President, Shri Anadi Mukherjee (P.W. 2), a formal witness. He (P.W.2) admitted having no personal knowledge regarding terms of appointment or circumstances leading to discharge of Shri Manu Mian. The Company, on the other hand, has examined its Works Manager, Shri P. R. V. Ramani (D.W. 1) besides filing Muster Rolls, Wage Slips, etc.

Ext. 1 shows that Shri Manu Mian had worked from 20th May 1944 to 4th December 1945 with the promoter of the Company as a Looper at Kanpur. According to his own showing, he had quitted service there and then served at Madras under Masseys Company from 16th December 1951 to 3rd January 1953 as a Tongsman [vide Ext. 1(a)]. He said that after quitting service from Masseys Company he came to West Bengal and applied for appointment in the factory of the Company at Rishra and that after about three months he was sent for from village home and given employment as a Looper on a permanent basis. There is nothing to corroborate him that he was taken on a permanent basis. He admittedly did not get letter of appointment as issued in case of permanent engagement. The Company, on the other hand, proves by the Muster Rolls as also by the wage slips bearing thumb-impressions of the workman that he was taken in the Company purely on temporary basis in one of the vacancies caused by Loopers' going on leave. The Muster Rolls and the wage slips, it appears, were kept in regular course of business. In the Muster Rolls the workmen were shown according to different classifications, such as, permanent, temporary, extra temporary and substitute. Shri Manu Mian's name appears in the category of "extra temporary and substitute" workers in the Muster Rolls from the date he was appointed till he was discharged on 27th November 1953. The wage slips also reveal the same state of affairs I have had nothing to discard these documents. In the earlier letter which the Company wrote to the Labour Commissioner (Annexure 'F' to its written statement), the Company also had taken the same position. There it was clearly stated how Shri Manu Mian had been appointed and employed and how he became redundant on return of the working hands from leave and on training the Tongsmen to work as Loopers whenever necessary. The Works Manager D.W. 1 also so stated in his deposition. Shri Manu Mian had to admit that he was not an active member of the Union but only an ordinary member. He did not even claim in his deposition to have any union activity to his credit. So, D.W. 1 could have no grudge whatever against him. D.W. 1's evidence is that he did not even know that P.W. 1 was an ordinary member of the Union. He deposed that when all the Loopers who had gone on leave resumed duty, Shri Manu Mian became redundant and was so discharged. On the evidence and circumstances, I accept the Company's version of the case and accordingly hold that the discharge of Shri Manu Mian was justified. It therefore follows that he is not entitled to any relief.

Now, therefore, in terms as aforesaid, I make my award.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

DR. B. K. BHATTACHARYA, M.A., LL.B., Ph.D. (Lond.), Barrister-at-Law, District Judge, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

Appearance.

For the Association: Shri Nikunja Behari Dutta, General Secretary.

For the Company: Shri Ranjit Mukherjee.

The dispute relates to an alleged wrongful discharge of an office Peon Thakur Prasad Singh by the employers who are Steamer Agents, Stevedores, Ship Chandlers, Transport Agents, Exporters and Importers. Details will appear hereafter.

The following issue arose:—

(1) Whether the dismissal of Shri Thakur Prasad Singh is justified. What relief (including reinstatement) is he entitled to.

FINDINGS

At the outset it may be stated that the Tribunal finds it somewhat difficult to understand if it is a case of dismissal out and out or some sort of retrenchment. One of the partners, Ranjit Kumar Mukherjee (O.P.W. 2), has stated that for overstaying leave Thakur Singh's services were no longer required. An employee of the firm, O.W.P. 4 Badal Chandra Ghose, has mentioned that Thakur Singh was not allowed to join on 2nd August 1954 —on return from leave. Ranjit Kumar Mukherjee cannot say if any one has been appointed since in place of Thakur Singh. Both parties however seem to have proceeded on the footing that the case is one of dismissal.

Another point may be taken up initially. There is some dispute as to the total period of service rendered by Thakur Singh. According to Singh himself his service commenced from August 1949, though the employers would place the commencement in December 1951. There is no evidence worth the name to support Singh's version. The Attendance Register does not support it. But according to O.P.W. 1, Pashupati Pan, an employee of the firm, Singh entered the service temporarily in July 1951 and continued thereafter—after which he was confirmed in December 1951. It is held, therefore, that Singh's services commenced in July 1951.

The next question that arises is for how long the leave was sanctioned by the firm. A secondary consideration in this connection is the period of leave applied for by Singh. The latter point will have to be taken up first. No evidence has been adduced at the time of hearing about the leave generally allowed to its employees annually by the firm. It may be presumed under section 12 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, that leave for two years at 14 days per annum was due on full pay. According to Singh, he filed an application praying for two months' leave with effect from 1st of June 1954. A copy of that application is said to be exhibit 1. As a matter of fact leave seems to have been granted with effect from 9th June 1954 only—after a telegram had come. This telegram (Ext. 2) is dated 7th June 1954. In it one Sitaram, perhaps a co-villager, had sent a message to the effect that Singh's wife was "hopeless" and had directed him (Singh) to come and meet her soon. It may be stated here that Singh's wife expired on 9th June 1954, i.e., soon after Singh's arrival. Keeping of a copy of an application is not usual with a peon. But there was an incident, culminating in suspension, only in May 1954, and the employee might have entertained misgivings. In the instant case written orders granting leave are wanting. Logically, Singh might perhaps have insisted on written orders but for the fact perhaps that his wife was seriously ill and he must have been highly perturbed on that account. The employers' side would have us believe that the application for leave was merely verbal and for one month only. It is surprising that such an important Company maintains no Register of letters received and despatched. In its absence the authenticity of filing the original of exhibit 1 cannot be verified. As mentioned above, the matter of application, however, is of secondary importance.

What is important is the period of leave sanctioned. The employers depend on two documents, exhibits A and C. Ext. A is a voucher granting an advance to Singh out of pay presumably of June. It purports to bear the signature of Singh on the reverse. At the time of payment of this sum it was noted in the voucher as "Cash paid as advance against his wages for leave sanctioned for one month." There is no evidence however that the contents, which were in English, were explained in entirety to Singh in vernacular. So exhibit A by itself does not prove that Singh was granted, to his knowledge, one month's leave only, no matter if Singh did sign his name on the reverse. In this connection I would like to say that I am not thoroughly convinced that the signature, which has been denied by Singh though affirmed by the employees of the firm, is really that of Singh himself, considering that the signature on the next page in the Voucher Book is somewhat different so far as it appears to the naked eye. Ext. C is the Attendance Register of the firm. In the attendance sheet for June there is an entry by Ranjit Mukherjee to the effect "one month's leave sanctioned". But clearly there was some earlier entry which has been sought to be completely obliterated. Moreover, surprisingly enough, Singh's name was not carried over to the page marked for attendance in the month of July. In this connection it may be pointed out that entries in an earlier Attendance Register (Ext. C2) are somewhat contradicted by the latter Attendance Register (Ext. C1), so far as the entries relating to the months of January and February 1953 are concerned. In these circumstances the entry in exhibit C should not be taken as conclusive proof that one month's leave was sanctioned or that it was duly communicated to Singh. So far as the oral evidence is concerned, there is no doubt preponderance on the side of the employers in showing that one month's leave was granted.

Whether Singh was definitely told about this is another matter. According to the employee, Ranjit Babu never told him if the leave was for 15 days or one month or two months. If he is to be believed, the Cashier O.P.W. 1 Pashupati Pan also did not inform him that leave was being granted for one month only. Assistant Cashier Radhanath Ghose (O.P.W. 3) corroborates Pashupati Pan in his contradiction of Singh's statement. But from the evidence of Pashupati Pan it at least appears that Singh had told that he would be absent for a long time whereupon Pashupati Pan told him to try to come back within one month. Obviously, there was some sort of misunderstanding. Else there is no reason why Singh would not have applied for extension of leave by merely dropping a letter containing the information that his wife was dead. There is appreciable gap between one month and two months. This has been sought to be bridged over by Ranjit Mukherjee when he says that about a week after the expiry of one month a letter was sent to Singh to his village address, asking for explanation for not joining after one month. It was not registered. A copy of it, said to be existing, is not forthcoming. No Register of letters has been produced in corroboration and the man who posted it has not been examined. No other employee of the firm, not even the clerk, seems to know anything about this letter. It was not mentioned in the written statement of the employers and Singh was not cross-examined on this point. In the circumstances very little reliance can be placed on this aspect of the case.

Singh reported for duty on 2nd August 1954 but he was not allowed to join, and a notice, calling for explanation (Ext. B), was sought to be served on him, as has been averred by the employers' side. Exhibit B was to the following effect: "You were sanctioned to go on leave for one month on and from 8th June 1954. Since you have failed to report on 8th July 1954 and absented yourself without leave up to 2nd August 1954, we want to show reasons in writing within 17th August 1954 why your services will not be terminated." According to evidence of two employees of the firm, Badal Chandra Ghose and Pashupati Pan, Singh refused to accept this notice. This has been denied by Singh. There is no evidence that after this any attempt was made to serve a notice on him by registered post within the period mentioned or even after it. What is clear is that the proceedings certainly were not carried to a logical conclusion. These were not finalised in that no formal order of dismissal was recorded or, far less, communicated to Singh. In this connection Singh merely says that he was put off verbally from time to time after 2nd August 1954 and that after 8 or 9 days he was ultimately told that his services were no longer required. In the circumstances the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that the principles of natural justice have been violated in any event of the case.

Now the point is whether there was any justification on the part of Singh for overstaying the leave. This is the real issue involved in the question relating to the justification of dismissing Singh. The very fact that there was no order in writing, sanctioning the leave, was perhaps somewhat confusing to an illiterate or semi-literate employee. Moreover, it has been mentioned above that some sort of misunderstanding must have arisen in this connection, viz., the period of leave granted definitely which could not be overstayed. Besides, beyond 28 days the leave perhaps would be without pay—a fact which prima facie goes against the probability of extending the leave without reasonable cause. Lastly, his wife died on 9th June 1954 and he must have been overwhelmed with grief at her death. Presumably he had not taken leave for the last three years. He had not taken any leave previously. The "Sradh" ceremonies had to be completed and domestic arrangements on long-term basis would have to be made, as in the near future there was not much likelihood of his coming back to his village on leave. It is not surprising that in the circumstances the employee thought that if he joined on 2nd August it would not be irregular. He must have been under the impression, somehow or other, that the period of leave might be extended. In the full circumstances of the case the human aspect involved in the matter should not be ignored. I feel sure that had the fact of his wife's death been known to the employers, they would not have entertained ideas of punishment. At any rate they might have thought of some lesser punishment. On an anxious consideration of the case I am of the opinion that the dismissal of Singh was not entirely justified.

Ordinarily reinstatement would have been the proper remedy. But taking an objective view, pecuniary compensation, in my opinion, should suffice to meet the ends of justice. The employee himself in the written statement did not specifically pray for reinstatement, though at the time of hearing he wants it. The case for Bonus has not been proved. In my view the employee should get one month's salary in lieu of a month's notice. He should also get compensation at the rate of 15 days' salary per annum for three years plus Rs. 11 due on account of salary for July or any other amount that may be found due after proper calculation, bearing in mind the advance of Rs. 32 plus the previous advance of Rs. 20, as disclosed in evidence. The payments must be made within seven days from the date when the Award becomes enforceable on publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award is made accordingly.

AWARD

The dispute centres round a case of retrenchment of a Commercial Artist by the Caledonian Printing Co., Ltd.

The following issue arose:—

(1) Whether the termination of services of Shri Chandra Nath Dey is justified and to what relief is he entitled?

The parties have filed a joint petition of compromise. The terms prima facie seem to be fair and equitable. In the written statement of the employee it has been stated that one month's notice was not given and that the reasons for retrenchment were also conspicuous by their absence. These allegations have not been challenged in the written statement of the employers. Now section 25F(a) makes it incumbent on the part of the Company to give not only the notice in question but also indicate the reasons for retrenchment. Obviously the provisions of section 25F(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act were not complied with by the employers. Moreover, the retrenchment compensation provided for in section 25F(b) of the Act was not paid—as a pre-requisite or a condition precedent—before the services of the employee were dispensed with by way of retrenchment. In my opinion, the principle in Bathgate's case (1953, L.A.C., 149) cannot be invoked in a case of retrenchment for the purpose of enquiring into the merits of the case, for it involves not merely a violation of the principles of natural justice but also of distinct statutory provisions which no Tribunal is empowered to overlook in the exercise of its discretion. The instant case, however, has been amicably settled and it may not be necessary for me to give a decision on the aforesaid point. In the full circumstances of the case the petition of compromise is accepted.

In the petition of compromise no reference has been made to section 25H of the Act but since the provisions are mandatory, the employers' attention is drawn to section 25H and the employers are directed to give an opportunity to the retrenched workman to offer himself for re-employment in terms of the section.

A "No Dispute" award is accordingly made, making the petition of compromise a part thereof.

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Asthana, Labour Adviser.

For the workman: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

The original reference out of which this present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order Nos. 2835Dis./D/11L-34/52, dated the 22nd October 1952 and 4396Dis./D/11L-96/53, dated the 19th November 1953.

AWARD.

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is directed against summary discharge of the petitioner Ali Box without leave of the Tribunal during the pendency of the proceeding in which he was concerned.

According to the petitioner notice of discharge was served on him on the 30th of September 1953 without any rhyme or reason and on the 3rd of October, he found the door of the factory banged, barred and bolted against him. The reason ascribed for the lightning action is that the petitioner was a shining light of the Union organisation and had as such drawn fire upon himself.

The Company's case is that the petitioner's services, not being required, were dispensed with. In doing so the company did not contravene the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act inasmuch as the petitioner was not a workman within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Exhibit A is the letter of appointment, dated 5th April 1951. The petitioner was appointed as General Foreman on a starting salary of Rs. 650 in the grade of Rs. 650—20—750. On the 29th of September 1953, notice Ext. 1 was served on him terminating his services with effect from the afternoon of the 30th September. Decision of the matter in issue hinges upon the question whether the petitioner is a workman. The designation "General Foreman" need not be given any weight as it is the nature of the work and not the designation which will determine the status. Listening to the questions put to the petitioner in examination-in-chief regarding his authority to inflict punishment or grant leave to workers subordinate to him, I had the impression that the learned examiner was in the wrong street. The relevant question is not whether the employee is an officer exercising directional or controlling power but whether he performs manual or clerical work. The approach made by the learned labour representative from the standpoint of responsibility, direction and command has been negatived by the decision of the learned Tribunal sitting in appeal. The duties attached to the post must necessarily be the criteria. The petitioner gave evidence that he was required in the performance of his duties to render manual labour. He named the kinds of job in the execution of which he had to use his own hands. Setting rollers, guides, and changing of new parts of the machineries were the types of job which according to his evidence required application of manual labour. The company, on the other hand, led evidence that the petitioner was in-charge of production and his main duty was to exercise supervision. The Works Manager, Mr. Joshi (O.P.W. 1) stated that the "General Foreman's normal duty was to supervise the work of production. If he had to instruct any worker how to perform the job properly, he might have to use his own hands for purposes of demonstration. Beyond this his duty did not include manual work. For guide setting, roller setting, and changing of new parts there were workers whose normal duty was to attend to them." Ali Box himself admitted in cross-examination that he was in-charge of production and had to make the workers carry on their duties. Supervision of the work of the labourers was also part of his routine. One Foreman and one production-in-charge, worked under him. In this connexion reference may be made to the award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 7th March 1955. That was the original reference to which the present application is related. In course of discussions the Tribunal dealt with the status of foremen. Quoting extensively from the evidence adduced was that a foreman had to work like an ordinary workman in the machine whenever there was no substitute available for a workman who might be temporarily absent. The Foreman had also to work on the machine for the purpose of demonstration to the workmen. Even this evidence shows that ordinarily the foreman was not required to work the machines. In the event of temporary absence of any operative, the foreman had to perform the duties of the absentee. The petitioner was not a foreman of that description. The pay scale of a foreman is from Rs. 150 to Rs. 375. Ali Box's starting pay was Rs. 650. The difference in the pay scale is an important factor. One can draw an inference that the petitioner held a superior post whose duties were not the same as that of the foreman serving under him. Primarily his duties were supervisory. In rare cases he might have to work some machineries to demonstrate to the workers how the machineries were to be manipulated. A foreman whose duties and responsibilities do not involve manual work save and except as is necessary in connexion with the supervisory function is not a workman. If the primery duty or substantial portion of the work that he is required to do is of a supervisory nature, the mere fact that he had to make some departure and do some manual work incidentally could not make him a workman (see case reported in Industrial Court Reporter, 1955, page 788). On the petitioner's own admission the position is crystal clear that supervision of the work was his main duty. The evidence of Mr. Joshi clinches the issue. I have not an iota of doubt that the manual work to which Ali Box attempted to give prominance was only incidental. In this view it must be held that he is not a workman. The Company did not infringe the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by terminating his services without obtaining permission from the Tribunal. He is not therefore entitled to any relief. The application is rejected.

AWARD.

I do not think it worth while to refer to the facts of the case, as on the date of hearing the representative of the applicant-workmen, Shri Jadu Gopal Sen, President of the Wellington Jute Mill Employees' Union, identified by the Company's men, stated in writing before the Tribunal that he does not like to prosecute the case under section 33A. The Company's representative also stated that he has no objection if the Tribunal allows the case to be dropped. I find no reason why I shall not allow withdrawal of the case in the circumstances. So, the application under section 33A is allowed to be withdrawn, and dropped. I make no order for costs.

AWARD.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, moved by some of the workers. During the pendency of a proceeding relating to a dispute between the workers and the Management, rules regarding calculation and payment of dearness allowance have been changed. Having been adversely affected by the alteration of the rules, these workers have approached the Tribunal.

Admittedly the procedure that was being followed previously was that if a worker happend to be absent for a part of any day, his wages were calculated on the actual number of hours put in but in calculating dearness allowance partial attendance of any day was treated as attendance for the whole day. For instance, if an employee worked for 24 days and a few hours, he was paid dearness allowance for 25 days. For the same period wages were paid for 24 days and fraction of the day. Alteration complained of has brought the rule regarding dearness allowance in line with the rule concerning payment of wages, i.e., in the hypothetical case stated above dearness allowance would be paid for 24 days and the few hours of actual attendance. The Company's representative had to admit that there was technically a violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act as the rules have been altered. His point however is that the new rules were patterned after the rules prescribed by the Second Engineering Tribunal Award, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 21st September 1950. Dearness allowance was placed on the same footing as basic wages and was linked with attendance. I find however from the award that as regards firms where dearness allowance was not linked with attendance the Tribunal directed that the existing system should continue. In doing away with the system prevailing before, the management had committed a breach of this direction given in the award. I cannot therefore hold that the management was justified in changing the dearness allowance rules. Since section 33 was contravened and the change made was contrary to the direction in the award, relief must be granted as prayed for. Dearness allowance must be paid on the same basis as before and any deductions made must be restored within seven days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

DECISION.

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 3832Dis./D/10L-15(A)/52, dated the 16th December 1952, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd., Howrah Iron Works, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the company) represented by the Managing Agents, Messrs. Martin Burn, Ltd., 12, Mission Row, Calcutta (hereinafter called the Managing Agents) and their employees represented by Burn's Employees' Union, 8, Nityadhan Mukherjee Road, Howrah (hereinafter called the Union), in respect of 13 items specified in the schedule to the order of reference, to Shri M. C. Banerjee, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, for adjudication.

In this appeal, however, we are concerned only with Items Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11(a), (b), (c) and (h) and Item No. 13 of the Schedule, which are as follows:—

(1) Revision of pay of clerical and sub-staff;

(2) Grading of Sarkars and Checkers;

(3) Dearness allowance of sub-staff, Sarkars and Checkers;

(4) Bonus;

(5) Retiral benefits;

(6) Canteen and tiffin allowance;

(11) If the following employees are entitled to re-instatement and/or payment of compensation:—

(a) Shri S. N. Chatterjee,

(b) Shri Ashimanandа Banerjee,

(c) Shri Joydeb Banerjee, and

(h) Shri Panchanan Rana: and

(13) If the grading of the following employees should be modified:—

(i) Janab M. A. Rahman, and

(ii) Shri S. B. Banerjee.

We may state that the appeal with regard to Item No. 6 has not been pressed by the Union. The award on this point is accordingly affirmed.

Now we propose to take up the items separately.

Item No. 1.—Revision of pay of clerical and sub-staff.

While dealing with this issue, we may state at the outset that on 1st October 1946, the Managing Agents by their circular (Ex. F) introduced a scheme regarding scales of pay, dearness allowance and other terms of service, for the clerical and subordinate staff, on the basis of the recommendations of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, Calcutta. Under this scheme four grades of clerks with incremental scales were introduced, which are as follows:—

Grade.	Class of employees.	Basic monthly pay range.
		Rs.
"D"	Junior clerks ..	.. 60-2-90.
	Tracers ..	.. 60-2-80.
"C"	Clerks ..	.. 60-4-124 (efficiency bar at 105).
	Typists ..	.. 60-4-90.
	Steno-typists ..	80-4-124 (efficiency bar at 105).
	Comptometer operators
	Juniors (Drawing and Estimating)	60-4-68-2-100.
	Junior Draftsmen ..	92-4-124-2-134.
	Junior Estimators ..
"B"	Senior clerks ..	100-7-170.
	Stenographers ..
	Telephone operators
	Junior works staff ..
	Draftsmen (B) ..	121-7-170-5-190.
	Estimators (B) ..
"A"	Special clerical and works staff	100-5-110-10-200-9-245-250.
	Draftsmen (A) ..
	Estimators (A) ..
	Leading clerical and works staff	220-10-280-6-336-340.
	Senior Draftsmen ..
	Senior Estimators ..

The same terms of service were also introduced in the office of the Managing Agents at 12, Mission Row, Calcutta.

While this scheme was in force, a Tribunal was constituted by the Government of West Bengal, by order No. 716Lab., dated 31st October 1947, called the First Engineering Tribunal to adjudicate upon a number of disputes between 119 Engineering concerns of the State and their workmen. The present company and some of its workmen, represented by their own Union, were parties No. 34 to this reference. Two of the items of dispute related to (i) fixation of grades and wage scales and (ii) dearness allowance. That Tribunal made its award on 30th June 1948, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 3rd July 1948. The following scales of pay were fixed by that Tribunal for the clerical staff:—

Clerks:—

Grade I—Rs. 55—2½—80—Non-Matriculates and out-door clerks.

Grade II—Rs. 60—2½—90—Matriculates and non-Graduate clerks.

Grade III—Rs. 70—4—130—Graduates.

The grades and scales of pay of upper grade clerks were not, however, fixed and were left to the discretion of the managements.

During the pendency of the proceedings before the First Engineering Tribunal, the Government of West Bengal, by its order, dated 17th January 1948, constituted what is commonly known as the Mercantile Tribunal, to adjudicate upon certain disputes between a number of mercantile establishments in Calcutta, who were the members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and their employees in the categories of clerks and subordinate staff. Messrs. Martin Burn Co., Ltd., the Managing Agents of the Company, who are members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, and their workmen, were also included in the order of reference. That Tribunal gave its award in the case of Martin Burn Co., Ltd., on the 26th August 1949, fixing somewhat higher scales of wages than those recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to its members, but directed Dearness Allowance to be paid at the Bengal Chamber of Commerce rates. The minimum salary fixed for the clerical staff were as follows:—

Grade "D"—Rs. 70—3—130.

Grade "C"—Rs. 70—4—134.

Grade "B"—Rs. 110—7—180.

Grade "A"—Rs. 160—10—260.

"Special Grade"—Rs. 260 and above at the discretion of the employers.

It appears that the dispute between this company and their workmen at the Howrah Iron Works, Howrah, represented by the present Union, was also referred by the Government of West Bengal to the Mercantile Tribunal and they were parties No. 192 in List No. 1 but their dispute was not adjudicated upon by the Tribunal on account of a technical defect in the order of reference.

After the publication of the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, the Union, representing the appellants, asked for revision of their pay-scales in accordance with the terms of that award and, as the Management did not agree to do so, a formal charter of demands was submitted by the Union on the 25th November 1949, claiming the benefits of the award of the Mercantile Tribunal. The company refused to comply with the demands by their letter dated 19th December 1949. As the dispute thus raised, was not settled amicably, the matter was referred to Shri G. Palit, District Judge, on the 18th January 1950 for adjudication. Shri Palit gave his award on the 12th June 1950 which was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 12th July 1950. By his award Shri Palit held that inasmuch as, the office of the Howrah Iron Works at Howrah, was a part and parcel of an Engineering concern, and the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, which was the guiding factor in the Mercantile Tribunal's award, was a trading concern, the two could not be put on a par. He also held that clerks in the mercantile firms were required to be of the finished type with much superior qualifications to those required in an Engineering firm like that of Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd., (Howrah Iron Works) at Howrah. He accordingly held that the initial pay of the clerks in this firm as fixed by the company under their circular (Ex. F) was quite satisfactory. He, however, without increasing the basic salary, made slight changes in the maximum limit of the grades and incremental scales. There was an appeal from Shri Palit's award to this Tribunal but the same was dismissed on the ground of limitation.

After the expiry of one year from the date of publication of Shri Palit's award, notice was given by the Union under section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act, intimating its intention to terminate the award and the present dispute was raised shortly thereafter, and as no amicable settlement was arrived at, the dispute was referred to Shri M. C. Banerjee, First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, as already stated, for adjudication. Shri Banerjee rejected the claim for increase in the basic wages on identically the same grounds as Shri Palit and did not interfere with his award.

We may observe that in rejecting the claim for increase in basic wages, neither Shri Palit in the previous dispute, nor Shri Banerjee in the present dispute, examined the question as to whether the minimum salary fixed by the Managing Agents, was adequate to cover the cost of a balanced diet and provide frugal comforts which a workman of the clerical staff must have to maintain the efficiency of his work.

Shri Acharjee, appearing on behalf of the appellants, has strenuously contended that in the present case the minimum is to be fixed at 180 cost of living index and he has argued that at this level a clerk of the lowest grade cannot maintain his efficiency with less than Rs. 70 per month. We have therefore to consider whether or not any increase over Rs. 60 per month ought to be given to the clerical staff of the lowest grade.

In our view, the Tribunal below has erred in rejecting the claim of the Union without applying its mind to this aspect of the case.

The question as to what should be the basic wages of the lowest category of operatives employed in the textile industry in Madras at 100 cost of living index was examined by this Tribunal in the case of Buckingham & Carnatic Co., Ltd., (1952) LAC., page 490 and the principle on which the basic wages should be fixed, was succinctly stated in paragraph 42 of the judgment as follows:—

> "The Fair Wages Committee in dealing with the question of wages came to the conclusion that the wages of an industrial worker must be such as would enable him to have not merely the means for bare subsistence of life but also for the preservation of his efficiency as a worker. For this purpose he must have means to provide for some measure of education, medical requirements and amenities. This is the minimum which he must have irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of his employer to pay. Thus the floor level of wages is to be determined keeping in view those considerations. The upper limit of wages must be set by what may be called the capacity of the industry to pay, not of a particular unit thereof, but on the industry-cum-region basis. Between these two limits fair wage will depend according to the Fair Wages Committee's reports upon the following factors:—
> (i) productivity of labour.
> (ii) prevailing rates of wages in the same or neighbouring localities.
> (iii) the level of national income and its distribution.
> (iv) the place of the industry in the economy of the country."

On the principles stated above, the floor level of wages is to be determined irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of the employer to pay.

According to Dr. Akroyd, an intake of 2,600 callories is necessary as food value. On the price index of 1936, prevailing in the city of Madras, the cost of food of an industrial worker on the minimum wage level was estimated by this Tribunal in the B and C case at Rs. 5-8-0 on the menu of a balanced diet per consumption unit. And as according to the Fair Wages Committee, a family of an industrial worker must be taken to consist of three consumption units, this Tribunal estimated the cost of living of the lowest category of workers with three consumption units in the city of Madras at Rs. 16-8-0, which represented 60 per cent. of the expenses, and to this Rs. 11-3-0 was added as the cost of clothing, house rent, etc., representing 40 per cent. of his total expenses, and on this estimate the minimum wage for an industrial worker of the lowest category was fixed at Rs. 28 on subsistence level.

The question as to what should be the minimum wage of a member of the clerical staff of the lowest grade in West Bengal, at 180 cost of living index, came up for consideration before the Calcutta Bench of this Tribunal in the case of Caltex (India), Ltd., (1952) LAC., page 402. This Tribunal again examined the question and following the decision in the case of Buckingham & Carnatic Co., Ltd., held that at 180 cost of living index Rs. 49-8-0 would be the minimum required for a balanced and nutritious diet in the case of manual worker of the lowest grade with three consumption units and adding 80 per cent. to it, which was considered to be the extra allowance, needed by a middle class family, to which clerks belong, for their higher standard of living, the amount came up to Rs. 89. But as a member of the clerical staff at the start of his career has the burden of a family of 2·25 consumption units only, the starting pay of a clerk on this basis came up to Rs. 67-8-0. But although Rs. 67-8-0 was considered the minimum for a clerk, in that case, Rs. 80 was fixed as his minimum salary, which was in the region of fair wage. In the case of Karam Chand Thapar [(1953) LAC., page 152] the point again came up for consideration and relying upon the principles enunciated in the cases of Buckingham & Carnatic Co., Ltd., and the Caltex (India), Ltd., it was found that Rs. 66-12-0 was the minimum which a clerk must have in order to provide him with balanced and nutritious diet. In that case Rs. 70 was, however, fixed as the minimum basic salary of a clerk, which was again in the region of fair wage.

In the present case, we do not propose to fix any thing like a fair wage. A clerk, in order to maintain his efficiency, must have at least Rs. 67 at the cost of living index 180 in order to provide him with means for a balanced and nutritious diet as well as for some measure of amenities. Rs. 60 which was fixed by the Managing Agents as the salary of the lowest grade of clerks in a rough and ready manner, is below the subsistence level. The Union's demand up to Rs. 67 as the minimum pay for a clerk of the lowest grade at 180 cost of living index cannot be said to be unreasonable or unjustified but we do not propose to fix as the minimum pay high as that.

Shri Sen, who appeared for the company, at the earlier stage of the hearing, conceded that the minimum has got to be fixed in the present case at 180 point as the company pays dearness allowance from 181 point of cost of living index. We may, however, observe that Shri Bose, who followed him, when the argument on this point had nearly concluded, has contended that the company follows Bengal Chamber of Commerce index, which is higher than the Government index number and therefore if the basic wage be fixed at above 100 cost of living index, it should not, in any case, exceed 150 cost of living index of the Government, which, according to him, corresponds to 180 Bengal Chamber of Commerce index. We cannot entertain this argument at this late state after Shri Sen made an admission of fact. Moreover, the management has adduced no evidence to show that when by their circular (Ex. F) they fixed the pay scales of the employees, they had Bengal Chamber of Commerce index in view and not the Government index number. We may point out that Rs. 67-8-0 is the minimum on subsistence level.

On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case we are of opinion that it is fair that the starting pay of a clerk be fixed at Rs 65 and not higher.

In coming to this decision we are not unmindful of the awards made by the First Engineering Tribunal and the Mercantile Tribunal, to which our attention was pointedly drawn more than once by Shri Sen, appearing for the company, in course of.....We may, however, point out that before the Engineering Tribunal, a large number of manufacturing Engineering industries were parties and in fixing the minimum, that Tribunal had to give due consideration to the capacity of the smaller Engineering concerns as well. The true test that we have to apply is the nature of the job which the clerical staff of this concern is to perform. The First Engineering Tribunal fixed Rs. 55 as the minimum salary for the non-Matriculates, Rs. 60 for the Matriculates, and Rs. 70 for the Graduates, in the Engineering concerns of West Bengal. The Mercantile Tribunal fixed Rs. 70 as the minimum basic pay for the clerical staff of the Managing Agents employed in their office at 12, Mission Row, Calcutta. If, however, any comparison is to be made, we have to look to the prevailing rates of wages in the same or similar occupation in the same or neighbouring locality. The occupation may be in the same kind of industry or not. The nature of the job and the neighbourhood of the industry are the material factors which have to be taken into consideration. It appears from the oral testimony of the witnesses examined by the Union in the present case that the clerical staff employed in Howrah Iron Works, at Howrah, possess high qualification. They are recruited on educational tests—which consist of drafting letters, writing essays and doing arithmetical sums and medical test—and they have to possess specific educational qualification. It also appears that there are two categories of clerks in the Howrah Iron Works—one belongs to the category of office clerks who sit in a separate office building and the other Works Clerks who works in the office attached to the factory and to the work in connection with the production and other incidental work of the factory, and that the clerks in the Main Office at Howrah are transferred to the Works' Office and vice versa. They are also transferred to the Mission Row Office, although the clerks employed in the Mission Row Office are not transferred to Howrah. Therefore, regard being had to the occupation of the clerical staff, we do not think that fixation of the minimum basic wage of the clerical staff of the company at Rs. 65 which we consider just and equitable would be out of proportion on comparison with the First Engineering Tribunal's award or the Mercantile Tribunal's award.

Accordingly we fix the minimum basic pay of "C" and "D" Grade clerks of the company at Rs. 65 with consequential changes in their incremental scales as well as in their maximum grades. The benefit of this increment in the initial pay must also go to other categories of clerks, with similar consequential changes in their incremental scales and the maximum grades. We give below the revised scales of pay in respect of all the clerical staff. In fixing the incremental scales, we have kept in view the company's own grades and scales as well as the relevant awards:—

Grade "D"

Junior Clerks	Rs. 65-3-131.
Tracers	Rs. 65-3-131.

Grade "C"

Clerks	Rs. 65-5-140.
Typists	Rs. 65-5-135.
Steno-Typists and Comptometer Operators	Rs. 85-4-133.
Juniors (Drawing and Estimating) ..	Rs. 65-4-121.
Junior Draftsmen and Junior Estimators ..	Rs. 97-4-149.

Grade "B"

Senior Clerks, Stenographers, Telephone Operators, Junior Works Staff.	Rs. 105-7-203.
Draftsmen (B) and Estimators (B) ..	Rs. 126-7-210.

Grade "A"

Special Clerical and Works Staff, Draftsmen (A) and Estimators (A)	Rs. 105-10-285.
Leading Clerical and Works Staff, Senior Draftsmen and Senior Estimators ..	Rs. 225-10-355.

We direct that all the clerks be given an increment of Rs. 5 and if after this the salary of any person is not at any stage of the time scale, he should be placed at the next higher stage.

Sub-staff.

Now we come to the case of the subordinate staff. Their designations and scales of pay are fully set out in Annexure A to the award. The question is whether they should have any increment in their basic wages.

The members of the subordinate staff correspond to the lowest grade of the lowest category unskilled workmen. This position has been conceded by Shri Acharjee on their behalf. The company by its circular dated 1st October 1946 (Ex. F) gave graded scales of pay to their subordinate staff and Shri Palit by his award revised the company's scales and increased their basic wages. We may observe here that generally the unskilled workmen are not given time scales of pay but in this case both under the company's circular and Shri Palit's award, they were given the benefit of time scales and their maximum was also fixed. It was held by this Tribunal in the case of the workmen of Britannia Building & Iron Company, Limited vs. Britannia Building & Iron Compny, Limited, [(1954) L.A.C., page 10], that the unskilled workmen who do not come in contact with any skilled or semi-skilled workmen should not have time scales of pay. Admittedly, the members of the subordinate staff of this company do not come in contact with any skilled or semi-skilled workmen and their services do not contribute to the productivity of the company. They are, in this respect, unproductive labour force. The scales of pay as fixed by Shri Palit are liberal and more than the scales of pay fixed by the Engineering Tribunal for similar jobs. At 180 cost of living, the lowest grade unskilled workmen would be entitled to a minimum basic pay of Rs. 49-8-0, but the demand of the union in the present case is for a uniform increase of Rs. 5 per month in the minimum basic pay of the subordinate staff, except in the cases of Ticket Sorters and Duftries, in whose case its demand is for an increase of Rs. 10. In view of the fact that they are not productive labour and their Dearness Allowance is liberal, neutralising 80 per cent. of the cost of living index, and that they are enjoying the benefit of time scales of pay, any increase in their wages will be violently out of proportion with the scale fixed for similar jobs by the First Engineering Tribunal's award or the Mercantile Tribunal's award. We do not consider it just and equitable to allow any increment for them.

We may observe here that increase in the wage-scales, as fixed by us, for the clerical staff may increase the cost of production adversely, affecting the company in the competitive market but at the same time, rise in the standard of living will give incentive to the employees to the work with greater efficiency and thereby increase the production which in its turn will neutralise the burden of increased cost of production.

We may state here that Shri Sen strenuously contended that awards, fixing wages, should not be disturbed on short intervals, for, if basic wage be once fixed by an award, it cannot be revised unless it is shown or established that there has been any change in the circumstances since the award has been made. This is, in our view, a rule of prudence and not a rule of law. We may however point out that the workmen concerned were not parties either to the Engineering award or the Mercantile award, nor did the company revise its wage scales in conformity with the Engineering award. So far as Shri Palit's award is concerned, there was a basic error in that he failed to apply his mind to those aspects of the case, which we have discussed above, and that we think, is enough to entitle us to revise the award so that the dispute, which has been going on for pretty long, may be at an end—at least for some time to come.

Issue No. 2.—Grading of Sarkars and Checkers.

They are hourly-rated workers and work in the Factory and the factory stores.

Sarkars are either Matriculates or non-Matriculates. Shri Palit fixed the pay scales of Sarkars as follows:—

Matriculates	...	..	...	Rs. 50—2—70.
Non-Matriculates	...	...	...	Rs. 35—2—55.

He made no orders as to Checkers.

Shri M. C. Banerjee has retained the salary of the Sarkars as fixed by Shri Palit, but he has revised the pay scales of Checkers.

Checkers are of three classes. Under the Company's scheme their salaries were as follows:—

Class III.—36 pies per hour to 43 pies per hour, i.e., Rs. 32 per month to Rs. 47 per month (increment 1 pie per hour, i.e., Re. 1 per month).

Class II.—43 pies per hour to 53 pies per hour, i.e., Rs. 47 per month to Rs 55 per month (increment 1 pie per hour, i.e., Re. 1 every two years).

Class I.—49 pies per hour to 79 pies per hour, i.e., Rs. 53 per month to Rs. 86 per month (increment 1 pie per hour, i.e., Re. 1 per month every two years).

Shri Banerjee revised their pay scales as follows:—

Class III.—39 pies per hour—2 pies per hour—49 pies per hour.

Class II.—49 pies per hour—2 pies per hour—55 pies per hour.

Class I.—55 pies per hour—2 pies per hour—85 pies per hour.

The Union's demand is that they should be raised to the category of clerks.

According to the evidence in the case, Sarkars and Checkers have to do clerical work and the nature of their work is that of a tally clerk. They have to work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. but their work is not of the same nature as that of the members of the clerical staff who are recruited after passing certain test examinations. The First Engineering Award fixed Rs. 55 as the basic pay of the non-Matric clerks and Rs. 60 for Matric clerks. We think the ends of justice will be fully met if we fix the salary and pay scales of the Sarkars and Checkers as given to the Non-Matric and Matric clerks by the First Engineering Award. We accordingly revise their scales of pay as follows:—

Non-Matric Sarkars and Checkers.—Rs. 55—2½—80.

Matric Sarkars and Checkers.—Rs. 60—2½—90.

They will be paid their wages as monthly-rated workers. These workmen should be placed in the incremental scale in the following way:—

The average of past six months' salary be taken as the present salary for the purpose of filling in. If the salary of any of these workmen does not fall in any stage of the time scale, he should be placed in the next higher stage.

Issue No. 3.—Dearness allowance of sub-staff, Sarkars and Checkers.

After hearing Shri Acharjee at length, we do not think there should be any increase in the dearness allowance. It is conceded by him that the present rate of dearness allowance neutralises 80 per cent. of the rise in the cost of living index. It was held in the case of Buckingham & Carnatic Co., Ltd., that complete neutralisation should not be allowed by payment of dearness allowance. Nor has in any case cent. per cent. neutralisation been given under any award. We therefore do not think that we would be justified in interfering with the present scheme of dearness allowance. The award in this respect is accordingly affirmed.

Issue No. 4.—Bonus.

The Union claims bonus out of the profits of the years 1950 and 1951 at the rate of three months' pay for each year on the ground that the Company had enough available surplus out of which bonus at this rate could be paid.

On an examination of the balance sheets of the relevant years the Tribunal has found that the net surplus available for distribution as bonus comes to Rs. 3.81 lacs in 1950 and a little less in 1951.

As a rule, where, as in the present case, profits of all Branches are pulled together and liabilities of the concern are met as a whole out of the common pool, irrespective of the profits earned by each Branch, bonus must be paid to the workmen as a whole, but in the present case a departure has been made from this rule by Shri Banerjee, in that he has directed bonus to be paid to the workmen at the Howrah Branch only.

The aggregate monthly basic salary of the clerks, sub-staff, sarkars and checkers is Rs. 89,500 and that of the workers in the Factory is Rs 1,75,000. The total comes to Rs. 2,64,500. The Tribunal has awarded bonus at the rate of one month's basic wages to all the workmen including those employed in the Factory, fixing a maximum of Rs. 300 for the clerical staff.

The contention of Shri Acharjee is that the surplus being Rs. 3.81 lacs in 1950 and a little less in 1951, the appellants' claim for bonus at the rate of three months' basic pay is not unreasonable. We do not think that bonus at such rate is warranted. But some increase is justified. Even if bonus be considered to have been paid to all the employees including the Factory workers, Rs. 1,16,500 (3,81,000 minus Rs. 2,64,500) will be still left in the hands of the company out of which an additional bonus at the rate of one month's basic wages can be paid to the wage bill comes up to Rs. 89,500 only.

Their claim for additional bonus can be defeated, if at all, on the ground that other categories of workers must also, in all reasonableness, be paid by the company. It cannot be disputed that if all categories of workmen be paid bonus, there is no scope for payment of additional bonus at the rate of one month's basic pay. It is conceded by the company that other categories of workers have not claimed any bonus for the relevant years. They were satisfied with the amount paid by the company voluntarily at their own rates. The claim of the appellants, in our view, cannot be defeated simply by reason of the fact that other workers employed by the company have failed to put forward any claim for additional bonus. If we refuse additional bonus, the appellants will be penalised not for their own fault, for they preferred their claim just in time but for the laches of their co-workers who abandoned their claim. We cannot do this as a court of equity.

We accordingly direct additional bonus to be paid for the relevant years at the rate of one month's basic wages for each year, without fixing the maximum. The other workmen because they did not claim bonus before the accounts were closed, are not entitled to anything as they abandoned it and did not join with others claiming it. The company would be under no obligation to pay them simply on account of this decision.

Issue No. 5.—Retiral benefits.

Besides the existing scheme of Provident Fund, the employees demand introduction of Gratuity Scheme. The Tribunal has rejected the claim. Shri Acharjee has strenuously contended that the company being prosperous, it should also give additional retiring benefits in the shape of Gratuity. The question is whether double retiring benefit should be given to the employees.

In law, a double retiring benefit is not inadmissible and in some cases it has been allowed. It depends not only on the consideration of prosperity or stability of the undertaking concerned but also on the sufficiency of the existing retiring benefit which is a material factor to be taken into account. This company is no doubt prosperous and stable, being one of the premier Engineering concerns. But it has already given a Provident Fund scheme at a liberal rate. It introduced the scheme of contributory Provident Fund as far back as 1926, contributing 5 per cent. of the basic wages towards the Provident Fund of each employee. Later on, this scheme was revised by Shri Palit and under his award the company's contribution was raised to 10 per cent. of the basic wages. Section 29 of the Provident Fund Act, which came into force in 1952, lays down that the employers' contribution should be 6¼ per cent. of the entire emoluments of a workman, that is basic wages and dearness allowance. In case of the majority of the employees, the company still contributes 10 per cent. of their basic wages, as this rate is, in their cases, higher than the rate fixed under the Provident Fund Act. We may state that under the Engineering award or the Mercantile award there is no provision for double retiring benefit.

The introduction of Gratuity scheme will entail heavy financial burden on the company and will adversely affect its position in the competitive market. For, the monthly wage bill of the company in the Howrah Unit alone comes to Rs. 2 lacs and 65 thousand and even if half a month's salary for each year of completed service, subject to a maximum of 10 months' salary be fixed as the amount to be paid to each employee by way of gratuity on his death or retirement, the company will have to lay by a huge amount every year for payment of gratuity. This, in our opinion, will adversely affect the prosperity of this company and will throw an increasing burden year after year and will reflect upon the cost of production which, in its turn, will have its repercussion on a competitive market. In the circumstances, we do not think there is any justification for introducing the gratuity scheme when in the sister concerns there is no such provision. We think the existing retiring benefit in the shape of Provident Fund would provide the employees with sufficient funds at the time of his retirement due to old age or physical disability or otherwise. The claim for gratuity must therefore be rejected.

Issue No. 11.—If the following employees are entitled to reinstatement and/or payment of compensation:—

(a) Shri S. N. Chatterjee.

(b) Shri Ashimananda Banerjee,

(c) Shri Joydeb Banerjee, and

(h) Shri Panchanan Rana.

In this case we are concerned with four workmen.

(a) Shri S. N. Chatterjee.—He was a Checker in the Works Inspection Department. He was appointed on 25th November 1947. In 1949 he got trouble in the eye and was granted sick leave from 17th May 1949 to 18th June 1949 and thereafter he remained absent without pay till 2nd September 1949. On the 3rd September 1949 he reported to the Medical Officer of the company with a certificate of fitness but the latter observed that his left eye was damaged and on his recommendation he was again granted leave from 3rd September 1949 to 3rd December 1949. Thereafter the workman concerned got his eyes examined by Shri B. K. Das Gupta, Professor of Ophthalmic Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta, who certified that the workman could join his duties as the disease had been arrested and was likely to improve within a short time. But when he produced this certificate to the Company's Medical Officer, he gave his opinion that the diseased eye was still opaque and hazy and as such the workman could not be regarded as fit for duty. Thereafter, the Company terminated his services without framing any charge-sheet against him, or holding any enquiry. The Tribunal has ordered his re-employment. In our opinion, his was a case for re-instatement and not re-employment, for his services were wrongfully terminated in violation of the principles of natural justice. It has been repeatedly held by this Tribunal that if the services of an employee are terminated by the Management in deliberate violation of the principle of natural justice that itself is a ground for ordering reinstatement. The Management in our view was not justified in refusing opportunity to the workman to substantiate his case. We accordingly modify the order of the Tribunal and direct his reinstatement with continuity of service. There is no evidence that he remained un-employed since his services were terminated. But in view of the fact that in these days of unemployment it is difficult to get a job, we think the ends of justice will be fully met if we order compensation at the rate of six months' basic wages with dearness allowance to be calculated at the rate of basic wages and dearness allowance which he was getting at the time his services were terminated. We order accordingly.

(b) Shri Ashimanda Banerjee and (h) Shri Panchanan Rana.—We shall deal with their cases together.

Shri Banerjee was appointed on 24th April 1946 and was absent from the 22nd January 1949 and Shri Rana was appointed on 22nd April 1943 and was absent from the 7th March 1949. Their services were terminated by the Company on 22nd April 1949. It appears that they were arrested under the West Bengal Security Act—Shri Banerjee was arrested on 25th January 1949 and was detained in Jail until 5th April 1951 and Shri Rana was arrested in March 1949 and was detained in Jail for about a year. The evidence of Shri Banerjee is that while in detention he informed the Management by a post card that for no fault of his he had been detained by the Government. In any case, we can safely persue that after they were arrested, the management was in a position to know that their absence was not voluntary or without any just cause. But the Management terminated their services without framing any charge-sheet or holding any Managerial enquiry. The Tribunal has ordered their reinstatement. In our opinion, the Tribunal was not right. As the management in guilty of violation of the principles of natural justice their dismissal must be hold to be wrongful. They are entitled to reinstatement with continuity of service. But we make no order for compensation. The period of their absence shall however be deemed as leave without pay.

(c) Shri Jay Deb Banerjee.—He was a checker. He was appointed on 28th May 1947 and was discharged on 16th November 1950.

It appears that on 14th November 1950, there was a riot in the Works and Mr. Davison (Works Manager) was assaulted. After an enquiry, the company dismissed 14 persons including this workman on 16th November 1950 as having taken part in the assault on Mr. Davison. Later on, however, at the intervention of the Labour Minister of West Bengal, seven persons were reinstated. But this employee along with six others was not taken back. It is conceded that no charge-sheet was framed against him for the alleged offence, and no opportunity was given to him to explain his conduct. On this ground alone he would be entitled to reinstatement which is the normal relief to be granted in such cases. But Shri Bose, appearing for the Company, has strenously contended that in view of the serious allegation made against him, reinstatement would not tend to promote harmonious relationship between the employer and the employee. We think that the workman has, at any rate, lost the confidence of the management. Accordingly taking an objective view of the matter in the interest of the industry, we are of the opinion that this workman should be given compensation in lieu of reinstatement, which must be a heavy amount. Shri Bose contended that the management was prepared to give him compensation at the rate of one year's basic wages but they were not prepared to take him back in view of the strained relationship. We think ends of justice will be fully met if we order one year's basic wage with dearness allowance as compensation to this workman, which is to be calculated at the rate of basic wage and dearness allowance which he was getting immediately before his dismissal. We order accordingly.

Item No. 13.— If the grading of the following employees should be modified:—

(i) Janab M. A. Rahman, and

(ii) Shri S. B. Banerjee.

These two workmen were originally appointed in the Company as Junior Draftsman. Later on in 1946, while the scales of pay for different categories of employees were introduced, they were given wages for the Juniors (Drawing and Estimating) the starting pay of which was Rs. 60 as against that of Rs. 90 which is the minimum for a Junior Department. It appears that in token of acceptance of his grade, Shri Banerjee signed a letter (Ex. C) which put him in Grade (D) as a Tracer in the Grade of Rs. 60-2-80 and his basic salary as from 1st September 1946 was fixed at Rs. 64. Similarly Rahman also signed a letter (Ex. C. 1) which placed him in Grade "C" as a Junior (Drawing) with a Grade of Rs. 60-4-88-2-100 and his salary was fixed on 1st September 1946 at Rs. 68 per month. The Union claimed that they should be put to the grade of Junior Draftsman with retrospective effect from 1st October 1946 with consequential relief. The Tribunal has rejected the claim. The appeal is directed against this order. In our view the order is not appealable, for, assignment of grades is not classification of grades and as such does not fall under section 7(1)(b)(vi) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act.

The appeal is partly allowed and the award modified to the extent and in the manner indicated in our judgment. We allow Rs. 500 as costs to the appellant.

DECISION.

This is an appeal from the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal (Shri J. N. Maitra), dated 30th December 1954, holding that lock-out since 17th August 1954 is justified and that the workmen are not entitled to wages for the period of the lock-out. The matters of dispute, stated in the order of reference are (1) Is the lock-out of the factory since 17th August 1954, justified, and (2) Are the workmen entitled to have wages and/or compensation for the period of lock-out?

On 17th August 1954, the company closed the factory under the notice that "The workers of the factory have struck work yesterday without any notice, the factory remains closed." The company is an engineering concern and at the relevant time there were only 32 workmen according to the union and only 22 workmen according to the management. It is stated that the workmen of this factory were smarting under various grievances for a long time. In May 1954, a union was formed and subsequently was registered. The company took exception to the formation of the union and adopted various tactics against it. The company stopped making the advances it used to make and even the payment of earned wages were postponed and delayed. Signatures of the workmen were taken in the register for the wages for May 1954, which were paid after repeated demands. The management wanted the workmen to sign the registers for the wages for the month of June and when the workmen refused to sign, they were threatened with dire consequences. The union informed the Labour Commissioner of the non-payment of wages for the month of June 1954, and his attention was also drawn to the fact that the management was using objectionable language against the workmen.

On 2nd August 1954, the wages for the month of June of that year were settled. The company failed to pay the earned wages for July 1954. The union complained of the mala fide activities of the management in trying to break the union and their attitude against it and for non-payment of wages. The company promised to the Factory Inspector that the earned wages for July 1954, would be paid on the 15th of August of that year but it again failed to pay on that day. The company did not distribute any work to the workmen on the 16th August and on the 17th August 1954, they found that the factory was "locked-out" without any intimation and without disclosing any reason therefor. When the workers approached the Managing Director, he is alleged to have said that "Go to the union and the Government, they will give you work and wages, why you come to me. If you want to come to me, then you must leave the union and withdraw all allegations against the Company." The company claim that the lock-out was declared because of the strike of the workers on 16th August 1954. The union therefore contends that the lock-out was unjustified and was brought about to victimise the workmen for forming the union and they claim that they are entitled to full wages since 17th August 1954.

The company denied all these allegations of the union and submitted that on 16th August 1954, the employees entered the factory as usual but neglected to resume their work. They were informed of the financial difficulties of the company but the management failed to prevail on the workmen to resume their duties and they submit that the closure on the 17th August was inevitable and the workmen were not entitled to any wages after 15th August as the strike was illegal and without justification. The Tribunal after considerating the documentary and other evidence came to the following conclusions on facts:—

(1) That the company's conduct, complained of, cannot be said to have been adopted to break up the union or to victimise the workmen for forming the union;

(2) the business of the company had deteriorated and its financial condition was bad. The company was carrying on from hand to mouth from 1st March to 14th August 1954. That the failure to make advances and to pay earned wages was due to financial consideration;

(3) that the company was finding it difficult to go on with normal production and to make payment due to dull market;

(4) the workmen were acquainted with the financial difficulties of the company;

(5) the Tribunal further held, on the evidence produced, that the complaint that there was no distribution of work and the workmen had to sit idle on 16th August is untrue, and that as a matter of fact, the workmen in the factory struck work on 16th August 1954. The Tribunal observes that the evidence of the Managing Director, D.W. 1, is more convincing and it is probable. It holds that the evidence of P.W. 2, that normal work was carried on by the company after closure in other places is not "probable and natural". The Tribunal observes that the factory was closed on 17th August on account of the strike by the workmen;

(6) the Tribunal further holds that the closing of the factory is a lock-out within the meaning of section 2(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act;

(7) the occasion for the strike cannot be said to be unjustified but the manner in which the strike was effected made it a stay-in-strike which was illegal.

The Tribunal held that on that day, that is, the day of the strike, the workmen entered the factory at 8 a.m. and continued there till 5 p.m. without doing any work and that they demanded immediate payment of the July wages. "While so continuing inside the factory, they off and on passed objectionable remarks against the management while some assumed violent attitude."

In view of the above findings of fact, the Tribunal concluded that as the company was not in a position to meet the demands of the workmen, for payment of earned wages and as the workmen insisted for immediate payment and as their willingness to work was dependent on the payment, therefore, the lock-out since 17th August 1954 is justified and the workmen are not entitled to wages.

The lawyer for the union, M. M. Saha, at the time of the commencement of the hearing, applied for adjournment of the appeal on the ground that Shri D. N. Sen Gupta, an advocate for the union, who was to argue this case, had gone out of the town on some other work. He further submitted that he wanted to move for adjournment of the case a day earlier, that is, on the 23rd June 1955, but he could not do so as the Bench was not sitting on that date. We rejected the request for adjournment on the ground that the lawyer, who had to argue the case, should not have left Calcutta without obtaining adjournment order and even if he did so, he should have made other arrangements for conducting the appeal. We have, in various cases, during the last two weeks, expressed our disapproval for such applications of adjournment made at the last moment, not early enough to fix another case in place of the one adjourned. The request for adjournment even on the 23rd would have been too late. The lawyer present at the hearing argued the appeal on behalf of the union after making the statement that he was not fully prepared. The learned lawyer submits that the failure of the company to pay the dues at the time was a deliberate act and was intended to disrupt and destroy the union and that there was no justification in refusing to make the payment in time. We see no reason to disagree with the finding of facts of the lower Tribunal and hold that it is fully substantiated from the evidence produced by the company that their financial position was not strong enough at the time to make the required payments and to continue the work and that this was not done solely out of ulterior motives to victimise the workmen or the union. The company is a small one. The fact that the business of the company went down to such an extent, that the company so far as we know, is barely in existence. The case of the union taken in this respect amounts to this that the company destroyed its own business, its reputation, and went into a condition of practical insolvency to victimise its workmen and to destroy the union. Now, an act of this nature is not impossible, but certainly highly improbable, and in a case of this kind, it may be very difficult to prove that the company has apparently injured its own business existence for an ulterior purpose. If it has reduced itself into the state of financial disability in a decent manner by devices and falsification of accounts, over a period of more than a year, then there must be some positive proof of the facts to enable a Tribunal to award a relief to the workmen. At least, it cannot be shown that in reality the financial condition of the company is sound enough. There is nothing to conclude that such a planned course of conduct was adopted, and it is not possible, even in the absence of strong suspicious circumstances to arrive at such a conclusion. True that in a case of planned line of conduct, it will be very difficult to procure evidence, but for that reason mere allegations cannot take place of evidence, or of such circumstances from which inference in forms of such allegations may be drawn. Hence there is absence of evidence and the fact that it is very difficult to produce evidence of this kind, cannot take the place of the evidence required, either of the facts or of such facts from which an inference favourable to the union may be drawn. Inferences to be drawn must be natural and practicable. If it is probable on one fact that self destruction may be a planned one, but it is possible that in a small company like this, the formation of the union and the united demands of the workmen, although fully justified, brought on the financial conditions. The fact that the company is now in an apparently helpless condition and has been in such a condition for sometime, indicates that perhaps the company was not in a position to help itself out of the difficulties faced, for lack of funds, added to the deterioration of the business conditions. While on one hand the workmen were fully justified in demanding their dues, unless the capacity to pay and satisfy the claims of the workmen is ascertained, on the facts of this case, the company cannot be made liable to the claims. If the strike was justified, so was the lock-out and unless we are in a position to compel the company to pay, the matters must rest at that. To make the company liable for an unjustified act, creating such a liability there must be clear proof of such an act. A course, which one will naturally adopt under certain conditions, cannot be held to be unjustified and mala fide. Therefore there is no reason to interfere with the findings of the lower Tribunal. The representative of the company, who appeared at the hearing, Shri....., made a statement that the company is now working with only about five workmen, all old hands, and that they are trying to reconstruct the company so far as possible with the help of the old hands. In view of the finding of facts, the claims of the workmen cannot be supported. We therefore dismiss this appeal but make no order as to costs.

DECISION.

This appeal is directed against an award of the First Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal in a dispute between Messrs. Barnesbeg Tea Estate and their employees and referred by order No. 194Dis./D/9L-47/52, dated 15th January 1953.

The dispute related to the discharge of one Subitra Kamini and the reference had been in the following terms:—

"Whether the dismissal of Subitra Kamini is justified. Whether she is entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation."

Purna Bahadur, husband of Subitra, had also been a workman employed in the plantation. Purna Bahadur had been dismissed from the service following his conviction in a case of theft of tea. He had been asked to leave the garden quarters supplied by the Company. On account of the dismissal of the husband, the wife had also been discharged. The present reference is a sequel to the protest by Subitra against the termination of service in this way when she had not been in fault.

According to the management, appointments in tea gardens in Darjeeling district are made on a family basis and allotments of quarters are made on that basis, rations are allowed on that footing and when the head of the family is discharged the other members of the family are also discharged.

The management contended that this being the condition of service in tea gardens in Darjeeling district and in this garden, the termination of service of Subitra Kamini was justfied and was proper.

The Tribunal below came to the conclusion that it was the service condition in the Darjeeling tea gardens that when the head of the family who is called the primary workers is dismissed all the working members of the family who are called secondary workers are also discharged. The Tribunal found that the termination of service of Subitra was proper and gave an award against the workman.

The present appeal is by the workmen. Section 7 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act delimits the jurisdiction of the Appellate Tribunal and an appeal in relation to reinstatement is not competent unless a substantial question of law is involved. The learned counsel appearing for the Union put forward a substantial question of law which requires examination and before we do so we must refer to a very important decision of this Bench of the Appllate Tribunal in Shaw Wallace Co. case commonly known as Doom Dooma case (1953, L.A.C., 513). In that case it had been decided that wife was not an adjunct to the husband and the former could not ordinarily be discharged on the dismissal of the latter. It was made clear in that decision that the observations related to cases where there existed no custom or condition of service to the contrary effect. The learned counsel contended that the finding that there existed a custom or service condition was the hurdle to follow the decision in Doom Dooma case. He wanted to obviate the difficulty by contending that the finding of the lower Tribunal was based on no evidence. The learned counsel contended that this finding by the lower Tribunal was made on no evidence and therefore, it involved a substantial question of law. It has been held by a series of decisions of the Appellate Tribunal that finding without evidence involves a substantial question of law, but not so, if there be some evidence (General Assurance Society, 1952, L.A.C., 124).

We shall have thus to enquire whether is some evidence in support of the findings made by the lower Tribunal. It is not our enquiry at this stage to ascertain if we would have come to the same conclusion with the materials supplied but only if there are some materials for this finding.

Mr. E. J. Dewey had been in the Darjeeling tea gardens for about 22 years and he said:—

"I have been in the Tea industry in Darjeeling district for more than 22 years. The method of recruitment is done on a family basis in Darjeeling area. The condition of recruitment is the grant of a free house to live in along with members of his family. This house is allotted in the name of the male primary worker or head of the family. In some cases where the worker is a widow, she is naturally the head of the family. Other privileges received after recruitment is regular work for all members of the family above the age of 12 years, concessional rations to all workers and all children under the working age of 12 years and also to students of regular workers who themselves are above the age of 12 years. Other privileges granted consist of free schooling facilities, free medical attention and hospitalisation and a khet land allowance to all regular workers. When a primary worker is dismissed for gross misconduct, all the members of his family are discharged and they vacate the quarters they occupy."

The Tribunal also referred to the report of S. R. Deshpande in "Report on an Enquiry into the cost and Standard of Living of Plantation workers in Assam and Bengal" showing the existence of this custom or condition of service. The Union put in the evidence of Chandra Prosad Gurung taken in another case. He said there "The dismissal of all the dependants in the case of dismissal of the head of the family is not a written rule of the Company, and this is resorted to at the discretion of the manager." He could not cite instances for or against.

From the above it is clear that this is not a case where a finding has been made without evidence.

As it cannot be said that the finding has been made without any evidence, no substantial question of law is involved and the appeal must be held to be incompetent. In the result, the appeal be dismissed but without costs.

DECISION.

This appeal is directed against the award made by the Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, in a dispute between Messrs. Grand Wood Works and Saw Mills, vs. Their Workman, Shri Ram Charan Mistry, and referred to it by order No. 2836Dis./D/11L-205/53, dated the 31st July 1953.

The present appeal is against the award granting Ram Charan Mistry compensation for retrenchment. The learned Tribunal allowed compensation for a service of 12 years, at the rate of 15 days' wages for each year of service. The company appealed against this order of compensation.

Even in justified retrenchment, the retrenched workman is entitled to some relief as retiral benefit and also as compensation for non-employment that follows. This has been the general trend of decision of the Appellate Tribunal and we do not find any sufficient ground to depart from it. The learned lawyer for appellant contended that service commenced from 1947 and before that there were breaks. Shri Shantilal examined on behalf of the employer stated that there was no break. He went on leave. The learned Tribunal was perfectly correct in assessing 12 years for the period of service.

The question of compensation being a discretionary matter and as we find that the discretion has been properly exercised, we see no reason to interfere with the award on this point.

We make no order as to costs.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTION.

No. 8251/M.I-2/55.—21st September, 1955.—The administration of the Panihati Municipality in the district of the 24-Parganas has been causing much concern to Government for some time past owing to various defects and irregularities brought to their notice by the local officers.

2. Inspections made by the Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector, Barrackpore, and also by the Additional District Magistrate, 24-Parganas, some time back reveal an extremely unsatisfactory state of affairs particularly in regard to the accounts and financial transactions of the Municipality. The following are some of the instances of incompetency and default shown by the Municipal Commissioners in the performance of their duties and in exercising proper supervision and control over their staff:—

(i) The remittances made to the Bank were not entered by the cashier in the cash-book and, on many occasions, he retained money with him without making entries in the cash-book. This was a dangerous practice in violation of rules 203 and 204 of the Statutory Municipal Account Rules.

(ii) The amounts collected by the collecting sarkars were not made over regularly to the tax-collector, but were allowed to be kept by them for many days. This was a highly objectionable practice and a serious violation of rule 61 of the Account Rules. Some of the collecting sarkars were allowed to work in the same circle for more than two years in contravention of rule 37 of the said rules.

(iii) The cost of defending a criminal case brought against the Chairman of the Municipality in his personal capacity was met from the municipal fund in spite of the fact that two competent courts had held that the case had been instituted against the Chairman personally. There was no entry of the case either in the register of suits or in the prosecution register. The matter was also never placed before the Commissioners at a meeting for their sanction to the expenditure.

(iv) Remissions of municipal taxes were granted in a most arbitrary manner. In one case, an assessee was given remission in respect of one of his two holdings on the absurd ground that he was an absconder.

(v) The position in regard to collection of municipal rates has been very unsatisfactory. The percentage of total collection on total demand was only 32·08 in 1953-54 and 33·11 in 1954-55. The outstanding balance of taxes on 31st March, 1955, amounted to as much as Rs.4,22,075, which must be regarded as very unsatisfactory even allowing for the increased demand of Rs.70,923 in respect of holdings exceeding Rs.1 lakh in value, which has become unrealisable as a result of a decision of the High Court. In spite of the large arrears of taxes, only eight distress warrants were issued in 1954-55. There was no proper supervision over the work of the collecting sarkars and the monthly progress statements were not placed before the Commissioners at a meeting as required by rule 68 of the Account Rules.

(vi) Acute party faction prevailed among the Commissioners making harmonious work practically impossible. One group of Commissioners filed a civil suit against another group challenging the validity of the appointment of the Accountant and the cost of the litigation was met from the municipal fund.

(vii) Up to August, 1954, five conservancy mazdoors were paid double salaries, five fictitious names being shown in the muster-roll.

(viii) The Head Clerk of the Municipality was allowed to work as its Accountant without being required to furnish any security contrary to rule 133 of the Account Rules. No security was also obtained from the collecting sarkar of licence fees.

(ix) A number of important registers and books required to be maintained under the Statutory Account Rules, viz., the sarkar's ledger, advance ledger, register of works, register of civil suits and register of unpaid bills, were not maintained properly.

(x) Estimates of works were neither prepared nor filed or indexed in proper manner as required by rules 147 and 148 of the Account Rules. They were not also signed either by the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman. No agreements in the proper form were executed, as required under rule 155 of the Account Rules, with certain contractors before entrusting them with municipal works and, in one case, the acceptance of tender was not properly done.

(xi) The Licence Department was mismanaged, it being placed in charge of the Sanitary Inspector who had various other duties to perform.

(xii) The collecting sarkars were given access to the demand and collection register contrary to rule 62 of the Municipal Account Rules.

3. After a very careful consideration of the state of affairs of this Municipality, Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the Panihati Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform, and have persistently made default in the performance of the duties imposed on them by the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), and the rules framed thereunder and have also abused their powers.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to declare the said Commissioners to be incompetent and in default and to have abused their powers and to supersede them for a period of two years with effect from the afternoon of the 23rd September, 1955.

4. Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

N. M. BARDHAN,

Joint. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

In addition to these visits at fixed times the members will pay unexpected visits to the hospitals. Members while paying surprise visit should on arrival at the hospitals immediately contact the Superintendent and in his absence his Deputy before entering the wards. If all the three members of the group are not present, the remaining members can go round without the absentee or absentees, as the case may be. The members constituting the group should inspect the internal arrangements and offer such suggestions regarding the administration of the institution as they think proper.

A visitors' book will be kept in the hospitals in which the recommendations of the Committee will be recorded. The Superintendent will note on the margin the action taken on each recommendation with any other remarks or explanations that he may wish to offer. He will transmit a copy of the entries without delay to the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, for consideration. The Director of Health Services will take such further action as may seem necessary and will bring to the notice of Government any matter which he thinks sufficiently important.

The Committee as a whole will meet at least once a quarter, review the report of the visiting groups and discuss the remedial measures adopted. The Superintendent of the Medical College Hospitals should attend the meetings of the Visiting Committee.

The Committee will send copies of the resolutions passed at their quarterly meetings to the Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Department of Medical and Public Health, and also to the Director of Health Services who will submit to Government a report of the action taken or proposed to be taken on the points raised in those resolutions.

The members will hold office for three years or until the next reconstitution of the Committee. Any member who fails to visit the hospitals during three successive months without sufficient reason will automatically cease to be a member, and Government will appoint a new member in his or her place. Visitors' book should be submitted by the Superintendent to Government once every quarter for noting the names of habitual absentees.

By order of the Governor,
N. C. KAR, Dy. Secy.

The Special Marriage Act (Calcutta High Court) Rules, 1955.

1. These rules may be called the Special Marriage Act (Calcutta High Court) Rules, 1955.

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(ii) the "Court" means the Judge sitting in Court.

3. Every petition for divorce or for judicial separation or for declaration of the nullity of a marriage under the Act shall be entitled "In the matter of the Special Marriage Act, XLIII of 1954", and shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the certificate of marriage, and shall state—

(ii) if the petition is under section 31(2) of the Act, the addresses at which the wife petitioner has ordinarily resided during the three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition, and the length of her residence at each address, and the place of residence of the husband;

(iii) whether there is any living issue or issues of the marriage, and, if so, the name, the date of birth or age of such child or each of such children, and also that the percentage of any living child or children of the wife born during the marriage is in dispute, if such be the case;

(iv) whether there have been in any Court any, and, if so, what previous proceedings with reference to the marriage, by or on behalf of either of the parties to the marriage, and the result of such proceedings;

(v) the matrimonial offences alleged or other grounds, upon which relief is sought, setting out with sufficient particularity the times and places of the acts alleged, and other facts relied upon, but not the evidence by which they are intended to be proved;

(vi) that there is no collusion between the petitioner and the other party to the marriage.

4. Every petition for divorce or judicial separation, as the case may be, shall state—

(i) if the petition is on ground (h) of section 27 of the Act, the date and the place where the respondent was last seen or heard of, and the steps which have been taken to trace the respondent;

(iii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, that the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to or connived at or condoned the adultery;

(iv) where the ground of the petition is cruelty, that the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty;

(v) where the petition is on the ground of mutual consent, the date and the place where the parties last lived together, the addresses where each party has since lived, with the period of residence at each address, the reasons why the parties have not been able to live together, the date when the mutual agreement was arrived at, and whether such agreement is verbal or evidenced by a document in writing.

5. Every petition for divorce or judicial separation or declaration of nullity of a marriage shall conclude with a prayer setting out particulars of the relief claimed, including, in the case of a petition for divorce, the amount of claim for damages, if any, and the particulars thereof, indicating the basis upon which damages have been claimed.

The prayer may also include a claim for one or more of the following reliefs:—

(a) custody of the children of the marriage;

(b) alimony pending suit;

(c) maintenance and educational expenses of minor children.

6. Every petition for divorce under clause (i) or clause (j) of section 27 of the Act shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the decree for judicial separation or of the decree for restitution of conjugal rights, as the case may be.

7. Every petition for judicial separation under section 23(1)(b) of the Act shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the relevant decree for restitution of conjugal rights.

8. Every petition for a declaration of the nullity of a marriage under clause (ii) of section 25 of the Act shall state whether the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts stated and whether marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the existence of the grounds for a decree.

9. Every petition for a declaration of the nullity of a marriage under clause (iii) of section 25 of the Act shall state the date when the coercion ceased, or the fraud was discovered, and whether the petitioner has with his or her free consent lived with the other party to the marriage as husband and wife after the coercion had ceased or the fraud had been discovered.

10. In every petition for divorce on the ground of adultery, the alleged adulterer shall be impleaded as a co-respondent:

Provided that the Court may, on being satisfied that the petitioner has not been able to ascertain the name and identity of the alleged adulterer, excuse the petitioner from so impleading him:

Provided further that if after the Court has so excused the petitioner, the identity of the alleged adulterer is discovered, the fact must be brought to the notice of the Court, and the Court shall thereafter pass such order as it may think fit.

11. Every petition for divorce or judicial separation or for declaration of the nullity of a marriage shall be signed by the petitioner, and where he is represented by a lawyer, also by his lawyer. For the purposes of this rule, the word "lawyer" shall mean a solicitor, where the petitioner is represented by a solicitor. Such petition shall be verified in the manner required for the verification of pleadings.

12. Each summons for service on a respondent shall be accompanied by a true copy of the petition.

13. The summons shall be served on each respondent personally by delivery of a copy thereof, together with a true copy of the petition, through the Sheriff, in the High Court, and through the ordinary process-serving staff of civil courts, in all other Courts.

14. Where the officer whose duty it is to serve the summons reports that the respondent refused to accept the copy of the summons presented to him, the Court shall order fresh service by registered post:

Provided that the Court may, where personal service cannot be effected, substitute any other mode of service as provided in Order 5, rule 20 of the Civil Procedure Code.

15. Appearance shall, in the High Court, be entered and notified in accordance with rules 4, 15-20 and 24 of Chapter VIII of the Rules of the Original Side and in other Courts, be entered in accordance with the rules and practice for appearance in civil suits.

16. Appearance may be under protest and limited to any proceeding in the case in respect of which the party shall have received notice to appear:

Provided that (a) any appearance under protest shall state concisely the grounds of protest, and (b) the party appearing under protest shall forthwith proceed to obtain directions as to the determination of the question or questions arising by reason of such limited appearance, and in default of so proceeding, shall be deemed to have entered an unconditional appearance. Directions given upon an appearance made under protest may provide for the trial of preliminary issues, with or without stay of proceedings in the suit, or for determination of the matter in question at the hearing of the suit.

17. A respondent who has entered an appearance may file an answer to the petition, within such time as specified by rules framed by the High Court in respect of suits, or within such time as may be allowed by the Court. Such answer shall be signed in the same manner as a petition and verified in manner required by law for the verification of pleadings.

18. Where in any proceeding on a petition for divorce, the respondent asks for relief under section 35 of the Act, the answer shall contain particulars of adultery, cruelty or desertion, as if it were a petition, mutatis mutandis.

19. Where in any proceeding on a petition for divorce, it appears from the answer that the respondent asks for relief under section 35 of the Act, the petitioner may file a reply thereto within fourteen days from the filing of the answer, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Court.

20. Where the answer of a husband alleges adultery by the petitioner, such answer shall state the name, address and description of the alleged adulterer:

Provided that the Court may excuse the husband from stating these particulars, if satisfied that he has been unable after his best efforts to ascertain them.

21. Where such answer prays for relief under section 35 of the Act, a writ of summons, to which shall be annexed a true copy of the answer, shall be served on the alleged adulterer, in the same manner as a summons of a petition for divorce to be served on the respondent; and his name with the description "Co-respondent in the claim under section 35" shall be added to the title of the case. The Court may however excuse compliance with this rule, if the identity or whereabouts of the alleged adulterer are not known or cannot be discovered with due diligence.

22. The alleged adulterer may, within such time from his appearance in Court as may be allowed by the Court, file an answer to that of the respondent.

23. Where the answer of a husband alleges adultery by the petitioner but does not claim any relief on that ground, the answer shall be served on the alleged adulterer in the same manner as provided in rule 21, and he may, if he so desires, enter appearance and intervene in the proceeding. If he does, his name shall appear in the title of the case "A. B. Intervenor". The Court may however excuse compliance with this rule if the identity or whereabouts of the alleged adulterer are not known or cannot be discovered with due diligence.

24. When a decree for divorce is passed on the ground of adultery, the Court may in its discretion award such damages against the co-respondent found guilty of the adultery, as it may think fit and proper.

25. When an order is made for examination of a witness on commission on the application of the husband, the wife may apply for security for her costs of the examination at the time of the order, or subsequently.

26. At any stage of the proceeding, the wife may apply for an order on the husband to pay into Court a sufficient sum of money to cover her costs of, and incidental to, the hearing of the cause; and the Judge shall thereupon issue an order upon the husband to pay into Court such amount as he thinks reasonable, unless he is satisfied that the wife has sufficient separate estate or that there is other good cause why such an order should not be made.

27. In all proceedings on the Original Side of the High Court, under Chapters V, VI and VII of the Act, the rules framed by the High Court for the trial of suits (including rules regarding taxation of costs), so far as they are not inconsistent with the foregoing rules, shall apply and similarly, in all proceedings in other Courts, the Civil Procedure Code and the Civil Rules and Orders shall apply, so far as they are not inconsistent with the foregoing rules.

28. A proceeding commenced by a petition for divorce or a declaration of the nullity of a marriage or judicial separation or restitution of conjugal rights shall be deemed to be a suit for the purposes of the Civil Procedure Code.

Registrar.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Clinical Research Association, Ltd., 10 Rowdon Street, Calcutta-16, with their factory at 6 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Calcutta Clinical Research Association Mazdoor Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-3.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI J. N. MAITRA, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, President of the Union.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Roy, Law Officer of the Company.

AWARD

1. By order No. 2650Dis./D/11L-65/54, dated the 25th May 1954, read with Addendum No. 4094Dis./D/11L-65/54, dated the 25th August 1954, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Clinical Research Association, Ltd., 10 Rowdon Street, Calcutta-16, with their factory at 6 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Calcutta Clinical Research Association Mazdoor Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-3, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act by notification No. 592-Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 9th July 1954. Thereafter the Union filed a petition for inspection of certain documents. The inspection was opposed by the Company. The Tribunal, however, allowed inspection of the relevant documents. Then after adjournments at the instance of the parties, hearing of the dispute was concluded on 19th August 1955 and award was reserved.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the Schedule to the Order of Reference is as follows:—

(1) Introduction of Grades and Scales.

DECISION

The parties have not adduced any oral evidence. They merely filed certain documents which are marked Exts. 1 and 2 on the side of the workmen and Exts. A to A6, B and C on the side of the Company.

For proper appreciation of the present dispute, it is necessary to state certain facts leading to it. The Calcutta Clinical Research Association, Ltd. (hereafter called the "Company"), was formed in 1937 by amalgamation of two different Joint Stock Companies, styled as the Calcutta Research Association, Limited, and the Clinical Research Association, Limited. On the basis of contract at the time the Company issued 7,160 shares of Rs. 10 each as fully paid up without payment being received in cash (vide balance-sheet). The Company manufactures medicinal preparations and injections besides doing examination of stools, urine, blood, etc. In 1943 the Company opened a branch at Takdah in the district of Darjeeling as a precautionary measure against apprehended bombing in Calcutta by Japanese. It also started certain sales offices at Jalpaiguri and other places. The branch at Takdah and some of the sales offices were eventually wound up soon after.

In 1947 the Calcutta Clinical Research Association Mazdoor Union (hereafter called the "Union") was established. On behalf of the workmen of the Company it submitted a charter of demands. As the demands could not be amicably settled, the disputes raised were referred to Shri G. Palit, District Judge, constituting the Fifth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. He gave his award on 17th March 1950 which was published in the extraordinary issue of the Calcutta Gazette on 19th April 1950. Under issue No. 1, to the effect, "Whether every employee should receive a flat increment and if so, at what rate?" Shri G. Palit found among others as below:—

> "I scrutinised the pay and allowance of each individual employee with an eye to the post he occupied. I find that the employees are generally paid quite handsomely. I also compared their wages with the wages current in the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., at 94 Chittaranjan Avenue, as per award published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated the 3rd November 1949. This latter concern is admittedly a bigger one. But the wages given by the Calcutta Clinical Research Association are in excess of the wages in the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works even after the aforesaid award. * * * * I find the wages which had prevailed in this concern in 1939 have been augmented more than 3½ times in 1949. * * * * So, looked at from that angle, the current wages given by the Calcutta Research Association do not appear to be either low or unjustified. In the circumstances, I prefer to leave the existing wages system in the Company undisturbed."

Regarding dearness allowance under issue No. 3, Shri G. Palit raised the amount of dearness allowance to Rs. 30 from Rs. 25 in case of employees drawing up to Rs. 30 per month and to Rs. 30 from Rs. 22 in case of employees drawing from Rs. 31 to Rs. 150 per month. Regarding employees drawing salary from Rs. 151 to Rs. 500, he maintained dearness allowance at the rate of 17½ per cent. as was being paid by the Company. Thus there was increment in dearness allowance for those drawing salary up to Rs. 150.

Regarding bonus under Issue No. 6, he found that bonus was being paid at the uniform rate of Rs. 20 per month to all employees drawing salary below Rs. 150 per month. The parties are agreed that the said bonus of Rs. 20 per month was so paid only for one year from January 1949 to December 1950.

As the payment of the said bonus of Rs. 20 ceased from January 1950 and as the Company started to pay Puja bonus at the rate of 15 days' wages in place of one month's wages which it had paid hitherto before up to 1950, the workmen continued dissatisfied. Over and above these they got no increment in their wages since 1947. All these apparently set the ball rolling. The Union against started agitation and it presented another demand on 11th May 1952 as in Annexure "A" to the Union's written statement. Amongst other the Union demanded in paragraph 4 "introduction of grades and scales for all categories of workmen and with minimum enhancement at the rate of Rs. 10 for each workman." As conciliation failed, the Government referred only the dispute in this respect for adjudication to this Tribunal.

Now let us turn to the issue. By Annexure "B" to its written statement, the Union demanded introduction of pay scales for 15 different categories of workmen as shown in the last column therein. For the sake of brevity said Annexure "B" is not reproduced here. The Company, on the other hand, by Annexure "A" to its written statement gave present pay and emoluments of all the workmen in their employ and maintained that these were quite adequate and fair. It further stated that in no sister concerns including Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., there was any system of grades and scales, and that the business of the Company was gradually deteriorating, and the Company was so unable to bear any further burden. The Company furthermore stated that it manufactured medicinal preparations and injections which were very vital for all common people and so any increase in wages, either through introduction of grades and scales or otherwise, would be fatal for the Company and would ultimately re-act harshly upon the common people. In the circumstances, the Company resisted introduction of grades and scales.

The list Annexure "A" furnished by the Company is not challenged by the Union. This would show that the dispute concerns at best only 51 workmen and that the Company has no fixed grades or scales of pay. The wages, it appears were fixed by the Company individually having regard to seniority, efficiency and experience for clerical and like categories and having regard to the degree of skill necessary in a particular job for manual workmen.

Be that as it may, the Union did not furnish either in the written statement or before this Tribunal any material for the purpose of grading the workmen. It did not even state the nature of duty which has to be performed by any one of these 51 workmen. Mere designations cannot afford a clue in this respect. It is, therefore, obvious that there cannot be any grading in absence of them. Besides, without the help of an expert it is not prudent either to try it. If, on the other hand, by grading it is not intended to grade the workmen of the same category into different grades but to treat all of them equally and provide them one scale of pay, it will not be fair to the workmen concerned as the qualifications may be different and as the jobs in which they are employed may not be of the same responsibility and skill. So as it is, the claim for grades cannot be sustained. The award of Shri S. N. Modak in the case of Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, and their workmen under Issue No. 1 on the point of classification of the workmen cited by the Union, can be no guide as it is not known whether the functions of the workmen under different designations as in Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, are identical with those of the workmen of same designations in this Company.

Regarding introduction of time scale of pay, it has been held in the case of Britania Building and Iron Company, Ltd., and their workmen reported in 1954 L.L.J., Volume I, page 651, "As time-scales increase the wage bill year after year which is reflected in the cost of production, such scales should not be forced upon an employer of industrial labour unless it is established that the employer has the present capacity to pay and its financial capacity can be counted upon in future. Thus, both financial ability and stability are requisite conditions." In the present case, I am not satisfied that the Company has the financial ability or stability to bear the burden of the time-scales of pay. The Company has produced the balance-sheets and profit and loss accounts for successive financial years from 1948-49 to 1953-54 as were audited by registered accountants and adopted (Exts. A to A5). As regards the financial year from April 1954 to March 1955, the balance-sheet has not yet been prepared and the Company filed a statement showing figures of sales during the said year under different heads, commercial and clinical as also total of them. This is Ext. A6. It will appear from the balance-sheets that during the financial years from 1948-49 to 1953-54, the net profit earned by the Company was hardly sufficient even to pay dividend of 3 per cent. except during two years, after making provisions for income-tax and other obligation charges. It further appears that the Company is under obligation under clause 122 of its Articles of Association to set apart certain sum of money out of the profit to research fund. In the year 1953-54, though the amount of net profit was Rs. 11,190, it would appear from the appropriation of the same that after providing for income-tax and research fund the Company could barely pay dividend at the rate of 3 per cent. It will thus be evident that the Company has yet to attain stability and its present capacity is strictly limited. Exception has been taken by the Union's representative to certain items of expenditure in the shape of commission salaries to officers at the top and in the matter of purchase of sewing machine, wireless set, etc., and it is said that had these been avoided, requisite fund would have been available for the purpose. It is not the function of the Tribunal to go into the merits or otherwise of the expenditure of the Company under different heads. How the Company would run its business is its exclusive function. The Tribunal cannot go beyond the balance-sheets unless these are proved by evidence to be inaccurate. As these do not reveal satisfactory financial position of the Company, it would not be opportune to introduce time-scale of pay. Besides it does not appear that other sister concerns of similar status and even of higher status have time-scales of pay. Regarding Union's criticism that issue of 7,160 shares without receiving payment in cash for the same was made in order to reduce the balance of the profit, I think that no legitimate exception can be taken when this was so issued on the basis of a contract following amalgamation of two sister concerns with their existing assets. The sale figures furnished by the Company as in Exts. B and A6 reveal far from satisfactory position. These show that the sales are not going as they should be but have been deteriorating. In this state of affairs, I agree that the Company cannot be burdened at this stage with time-scales of pay.

No doubt, the Company has not been paying bonus at the rate of Rs. 20 which it did previously, but it appears that such payment of bonus was possible as the Company had earned profit by an unexpected order for supply of huge quantity of cholera vaccine. As it was a wind-fall which enabled the Company to pay such bonus for one year, its cessation cannot be urged as a ground for introduction of time-scale of pay. Likewise, reduction in the rate of Puja bonus or non-grant of any increment in wages since 1947 can be no ground for the introduction when it does not appear that the financial position of the Company is anything but stable. The Union's claim for introduction of grades and time-scales of pay must accordingly fail.

As however payment of such bonus of Rs. 20 per month ceased and rate of Puja bonus was reduced since the award of Shri Palit causing great hardship to workmen drawing salary up to Rs. 150 per month, I think that it is high time that these workmen for whom the Union is rather solicitous and I think rightly, should get some increment in their existing wages. Having regard to all relevant factors, I allow an increment of Rs. 3 per month. I think, for the maintenance of industrial peace the Company would not grudge the increment. The increment is to take effect from the date the award becomes enforceable.

It is awarded accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Burdwan Cinema, Burdwan (Proprietor Shri Sarat Chandra Ghosh, Burdwan) and its three employees represented by the Burdwan Branch of the Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, Shyamlal Road, Burdwan, referred under Government order No. 1009Dis./D/11L-62/55, dated the 5th March 1955.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI S. C. MUKHERJI, District Judge, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Supravat Mukherji with Shri Haripada Chatterji.

For the Company: Shri J. M. Bose, Pleader with Shri Bimal Chandra Ghosh.

By Government order No. 1009Dis./D/11L-62/55, dated 5th March 1955, the aforesaid dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The issues framed by the Government were the same as the issues framed by this Tribunal and they were as follows:—

(1) Whether there is any justification for retrenchment of Shri Atul Chandra Mali, Shri Aryya Kumar Bose and Shri Sambhu Nath Das. Whether they are entitled to reinstatement and/or any other benefits.

Notice of the aforesaid dispute having been served on the parties, Union filed its written statement on 4th April 1955 and the Company filed its written statement on 18th April 1955.

The case for the Union is that since the employees organised themselves in July or August 1954 for early redress of their grievances, the Company began to terrorise the workers and ultimately dispensed with the services of the petitioners on 22nd October 1954, that two out of the three petitioners happened to be leading members of the Burdwan Branch of the Union, that the discharge was wholly unjustified and arbitrary and against all principles of social justice, and that it was never mentioned that these measures were needed as a sequel to bad business condition.

The Company, on the other hand, stated that the Company was not even aware of the existence of the Union of employees at Burdwan and the Company was compelled for trade reason to discharge the three employees under reference, that since after the discharge Shri Aryya Kumar Bose has been given appointment, that Shri Atul Chandra Mali was offered appointment which he declined and that Shri Sambhu Nath Das could not be given appointment as he did not care to respond to the advertisement issued by the Company.

After the written statement was filed the case was fixed on 8th August 1955 for fixing a date of hearing but on 8th August 1955 the parties appeared and after discussion settled up their grievances before the Court and filed a joint petition of compromise.

AWARD

The petition of compromise filed by the parties contains fair terms which are acceptable to Court. The Tribunal accordingly accepts the compromise and makes the Award in terms of the petition of compromise which will form a part of the award.

S. C. MUKHERJI,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

The 8th September 1955.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri K. B. Basu, Counsel, Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate, Shri J. C. Bose and Shri K. L. Chatterji, Pleaders of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, instructed and assisted by Shri S. K. Kanwar, Senior Personnel Officer of the Company, and Shri S. N. Chatterji of the Company.

Present for the workers: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate and Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, instructed by Shri Chandrashekhar Mookerji on behalf of the workers.

1. By Government Order No. 1724Dis./D/10L-31(A)/53, dated the 12th May 1953, the aforesaid dispute had been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, under the section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), for adjudication. Subsequently the Tribunal received three other corrigenda in connection with this reference, viz., corrigenda No. 2285Dis./D/10L-31(A)/53, dated the 25th June 1953, No. 4764Dis./D/10L-31(A)/53, dated the 15th December 1953 and the No. 327Dis./D/10L-31(A)/53, dated the 30th January 1954.

2. The reference was received here on 20th May 1953. After usual notices and after many adjournments, the written statement was filed on behalf of the Burn Mazdoor Union on 25th January 1954. The Company filed its writen objection on 6th March 1954. Fifteen other workmen filed another written statement on 19th April 1954. The case was taken up for hearing on 28th December 1954, and the hearing continued till 11th January 1955 when the evidence was concluded. The argument was commenced on 7th July 1955 and it continued on 8th July 1955. It was concluded on 14th July 1955. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the Order of Reference stand as follows:—

(1) Whether the demand of workers of the Hot Mills (Sheet Mills Section) of the Indian Iron & Steel, Co., Ltd., for 18 shifts instead of 17 shifts in three weeks is justified? If not, what should be the number of shifts?

(2) Whether the workers of the Hot Mills (Sheet Mills Section) had any justification to resort to and continue slow down over grievances regarding the number of shifts and two other demands? If not, what action the Management may justifiably take to prevent this?

(3) Whether the Management has been justified in dismissing five workers on 4th April 1953 and discharging about 300 workers later on. What redress, if any, are they entitled to?

(4) Revision of the existing production bonus scheme of the Hot Mills (Sheet Mills Section)

AWARD

4. In the written statement filed by Shri Kali Mukherji, M.L.A., on behalf of five workmen, it is stated that the workers of the Hot Mills put in a claim through their recognised Union some time in the month of March 1951, for revision of bonus, introduction of hot bonus, and six days' work in a week. But when nothing came out of the said demand, in January 1953, the workers of the said Hot Mills formed a Committee of six men as their representatives. These representatives, on the 10th February 1953, requested the General Manager to consider those demands. The said General Manager was not pleased to entertain such claims, and on the 28th March 1953, the Company served a charge-sheet upon four members of the said Committee, and also upon one Pasupati Pandey who had represented the workmen in the matter of an allegation against them that they were responsible for the "slow down" in the Hot Mills since the 19th January 1953. The workmen gave reply to the charge-sheet. But on the 4th April 1953 they were dismissed without any enquiry. So, they claim their reinstatement with compensation. Shri Kali Mukherji, M.L.A., on behalf of other workers of the Hot Mills, in another written statement also pressed for the granting of the said dmands, viz., 18 shifts in three weeks in place of 17 shifts, hot bonus, and revision of the production bonus. Fifteen other workmen in a joint statement reiterated those demands, and also wanted their reinstatement. On the 10th April 1953, they were said to have been discharged along with lots of other workmen, together numbering 300.

The Company has resisted those claims. It has taken specific objection to the representation of the workers concerned by Shri Kali Mukherji, M.L.A. I shall deal with that later on.

Issue No. 1.—It is the contention of the workmen that in a period of three weeks each group works for six days in the A shift, five days in the B shift, and six days in the C shift, i.e., all together seventeen shifts in a period of three consecutive weeks. The workmen are aggrieved so far as the B shift is concerned because it works for five days only. But it is the Company's version that the Management cannot run the work beyond seventeen shifts in a period of three consecutive weeks because curtailment of one shift is absolutely necessary for the maintenance work in the Hot Mills. But to soften the hardship of the workers consequent on the curtailment of one shift, the Management provided that all workmen will work in the B shift by rotation so that no particular workman will suffer any much hardship as compared to others. The workmen contend that at times the Management operates 18 shifts in three weeks. From that they conclude that working of 18 shifts is feasible in three weeks. So, why should it not be undertaken by the Company, they contend. The Management, of course, admits that at times 18 shifts are worked, but it is only done when either some holidays intervene or any urgent work has got to be done. I quote from the deposition of the Sheet Mill Manager, Shri Ramesh Dutta, O. P. W. 3, at page 7.

> "I am quite definite that there was no agreement to work 18 shifts even during the time of late Professor Bari. Even now we are working 18 shifts, i.e., more than 17 shifts. There might be 10 or 12 weeks when more than 17 shifts might be operated in the 52 weeks of a year. If for any reason, viz., for the intervention of holidays or anything, we work less than 17 shifts, then that is made good by working more than 17 shifts in the weeks to come. The note that I have submitted to the General Manager, and also those filed here, state the reason why more than 17 shifts cannot be guaranteed. To my knowledge, Messrs. Tata also do not work more than 17 shifts".

The reasons in details find place in the document No. 4 of the Company's documents. Messrs, Tata's letter is annexed to the affidavit of Shri Sukhamoy Sen, dated 25th January 1955. In the written note before the Tribunal it is stated that in three weeks the Hot Mills operate for seventeen shifts, and are shut down for four shifts, i.e., for a period of 32 hours, which is the minimum period required for routine checking and maintenance including roll changing and heating of rolls. The heating of rolls itself takes approximately 8 hours. If the claim of the workers for extra B shift is conceded, then it will leave only 24 hours in which time the carrying out of necessary repairs would be impossible, according to the Company. So it is clear that the Company runs seventeen shifts in three consecutive weeks not for any grudge against the workers, but in the interest of keeping up efficiency of the machines in the Hot Mills which, I am told, are mostly automatic. Besides, why should not the Company concede 18 shifts if it could so manage, as that would fetch more profit in the hands of the Company by working the extra shift? So, I am satisfied that the claim for this extra shift is more or less misconceived, and can never be granted. Even the biggest concern in India in this line, Messrs. Tata also operate seventeen shifts, and not eighteen shifts, as claimed by the workmen. So I think the demand for eighteen shifts in the present case should be rejected. I award that the present system of seventeen shifts in three weeks should be maintained. The learned Advocate of the workmen argued that if eighteen shifts can be worked in 34 inches and 18 inches Rolling Mills, then why this cannot be done in the Hot Mill Section. This argument, I think, has been well met by the Company by cogent reasoning that the Rolling Mills do not require to be heated prior to their being in operation, while the Hot Mills require to be heated, and that takes nearly eight hours. That accounts for one shift less in the Hot Mills.

Issue No. 2.—This issue is not very happily worded. The grievances of the workmen are said to be with regard to the number of shifts and two other demands. These "two other demands" have not been specified in the Order of Reference, as they should have been. I, however, take that they refer to the claim for hot bonus, and for the revision of the existing bonus scheme. The issue also states that if these grievances are not such as to justify the adoption of slow down tactics, what action the Management could justifiably take to prevent the slow down? According to me, "slow down" can never be justified under any conceivable circumstances. It is a misconduct, as it interferes with and push down the production. It is an insidious process which not only does hamper production, but also acts unfairly to the employer. The workers get pay, and so they are in duty bound to give production. But if they do not give that amount of production which they are normally expected to give, but move slowly and sit idle, then they should not earn wages. To earn wages, and not to give production can never be justified. This issue puts the Tribunal in an awkward position. How can the Tribunal say what action the Company should legitimately take to prevent "slow down"? That is entirely a management affair. The Tribunal may adjudicate upon the propriety of any step taken by the Management, but it can never advise the Management to take any particular step in any particular situation. If it does so, it has to forego the duties of an adjudicator. The Management may, to prevent slow down, adopt conciliatory methods with the workmen to tide over the situation, or it may take drastic action in the shape of a lockout or a mass discharge. But the Tribunal to advise the Management to take any particular step would land it in a most unenviable position. It can never do it. In the present case, however, there can be no question of the Tribunal giving advice to the Management about the propriety of measures it should take to control the slow down, because here the Management had already discharged some of the workmen, and later on resorted to a general lockout. So this portion of the issue, strictly speaking, cannot call for any adjudication.

That since the 3rd week of January 1953 there had been slow down in the Hot Mills, and that the production was thereafter driven down almost to the rock-bottom, has been amply proved by very cogent and convincing evidence. In the other case of the 144 men in the same chain with the present case, many of the workmen have admitted this in their depositions before the Tribunal. Even here, P. W. 2, Md. Isaque, admitted that "the production between January and March 1953 must be less than the production in the previous few months". The Company has shown by means of a graph how the production did steadily and systematically come down from 25.4 tons per shift to 2.9 tons per shift. This occurred between the 24th of January 1953 and the 14th of March 1953 (vide the document No. 7 of the Company's documents, and also its document No. 8). Shri Kanwar in his letter, dated the 27th January 1953 (Company's document No. 9), to the General Secretary of the Union states that "this will confirm further discussion held on the above subject in the Sheet Mill Manager's office this morning, when we pointed out that the Hot Mill workers of all the three shifts were giving only about 50 per cent. of the normal production. The workers have resorted to slow down tactics without any previous notice of any grievances....." P. W. 2 tried to say that the crane got out of order during the months from January to March 1953, and that accounted for the less production. But it is in evidence that only one crane got out of order for some time. Besides, if this was the real cause for less production, would not the workmen say so to the Company when it was calling upon the workmen to give them an assurance of normal production? The Company even discharged some of the workmen just to find a way out of the impasse. But even then, how is it that the workmen should keep mum over this, and would not say that the crane was responsible for the less production the Company was crying about? Was the Company silly enough as not to put the crane in order, but to go to the length of closing down two of its three shifts? Taher Hossain, P.W. 1, attempted to say that in the Furnace Section "slow down" was not possible. But at page 7 of his deposition he was forced to admit that he could regulate the heat in the furnace. If he restricted the heat, according to his own evidence, he could lengthen the process by which a bar could be heated to the proper temperature. So, even if I keep out of account the Company's evidence, viz., that slow down could be done in all sections, I find that the workers themselves could not maintain this position that slow down was not possible by manipulation. So I can safely hold that there was "slow down" between January and March 1953 in the Hot Mills.

Now, what was the justification for the "slow down"? There was nothing. The workers presented their demands only by the end of January 1953 from the Hot Mills. But, as it will appear, on the 18th January 1953 the workmen of the B shift of the Hot Mill Section went on strike without any notice. Now, this Company has been declared a Public Utility Concern ever since 1951. So this strike of the 18th January was illegal on the very face of it being without notice. On the 29th January 1953, the demands were presented to the Company. Immediately the Management pointed out that such demands should come through proper channel. If the demands were of comprehensive nature affecting the entire body of workmen of that section, it could not be presented through individuals. It must come through the Union. If again, it was the grievance of some individuals, then it should be placed before the Works Committee. That was the accepted procedure reached by an agreement previously between the Management and the workers. But the workmen were not listening to that advice Even on the 18th February 1953, the Union exhorted the workmen to abandon the "slow down". It told them that it had already taken up the matter of revision of the bonus scheme with the Management, and that discussions were in progress on the subject. But to this the workmen would not listen. They indulged in the slow down with greater vigour with the result that the Company was forced to close down two shifts out of the three in the Hot Mills Section on the 10th March 1953. From the 7th April 1953, the Company ran a special shift with the aid of volunteers. The position of the Company during that period can very well be imagined. The Hot Mills constitute a section of the Works where the furnace cannot be put on and put out at a moment's notice. It is a slow and expensive process. Once it cools down, it will require several days to heat it again. So the Company could not totally close down the Hot Mills. The workmen knew that the Company was put into a tight corner. That is why they did not listen to the counsels of the Union and the Management. Even the Labour Commissioner intervened on the 18th March 1953. He met the workers and asked them to give up the "slow down", but to no effect. The Company then took disciplinary action. But that also did not produce any tangible result. Next, the Company issued a notice on the 8th April 1953, calling upon the workmen to express their willingness to resume work for normal production. But no such assurance was forthcoming. On the 11th April 1953, the "slow down" spread to other sections of the Sheet Mill, and a "stay in strike" was staged by 765 workers which continued till the 20th April 1953. On the 24th April 1953, Taher Hossain on behalf of the Action Committee, gave an ultimatum of 24 hours, and on the 27th April next there was a strike for 22 hours. Thereafter the State Government intervened. Section 144, Cr. P. C., was promulgated, and the area of the Works was declared as protected place. From the above sequence of events it will appear how the workmen under the guidance of some interested men had resorted to this slow down to bring the Company down to its knees. Not that they were very eager or keen for having their demads settled because, as I have shown, they had started the strike and the slow down tactics even before the demands were actually placed before the Company. It is clear that they were itching for a fight with the Company by way of a trial of strength. It may be pertinent here to consider why this hostile attitude was taken up by the workmen. As I find from the evidence, these workmen had certain grievance against the Union because of its suspected alliance with the Company. But I find that such suspicion was unfounded because it will be seen from the evidence that the matters of gratuity and provident fund were settled through the help of this Union, nay, even the bonus scheme was also taken up by the Union, and discussions on the subject were in progress. But if this Union had bartered away the interest of the workmen in favour of the Company, the workmen could very well set up another Union, and place their demands through that Union. Instead of going that way, to resort to "slow down" and strike is just what should be condemned by every right-thinking man, and certainly by the Tribunal. So I find that the workers of the Hot Mills had absolutely no justification to resort to "slow down" and continue the same. Their grievances were not genuine, and never such as would call for such a drastic remedy bordering on misconduct, if not a misconduct in itself. But about the action that the Management should take to prevent this, I have already made my comments. I do not add any. So the issue is disposed of.

Issue No. 3.—I have already discussed under what circumstances these five men in question were given charge-sheets. Admittedly, they formed the Action Committee. The Action Committee was responsible for the "slow down" movement. It is in evidence that these workmen addressed public meetings held under the auspices of the Action Committee. I can never believe that the speeches delivered in those meetings were calling upon the workers to be law-abiding and to maintain discipline. In the context of the circumstances, I accept the evidence of the Company's witnesses that inflammatory speeches were delivered by these leaders in those open meetings undermining discipline and encouraging the workers to continue the "slow down." I quote the evidence of O. P. W. 2, Hajara Singh in this respect at page 2 of his deposition. "Pasupati said that they should not worry for the charge-sheets, and if the Company did take any action against any of them, then all the chimneys of the workshop would be closed down". I need not refer to other evidence in this respect. It is the contention of the learned Advocate of the workmen that the charge-sheets against them were vague. But I find in those charge-sheets definite allegation of their active participation in the "slow down" strike in the Hot Mills since the 19th January 1953. That these people were active members of the Action Committee could not be disputed. That they delivered speeches encouraging continuance of the slow down has been amply proved by evidence. Similarly the other charge mentioned against them that they were inciting the workers to continue the slow down is also proved. The learned Advocate then suggested strongly that these five people rather attempted to have a peaceful and legitimate settlement of the grievances of the workmen. Of course, they made some attempts to approach the Management in this respect. But how could the Management listen to them separately when the accepted procedure was to come through the Union? Besides, there is some reason to justify the Management's conduct. If different groups of people come saying that they are workmen's representatives, in spite of there being a Union, then no dispute can ever be settled. It may very well happen that there may not be any such dispute they press for, or that they may not have any locus standi to represent the cause of the workmen. The other portion of the charge-sheet is rather verbose and, of course, does not make out any specific allegation. At all events, I am satisfied that the charges in those charge-shets have been brought home to these five persons by convincing evidence, so far as slow down and undermining discipline, etc., are concerned. In such circumstances, if the Management has dismissed them, such dismissal should be maintained. It is again said that there was no enquiry after the answer to the charge-sheets by the workers. The Company shows that there was an enquiry, but these men were not present in the enquiry. The evidence was taken in camera for safety. That, of course, takes away the evidentiary value of such an enquiry. But the matter has now been placed before the Tribunal, and evidence has been taken. Only Taher Hossain has given evidence. The other accused persons did not dare give any evidence here. So I uphold the order of dismissal regarding these five workers, viz., Sarvasri Bhatkhande, Taher Hossain, Ferozuddin, Pashupati Pande and Audh Bihari Misra. I am told that the last man has since been murdered.

Regarding the discharge of 300 workers, there is no schedule or Annexure enclosed to the Order of Reference. So the Company is justfiied in saying that the Tribunal is not competent to grant any relief in such cases. On the other hand, the Company contends that some people were discharged, but they have been mostly taken back. There is no dispute regarding them. Shri Kali Mookerji, M.L.A., has come up to say that he represents the case of those 300 workmen. But the Order of Reference, even after receipt of serveral corrigenda in this respect from Government, clearly shows that Shri Mookherji is competent to represent only the case of the above five dismissed workmen, and none else. He is not an office bearer of the Union in this Company. Neither is he an office bearer of any Federation of Unions to which the Union here is affiliated. So under section 36(1) of the Act, he is not competent to represent the present case of 300 workmen before the Tribunal. So, I am inclined to accept the contention of the Company that there is no dispute at the preesnt moment between the Company and these 300 workmen. Then again some 15 workmen in a written statement came up before the Tribunal with their individual cases saying that they were discharged by the Company. But unless they can squeeze themselves among the above 300 workers, they have no case. They could not give any evidence on this score. So I am unable to consider their case and give them any relief. In the result none of these persons is entitled to any relief in my hand. I uphold the dismissal of the five workers mentioned above. I also deny relief to the 300 workers, firstly, because they could not be ascertained, and secondly because the 15 men who had come up with their cases could not prove themselves as included in the 300 workers mentioned.

Issue No. 4.—About this Production Bonus Scheme in the Hot Mills, I have already got in evidence that the Union has taken it up with the Company and discussions are in progress. In that view of the matter, I am reluctant to give any finding on this issue, lest I may disturb the said negotiation in progress. Prima facie, looking at the matter, I do not find any cause for disturbing the existing bonus scheme. I got a chart from the workmen just to show what revision they are wanting. The Bonus Scheme is Ext. 4. It appears that in the Finishing Mill no bonus is given for an average production of less than 18 tons per shift in each individual Finishing Mill. Regarding the Roughing Mill, no bonus is payable for an average production of less than 40 tons per shift per mill of roughed sheets from each individual mill. The workmen have submitted a document, Ext. 5, in which they have given suggestions how the scheme may be revised. In the Finishing Mills, the workers want that the bonus should be started from 12 tons per shift per mill, and it will be rising by 4 tons increase in stages. Regarding the Roughing Mills, in place of 40 tons under the present scheme the workmen want it to be put down to 30 tons. But they should carry an increase of 8 tons as under the present scheme. So, to understand the view point of the workmen it will appear that they want the Bonus Scheme revised by putting down the figure for earning bonus to less than what is now under the scheme. Otherwise there is no difference between the stages of increase proportionate to the increase in production. Now the point before me is why should the minimum amount of production to earn bonus be reduced than what at present prevails? Hardly any satisfactory reason could be given in support of this. The only reason that was given is that these workmen in the Hot Mills have to work under very trying conditions. The heat is intense there. The total earning of bonus here is less than in other sections. How, to ameliorate the trying condition here, the Company has introduced the "double manning" system by giving relief to the workmen at every half an hour. Of course, in every Hot Mill, working in high heat is inevitable. But for that to give either a special Hot Bonus or revise the Production Bonus Scheme, particularly in favour of them, cannot be justifiably maintained. Besides, if the Bonus Scheme is revised in the Hot Mills in favour of the workers there, that will certainly create discontent in other sections. The Tribunal will then be responsible for creating discontent among other sections where there is none at present. So it will be better to leave this matter in the hands of the Management and the Union. Considering all the above aspects of the matter, I do not grant any revision of the existing Production Bonus Scheme in the Hot Mills (Sheet Mill Section) at the present moment. The issue is thus answered without any direction.

ORDER.

No. 4401Dis./D/11L-327/54.—15th September 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4899Dis./-D/11L-327/54, dated the 26th October 1954, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Gramophone Co., Ltd., 33, Jessore Road, Dum Dum and their workmen represented by Gramophone Workers' Welfare Union, 82, Shambazar Street, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal one Shri Sudhir Naskar, an employee of the said Company, filed a complaint against the said Company before the said Tribunal alleging that the said Company had altered, to the prejudice of the said employee the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its interim award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said interim award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by one Sudhir Naskar, C/o. The Gramophone Workers' Welfare Union, 82 Shyambazar Street, Calcutta, an employee of the Gramophone Co., Ltd., 33 Jessore Road, Dum Dum, against the aforesaid Company.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the worker: Shri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel.

1. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 4899Dis./D/11L-327/54, dated the 26th October 1954.

INTERIM AWARD

2. The employee in the present case relies on the case of the Bank of Jaipur, Ltd., reported in the L.A.C., 1954, page 363. On the strength of that decision he wants to contend that as the permission under section 33 of the Act, sought for by the Company, will be prospective, and not retrospective, he will get full wages for the period of his suspension. So under section 33A of the Act he will get an order to that effect. He wants now an interim relief by way of payment of wages either in full or in part thereof. The Company resists the claim on two grounds. Firstly, it contends that no interim award can be passed in a case under section 33 because no "award" is contemplated there. There the matter relates only to granting or refusal of permission for dismissal of workmen. Secondly, regarding the case under section 33A, the learned Advocate argues, that the Tribunal will, of course, pass an award, but such an award will be restricted only to the subject-matter mentioned in section 33 of the Act, viz., either alteration of the service condition or discharge or dismissal or punishment of the workmen. Even there, there is no scope for monetary compensation. Necessarily, therefore, there is no scope for an "interim award" providing a moiety of monetary relief.

I find a good deal of substance in this contention of the Company There is no scope for any award, and as a matter of that an interim award, in the case under section 33 of the Act. The Tribunal only grants or refuses the permission sought for. It cannot impose any condition. Of course, the permission must be prospective, as has been held in the above decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of the Bank of Jaipur, Ltd. The Tribunal grants no retrospective relief also. So in the case under section 33 of the Act, the Tribunal cannot grant wages for the period of suspension. Then in the case under section 33A, of course, it is up to the Tribunal to set aside the order of suspension and grant the man full wages. But that is done where the man has been illegally dismissed. But here the Company seeks the permission of the Tribunal to dismiss the man, and the "dismissal" has not occurred. In the present case under section 33A the Tribunal can grant relief only if it treats the suspension as a punishment in itself. That requires decision of the case. So there is no question of granting interim relief in such a contingency. So the prayer for interim relief fails both in the case under section 33 as well as under section 33A of the Act. Thus the petition stands rejected. No order for costs.

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the workers: Shri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel.

1. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 4899Dis./D/11L-327/54, dated the 26th October 1954.

AWARD.

2. It is the contention of the petitioners that they were placed under suspension since January 15, 1955, under false charges. Against this act of the Company the petitioners have filed a petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended. The Company has filed a counter application under section 33 of the Act seeking permission of the Tribunal to dismiss the petitioners in question.

The petitioners contend that as the permission sought for by the Company, even if granted by the Tribunal, is bound to be prospective in its effect, as per the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of the Bank of Jaipur, Ltd., reported in the A.L.C., 1954, page 363. They will thus be entitled to claim full wages for the period of suspension up to the date of order giving such permission. By the present petition they claim full wages for the period of suspension.

The Company resists the claim on the ground that under the Company's Standing Orders, if these petitioners are ultimately dismissed, they will get no pay during the period under suspension. If, of course, the permission sought for in the petition under section 33 of the Act is refused, then they will get wages for the suspension period. But the learned Advocate of the Company takes his legal stand on the ground that in a case under section 33 the Tribunal is not competent to give any award. So the question of "interim award" does not arise in that case. In the case under section 33A of the Act the Tribunal, of course, passes award. But in that award only matters referred to in section 33 of the Act can be provided for. Such matters do not entail granting of monetary claim. So interim relief in the shape of monetary amount can never be granted even in the case under section 33A of the Act. Considering the matter carefully I am inclined to accept the Company's argument on the point of law. There can be no doubt that no award is passed under section 33 of the Act. So the question of "interim award" can never arise in that case. In the case under section 33A, the Tribunal no doubt treats the complaint as a reference, and adjudicates upon it, and passes its award. But the point is, what is the scope of such an award? If we look to the wording of the section 33A we are bound to say that the scope is more or less limited. The subject-matter which should find place in the complaint of the aggrieved workmen, must be limited to matters mentioned in section 33(a) and (b) only. So, where without permission of the Tribunal, before whom the main case is pending, any employer either alters the service condition of the workmen concerned, or discharges or punishes them, whether by dismissal or otherwise, the matter can be placed for redress before the Tribunal under section 33A in the shape of a complaint. So the complaint must be limited to matters dealing with discharge or punishment of workmen, or alteration of their service condition, and nothing else. As it can be seen, such matters do not entail much monetary relief, if at all. So the interim award or relief which entails giving only a moiety of the relief, to be given under the subsequent award cannot be given by the Tribunal. So, in the case under section 33A, there being no monetary claim, no moiety by way of interim relief can be given. So, whether under section 33 or 33A, no interim award or relief can be granted, and as such the petition is rejected. No order for costs.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The original reference out of which this present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government Order Nos. 3042Dis./D/4L-3/54, dated the 19th June 1954 and 2360Dis./D/4L-6(B)/55, dated the 28th May 1955.

AWARD.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act made by seven employees of Messrs. India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd.

The applicants were retired from service before they attained the age of 60. Taking their stand on an Award of the Tribunal wherein retiring age was fixed at 60, the applicants have prayed for reinstatement with ancillary reliefs in the form of gratuity, leave pay and compensation.

Contesting the application made by the employees, the Company raised one point inter alia that the application was not maintainable inasmuch as the employees were not concerned in the dispute which was the subject of the reference mentioned above.

Appearance:

For the Company: Shri N. K. Raha, Pleader of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Employees: Shri N. M. Dasgupta, Advocate.

When the matter was taken up for hearing the petitioners filed an application for permission to withdraw the case in the following words:—

> "It appears from the written statement of the Opposite Party that the petitioners are not concerned in the main dispute. As such the petitioners beg leave to withdraw this application with permission to proceed legally for their reliefs."

It is conceded that the application is not maintainable for the reason that the petitioners are not concerned in the dispute. The application must hence fail.

The Opposite Party prayed for cost but I am not inclined to grant the prayer.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI J. N. MAITRA, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Advisor, Indian Engineering Association, instructed by Shri K. C. Sen.

AWARD.

1. By order No. 4093Dis./D/10L-147/54, dated the 25th August 1954, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an industrial dispute between Bridge & Roof Co. (India), Ltd., Howrah, represented by Managing Agents, Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., 21, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, and their employees represented by Bridge & Roof Employees' Union, 14, Ramlal Mukherjee Lane, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 11th January 1955. The parties were thereafter directed to file list of documents. Hearing of the dispute was concluded on 6th August 1955 and award was reserved.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the Order of Reference is as follows:—

(1) Dearness Allowance.

4. Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. (India), Ltd., paid dearness allowance at rates laid down by Bengal Chamber of Commerce up to July 1948, the latest rate being 70 per cent. of the basic salary on the first hundred rupees, 35 per cent. on the next one hundred rupees and 17½ per cent. on the remainder for the general and clerical staff and flat rate of Rs. 43 per month for the subordinate staff—these rates being based on the then cost of living index group of 311-32 as per Company's notice, dated 17th June 1948. Since then though there has been rise in the costs of living index group for which higher rates of dearness allowance are admissible under the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce, yet the Company stuck to the aforesaid rates of dearness allowance in respect of the general clerical and subordinate staff employed in its factory. Hence the dispute—the aforesaid categories of staff demanding higher rates of dearness allowance as admissible under the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, while the Company refusing to go beyond the aforesaid rates of dearness allowance which they had paid for July 1948.

DECISION.

The parties have not adduced any oral evidence. They rely on the annexures to their respective written statements and some documents filed during hearing which were marked Exts. 1 to 12 for the Union and Exts. A to J for the Company.

To understand the present dispute, it is necessary to state certain facts leading to the same as are either admitted or established in evidence. Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. (India), Ltd., Howrah (hereafter called the "Company"), was formed in 1920 (vide paragraph 3 of the Union's written statement). It is an engineering concern doing structural and civil engineering works. Its workshop is situated at present at 422/1, Grand Trunk Road, Howrah. Besides doing fabrication of structural steel work, the Company started building construction work in 1946 and wagon manufacturing from March 1954.

The Company employs about 750 workmen including the general staff, clerical staff and the subordinate staff. The term "general staff" has been used by the Union to mean and include those who do both clerical work and manual work.

The three concerns—(1) Indian Galvanizing Co. (1926), Ltd., (2) British India Electric Construction Co., Ltd., and (3) Bridge & Roof Co. (India), Ltd.,—all engaged in engineering works, have been under the management of Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., 21, Netaji Subhas Road. The said Managing Agents have the power of appointing staff of the aforesaid three companies and fixing their remuneration.

The aforesaid three Companies and their workmen were parties both to First and Second Engineering Tribunals. Formerly these Companies had no fixed wage scale. In December 1946 the Managing Agents decided to reorganise the staff and on 14th January 1947 introduced with retrospective effect from the 1st January 1947 new grades and scales of wages for them.

These Companies were at first paying Rs. 3 in cash as dearness allowance over and above the basic wage. Then the said amount of dearness allowance was gradually increased to reach ultimately Rs. 20 towards the beginning of the year 1947. The Companies were also at that time paying some food concessions over and above the aforesaid cash allowance.

In February 1947 the Managing Agents replaced these and introduced scheme of dearness allowance linked to the middle class cost of living index on the line of the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. This was made applicable at first to the clerical and subordinate staff of the companies employed both at the Head Office and at the Factory (vide Exts. 2, 3 and 4 so far present Company is concerned). Subsequently, in May 1947 this was extended to general staff of the Companies (vide Ext. 5 relating to present Company).

The Companies went on paying dearness allowance at the rates laid down by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the general clerical and subordinate staff employed both at the Head Office and at the Factory up to July 1948, the latest rate being 70 per cent. of the basic salary on the first hundred rupees, 35 per cent. on the next one hundred rupees and 17½ per cent. on the remainder for the general and clerical staff and flat rate of Rs. 43 per month for subordinate staff—these rates being based on the then cost of living index group of 311-32 as per Companies' notice, dated 17th June 1948.

In the meantime the award of the First Engineering Tribunal appointed in October 1947, to which the Companies and their workmen were among other parties, was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 3rd July 1948. The said Tribunal noticed the fact that many of the Engineering concerns who were members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce were paying dearness allowance to their employees according to the scales of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Though the said Tribunal did not accede to the general claim of the workmen of all the Engineering concerns who were parties to the reference for dearness allowance at the scales of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, it however protected the existing advantages and benefits to the workmen by making two reservations as below:—

(1) That where the existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance in a particular firm was higher than the minimum basic wage plus dearness allowance as fixed by the award the total emoluments were not to be adversely affected, the total being distributed between basic wages and dearness allowance according to the fixed rate laid down by the Tribunal.

(2) That the award was not to affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by the award unless an express provision has been made in the award concerning such advantage.

The Managing Agents of the Companies, it appears, interpreted the award of the First Engineering Tribunal to mean that it intended to keep the rate of dearness allowance namely, 70 per cent. of the pay over first hundred and 35 per cent. over next one hundred rupees, etc., as it was on the date of the award, irrespective of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme and rise in the price index number with which the workmen concerned claimed that it was linked up. The Managing Agents accordingly issued a confidential circular on 21st July 1948 saying that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of dearness allowance did not apply to the workmen at works and therefore no further increase in the dearness allowance should be paid (vide Ext. C).

Accordingly shortly after the publication of the First Engineering Tribunal award, the Companies withheld to pay from August 1948 dearness allowance at increased rates beyond the cost of living index group of 311-32 as provided in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scheme but continued to pay dearness allowance to the workmen of the factory at the old rates as paid for July 1948, which was lower than the one admissible under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme with increase in costs of living, but higher than what had been fixed at first by the First Engineering Tribunal and subsequently by the Second Engineering Tribunal.

Consequent upon this Iron Factory Workers' Union (now known as Engineering Mazdoor Sabha) representing the office staff of the present Company wrote to the Management on 10th February 1949 why the office staff was being paid dearness allowance at the rate of 70 per cent. of their pay while in other departments of the same Management, the staffs of the same category were being paid 80 per cent. This it did apparently by way of protesting against the differential treatment in paying dearness allowance from August 1948 since when the Company continued to pay higher dearness allowance as admissible under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme linked with cost of living index for the staff at the Head Office, while denying the same to the staff at the factory (vide Ext. A). On 14th February 1949, the Company replied to the above letter explaining under what circumstances it stuck to payment of dearness allowance from August 1948 corresponding to the rate at which it had been paid in July 1948 to the workmen of above three categories at the factory (vide Exts. 7 and B).

In the meantime the Union on behalf of the workmen employed by Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd. (another concern under the same Managing Agency), questioned the implementation of 1948 award in the matter of dearness allowance against the Managing Agents before another Tribunal and the said Tribunal by its award, dated 29th May 1950, held that the claim for the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of dearness allowance did not arise as the workmen concerned were employees of the Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd., and not of their Managing Agents.

Then the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal was published on 31st August 1950, fixing higher rates of dearness allowance than those in the award of the First Engineering Tribunal. The second award also made reservation as follows:—

> "Where a more liberal policy is already being pursued as regards dearness allowance, we shall direct that the existing scale of dearness allowance, whether based on the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme or anything else, shall not be reduced."

After the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal and after having unsuccessfully raised dispute with the Managing Agents as aforesaid, the workmen of the Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd., raised a dispute this time with the Company which was ultimately referred on 6th February 1951 to the Tribunal presided over by Shri S. K. Niyogi for adjudication.

The said Tribunal of Shri S. K. Niyogi made its award on 27th July 1951, turning down claim of the workmen for Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale of dearness allowance. The award was published on 23rd August 1951.

An appeal was filed against the said award. The appeal was decided on 16th December 1952. It was reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 93. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal reversed the award of Shri Niyogi regarding dearness allowance and awarded with retrospective effect from August 1948, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale of dearness allowance to the clerks at the factory holding that it was an existing advantage as contemplated under reservation No. 2 of the First Tribunal's award of 1948.

On the basis of the decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the above case, the workmen of this Company as also of British India Electric Construction Co., Ltd., revived their old claim with regard to dearness allowance as they had same dispute as that of the workmen of the Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd., based on similar set of facts. Thus on 7th July 1953, workmen Shib Chandra Chatterjee and others of this Company wrote to the Managing Agents demanding payment of dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme when workmen of the Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd., under the same Management was awarded the same (vide Ext. J). In reply the Company wrote on 9th July 1953, forwarding copy of a letter, dated 8th July 1953, from the Chief Personnel Officer, Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. [vide Exts. 9 and 9(a)] to those workmen. It was stated that they were going to terminate the award in respect of Indian Galvanizing Co., Ltd., after payment of arrears and obtain a fresh reference regarding the matter of dearness allowance and if on the fresh reference, the Tribunal held that dearness allowance was to be paid according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme, the Company [Bridge & Roof Co. (India), Ltd.] would be asked to pay its clerical staff dearness allowance at such rate as awarded therein with effect from 1948. The above letter of the Chief Personnel Officer, dated 8th July 1953, was subsequently withdrawn by the Management on the 12th May 1954 (vide Ext. H).

On 22nd July 1953 the workmen of this Company wrote to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, demanding payment of dearness allowance according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale with effect from August 1948 on the analogy of Indian Galvanizing Company's staff and seeking his intervention in the matter [vide Ext. 7(a)].

On 10th October 1953, Bridge & Roof Employees' Union (hereafter called the "Union") comprising workmen of the general staff, clerical staff and subordinate staff was registered (vide paragraph 28 of the Union's written statement). On 8th January 1954 the said Union wrote to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, forwarding a charter of demands including one for payment of dearness allowance according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. Conciliation proceedings followed on such presentation of charter of demands and joint conference was held but nothing materialised. On 12th May 1954 the Managing Agents withdrew their offer as contained in the letter of the Chief Personnel and Welfare Officer, dated 8th July 1953 (vide Ext. H). The Union replied to it on the 25th June 1954, saying that the question of withdrawal did not arise then (vide Ext. 12).

In these circumstances as conciliation failed, the Government made the present reference on the 25th August 1954, for adjudication of the question of dearness allowance.

Behind this background Bridge & Roof Employees' Union, representing general staff, clerical staff and subordinate staff, contended that the aforesaid categories of workmen of the factory were eligible to be paid from August 1948, dearness allowance on the line of Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale linked to the cost of living index as condition of service and protected by the awards of the Engineering Tribunals. The Company resisted such claim.

On giving careful consideration to the arguments advanced on either side, I find nothing to resist the claim of the Union for Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale of dearness allowance. The contentions put forth on behalf of the Company are none new and these were considered and thoroughly discussed in my previous award in the case of British India Electric Construction Co., Ltd., and their clerical staff, general staff and subordinate staff as published in the Calcutta Gazette on 29th July 1954. For the sake of brevity, I do not recapitulate the reasons. These would be found in my award as above and I stick to them. I am, therefore, of opinion that Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale of dearness allowance was given to these categories of workmen as service condition like the employees in the other two sister concerns and was protected by the award of the Engineering Tribunal. The workmen to whom it was a service condition are therefore entitled to be paid dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme linked to the rise in the cost of living index.

Regarding the question to whom it was a service condition, there is no dispute between the parties that clerical and subordinate staff appointed prior to the award of the first Engineering Tribunal would come within the category. Regarding the general staff, the parties are at variance. The "general staff" as defined by the Company in Annexure A4 to its written statement are quite wide enough to include employees of supervisory staff. The supervisory staff cannot obviously come within the scope of the reference. The Union, however, restricted the claim in this respect only to those out of the general staff who would come within the meaning of "workmen" as defined in the Act. The Company can have no valid objection to it. Apparently, some of the men out of this category do manual and clerical work as distinct from those of supervisory staff. These employees would be workmen within the meaning of the Act and as such, such of them would be entitled to the benefit.

Then regarding the claim for payment of dearness allowance to these categories of workmen who joined service since August 1948, it may be noted that their claim can be upheld only if they were appointed on the same terms and conditions as for the employees appointed prior to the award of the first Engineering Tribunal. In the present case the evidence adduced on either side, Exts. D to G and Exts. 10 to 12, is not sufficient to decide the point conclusively either way. I, therefore, leave the matter as that with the remark that if these categories of workmen joining since August 1948 were employed on identical terms as those of same categories appointed prior to the award of the first Engineering Tribunal, they would get the benefit and not otherwise.

Lastly, regarding arrears of dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale being the amount in excess of what had been paid, the Union claimed the same from August 1948. It relied primarily on the assurance given in the letter, dated 8th July 1953, of the Chief Personnel Officer of the Managing Agents [Ext. 9(a)] in this respect, besides decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Indian Galvanizing Company, Ltd., and their workmen. Apart from the fact that the above letter, Ext. 9(a), was withdrawn subsequently by the Management by Ext. H, an offer to mature into an agreement has to be accepted by the other side without reservation and the terms of the offer have to be fulfilled fully. In the present case, the assurance for payment from August 1948 was conditional on the results of the award of the new Tribunal to be set up after termination of the award relating to the case of Indian Galvanizing Company, Limited, and their workmen. Before this latter event happened, the workmen of this Company came with the present claim. Thus having not fulfilled the terms of the offer, the workmen cannot invoke the same to their aid. They cannot have both ways to eat the cake and have it at the same time. Regarding decision in the case of Indian Galvanizing Company, Limited, and their workmen, each case has to be judged on its own facts and circumstances. In the case of Indian Galvanizing Company, Limited, the workmen were vigilant and diligent throughout and had the matter brought to issue at the earliest opportunity. None of these can, therefore, be of help to the workmen.

On the other hand, in the present case it appears, the dispute was raised for the first time on 7th July 1953. Besides in the larger interest of the employer and the employees themselves, I do not think that the arrears should be allowed in full in the present case. If the additional burden of the entire arrear dues be now imposed on the Company, it will be too heavy for the Company to bear. The dearness allowance which the workmen had on the contrary received from August 1948, though lower than the one admissible under Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale was higher than the one fixed not only under the first award but also under the second award of Major Engineering Tribunals and was thus more than what prevailed in most of the engineering concerns. So, having regard to all the facts and circumstances, I think that it will be fair and equitable if the arrears are allowed from 7th July 1953 when the workmen for the first time raised dispute about it formally. The Company is directed to pay such arrears of dearness allowance from 7th July 1953 to 31st August 1955 according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale, being the excess over what had already been paid during the period within two months from the date the award becomes enforceable. The Company is further directed to pay dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale from September 1955 onwards until the operation of the award comes to an end or until Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme of dearness allowance is terminated according to law.

It is awarded accordingly.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2464-Ind.—16th September 1955.—In pursuance of sub-section (3) of section 38 of the State Financial Corporation Act, 1951 (LXIII of 1951), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish copies of the statement of assets and liabilities of the West Bengal Financial Corporation as at the close of the financial year ending on the 31st March 1955 together with the profit and loss account for the year, the auditors report and a report of the working of the said Corporation during that year furnished by it under the said sub-section.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE WEST BENGAL FINANCIAL CORPORATION FOR THE PERIOD ENDED THE 31ST MARCH 1955

Accounts

The Board of Directors present herewith the accounts for the period from the 1st March 1954, the date of the inception of the Corporation, to the 31st March 1955, together with their report on the working of the Corporation during the period covering thirteen months.

After payment of expenses of administration and other charges (including depreciation and preliminary expenses) the net profit amounts to ..			Rs. 1,23,757-1-9
Out of this profit, it is proposed to make the following appropriations :—
(a) provision for income-tax and corporation tax ..	Rs. 60,000
(b) transfor to Reserve Fund to be established in terms of sub-section (1) of section 35 of the State Financial Corporations Act, 1951	Rs. 24,750	Rs.	84,750-0-0
leaving, available for distribution, a balance of		Rs.	39,007-1-9

The Government of West Bengal have, in pursuance of section 6 of the Act, guaranteed a minimum dividend of 3½ per cent. per annum on the share capital of the Corporation. It is proposed to utilise the above amount of Rs. 39,007-1-9 towards payment of the dividend at the rate of 3½ per cent. free of income-tax and request the Government of West Bengal to give subvention for the balance of Rs. 2,13,567-5-3 to make up the deficit.

The Corporation has been established under the State Financial Corporations Act, 1951, with an authorised capital of Rs. 2 crores, divided into 2 lacs fully paid-up shares of Rs. 100 each, out of which 1 lac shares of the value of Rs. 1 crore were issued in the first instance. The shares have been declared to be Trust or Approved securities and are guaranteed as to the repayment of principal by the State Government. The allocation of the shares, as finally determined by the State Government with the approval of the Central Government, is as under :—

(a) the State Government	30,000 shares	Rs.	30,00,000
(b) the Reserve Bank of India	20,000 shares	Rs.	20,00,000
(c) scheduled banks, insurance companies investment trusts, co-operative banks and other financial institutions	45,000 shares	Rs.	45,00,000
(d) parties other than those referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c) above	5,000 shares	Rs.	5,00,000
	1,00,000 shares	Rs.	1,00,00,000

The shares allocated to (a) the State Government, (b) the Reserve Bank of India and (c) the financial institutions, as shown above, were taken up in full; but out of the 5,000 shares reserved for other parties, only 3,230 shares were applied for, although applications were continued to be received, at the suggestion of the State Government, upto the 31st March 1955. These 3,230 shares have been allotted in full and the Government of West Bengal have been requested to subscribe for the remaining 1770 unsubscribed shares in terms of sub-section (5) of section 4 of the Act.

The Board of Directors, as first constituted, under section 10 of the Act, consisted of the following members:—

1.	Shri B. M. Birla	Nominated by the State Government.
2.	Shri N. N. Majumdar
3.	Dr. N. N. Law
4.	Shri D. N. Sen	Nominated by the Reserve Bank of India.
5.	Shri Baldev Pasricha	Nominated by the Industrial Finance Corporation of India.
6.	Sir Dhiren Mitra	Nominated by the State Government under the first proviso read with clause (d) of section 10 of the Act but deemed to be elected for the purpose of the Act.
7.	Shri D. N. Bhattacharjee ..
8.	Shri G. D. Goswami
9.	Sir B. P. Singh Roy	Nominated by the State Government under the first proviso read with clause (e) of section 10 of the Act but deemed to be elected for the purpose of the Act.
10.	Shri H. P. Banerjee	Managing Director.

In accordance with the provisions of section 15 of the Act, the State Government nominated Shri B. M. Birla as the first Chairman of the Board.

On Shri Baldev Pasricha's transfer from Calcutta, the Industrial Finance Corporation of India nominated Shri C. D. Khanna as a Director in his place.

In terms of the second proviso to section 10 of the Act, all the Directors of the Board, other than the Managing Director, retired at the end of the first year. All the five nominated directors were re-nominated by the authorities nominating them; but in regard to the four directors, who were deemed to have been elected, the vacancies remain to be filled up at the annual general meeting.

Under section 18 of the Act, an Executive Committee of the Board was also constituted consisting of—

(1) the Managing Director,

(2) Dr. N. N. Law,

(3) Shri D. N. Sen, and

(4) Sir D. N. Mitra.

Under section 37 of the Act, the Government of West Bengal appointed Shri P. K. Ghosh, Chartered Accountant, of 17, Mangoe Lane, Calcutta, as one of the auditors of the Corporation for the first year and Shri Prafulla Chandra Nandi, M.A. (Cantab.), B.Sc., A.C.A., Chartered Accountant of 6, Hastings Street, Calcutta, was elected as the other auditor for the same period by the shareholders (other than the State Government and the Reserve Bank of India) at a special general meeting held on the 25th March 1955.

It has already been mentioned in this report that the Corporation came into existence thirteen months ago. During the first few months after its establishment, it was mainly engaged in setting up its office, making arrangements for issue of share capital and completing various preliminary work, such as the preparation of its General Regulations, etc. The period under report was, therefore, essentially a period of preparation and organisation.

The bulk of the funds of the Corporation, during this period, was invested in short-term deposits with approved Banks and in Treasury bills: funds employed in loans and advances formed only a small part of the total investments. The rate of interest for loans has been, for the present, fixed at 6 per cent. per annum, in conformity with the prevailing money market conditions. Even when the bulk of its paid-up capital is invested at about 6 per cent. per annum, the Corporation is unlikely to become self-supporting, for, after payment of its administrative and other charges and making provision for income-tax and corporation tax, the balance left would be insufficient for payment of the guaranteed dividend of 3½ per cent. per annum without subvention from the State Government. A representation has, accordingly, been made to the State Government to request the Central Government to grant the Corporation exemption from income-tax and corporation tax for an initial period of at least 5 years.

A request has also been made to the State Government to grant appropriate relief in the matter of stamp duty and registration fee in respect of mortgages, in order to lessen the burden on the concerns, availing themselves of financial accommodation from the Corporation, as objection has generally been taken by the prospective borrowers to pay these and other charges.

The West Bengal Financial Corporation has been set up to provide medium and long-term credits to industrial undertakings in the State of West Bengal by way of supplementing the work of the Industrial Finance Corporation of India. Under the Act, the maximum amount of accommodation that can be given by the West Bengal Financial Corporation to a single industrial concern is 10 per cent. of its paid-up capital, at present Rs. 10 lacs, and the arrangement with the Industrial Finance Corporation of India is that all applications for loans up to Rs. 10 lacs from concerns in West Bengal will be considered by this Corporation and loan applications for amounts exceeding this statutory limit will be considered by the Industrial Finance Corporation of India. It may be necessary to make an exception to this rule where the concern, being a public company, requires a loan of less than this agreed amount but operates in more than one State; for in such cases the Industrial Finance Corporation of India, with its organisation extending over the whole country, will be in a better position than a State Corporation to deal with the proposal. For reasons of practical difficulties, it has also been decided that applications for loans for amounts less than Rs. 25,000 will not ordinarily be entertained by this Corporation, but will be referred to the Directorate of Industries, Government of West Bengal, for disposal; although exceptions may be made to this rule in special cases. Thus small-scale and medium sized industries, if they fulfil other conditions, all come under the purview of this Corporation: at the same time larger units are not excluded altogether.

On completion of the essential preliminary arrangements for receiving loan applications, suitable announcements were made in the local papers and "Information Leaflets", giving the terms and conditions on which loans would be granted by the Corporation, were made available to the prospective borrowers.

During the period under review, 101 applications for loan were received, which are classified industrywise as follows:—

Type of industry.	No. of applications.	Amount involved.
		Rs.
1. Biscuit	2	1,05,000
2. Chemicals	5	15,00,000
3. Cotton Mills	3	18,20,000
4. Cold Storage	1	2,50,000
5. Flour, Rice & Oil Mills ..	6	2,60,000
6. Gas & Electricity	4	6,75,000
7. Glass & Ceramics .. .	5	12,05,000
8. Leather	1	58,000
9. Mining	6	4,86,000
10. Engineering	33	59,61,000
11. Plywood	2	2,30,000
12. Pharmaceuticals	2	8,75,000
13. Rubber Goods	1	3,00,000
14. Wood Screw	2	1,80,000
15. Miscellaneous	28	18,82,000
	101	1,57,87,000

Out of these applications, six were sanctioned, three withdrawn, seventy-four rejected and eighteen were under consideration as at the 31st March 1955.

The loans sanctioned by the Corporation amounted to Rs. 14,50,000, as shown below, and as at the 31st March 1955, the amount actually advanced was Rs. 9,50,000:—

Type of industry.	No. of units.	Amount sanctioned.
		Rs.
1. Rubber Goods	1	1,50,000
2. Sheet Glass	1	8,00,000
3. Engineering	3	1,25,000
4. Pharmaceuticals	1	3,75,000
	6	14,50,000

An organised system of industrial banking must demand a minimum standard of working efficiency and book keeping system on the part of the borrowers and it is unfortunate that the Corporation's experience in this regard has been very disappointing. Most of the applicants were proprietary or partnership firms and it has been impossible, in many instances, to ascertain the exact financial position of the applicants from the accounts kept by them. Moreover, considerable reluctance is shown by a majority of them to disclose full facts of their affairs or to take the Corporation into their confidence. Only a few well managed concerns were able to produce satisfactory records in respect of land, buildings and machinery offered as security.

The types of industrial concerns, which are eligible for financial accommodation, have been defined in the Act: the pattern of financing, as specified therein, is considered to be sufficiently wide for practical working purposes. It is not intended that the Corporation should grant advances for venture capital.

An industrial concern may require borrowing facilities either against its block assets or its stock-in-trade or against both. Granting of advances solely against stock-in-trade, which is the normal function of commercial banks, is outside the scope of activities of a Financial Corporation. This Corporation cannot have the machinery for conducting business on this line and applications for such advances cannot be entertained. The main function of the Corporation would be to grant advances against block assets comprising land, building, plant and machinery whether for capital expenditure or for working capital, the Corporation having decided to give loan for working capital also in deserving cases. Applications received, however, show that the requirement of working capital far exceeds that for block assets.

It is also evident from these applications that the majority of the prospective borrowers do not possess any land of their own. The work is carried on either in rented premises or structures erected on leasehold land. Land held on short-term lease is often of not much value as security for an advance nor are structures constructed thereon by the lessee. The security value of an asset must be assessed at the value it may fetch if sold and not the amount expended upon it. In the case of plant and machinery installed in rented premises, or in structures erected on leasehold land, the plant and machinery practically constitute the only saleable security. This, from a lender's point of view, is not a very satisfactory form of security because it is a fast depreciating asset and not readily saleable and, except in the case of limited companies, there are no means of ascertaining whether it is free from any prior charge or not, nor can any reasonable precautions be taken to ensure that a further charge is not created. It is also often the case—particularly with the smaller concerns—that the machinery offered as security are easily removable and advances thereagainst carry the risk of lending money against movable assets without taking the physical possession thereof. It is highly desirable that the security for a long-term advance should be of a reasonably lasting value: this will be the case only where land and buildings of sufficient value are included in the assets mortgaged to the Corporation.

It has to be borne in mind that unlike loans granted by commercial banks, which are automatically liquidated on the sale of the stocks taken as security for the loan, the Corporation will have to depend for the repayment of its loans mainly on the profits that the borrowing concern may be able to make over a number of years. The profit earning capacity of the concern, therefore, requires to be carefully assessed but this is dependent on many uncertain factors and cannot, therefore, be predicted with any degree of accuracy.

It is not possible for the Corporation to engage any technical staff and the Corporation has, therefore, to rely for the necessary technical advice on outside agencies. The non-availability of adequate facilities for technical investigation of the loan applications is a serious handicap from which the Corporation suffers at present. It is not possible for each Corporation to build up its own separate technical organisation, in view of the large variety of technical problems that have to be examined. It was one of the suggestions of the International Planning Team (Ford Foundation) on small industry in India that "a competent field organisation be set up to process loan applications from small industry within the framework of the State Directorate of Industries and this organisation may act as an agent of the State Financial Corporations". We have recommended this suggestion of the Team to the State Government.

Another difficulty which presents itself to the Corporation is that statistics in regard to the various industries are not properly maintained nor can they be readily had. In the absence of such information, it is extremely difficult to make a proper assessment of the scope and prospects of an industry. Industrial progress cannot be brought about by the mere process of increasing the supply of finance for industrial development schemes, without making sure that the installed capacity would be fully utilised and there would be an adequate market for the goods produced. On the basis of the figures available from the "Monthly Statistics of Production of Selected Industries in India", about 57 per cent. of the industries for which statistics are available, worked at less than 60 per cent. of the capacity for a period of 3 years or more. Complaints of lack of adequate market are wide spread and pressure for grant or continuation of protection is persistent. This makes the problem of selection of the types of industries to be assisted extremely difficult. In the case of small and medium sized units it is futile to search for only those lines, which are free from competition from other large factories, for there are few such and those are mostly confined to luxury art work for which the market is extremely limited.

It may not be out of place to refer here to the comments of the International Planning Team in regard to the present position of small-scale industries in India. In their opinion:—

> "Many small industries are now facing crisis, deteriorating in output and the employment and increasingly unable, because of declining demand and production, to pay better wages or lift the standard of living of its employees.

There are several reasons for this deterioration and the slow rate of progress.....outdated production and marketing methods, lack of credit facilities and lack of systematic approach towards improvement.

The basic causes of present deficiencies in small industry are methods of management and production which fall far short of meeting modern demands for efficiency; plus reluctance or failure to adopt improved rationalised methods. The natural talents of Indian workers and craftsmen are thus being wasted in a hopeless race against modern technology".

The difficulties and risks, which a system of industrial finance has to reckon with, are numerous and quick results in the matter of granting loans are possible in the present conditions only by taking risks. The Corporation will be prepared, in deserving cases, to take reasonable risk in order to help any sound proposal. The Directors hope that the people of the State will take full advantage of the facilities offered by the Corporation.

The necessity having been felt for discussions on matters of common interest, a Conference of the Chairmen and the Managing Directors of the various State Financial Corporations was held in Bombay in August last under the patronage of the Reserve Bank of India. The discussions proved to be useful and of mutual benefit and it is a matter of satisfaction that unanimous conclusions were reached so far as broad principles are concerned. It has been decided, therefore, that such conferences be held periodically.

The Government are very keen that the whole country should develop and advance industrially. Accordingly, a much greater emphasis is being laid on industrialisation in the Second Five Year Plan than it was possible to undertake in the initial period. Measures have already been taken to achieve this objective and the aim is that all industries, whether heavy or small, should grow side by side. The pattern of small-scale industries in the coming years is, therefore, expected to take shape in different directions. The measures taken, it is hoped, will improve the economic climate and create better opportunities for this Corporation to fulfil the function for which it has been established.

The Board of Directors are grateful to the Government of West Bengal and the Reserve Bank of India for their help and guidance in organising the institution since its inception. The Corporation also thankfully acknowledges the valuable help received from the Industrial Finance Corporation of India and the sister Corporations established in other States. The Board have pleasure in placing on record their appreciation of the work done by the Officers and staff of the Corporation during the initial period.

DECISION.

This is an appeal from the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal dated 11th December 1953. The matters in issue were (1) whether the dismissal of Shri S. K. Ghose is justified and (2) whether he is entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation? The dispute relates to the termination of employment of the workman abovenamed from Telepara Tea Estate, Jalpaiguri. He was appointed in this tea garden as Assistant Factory Babu in April 1949 and was thereafter promoted to the post of Head Factory Babu in 1949 September by Mr. Simpson, Manager.

The Dooars Tea Garden Indian Employees' Association, representing the dismissed workman claims that the Manager for the reasons mentioned in the Written Statement was not favourably disposed towards this workman. It is alleged that against all rules of equity and justice he was dismissed summarily without any enquiry or trial, and it is submitted that the whole move of the Manager was motivated with extraneous considerations from a sense of vindictiveness and unconnected with the duties of an employee, and his decision was in fact malafide and perverse. The company denies all the allegations and claims that Shri Ghose was neglecting his duties, and when warned instead of mending his ways used to explain away the circumstances. The Manager finding that verbal warnings were of no effect, gave him a warning in writing on 11th February 1952. Finding no improvement another letter of warning was sent in April 1952, drawing his attention to the various irregularities and neglect of his duties. The Manager found his explanations highly unsatisfactory. Shri Ghose's important duties were to weigh the "made teas" and to keep accurate records of weighment. As wrong weighments were suspected, he was required to make a physical check of the "made teas" and to verify the records. On 17th-18th June, 1952 check of the weighment of the "made teas" was taken by Shri D. Ganguly and it was found that the actual "made teas" were in excess of the recorded weighment to the extent of 234 Mds. 41 Chs. This difference can only be the result of negligence of Shri Ghose. This excess proved that he neither properly checked the weighment nor recorded the same correctly in R.G.I. The plea that this excess may be due to absorption of moisture, was absurd, and was actually ruled out by the then Excise Superintendent; he also held that the correct weighment was not being made and entered in the R.G.I. The Manager considered it a very serious matter and reported to the Agents. The Agents decided to terminate the services of Shri S. K. Ghos. A charge-sheet was further issued and the workman further failed to satisfy the management by his explanation. Therefore the company submitted that the discharge was fully justified.

The lower Tribunal has examined the facts and allegations made by both the parties, with detail and have found on facts proved and established that the Babu concerned failed to perform his duties satisfactorily in spite of warnings and showed no signs of improvement in spite of the opportunities afforded him. After describing the various duties of the Babu, the Tribunal found that there were adverse remarks during 1951 both by the London office and the Managing Agents, particularly with regard to sorting making of the tea charts, submission of invoice samples and also about the return with regard to the incorrect weighment. The Manager of the garden, Mr. Simpson, was fined Rs. 30 by the Excise authorities. The seriousness of the consequences of the neglect or failure of the persons concerned, which led to these complaints cannot be minimised, and if really Shri Ghose's neglect led to these results then the company was fully justified in taking any disciplinary action that was required under the circumstances. As the Tribunal has examined the whole series of facts in detail and also in the light of the explanations advanced and has found that Shri Ghose's failure to perform his duties diligently led to these consequences, there is hardly any defence open to the workman. An employer cannot be expected to keep a workman who is found wanting in his attention to his duties and responsibilities, resulting in disrepute and ultimately in loss to the company. The rules of equity and social justice requiring the protection of a worker from the unfair conduct of the employer, on the converse, requires that the right of the employer to expect full co-operation and proper discharge of duties, as prudently and diligently as a man of ordinary abilities can perform, exists and should be afforded similar protection. It is not the purpose of the Labour Tribunals to see and enforce that the business is carried on for the benefit and advantage of the workmen alone, but to see to an equal deal between the business intents and their workmen to protect the weak from the unfair demands and whims of the employer and to protect him from unfair exploitation. The rule of security of service also depends on the said principle, and a workman who fails in the performance of his duties, for want of proper care and diligence in his part, may lose the protection, if the circumstances lead to such a conclusion. No company can be expected to keep an employee whose continual neglect and disregard of duties may lead to the destruction of the business of the company. Rule 8 of the Standing Orders permits the management to dispense with the services of a workman, without assigning any reason, on certain conditions, whereas clause 9 permits the dismissal of a workman for gross misconduct, even without notice, or the wages therefor. The Tribunal finds that this was a case of discharge under rule 8 of the Standing Orders. The union contends that this was a case of dismissal under rule 9 for misconduct, and the only argument on which the learned lawyer laid any stress before the Tribunal was that the company cannot dismiss the services of an employee in this manner and it was a case of dismissal under clause 9 of the Standing Orders and not under clause 8 as found by the Tribunal. It will be observed that although perhaps it was permissible for the company to proceed under clause 9, for failure to carry out the directions of the Manager, for disobedience and insubordination, but we think the company's case would have been much weaker on that score, as there is hardly any proof of intentional disobedience or of intention to affront the authorities by sheer disregard and disobedience. This is rather a case of want of effort, or of efficiency or diligence in the performance of the duties and perhaps for that reason the company rightly does not rely on clause 9. Although in the case of the proceedings leading to the termination of his services, the word dismissal was used on an occasion or two but as the Tribunal has observed, the company terminated his services under clause 8. The Tribunal has examined the proceedings resulting in the termination of his services and has arrived at the above conclusion. We find hardly any reason to differ from that view. The case of a person unwilling or failing for one reason or another to perform his duties diligently and efficiently must be distinguished from acts of rebelious nature, of flouting of authority and insubordination. Perhaps in such case where both the elements are found, the question will be to see which predominates, or the actual procedure adopted may be conclusive on that point. The company certainly was not bound to act under clause 9 to get rid of a man whose services were not only harmful in a general manner, those may have led to serious consequences, in affecting the business and good reputation of the company. We find it unnecessary to go into detail of the evidence and on findings of fact which has already been considered by the Tribunal in sufficient detail. In fact no definite argument of fact, whether any one of the allegations of fact was not proved against him, was not advanced before us. The conclusions of fact of the Tribunal trying the case is entitled to great weight, and we find no reason to interfere. The appeal is therefore dismissed. There is no order as to costs.

This appeal is directed against an award made by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal, in a dispute between Messrs. F. & C. Osler and Co., Ltd. and their workmen and referred to it by order No. 633Dis./D/11L-70/53, dated the 26th February 1953.

The names of the employees in the list attached to the above Government order of reference are these:—

The case for the Union had been that there was no trouble till Mr. Grimshaw came to this Company in October 1950 when he began to employ a large number of non-Bengalees and the workmen apprehended that this was done with a view to the replacement of the Bengali clerks by them and they ventilated their apprehensions to the management. It is further stated that by a peaceful demonstration, they realised Puja Bonus for the year 1952 from the management and in December of that year the seventeen workmen scheduled in the reference were retrenched. The Union states that there was no ground for any retrenchment but they were discharged as they were Bengalis.

The Company on the other hand repudiated the Anti-Bengali feeling attributed to it. The Company alleged that retrenchment had to be made on account of decline in sales (volume in business) and some workmen became surplus as a result of rationalisation. The Company further stated that out of 25 persons appointed by Mr. Grimshaw, 15 non-Bengalis had been discharged before, but three Bengalees have been retained.

The Tribunal below held that there was no decline in sale figure to justify any retrenchment and further that no case of retrenchment was made out. The Tribunal further found that the principle of "last come, first to go" had not been followed and therefore ordered for reinstatement of all the persons with back wages for the period of unemployment.

Against this award the Company has appealed. The Company has effected retrenchment on two grounds:—

1. Fall in sales; and
2. Rationalisation.

The Company, however, did not state the number that it wanted to retrench under each of the grounds but collectively stated the figure.

Let us now examine the figures of sale of goods. In the written statement, the Company only gave figures for two years ending with March 1947 and March 1952 but in the course of evidence, the figures for all the intervening years have been given.

We give below the figures for the different years as appearing in Ex. A of the Company:—

"Year ending 31st March	Amount. Rs. a. p.
1947	82,18,089 8 8
1948	35,13,823 13 11
1949	45,26,246 4 9
1950	21,06,137 11 3
1951	31,56,083 6 0
1952	29,97,240 5 1
April 1952 to December 1952 ...	18,12,799 13 6"

From 1947, there had been a sharp fall in 1948 and a little recovery was made in 1949. 1950 had been a bad year but 1951 and 1952 there had not been much difference. From the statement of the Company, it appears that decision was based on the figures for the year ending with March 1952.

It appears from Ex. 1(a) which has not been challenged by the Company, 3 new appointments were made in 1950, 11 in 1951 and 21 in 1952. These appointments are inconsistent with the plea that reduction of staff was necessary on account of fall in sales. Ex. 2 is a document showing the number of bills, the clerks had to make in different years. It appears that the number of bills increased in 1952 than in 1951. Between 1951 and 1952, there has been no appreciable difference in sales but the number of bills increased. More people were taken in, possibly to cope with this work. The Company cannot point out a figure in remote past and say that there has been a sharp fall. We must look to the immediate past and we find no fall in the figures of sale justifying retrenchment.

The Company did not effect retrenchment on the ground of fall in income. It was not therefore necessary for the Company to produce the balance sheets or produce the profit and loss accounts for the years. In the memorandum of appeal, the Company attached a schedule giving some figures of profit and loss. We cannot allow the Company to adduce any new evidence when this was not tendered in the lower Tribunal. This is also irrelevant on account of the very precise case of the Company that the retrenchment had been effected on account of fall in sales. The Company cannot now be allowed to justify the retrenchment on the grounds.

The next ground set out in the written statement is rationalisation. Mr. Grimshaw, according to the Company, was brought from Bombay to put the accounting matter in the proper direction. There is neither any case nor any evidence that Mr. Grimshaw was faced with any large arrears here. Mr. Grimshaw came here in October 1950 and left this place in August 1952 and was succeeded by Shri Dhawan who had not been in this office before. We have no direct evidence about the performances of Mr. Grimshaw towards rationalisation. Both parties filed some lists showing the number of registers maintained before Mr. Grimshaw came and after he came. Combination of registers does not reduce work. Avoidance of duplicate work reduces work. No attempt was made by the Company to show how the methods adopted by Mr. Grimshaw effected saving of labour. Mr. Grimshaw, we are told, could not be examined as he was in Bombay. We do not feel that bringing him up from Bombay was any difficult matter. We have been kept in the dark about the rationalisation made by Mr. Grimshaw. No local officer or director of the Company was examined. We, however, find that in spite of what Mr. Grimshaw did, he had to appoint more men since he came, i.e., in 1951 and 1952. The Company could not justify the appointment of these persons to clear up any supposed arrears. There was no abnormal rise in sale figures. Mr. Grimshaw might have introduced new methods of account keeping, but looking to the facts and in the absence of his evidence we are unable to hold that it had the effect of reducing labour justifying retrenchment.

The learned lawyer for the Company contended that the work of the office is being carried on by the reduced men without overtime work and therefore the reduction of the staff was justified. The witness for the Union challenged this statement in his evidence and challenged the Company to produce the attendance register to show that they were being made to work more hours without payment of overtime. The Company did not produce the attendance register. The Company has failed to prove that certain staff became surplus on account of rationalisation.

Even new appointments were made in July, August and October, 1952 and in December the Company found that 17 men were surplus to the requirement. The only thing that happened in the meantime was realisation of bonus by what is called a "peaceful demonstration". The Company made 8 more appointments in 1953.

The Company, in our opinion, has utterly failed to prove any justifiable ground for retrenchment.

What we have already said is enough for dismissing the appeal but we feel we should refer to some other points argued. It was argued that the Company did not follow the principle of "last come, first go". It has been held in the case of Sudarsan Banerjee vs. McLeod and Company, 1953, L.A.C., that in the matter of retrenchment of clerical staff the principle of "pooled seniority" should be applied, i.e., all the clerks except those who are technical men, e.g., Stenographer, Typists, etc., should be brought in one pool and the principle of last come and first go shall be applied then. The witness for the Union asserted that the principle of "last to come, and first to go" was not applied. The Company instead of supplying the Tribunal with a list of employees with dates of appointments sought to justify the selection of justification on the ground of merit or de-merit. It has held in India Navigation and Industries, Ltd. [1952 (II) LLJ. 611] that the principle of last to come and first to go can be violated with records of past misconduct or inefficiency. To do otherwise would be to leave the security of service of the industrial employee to the caprices of the employer. Shri Dhawan in his evidence said "These persons were retrenched because we considered them to be less efficient. These people were not fit as other, to do the present work. These men were selected for retrenchment on the basis of verbal report of the Incharge Officer. Mr. Grimshaw,

Mr. Leonard, the General Manager, and myself sat together and discussed verbally about these persons, and we selected them for retrenchment". To tolerate this would be to put the security of the service of the industrial employee to jeopardy. As there was no written record of any inefficiency, the Company could not deviate from the principle of last come, first to go. On this ground also the retrenchment had been bad.

The learned lawyer for the Company contended that there should not have been any order for reinstatement of Bhutnath Bhattacharjee and Mohan Chandra Das, as they have been reinstated to their old salary and re-employed by the Company. We are not aware if they have got back wages for the period of unemployment. If they have been reinstated on their former wages with continuity of service, the question of reinstatement is not necessary for them but they are entitled to wages for the period they have been out of employment. They are entitled to be reinstated in terms of the award but in calculating what they should get as unemployment benefit, the amounts they have got by the Company since re-employment shall be deducted.

The learned lawyer for the Company contended that Shri A. N. Ganguli was invalidated and was not retrenched and there cannot be any order for reinstatement in his favour. The Company did not in its written statement make out any case that he was invalidated. Shri Mukherjee for the Company referred to the letter of Mr. Leonard addressed to the conciliation officer in which it was stated that he was discharged on medical grounds. If this was the case for the Company at one stage, this was given up at the time of the written statement. At this stage the Company cannot be allowed to make out a special case for him. No evidence was adduced in the lower Tribunal that there existed sufficient medical opinion for invalidating him.

In the result the appeal be dismissed with the modification about Bhutnath Bhattacherjee and Mohan Chandra Das as indicated before. The respondents shall get from the appellant costs which we assess at Rs. 100.

DECISION.

This appeal is directed against award made by Shri M. N. Gan, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal, dated 31st October 1953, in an industrial dispute between Peter Gomes, a workman and his employers, Messrs. Bird & Co., Ltd., and Messrs. Heilgers & Co., referred to the Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2892Dis./D. 11L-13(B)/53, dated the 4th August 1953.

Peter Gomes was the Head Cook in the Kitchen Department of the Company. On 13th March 1953, one Antony Gomes was apprehended by the gate-keeper taking away in a bag some fish bones, eight bananas, eight oranges, some quantity of fish fry and some vegetable cutlets. Antony gave out that these were given by Peter to be carried to his house. Antony was a mate of Peter. The company charged Peter for taking away these articles belonging to the company without any gate-pass. Peter Gomes took the plea that the kitchen staff were permitted to eat the left-over articles on the table and therefore he was taking these articles home. He however added that though on some occasions he had taken gate-passes, on this particular occasion as he was in a hurry he could not take the gate-pass.

The company found that Peter was guilty of improper conduct in taking away eatables without a gate-pass but in view of his long service of 20 years the company instead of dismissing him, discharged him giving him full retiring benefits.

Peter Gomes considered his termination of service to be wrongful and raised an industrial dispute which came to be referred to the 2nd Industrial Tribunal as stated above.

The Tribunal considered that Peter was guilty of stealing articles and that the company's action in terminating his services with payment of full retiring benefits was fully justified. The claim of Peter Gomes for reinstatement was refused. The present appeal has been filed by the aggrieved workman, as already stated.

In a case like this no appeal lies unless a substantial question of law is involved. The learned Advocate, appearing on behalf of the appellant, formulated the following two questions of law:—

(1) that there was no evidence that the oranges belonged to the company and therefore there could be no theft of the oranges;

(2) that the Tribunal erred in holding that the articles which Peter could eat on the spot, amounted to a theft if he took them home for eating.

Now about the first point. It transpires in evidence that there is a system of gate-pass in the company which means that any one wanting to take any article out of the premises of the company must obtain that pass. Peter Gomes had been in charge of the food and fruits for the company. He had been in service for a pretty long time. He knew fully well that if he brought his own fruits of the type used by the company, he would face difficulty in bringing them out. It was not at all probable that in the circumstances Peter Gomes would purchase oranges and take them inside the kitchen, because he would experience difficulty in bringing them out. It is no doubt true that no witness could point out the oranges and say that these were company's property. This was an impossibility. Peter had been in charge of these goods. In the circumstances it is highly improbable that these articles were the properties of Peter. There is no substance in this point.

Now about the second point. It appears from the evidence of P.W. 1, Mrs. G. Campbell, the lady in charge of the Kitchen Department, that only those articles which cannot be preserved are allowed to be eaten up by the kitchen staff. She added that these were not allowed to be taken out. This is sensible evidence. Peter Gomes was taking away eight bananas and eight oranges leaving aside the other things. They were not meant for his personal consumption in a day. Taking away these articles amounted to theft and even if it was not theft, it was highly improper conduct on the part of a servant to take away these articles. There is no question of law involved in this point.

Peter Gomes had been in the service of this company for 20 years and it also appears that he had to do all the marketing for the kitchen and had been entrusted with monies. This instead of minimising the offence, aggravates it. The company has taken a lenient view of the matter and has given him full retiring benefits. In our opinion this is not a matter in which we can or ought to interfere.

In our opinion the appeal is incompetent and ought to be dismissed. We order accordingly. We make no order as to costs.

DECISION.

The only point for decision before us is whether the members of the clerical staff of the Burmah Shell Oil Storage & Distributing Company, Ltd., (hereinafter referred to as the Company), of Calcutta industrial area are entitled to Puja bonus for the years 1947 and 1948. The determination of this question depends upon the interpretation of the award, dated 2nd February 1950, given by Shri A. Das Gupta on a reference made by the Government of West Bengal on 19th August 1949. In this connection, we may state the following facts which are relevant to the decision of the points raised before us.

On the 21st of March 1949, the clerical staff of the Company submitted a Charter of Demands on many points, one of the demands being in respect of bonus for the year 1949 only. The dispute not having been amicably settled, the Government of West Bengal, by order No. 4073, dated 19th August 1949, referred the matters in dispute to Shri A. Das Gupta, Judge, West Bengal Industrial Tribunal, for adjudication. The sixth item of the reference related to bonus. The Order of Reference, however, did not specifically mention the year for which bonus was claimed. The Order of Reference regarding bonus being in general terms, the Burmah Shell Employees' Association (hereinafter called the Union), representing the workmen concerned, filed written statement on their behalf claiming bonus for the years 1947 and 1948 as well. Paragraph 5 of the Union's written statement is in the following terms:—

> "We, therefore, demand a minimum of a month's salary as bonus every year and even greater than this amount depending on the profits earned by the Company retrospectively from the year 1947. In making this demand, we have of course taken into consideration the benefits of the Pension Scheme lately introduced by the Company in place of the banus of 7½ per cent. of the annual basic salary (equal to 9/10th of a month's salary) which had been credited to the Provident Fund accounts up to 1948."

It is thus clear that the Union claimed one month's basic wages as minimum bonus for the years 1947 and 1948 in view of the benefits received by the workmen concerned under the Pension and the Provident Fund schemes.

Shri Das Gupta gave his award on 2nd February 1950, which was duly published in the local Gazette on the 1st March 1950. In deciding the issue relating to bonus, Shri Das Gupta observed:—

> "Durga Puja is a national festival in Bengal, and it is customary to make presents to near and dear ones and to relatives at that time. It is difficult to make savings out of the monthly income of the clerks for this purpose. It has become traditional and customary in Bengal for employers to make a monetary grant at the time of the Puja. Most of the mercantile firms in Calcutta allow their employees an annual bonus equivalent to one month's basic wages. There are instances where the employees are paid more than one month's basic wages, as bonus. The Company are, however, agreeable to pay each and every member of the labour and service staff 1/12th of his basic yearly earning as bonus. I accordingly direct that the Company shall pay each and every clerk 1/12th of his basic yearly earnings as bonus, provided the trade conditions do not substantially deteriorate from the present position. This payment shall be made a fortnight before the Puja".

There was no appeal from his award. His decision therefore became final. It is admitted that bonus for the year 1949 at the rate of one month's basic wages was awarded by Shri Das Gupta and the same was paid by the Company in October 1950 and that for the year 1950 also the Company voluntarily paid bonus at the rate of one month's basic wages.

On the 2nd July 1949, the clerical staff of the Company made a fresh demand claiming bonus for the years 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1950 at the rate of four months' salary. But as bonus for the year 1949 had already been paid, under the award of Shri Das Gupta, at the rate of one month's basic wages in October 1950, the claim for that year was limited to three month's basic wages only. Thereafter the Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 835Dis./D/15L-11/52, dated 17th April 1952, referred to Shri P. R. Mukherjee, the Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, the dispute relating to (1) bonus for the years 1947 and 1948; and (2) additional bonus for 1950. No reference was, however, made regarding bonus in respect of the year 1949.

Shri Mukherjee by his award, dated 23rd July 1952, totally rejected the claim for bonus in respect of all the years. The workmen, aggrieved by the award, accordingly preferred the present appeal to this Tribunal (being Appeal No. Cal.266/1952) and it originally came up for hearing before the Calcutta Bench of this Tribunal consisting of Shri J. N. Majumdar, Chairman and Shri R. C. Mitter, Member. This Tribunal allowed additional bonus for the year 1950 at the rate of 1/4th of their basic earnings in the year less what the Company had voluntarily paid for that year. But with regard to bonus for the years 1947 and 1948, it held that the Company had already paid one month's basic wages as bonus for these years and the payments had been received by the workmen concerned unconditionally and without protest. As in the opinion of this Tribunal the payment had been received by the workmen in full satisfaction of their claims, no additional bonus was awarded to them in respect of these years.

This Tribunal was clearly of the view that the bonus for the years 1947 and 1948, as awarded by Shri Das Gupta, had actually been paid by the Company and received by the workmen concerned in full satisfaction of their claim. But subsequently it transpired that no payment had been made by the Company or received by the workmen in cash. An application was therefore filed for review of the judgment of this Tribunal on the ground that there was a mistake apparent on the face of the record. The review petition was allowed and paragraphs 4 and 5 of this Tribunal's decision, which dealt with Puja bonus for the years 1947 and 1948, were accordingly deleted.

The question therefore is at large. The claim for additional bonus for the years 1947 and 1948 has not, however, been pressed before us by Shri Acherjee, appearing on behalf of the workmen concerned, and it has been, in our view, rightly abandoned. His contention is that the workmen concerned are entitled to Puja bonus for the years 1947 and 1948 at the rate of one month's basic wages as the same had been allowed by Shri Das Gupta. In short, his contention is that the view taken by Shri Mukherjee is wrong and cannot be sustained.

Shri Sanyal, appearing for the Company, contends that the issue regarding bonus cannot be re-agitated in the present reference, for, he urges, that Shri Das Gupta had rejected the claim on three weighty grounds, namely:—

(1) that the Company had given the employees increased benefits under the Pension Scheme introduced in the year 1947 and prior to that up to the year 1946 bonus at the rate of 9/10th of a month's salary had been paid not in cash but credited in the Provident Fund account of each employee;

(2) that the period for payment of Puja bonus, which is invariably Puja time, had long expired; and

(3) that the proviso in Shri Das Gupta's award, namely, that "..... provided the trade conditions do not substantially deteriorate from the present position....." did not apply to the years 1947 and 1948.

We do not think it is open to us to speculate and examine the reasons which weighted with Shri Das Gupta in deciding the issue, for, his award, the relevant portion of which we have already quoted, makes it clear beyond doubt that he did not reject the claim for Puja bonus in respect of any year. In fact his award was substantially based on the Company's own offer, in that it was agreeable before him to pay each and every member of the labour and service staff 1/12th of his basic yearly earnings as bonus. The Calcutta Bench of this Tribunal, when the matter originally came up before it for hearing, was clearly of the opinion that Shri Das Gupta had allowed the claim. We entirely agree with this view. It, however, gave no direction for payment, as, in its opinion, payment had already been made and accepted by the workmen concerned.

Even if it were open to us to speculate, we do not think that any of the grounds urged by Shri Sanyal, could weight with Shri Das Gupta in rejecting the claim.

So far as the first ground is concerned, we may state that the Union in paragraph 5 of its written statement had unambiguously stated that in putting forward the demand for bonus at the minimum rate of a month's salary it had taken into consideration the benefits conferred by the Pension and the Provident Fund Scheme. And with full knowledge of that fact Shri Das Gupta admittedly allowed bonus for the year 1949 and his award on this respect has been implemented by the Company (payment having been made in October 1950). If this ground could weight with Shri Das Gupta in rejecting the claim for bonus for 1947 and 1948, he would not have, for the same reason, allowed the claim in respect of the year 1949.

The second ground is equally unsustainable Puja bonus is a monetary grant made by the employers at about the time of the Puja to enable their employees to meet extra expenses in making Puja purchases. Non-payment in time does not destroy the right. It simply gives a cause of action for raising a dispute. If there was any substance in this contention, no industrial dispute could be raised or adjudicated upon after the lapse of the period of payment. In fact, Puja bonus for the year 1949, was paid, under the award of Shri Das Gupta, in October 1950, although payment was due in or about October 1949, which is usually the Puja time.

With regard to the third ground, we may say without any hesitation that it obviously refers to the future payments. The proviso, which we have already quoted, was intended to govern payments after 1949. Moreover, the Company does not plead inability to pay.

In our opinion, Shri Das Gupta did not reject the claim for bonus of the years 1947 and 1948. His award was substantially based, as already pointed out on the Company's own offer. As, admittedly, no payment has been made, we direct payment of bonus for the years 1947 and 1948 at the rate of one month's basic wages of the workmen concerned. The award of Shri Mukherjee in this respect is set aside. As the additional bonus for 1950 has already been directed to be paid by this Tribunal, it is unnecessary for us to make any further direction in that behalf.

In the result the appeal is allowed.

DECISION.

This appeal is directed against the award of the Fourth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, published in the extraordinary issue of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 10th December 1953, on an industrial dispute between Messrs. Victoria Steam Rope Works and their workmen involving four items, namely:—

(1) Increase in dearness allowance.

(2) Increment.

(3) Bonus.

(4) Provident Fund.

Prior to the award under appeal there was a previous award between the parties on identical demands of the workmen which was published in the Calcutta Gazette under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2854L.A.P., dated 17th August 1948. This award was given by Shri P. K. Sircar and was to remain in force for one year from the date of its publication.

The learned Tribunal refused to adjudicate upon points (1) and (2) of the Order of Reference on the ground that the award of Shri P. K. Sircar not having been terminated under section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act was still binding on the parties. He observed thus:—

> "A preliminary point was raised by the learned Advocate for the Company that the Union is debarred from pressing the issues 1 and 2 according to the provisions of section 19, clause (6) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Shri P. K. Sircar in his award in 8 fixed a grade for skilled and unskilled workers in the nature of an incremental scale and he also awarded a fixed dearness allowance of Rs. 20.....
> .....In the present case neither party has been given any notice, consequently the award is binding on the parties. Under the circumstances, the parties are debarred from raising the question of increase in dearness allowance as well as a revision of the rate of increment. I, therefore, refrain from entering into any discussion regarding the issues 1 and 2 in this case. The Company on its own initiative has granted more frequent increments than that is provided by the award and has also given more dearness allowance than that fixed by the award. The revision of these matters is not immediately called for on the ground of social justice. Such a revision can only be made if the effect of the previous award is terminated by a notice by either party to the other party."

The learned Tribunal, however, entered into the merit of the demands of the workmen for bonus and the demand was turned down on the ground that there was no available surplus sufficient to meet it either wholly or in part. About Provident Fund, the learned Tribunal observed that the Provident Fund had been introduced with effect from November 1952. Although the appeal was originally directed against all the issues, Shri Ram Sen who appeared for the appellants was fair enough to inform us that in view of the fact that the Provident Fund had been introduced he would not press the appeal on Provident Fund. It is not disputed that all the other issues are appealable items listed in section 7(1)(b) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act.

Taking up the question of bonus first, we find no reason to interfere. The Company, which is a small private concern, has no audited balance sheets. We could understand at the hearing of this appeal that account books were filled in support of the unaudited statement of account. It was open to the workmen to raise definite and specific objections against the different items in the statement of accounts. It was submitted at the hearing of this appeal that the account books were filed at the time of hearing but the Union does not appear to have applied for the inspection of the account books of the employer earlier. In the absence of any specific objections against the correctness of the statements of account prepared from the account books which were produced before the Tribunal, we are not inclined to reject the findings of the learned Tribunal based on these accounts. Even if the accounts are rejected as not genuine, the workmen are not entitled to any bonus unless they supply materials to justify their claim for bonus. The Company has already paid bonus equivalent to 16 days' wages. It was for the employees to supply materials to establish their case for bonus at a higher rate. The net profit during the relevant year was Rs. 8,119-9 and the Company's authorised and paid-up capital amounts to Rs. 1,50,000. The Company is undoubtedly entitled to return at the usual rate of 6 per cent. on this amount and provision must be made for income-tax, rehabilitation charges and depreciation of fixed asset before any demand of the workmen for bonus can be entertained. The amount of profit is not even sufficient to meet the prior charges. We, accordingly, hold that the demand of the workmen for additional bonus was rightly turned down.

Then about workmen's demand for increase in dearness allowance and increment, we find that the workmen demanded revised grades for the different categories of workers, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled, with automatic scales of increment and an increment in the dearness allowance. In refusing to consider the demands of the workmen on these two items, the learned Tribunal appears to have erred in law. Section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was introduced in 1950 and is not applicable to awards which lost its force under the Act as it stood before this amendment prior to the introduction of this sub-section. Prior to the amendment, all awards were to remain in operation for such period, not exceeding one year, as might be fixed by the appropriate Government, the award of Shri P. K. Sircar, lost its force long before the amendment was introduced. Section 19(6) of the amended Act could have no retrospective effect so as to revive the awards which had been dead by that time. In this view of the case, the learned Tribunal wrongly refused to exercise jurisdiction vested in it by law to adjudicate on the disputes 1 and 2 of the Order of Reference. There is no sufficient material on the record to enable us to arrive at a definite finding on these two points. We find typed copies of some statements on the record but they do not appear to have been admitted in evidence and exhibited before the learned Tribunal and under these circumstances, we cannot but remand the case to the original Tribunal for adjudication of the two items of diputes according to the established principles. It must be understood that in allowing the appeal and in remanding the case, we have only considered the legal aspect of the learned Tribunal's refusal to adjudicate on these two points and the learned Tribunal will not be in any way fettered in considering the questions of expediency and prudence. The appeal be allowed in part. The award of the original Tribunal on the question of bonus and Provident Fund shall stand. The case is remanded to the original Tribunal for an adjudication on items 1 and 2 of the industrial disputes under reference according to the directions given by this Tribunal. The appellants shall get Rs. 50 as costs.

DECISION.

This is an appeal by the Company and is directed against an order, dated the 26th June 1954, made by Shri M. N. Gan, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, on an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, reinstating 64 employees with effect from 7th September 1954 but refusing reinstatement of three others, namely, (1)

Subhas Roy, (2) Madhusudan Rout and (3) Bimal Kumar Ghose. The Tribunal has, however, held that none of them would be entitled to claim any wages for the period of their forced unemployment beginning from the 6th October 1953, which period is to be treated as one on leave without pay.

The contention of Shri N. K. Raha, appearing on behalf of the Company, is that in the view that the Tribunal had taken on the application, made by the Company before it under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, namely, that the lockout declared by the Company was not illegal, the application made by the workmen under section 33A was misconceived and the order made by the Tribunal on that application is without jurisdiction. This contention by the appellant, is not controverted by Shri Acharjee, appearing for the workmen, who concedes that the application under section 33A, was misconceived. We accordingly set aside the award made under section 33A. This appeal is accordingly allowed. In the circumstances, we make no order as to costs.

DECISION.

The present appeal by the employees of Messrs. Indian General Navigation & Railway Co., Ltd., represented by the I. G. N. R. Employees' Union is against an award of the First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 30th April 1953, rejecting their claim for bonus for the year 1953.

Before we enter into the merit of the demand of the employees, we must make it clear that there has been a change in the theory of bonus from time to time, one being exploded and replaced by the other, till the basic principles were generally defined by a Full Bench decision of this Tribunal reported in 1952, L.A.C., 433 (Mill Owners' Association, Bombay). The right of the employees to bonus for a particular year proceeds from and is based on the consideration of their participation in the prosperity of the concern during year, and the quantum of such bonus is dependent on the surplus out of the profit of the year after making provision for prior charges in respect of the money that would be necessary for replacements, modernisation of machinery for payment of income-tax etc., and a fair return on the capital invested and on reserves employed as working capital.

The basic principles underlying the right of the employees for bonus for a particular year clearly indicate that it can be paid only out of the available surplus of the trading profits of that year. It cannot be paid out of any reserve built up out of profits of the past years (no matter how the reserve was ear-marked and how it utilised whether for its own purpose or for any other), or out of an amount which was paid out of profits of the past years, but re-paid during the year, e.g., Excess Profits Tax refunded during the year.

The principle laid down by the Full Bench Decision has been clarified from time to time. In the case of the Model Mills, etc., Textile Mills, Nagpur, reported in 1955-I.L.L.J. at page 534, the Bombay Bench of this Tribunal has clarified some of the points raised in this case—

> "The excess profits tax returned is not in way connected with the trading results of the year, and its consideration must be clearly excluded. The refund of excess profits tax would have been a relevant item for the adjudicator's consideration on the issue of rehabilitation reserves, just as much as some 11 crores of excess profits tax were taken into account for the same purpose in our Full Bench decision.
> According to our formula the income tax is to be deducted as a prior charge on the trading results of the year. The concession made by the income-tax authorities is intended to aid a concern on account of past losses, and has nothing to do with our formula."

We shall now consider the merit of the appeal against the principles discussed above. The share capital of the concern consists of 6 per cent. Cumulative Preference Stocks and Shares (issued) for 244,030 Pound and Ordinary Stocks and Shares (issued) for 655,580 Pound. The Trading Account for the year ending on 31st December, 1951 indicates, as per Balance Sheet for the year, a net profit of 20,344 Pound after providing depreciation for only 90,000 Pound where admittedly 1,60,080 Pound would have been the amount admissible under the Income-tax Act. No provision has been made in the Trading Account for income-tax payable on the profits for the year. This was because of the expected exemption on account of heavy losses in the past years. Nevertheless, the concern is entitled to the income-tax which would otherwise have been payable, as prior charges under the Full Bench formula for utilisation in the interest of the industry. This is a complete answer to the contention of the learned advocate for the Union against the observation of the learned Tribunal on this point.

The learned advocate for the Union contends that the sums of 150,000 Pound transferred in the Balance Sheet for the year 1951 from the "Reserve for Taxation" to the "Fleet Reserve" and 17,300 Pound being the "Reserve for Future Taxation" should be added to the trading profits of the the year. These reserves did not come out of the trading profits of the relevant year, and, in view of the Full Bench formula clarified from time to time, this contention of the learned advocate appears to us to be against the basic principle on which the demand of the employees for bonus can be sustained. Thus we are left with the only amount of 20,344 Pound being the trading profits of the year 1951. This together with the amount appropriated on account of depreciation, namely, 90,000 Pound is hardly sufficient to meet the depreciation admissible under the Income-tax Act which works out, according to the Union, to 1,60,000 Pound. No fund is thus available for return on the share capital or the working capital, or for income-tax or for depreciation. We do not accordingly propose to enter into the other controversies as to what would be rate of return on the share capital and the working capital, and what should be allocation for income-tax and rehabilitation. In our considered view, there is no available surplus out of the trading profits for the year 1951 for distribution to the workmen as bonus.

In the result, it is ordered that the appeal be and is hereby dismissed. Parties shall bear their own costs.

Extent.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Press Laws Inquiry Committee which was set up by the Government to enquire into the Press laws made certain recommendations in 1948 for amending the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867. Based partly on these recommendations and partly on recommendations made by State Governments, who had experienced practical difficulties in the working of the Act, the Press and Registration of Books (Amendment) Bill, 1952 was introduced in Parliament. The Press Commission, which was appointed shortly thereafter, reviewed the entire position in respect of the working of the Act. They substantially endorsed the provisions of the above Bill and made certain further recommendations for the amendment of the Act. The present Bill incorporates the provisions of the earlier Bill and makes certain further provisions in order to give effect to the recommendations of the Press Commission.

2. The Bill makes certain provisions for practical contingencies like temporary changes in the place of printing or publication. It also provides that a declaration in respect of a newspaper shall cease to have effect if the newspaper does not commence publication within a specified period or if it ceases publication for a year or more or if it publishes issues the number of which is less than half of what should have been published in accordance with the declaration made in respect thereof.

3. The Act was intended to apply to all papers printed (including posters, etc.) and, as recommended by the Press Commission, this intention has been clarified by removing the doubt which judicial decisions seem to have created.

4. In accordance with the recommendations of the Press Commission, it is proposed to set up an organisation under a Press Registrar for the purpose of registration of all newspapers published in India and for the collection, maintenance and publication of information concerning them.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION.

Clause 18 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make regulations for carrying out certain procedural requirements laid down in the Bill. These are purely procedural matters of a routine character and relate inter alia to prescribing particulars of declaration, the manner of sending copies of declaration to the Press Registrar, the delivery of copies of newspapers to the Press Registrar, the maintenance of a register and the issuing of certificates by the Press Registrar and fees for furnishing copies of the extracts of register maintained by the Press Registrar.

The delegated legislation is of a normal character.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM.

The proposed section 19A in clause 16 of the Bill contemplates the appointment of a Press Registrar and such other officers as may be necessary for the purpose of performing the functions assigned to them.

The nuclear organisation, as at present envisaged, would require an initial non-recurring expenditure of about Rs. 20,000/- and an annual recurring expenditure of about Rs. 50,000. The cost may increase depending upon the functions which may be assigned to this organisation and it is, therefore, not possible at this stage to form a more accurate estimate.

For the year 1955-56, it is expected that the following sums will be required:—

Non-recurring Rs. 20,000.
Recurring Rs. 30,000.

No provision has been made in the budget for this purpose, but the necessary funds will be made available by re-appropriation, if possible.

Funds in respect of subsequent years will vary from year to year, and will be provided for in the budget estimates in the normal way.
